MONTREAL, Sept. 22.—At a meeting of the City Council yesterday the report of the Finance Committee in favor of the consolidation of the city debt was adopted. A delegation will proceed to London, Eng., in connection with the matter.

Humble Convicted.

MONTREAL, Sept. 21.—The trial took place to-day in the Court of Queen's Bench of John Humble, on a charge of having attempted to murder Thos. Miners, a colored man. The jury returned a verdict of "guilty of shooting with intent to do grievous bodily harm."

Cankers humors of every description whether in the mouth, throat or stomach, are expelled from the system by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. No other remedy can compare with this as a cure for all diseases originating in impure or impoverished blood.

THE PULSE OF TRADE.

Generally Favorable Conditions Reported—The Wheat Output.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—General favorable trade conditions, with improvements in certain sections of the west and south, are reported. Better corn prospects in the west, increased receipts of wheat and more favorable weather have improved trade at Omaha, Burlington and Detroit and carried a full average distribution at St. Louis, Kansas City and Louisville. Progress in harvesting in the lower Mississippi has involved a larger movement of merchandise at New Orleans. Texas cotton crop is reported fair and receipts at Galveston are increasing. The fall dry goods trade at New York and Boston is quieter. The corn crop is about saved and the rice crop on the South Atlantic coast has been damaged by overflows.

Money is slightly easier at several western points. New Orleans and San Francisco are stringent and at Kansas City it is in active demand. The New York stock market is feverish and unsettled. Money at New York is fairly easy; call loans at 2 to 2½ per cent. Foreign exchanges easier; demand sterling $4.87½ to $4.88. Bradstreet's report of 97 railroads show that the aggregate mileage earnings from Jan. 1 to July 31 are 7·6 per cent. less than in 1887, but are 3·9 per cent. and ⅔ per cent. larger than in 1886 and 1885 respectively.

Wheat is steady but higher than two days ago on account of reported damage in Minnesota and Dakota. Corn and oats are each 1c lower. Lard, 8 to 10 points dearer. Pork steady. Ocean freights firmer. Lake and canal freights firm; rates per 2000 lbs. Chicago to New York on grain $2.54.

Total export of wheat and flour this week 2,831,276 bushels, against 2,939,424 bushels last week. Total exported July 1 to Sept. 21 is 28,828,995 bushels against 45,187,679 bushels last year.

Iron in lighter demand at the west; orders already booked will about provide for full output for remainder of year. Old rails strong. Manufactured iron and steel in moderate demand; prices unchanged.

Wool in good tone; large mills fairly well stocked; orders for woollen goods of fair volume. Distribution of dress goods of fair proportions; spot cotton firmly held at former prices; print cloths are 1-16c lower; staple cottons of leading grades fairly well controlled; low grade colored goods note a tendency in buyers' favor.

Sugar ⅛c higher. Coffee ⅛c higher; small supplies and owners' firmness narrow transactions.

The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The business failures as reported by telegraph to-day to Dun, Wiman & Co., number for United States 200 and for Canada 28, or a total of 228 as compared with 217 last week and 224 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 183, made up of 156 in the United States and 27 in Canada.

The Dominion Three per Cent. Loan.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—The balance of the Dominion three per cent. loan fell due yesterday, amounting to £1,200,300. The effect is apparent on the market, money being in good demand, and the supply of available capital showing a decline in the stock markets from the rapid rise of the last few days in home railways. Other stocks followed in the slight reaction, in sympathy with which Grand Trunks and Canadian Pacifics are fractionally lower.

Blyth Votes for a Fire Engine.

BLYTH, Sept. 21.—A bylaw submitted to the ratepayers of this place to raise money for the purchase of a steam fire engine was voted on to-day and carried by a majority of 63.

The works will be let in two sections, one of which will embrace the formation of the canal through the island; the construction of locks, &c. The other, the deepening and widening of the channel-way at both ends of the canal; construction of piers, &c.

A map of the locality, together with plans and specifications of the works, can be seen at this office on and after TUESDAY, the 9th day of October, next, where printed forms of tender can also be obtained. A like class of information, relative to the works, can be seen at the office of the Local Officer in the Town of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Intending contractors are requested to bear in mind that tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms and be accompanied by a letter stating that the person or persons tendering have carefully examined the locality and the nature of the material found in the trial pits.

In the case of firms, there must be attached the actual signatures of the full name, the nature of the occupation and residence of each member of the same, and further, a bank deposit receipt for the sum of $20,000 must accompany the tender for the canal and lock; and a bank deposit receipt for the sum of $7,500 must accompany the tender for the deepening and widening of the channel way at both ends, piers, &c.

The respective deposit receipts—cheques will not be accepted—must be endorsed over to the Minister of Railways and Canals, and will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the works, at the rates and on the terms stated in the offer submitted.

MURDER NEAR STRATHROY

JONATHAN ROBINSON FOUND DEAD IN HIS OWN HOUSE.

His Throat Cut from Ear to Ear, His Skull Fractured and Both Arms Broken—Five Persons Drowned at Brockville.

STRATHROY, Sept. 23.—A murder was discovered on the second line, Adelaide, about four miles from here, on Saturday. Jonathan Robinson, an old bachelor English man 73 years old, was found lying on the floor of his house, where he lived alone, with his throat cut from ear to ear, his skull fractured and both arms broken. He had not been seen alive since Sept. 13 and his neighbors thought he went away to Michigan on that date. An inquest was opened at the house this morning by Coroner Lindsay and a jury empanelled when it adjourned until Monday in Strathroy. Robinson lived in Adelaide 35 years. After the postmortem he was buried this afternoon here.

BROCKVILLE, Sept. 23.—A terrible drowning accident occurred this morning five miles west of here. H. A. Field, hardware merchant; H. B. Wright, fruit merchant; Harry Bagg, bookkeeper, and Herbert and Fred Shepherd, sons of Herman Shepherd, merchant, were drowned by the sinking of a sailing yacht in mid channel. It was blowing a gale, the yacht took in considerable water and being heavily ballasted she sank. The only one who survived was Frank Turner, druggist, who was picked up by a yawl boat from a passing tow.

A SUNDAY STABBING.

The Ambitious City Contributes Its Customary Affray.

HAMILTON, Sept. 23.—During an affray this evening about 7 o'clock Charles Gassett of Burlington-street, was stabbed in the shoulder and dangerously wounded. Several families draw water from the same well and while Gassett was so employed he got into an altercation with a neighbor named Mrs. Taylor, in which John Taylor, a son of the woman, took part. Gassett told Taylor to shut up and was about to strike him with his fist when Taylor drew a knife from his pocket and stabbed Gassett in the shoulder inflicting a dangerous wound about three inches deep. Taylor, who has a bad reputation, is still at large. The wound is an ugly one and may prove fatal.

Missing but Probably not Drowned.

QUEBEC, Sept. 23.—There is said to be reason to believe that the two lads, Pope and Paradis, who are missing, and whose boat was found capsized in the river, have not been drowned but have gone to the United States. It has been ascertained that they laid in quite a stock of clothing and provisions before they disappeared.

The Baltic Released.

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 23.—The steamer Baltic that was stranded on Pine Tree Island arrived here at noon to-day. She was released by the steamers Pacific and Northern Belle and brought down in tow of the latter vessel. The Baltic is leaking badly but is kept clear by a steam pump until she can be docked. In pulling her off her bulwarks from the after chalks on both sides were ripped off clean to the stern. The Captain says his vessel has sustained little damage.

Windsor's Gain.

WINDSOR, Sept. 23.—Mayor Beattie of this town says that next Saturday's Gazette will announce the annexation to the Town of Windsor of that populous portion of the Township of Sandwich West which is on the western outskirts of Windsor. This annexation will give to Windsor a large increase in its assessment and will bring it near the population required to make of it an incorporated city. The new portion will be known as the sixth ward, and Sandwich is now mourning the loss of the choicest part of herself.

Her Baby Died on the Roadside.

AILSA CRAIG, Sept. 23.—A widow woman named Brown and her mother, on their way from England to a relative near Ailsa Craig, had only money enough to carry them to Brecon, where the widow's child, two months old, took sick. They tramped on to Nairn, and sleeping by the roadside over night the babe died. Thus afflicted the women made their way on foot to Parkhill, carrying the body with them. The case was made known to Mayor Gibbs and he had the child properly interred, and Parkhill people dealt charitably with the women before they proceeded further.

The Ocean Record Lowered.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—When the Etruria's log book was consulted on her arrival from Liverpool it was learned that she had made the trip in six days, one hour and fifty minutes—the best time ever made by a trans-Atlantic steamer. The Etruria had previously held the record of the quickest ocean passage—six days, one hour and fifty-five minutes—and to-day's trip beat this by five minutes. Her average daily run was 469 knots, and per hour she averaged 19.2 knots.

A Diver Carried off His Wife.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—Mr. Yeager, a saloon-keeper, demands $25,000 from Henry Murray, a submarine diver, for the loss of his wife Ellen, who, he says, has slipped her moorings and gone away with the searcher for Spanish doubloons. The forsaken husband states that Murray was a frequent visitor at his house, and a few days ago induced Mrs. Yeager to run away with him, leaving her three children without a mother's care.

Killed Trying to Save Another.

THE LATE KAISER'S DIARY

GERMANY DEEPLY STIRRED BY ITS REVELATIONS.

Extracts Which Disclose the Greatness and Nobility of Frederick—A Page of Hitherto Unwritten History.

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—The publication of the late Emperor Frederick's diary is everywhere recognized as an event of the greatest national importance. Official and political circles, however, that are intimately versed in the innermost history of the construction of the Empire have been astounded by the publication, whilst the whole German people are stirred to their very depths by revelations which show the real greatness of the deceased Emperor Frederick, his influence in creating the Empire and his noble aims for its future. Baron Roggenbach, it seems, had the assent of the Empress Victoria to the publication of the extracts, but neither Prince Bismarck nor the present Emperor William was consulted. It is, therefore, thought probable that the publication will have some startling results as affecting the personages concerned in the revelations. It is significant that The North German Gazette (Bismarck's organ) has not yet mentioned the diary.

The National Zeitung complains of the indiscretion of the publication as shown in the selection of the passages and says it was obviously not intended by the Emperor Frederick that they should ever be made public. It instances the revelations that at Versailles there was much friction between the Emperor (then Crown Prince) and Prince Bismarck over the declaration of the existence of the German empire, that Bismarck drafted the letter in which the King of Bavaria is made to appear as having reluctantly invited King William, of Prussia, to assume the imperial dignity, and that in October of 1870 Bismarck informed the Grand Duke of Baden of his determination to wage persistent war against the papal doctrine of "infallibility" and to otherwise assail the influence of the Catholic Church in Germany. It is argued that a disclosure of the nature of this vast revelation is alike wanton and imprudent and will tend to revive the slumbering fires of the Kulturkampf again and to direct the rage of the Clericals against Bismarck as the sole origin of the policy of the repression of Catholics.

Another of these indiscreet revelations is pointed out to be the statement of the deceased emperor that during the negotiations at Versailles it was proposed to proclaim as King of France Leopold II., king of the Belgians, M. Thiers said he would favor the scheme if it implied a union of Belgium and France. The diary does not state the reason for the abandonment of the proposal, but the French people will accurately surmise that Prince Bismarck's project to create a Franco-Belgian monarchy implied the disruption of France into several states and the acquisition by Belgium of the northern provinces. The project is certain of revival if France should be crushed in the coming war.

The most touching feature of the diary is the evidence of the unfailing kindliness of Crown Prince Frederick's disposition and his diffidence of character. On July 24, 1870, the eve of the French campaign, he writes: "At the baptism of my last born the king was too much effected to hold the child. Which of us will come back? I am appointed to act on the flanks of the principal army. I shall scarcely be able to carry out the great enterprise." When victory was declared on the side of the Germans he comforts a French colonel, a prisoner, who had said, "We have lost everything," by replying: You are wrong in saying that you have lost everything—having fought like brave soldiers you have "not lost your honor."

Referring to the attitude of England after the German triumph was assured, he writes on Oct. 2: "The Queen who follows our actions with touching sympathy telegraphs to the King, exhorting him to high-souled dealings." Commenting on the fact that each side appealed to heaven in its own behalf, there occurs, on Dec. 25, the following entry: "It is really a piece of irony on the message of good will that each party calls on God to aid its righteous cause. In every case we incline to prove by it the support of heaven against our opponents."

The last entry before the return to Germany displays the nobleness of the man: "March 8. When I see my endeavors to help the oppressed acknowledged by Germany and her neighbors, and that the people are gaining confidence in my future, I feel quite happy. Moral earnestness and political convictions can only be the result of inward maturity, of inward struggles which must be continued daily and for which one's self is responsible."

While the semi-official press condemn the publication the Progressist papers are exultant. The Vossische Zeitung calls the diary a political legacy deserving to be treasured by the German people to be the touchstone for politics in the future. The brief memoranda are worth more to history, it says, than many other sovereigns' entire reign.

"Had nothing become known of these notes," says The Vienna Freie Press, "but Emperor Frederick's simple declaration that his uppermost thought after peace was obtained is how the liberal development of Germany is to be carried out, that alone would stamp the noble character of the prince. A cruel fate prevented the carrying into effect of the enlightened program of the government."

The Czar's unexpected appearance in Poland amid the troops concentrated toward the Galician frontier has caused excitement in Austrian circles. His presence, however, has not been accompanied by any movement of troops. The Moscow press says that the journey to Poland had been long arranged, the Czar desiring to sojourn for some time among the troops on the western frontier before starting for the Caucasus. His presence is a reminder that the war cloud has not dispersed. Another reminder is a German-Russian war dictionary issued from the state printing office at Vienna and distributed among the Austrian and German armies. It gives dialogs in Polish and Russian relating to necessary objects required during a campaign, especially requisitions for provisions, and to all signs used in Russian military maps. The book has created a sensation in Russia.

A Daring Robber.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Henry F. Harding, alias R. F. Seymour, entered the Fifth National Bank and while the paying teller turned his back for a moment Harding leaped on the railing surrounding the desk and grabbed three packages, each containing $1000. As he dashed from the place he dropped one of the packages. He escaped. A short while afterward Harding entered the Commercial National Bank. This time he quietly took two packages of money from the cashier's desk while his back was turned. Together they contained $8700. He dropped them into a carpet bag. An observant clerk had seen him and gave an alarm. Harding's carpet bag caught in a railing as he started to run. He left it there. He was captured but not before he had fired a number of shots. Harding says he came from Chicago only three weeks ago.

The Switchmen's Meeting.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—The switchmen have not yet reached the question of Federation and are making progress slowly. The most important work of yesterday was the adoption of a resolution favoring the observance of the Sabbath and asking all railways in the United States to give this matter their attention.

MAGGIE AND THE PROFESSOR.

A Breach of Promise Suit in Montreal—Baxter v. The Mail.

MONTREAL, Sept. 22.—Miss Maggie McDonald is suing Prof. Hopkins for $5000 damages for breach of promise of marriage. The professor's property in this city has also been seized. Miss McDonald gave birth to a child on Sept. 4.

Three more burglaries during last night are reported.

A fire in Roy's carriage making establishment on St. Antoine-street this morning did $3000 damage, no insurance.

The firm of T. M. Kutner, clothier, etc., has assigned with liabilities of about $1800.

The mysterious disappearance is announced of an old and respected Montrealer, John McKinnon, formerly of the well-known McGill-street tailoring establishment of Leonard & McKinnon. It is now nearly three months since he has been seen or heard from.

Judgment was rendered to-day in the Court of Appeals in the case of James Baxter v. The Mail. The action, which is for alleged criminal libel, arises out of the publication by The Mail of the words "Baxter will be gone tomorrow," said to have been spoken by Liquidator Howland during the Central Bank investigation, and the defendant claims that it had simply reported an occurrence which had taken place in open court. The Court of Appeals decided unanimously in favor of Baxter.

Sir George Stephen and Sir Donald A. Smith have agreed to donate $80,000 for the Molson-Frothingham property immediately adjoining the abandoned site for the erection of the Royal Victoria Hospital.

CANADA AND THE STATES.

Senator Sherman's Annexation Suggestions Discussed By The London Spectator.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The Spectator discusses Senator Sherman's suggestions regarding annexation, and says: "Canada will dispose of her own destinies. We see no reason to believe that she proposes being absorbed in the Great Republic. It is always a matter of surprise that the attractions of the mighty State by their side have been so small for the Canadians. Were there a union of the Dominion and the United States, no state on earth would have such territory, such position, such potential resources for influencing the history of mankind; but apparently the Canadians would rather remain British than be freed from foreign troubles by becoming citizens of the Union. Moreover we begin to think that they feel they have a third alternative. Why should they not be national, with a history of their own? At present they are a colony, but if a change should appear inevitable—if England should appear effete—Canadians would certainly try to become a nation. For the present they can wait."

MANITOBA MATTERS.

The Accessories in the Winnipeg Mock Marriage Remanded.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23.—Deegan and Strachan were remanded until Wednesday for aiding in the McKay-Betsworth mock marriage. Strachan says he was innocently drawn into procuring the license and was not a witness to the marriage.

General Sir Fred Middleton arrived with ex-Speaker Kirkpatrick yesterday and inspected the Infantry School.

It is said that F Co., Ninetieth Battalion, will resign owing to the award of the shield in the rifle contest which they won but didn't get.

Color-Sergeant Norman of the Infantry School died yesterday of heart disease.

A reception will be tendered the next batch of Ontario farmers by the people of Deloraine.

C. R. Wilkes (Ref.) is an aspirant in Provencher.

At Virden 97 cents is paid for wheat.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Bucket Shop Conviction Quashed—Exhibition Profits.

TORONTO, Sept. 24.—Judgment in the celebrated bucket shop case of Queen v. Logan was given by the Chancery Divisional Court on Saturday. This is the case in which David Logan, the manager of Hanrahan's bucket shop, was fined $100 by the police magistrate under the joint operation of the Gaming and the well known Abbott Act. The conviction was quashed on technical grounds.

Wm. Bartlett, the young man who received a knife wound in a quarrel with a fellow workman in Weston's shoe factory, is in a critical state as blood poisoning has set in.

The net profits of the exhibition are in the neighborhood of $15,000.

A Phœnix Park Tragedy.

DUBLIN, Sept. 22.—Last evening a priest found the body of a woman lying unconscious in Phœnix Park. There were several bottles marked "opium" near her and three of them were empty. She was conveyed to a hospital where artificial respiration was maintained for 17 hours but she died to-day. A solicitor has identified her as Mrs. Mary Jane Taylor, of Niagara, a guest of Lady Preston, of Kingstown.

Suakim Bombarded.

SUAKIM, Sept. 23.—The rebels have been throwing shells from an entrenched position within 900 yards of the town in spite of British firing, but they failed to plant a gun 500 yards from the train. The garrison is in a dangerous position owing to the likelihood that the rebels will capture the well.

Another Murder Mystery.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—A young woman has been murdered near Gateshead exactly after the Whitechapel method. The body was discovered yesterday morning in the street.

A Fatal Fall.

GALT, Sept. 22.—John Stalker, a blacksmith aged about 70 years, living near Kirkwall, a village eight miles from Galt in Beverly Township, was instantly killed to-day by falling from a wagon. He leaves a wife and five children.

He Voodooed His Wife.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 23.—Louis Hill, a negro, five years ago resolved to get rid of his wife in order to wed a dusky belle who had enslaved him. He consulted a voodoo priestess, who told him to extract the poison from a moccasin snake and administer it to his wife in the seventh hour of the seventh day following.

He succeeded in capturing a moccasin, but the reptile was so vicious that he was afraid to make the extraction of its poison bag. He therefore cut off its head and boiled it into the coffee, which his wife drank at breakfast. She was immediately taken ill and for a week lingered between life and death, but finally recovered. The snake's head was found among the coffee grounds, which Hill had thrown beside his cabin, and he was arrested and indicted for an attempt at murder. He escaped and has only now been captured.

Wholesale Grocers Form a Trust.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The Wholesale Grocers' Association was formed for the express purpose of fighting the sugar trust, but subsequently it was determined to control the other branches of the grocery trade. The first step was taken at a meeting some weeks ago, and the purpose was by organizing to compel the trust to sell sugar to the members of the association exclusively at a rebate of one-half cent a pound. F. W. Inbusch, of Milwaukee, was elected secretary. The association further proposes to make arrangements looking for rebates of various other large manufacturers of articles largely used in the grocers' trade. Some of the wholesale grocers do not think that this grocer' trust, for that is practically what it is, can succeed. A meeting was held yesterday to decide on a plan of action.

THE PESTILENCE IN DIXIE

NEWS OF GREAT EXCITEMENT FROM ALL POINTS.

The Awful Scourge Grows Worse and Worse—Jacksonville's Fearful Death Roll—A Shot-Gun Quarantine Established.

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 24.—Eight long weeks have passed since the first case of yellow fever, that of McCormic, was developed at the Grand Union Hotel. Yesterday the official records show a total of 1878 cases and 212 deaths. The daily list of cases and deaths during the past ten days has been fearful in a city the size of Jacksonville with two-thirds of its people absent. Yesterday's record of new cases reached 133, of these 90 were colored people. The deaths reported yesterday are only 10 in number.

A special from McClenny reports five new cases and one death, that of Judge M. F. Schrey, a leading Republican politician and lawyer. Miss Mattie McCoy is not expected to live. The town is in great distress. Work of all kinds is suspended; and assistance is urgently needed. Additional aid will be sent from this place at once.

Supplies here are short, though large orders are in transit. Short rations will have to be issued if freights are delayed. Col. J. J. Daniel, president of the Citizens' Sanitary Association, has again been prostrated by over work.

The Shot-Gun Quarantine.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22.—The Times, Democrat and The Picayune have received specials from almost every village or hamlet in Mississippi where there is a telegraph office, all of which show that a shot-gun quarantine has been established. The following from Columbus is given as a specimen:

The excitement here is intense and growing all the time. The Columbus Riflemen and Brown's Cadets have volunteered for duty, and a guard of four men under military regulations is stationed on each public road and on the railroads leading into the city with orders to let no one pass unless they are known to be from no infected locality. A strict quarantine will be established against the world and will be enforced too. This place has never had the fever and don't intend to if there is any way of keeping it out.

Precautions at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 22.—The strict non-intercourse quarantine regulations adopted by the city authorities yesterday against all passenger trains on all the railroads on the east side of the Mississippi River are being rigidly enforced. Gov. Taylor at Nashville was asked this morning to call out the militia and to place it under orders from the city authorities to aid in the enforcement of quarantine.

A special train from New Orleans containing 500 fleeing refugees from that city, Vicksburg and other points along the line of the Louisville, New Orleans and Memphis railroad will arrive at Lake View, Miss., 20 miles south of Memphis, this afternoon. A special detail of police will meet the train, coaches have been provided by the several lines over which they may have tickets, the transfer will be made, then each coach will be locked, the passengers guarded through Memphis and sent on to their destination.

There are now eight cases of yellow fever at Decatur, Ala. The town is almost depopulated. All the telegraph operators except the train despatchers have fled.

The Situation at Jackson.

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 22.—One new case of yellow fever was reported up to noon, that of Lewis Livingston, acolored man at the Illinois Central depot. Kohn Harris, a colored freight handler at the Illinois Central depot, died to-day of what was probably yellow fever. The Mayor has issued orders for the protection of property and all persons who have not been exposed are urged to leave on a through train to be provided. The fire bells will be rung at 9 p. m. and all persons must then retire. A quarantine station has been established at Asylum City, two miles north of the city, and the Illinois Central Railroad has been requested to deliver freight and express at that point. The weather is very warm and the people are hopeful as could be expected without trains, mails or supplies. The Howard Association is at work but have no means to work with. The telegraph office is overcrowded and many telegrams are unanswered because the parties to whom they are addressed are absent.

SMALLPOX IN BUFFALO.

Thirteen Cases Saturday—Ten of Them in One Building.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Ten new cases of small-pox were discovered in a tenement on the east side to-day. Some of the ailing had had the disease for a considerable time and the occupants of the building strenuously resisted the attempts of the health physicians to enter, and the doctors were obliged to force an entrance. The men of the families occupying the building had been at work every day, and the stores and saloons on the ground floor were run as usual. Another case was discovered on Lovejoy-street and still another on Ashley-street, and these, with the wife of Deputy Controller Albro, make the roster for the day thirteen cases.

There is an intense excitement growing and gathering in the city, not only in the upper part of the city but all over as the facts are coming to light in connection with the spread of the small-pox. This excitement will grow into a panic unless the Board of Health takes decisive and immediate measures to convince and satisfy the people that all is being done that can be done to prevent the spread of this disease.

DEATH OF BAZAINE.

The Ex-Marshal Passes Away at Madrid—A Veteran of Many Wars.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—A despatch from Madrid announces that ex-Marshal Bazaine died in that city to-day.

[Francois Achille Bezaine was born in Versailles, Feb. 13, 1811, enlisted as a private in 1831, became a lieutenant in Algeria in 1835, lieutenant-colonel in 1848, general in the Crimean war, was wounded in the Italian campaign, bore a conspicuous part in the Mexican war, during which he was made marshal in 1864, commanded the third army corps at the outset of the Franco-Prussian war and assumed command of the main French armies on Aug. 8, was hermetically shut up in Metz by Prince Frederick Charles to whom he surrendered with 173,000 men on Oct. 27.]

Queer-Shovers Arrested at Clinton.

GODERICH, Sept. 22.—Three men named Smith, Johnston and McCabe were arrested at the Clinton fair yesterday and lodged in jail here last night charged with "shoving the queer." They had been placing in circulation bogus quarter-dollars and were caught in the act. George Smith, one of the party, is a resident of this town and some years ago ran a hotel here. The counterfeits were poorly executed.

Mr. Chesney Under a Cloud.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—J. B. Chesney, manager of the Chicago branch of the cigar manufactory of Heed Bros., of Barnesville, O., was arrested this afternoon on a warrant charging him with larency. Some time ago, it is alleged, the firm began to suspect that there were irregularities in the Chicago office and on checking up the books found a shortage of $2,800. Albert Heed, the senior member of the firm, came to Chicago, and it is said found the office closed and Chesney absent. No trace could be found of a miscellaneous lot of stock and property valued at $2,000. A warrant was sworn out and Chesney was put under arrest.

John L. Sullivan's Condition.

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—J. L. Sullivan's nurse says that the sick man passed a somewhat restless night and was more feverish to-day than he was yesterday. His temperature at one time was as high as 102½. His pulse was also very high and the general symptoms were somewhat alarming. He was resting quietly at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

PETERBOROUGH CENTRAL.

Arrangements Complete and Prospects of a Successful Show most Encouraging.

The directors of the Central Exhibition met in the Council committee rooms on Saturday afternoon. Several matters pertaining to the exhibition were discussed but there was nothing of much importance to the public evolved. The address which is to be presented to Hon. Mr. Drury, Minister of Agriculture, upon his opening the show, was submitted, approved of and ordered to be engrossed.

The Exhibition buildings, which have been deserted during the past twelve months, will present a scene of bustle and activity all day to-morrow. The exhibitors will be arranging their exhibits in the most advantages manner possible in the space which has been allotted to them. The live stock will probably begin to arrive and the scene altogether will be one of lively interest. The directors will meet on the grounds at five o'clock in the afternoon and final arrangements and the finishing touch will be given to every detail prior to throwing the gates open to the public at nine o'clock on Wednesday morning. Secretary Collins has been the busiest man in town for the past week, the entries coming in all at once and there being much correspondence to be attended to and arrangements to be made personally which have not given him much time to talk or think of anything but exhibition. Superintendent Fitzgerald has also been full of activity this week. He has been looking after the improvements that have been made at the grounds. The accomodation for poultry and some of the live stock has been increased and the offices of the exhibition officials have been fitted up. In fact, arrangements are now all complete, and, should the weather prove fine, the prospects for a most successful show are most encouraging. The number of entries cannot be given, as they all rushed in at one time, thus rendering it impossible to accurately state the number. They will, in all probability, exceed those of last year. Another matter that should not be neglected is the making, as far as possible, our town present a bright and attractive appearance to the visitors who will be here from the county and neighboring towns. The accomodation of exhibitors has been well looked after, for the directors have succeeded in getting the Grand Trunk to run a special train to and from the grounds during the three days of of the fair.

The Exhibition will be finally opened on Wednesday at 1. 30 p. m. by Hon. Chas. Drury, Minister of Agriculture, and then special attractions in the ring will furnish amusement for the people during the afternoon. Thursday will also see a good programme carried out, including the baseball tournament. The baby show will take place at 2 o'clock on Thursday afternoon in the main building. This will, perhaps, be the most interesting item on the programme for the afternoon, and it is expected that there will be quite a number of proud mothers exhibiting "little darlings of pink sweetness."

The list of officers and especially of the Committee of Management, although before published, may, perhaps, prove useful to many of our readers; and one therefore appended:—

The Central Fair Prize List.

The following alterations and additions have been made by the Directors in and to the prize list. Several additional prizes have been donated since the list was printed and which it is desired to place. By reference to the list the alterations will be understood.

Page 13, in class 4, sec. 9. First prize to be a plow, valued at $16, given by T. Fiurey & Sons, of Aurora, T. Cochrane, local agent.

Page 22, Class 24. sec. 1. First prize to be dress goods valued at $6, given by Mr. J. G. Turnbull, instead of wheelbarrow given by Mr. T. Cochrane. Sec. 2, first prize to be 10 lbs. tea, valued at $5, given by Daly, Grange, & Co., instead of $4.

Butter prize.—Prizes are offered for the best 5 lbs. butter made by a farmer's daughter under 17 years, Wilson & Morrison giving a $5 gold piece, as first prize, Mayor Stevenson giving $3 cash, second prize.

On page 4, the hour at which entries in classes 24 to 29 inclusive should be delivered on the ground reads 2 o'clock. This is an error. These exhibits must be on the grounds not later than 12 o'clock noon of the first day. See rule 8, page 7.

Page 32, class 25, sec. 6. One prize only awarded for best collection of potatoes; goods to value of $3.50 and diploma.

"Preaching the Gospel."

Lord A. P. Cecil and Mr. A. P. Hayhoe, held services in the Music Hall yesterday afternoon and evening. They spoke to a crowded hall on both occasions. In the afternoon Mr. Hayhoe read from Matt. 17, which tells of the transfiguration, and he spoke at considerable length on the several thoughts suggested by the manner of the Saviour leaving the earth. Referring to the second coming of God, he said it would be a resurrection of the dead, not from the dead. There would be two classes of Saints in heaven after the great day—those saints who had died, been buried and raised again, and those saints who had been translated from live. Lord Cecil followed with an earnest address to the saved and unsaved. They did just about what they advertised to do, viz., "preach the gospel."

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you tou may depend upon this for certain.

Jot it down and remember that Turnbull will show 50 different styles of Children's and Misses' mantles, all handsome designs on the Opening days, Sept. 26th and 27th. These goods were manufacturers' samples bought at a bargain and will be sold cheap. d68tf

TEAS!

Tea is the Universal Beverage.

The Tea known as Gunpowder is one of our most popular Green Teas. In appearance it is round, like small shot, with a beautiful bloom, which will not bear the breath. It has a greenish hue, and a fragrant, pungent taste.

This kind of Tea is often adulterated by inferior kinds, colored, glazed and manipulated to look like the Gunpowder with which it is mixed.

Where the leaf is open and loose, the outside of a darker hue, and the taste brassy and unpleasant, it should be promptly rejected.

Teas should never be bought in quantities unless first tested by steepping, as a fair style of Tea may be a poor drawer, and the adulteration of Tea is more readily detected by this means.

My Teas will be found to stand this test, and are really splendid in the cup.

Arrested on Suspicion.

Henry Fay and John O'Neil were arrested by Chief Roszel on Saturday night as vagrants. A coat was stolen from Mr. H. Sheppard's clothing store about six o'clock on Saturday evening and these two "gentlemen of leisure" are suspected of knowing something about the missing garment. O'Neil was arrest here once before he was with Howe's circus. He was a glass eater, etc., and was run in for drunkenness at the time. A special sitting of the police court was held on Saturday night and the two men were remanded to gaol for a week.

Church Notes.

The Rev. Dr. Smith, of Kingston, occupied the pulpit at St. Andrew's Church on Sunday morning and preached an able sermon to a good congregation.

Mr. P. E. Bell presided at the organ in St. Andrew's church on Sunday, in the absence of Mr. Carter.

At the George-st. Church Mr. J. Crane took the place of the organist, Mr. Dingle, who was absent.

The Rev. M. L. Pearson returned from Winnipeg on Saturday evening. He looks to be much improved in health. On Sunday he was greeted with unusually large congregations. In the evening the rev. gentleman preached to young men from the history of the "prodigal son."

Resolution of Sympathy.

At the last regular meeting of the Peterborough Medical Society the usual business was postponed out of respect to the memory of the late Dr. Collins, who was a member of the Society, and the following resolution was adopted:—

"We, the members of the Peterborough Medical Society, having learned with sincere regret of the death of our late friend and brother practitioner, Dr. Collins, take this opportunity of conveying to his sorrowing family and friends our heartfelt sympathy in their sad bereavement. As a member of our society he was prominent in promoting its best interests and from the diligence with which he applied himself to his professional duties gave promise of a life of usefulness and success.

"In his intercourse with his professional brethren he was always kind and courteous, and in his untimely death we sustain a severe loss and our town loses a useful citizen."

A FASCINATING ATHLETE.

Mr. H. B. M. Carter's Brilliant Career in Montreal.

A few years ago Peterborough was favored with the presence of a young man, of athletic turn and good presence, whose vast assurance was his stock-in-trade. His business was trying to live easily, and he succeeded well in this town. He has been in Montreal and his methods of pursuing his business has attracted the notice of the Star, which says:—"A large number of boarding house keepers and 'kind friends' who occasionally 'oblige a friend with a little loan,' including one or two young damsels whose hearts have been damaged, are diligently looking for a dapper young man 'from England' of the name of H. B. M. Carter, who has been missing from his last boarding place for several weeks. It appears that Carter, who wears a reporter's badge, and represents himself to be on the staff of a morning paper, has been in the habit of changing his boarding place quite often recently, taking 'French leave,' Carter, besides being a dapper young fellow and a 'gay Lothario,' is an excellent gymnast, and was a member of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association until recently when 'force of circumstances' compelled him to resign, he being somewhat behind in 'paying his dues.' It was owing to his 'excellent gymnastic ability' that he was able to construct a sort of 'trap ease' by which he out of a third story window of one of his boarding places and made off in the stilly night, while the unconscious widowed landlady to whom he owed several weeks board was safely enconced within the arms of Morpheus, dreaming, perhaps, of the young man's longed for remittance that never came.

"Since this exploit, the dapper young 'skipper' has not been seen, at least by those who are anxious about him. There were several callers at the gymnasium for Mr. Carter recently, among them being an old gray haired gentleman who had a long list with the names of a number of boarding house keepers and laundresses and a pugilist from whom he took sparring lessons. To all these Carter owed money ranging from $10 to $30. The old man had lumped them all together, evidently intending to dispose of them to Carter's friends at the gymnasium at a big discount. He was under the impression that 'Carter's stocks' were 'way up' at the gymnasium, but when told that the young Apollo was from that institution and forbidden to enter again, the old gentleman left much crest-fallen.

"Carter is a gentlemanly looking young fellow, of easy manners, and has evidently been well brought up."

The account of Mr. Carter's exploits in Montreal will recall to many that gentleman's "easy manners" while he was here.

Three Minutes was Enough.

Alex. Franklin was run in yesterday as a vagrant and appeared on the prisoners bench at the Police Court this morning.

'Alexander Franklin, you are charged with being a vagrant," said Police Magistrate Dumble when it came to Franklin's turn. "Vagrant for what?" inquired Franklin in a sharp tone of voice. The Magistrate then proceeded to enlighten the prisoner that a vagrant was a person who had no visible means of support. Franklin said he worked for his living and had had come to town to borrow some money. He had been hired out and had nothing left but the cloths on his back. "Well," said the Magistrate, "I will give you three hours to get out of town." "Allright," replied Franklin grabbing his hat "I will get out in three minutes!" and he made a hurried departure from the court room.

At the Cemetery Yesterday.

There were two very long funeral processions to the Little Lake Cemetery yesterday—one being that of Mrs. Wm. Forster, and the other of Mr. Dobbin, from North Monaghan. The beautiful weather had caused quite a number of people to wander out to the cemetery and enjoy a walk around its well kept paths and breathe the fresh air from off the water. Such afternoons as yesterday will be scarce now.

Failed to Establish a Case.

The charges of selling liquor to Indians brought against nine Peterborough hotelmen, came up for hearing at Roseneath, and were all dismissed on Saturday. The information was laid by an Indian named Elijah Chubb and the hotelmen were defended by Mr. A. P. Poussette, Q.C. The evidence was taken in one case, but the prosecution failing to establish a case all the charges were therefore dismissed, the informer to pay all the costs. The defendants are greatly annoyed at the trouble they have been put in this matter.

TURNBULL'S fall and winter stock is now complete. Every department is crowded with beautiful goods, which will be sold cheaper than ever this season. d68tf

A Street Car Service.

The want of a street car service to the Fair grounds will be to some extent made up by the special trains which the G. T. R. have consented to run. It is hoped that before another Exhibition has been held that the car tracks will have been laid along George-st. from one end to the other. The line would be well patronized and must have a paying investment. In the meantime although a good deal of leather will be worn out by pedestrians it is comforting to reflect that at Gough Bros., the Wonderful Cheap Men, boots and shoes can be replaced for a mere trifle. It couldn't be otherwise with a $6,000 stock of fine boots and shoes going like hot cakes at less than half wholesale cost. Don't let this golden opportunity elide. gough bros. have their big boots on and are wading into the boot and shoe trade in a manner to strike terror to the high price dealers. Tremendous bargains in all kinds of boots and shoes at gough bros.', 375 George-st.

Lost His Sole to Save a Horse.

George Dawson, a young man employed by Mr. D. Bellegheem, furniture dealer, had a very narrow escape on Saturday from being severely injured, if not killed, while struggling to keep a horse from rushing in front of a locomotive on the Grand Trunk track on Bethune-st. near Brock-st. Young Dawson was driving along Bethune-st. with a load of lumber and, as traffic on Brock-st. is impended on account of the bridge which is being built, he was compelled to follow the track along Bethune. He was driving along carelessly when a train came round the curve, and in snatching up the reins Dawson in some way got them crossed and turned the horse towards the track. Seeing the danger he jumped from the waggon and grabbing the horse by the head tried to back him off the track. The animal, however, would not back, and the locomotive was almost upon the young man when he got the horse off the track. So close was the call, that the wheel of the engine took the sole off of Dawson's boot and broke the shaft of the waggon. Those who witnessed the affair say that it was a most daring act, although they thought the young man foolish to risk his life in such a manner.

Personal.

Mr. A. E. Carter, organist, returned today from Smith's Falls where he played on Friday evening at a very successful recital given in the Baptist church of that town. The organ, supplied by Jackson & Co., of Peterborough, was greatly admired for its good tone and power.

Will Have to Work to Hold It.

Mr. R. M. Roy, jr., of Belleville, son of Mr. R. M. Roy, of town, who won the Oddfellow's handicap cup as reported in the REVIEW last week, is not to be allowed to hold the cup without earning that honor. He has received a challenge from Mr. M. Lazier for another race within thirty days.

TURNBULL has a pile of low priced German ulsters and mantles which he will be unable to exhibit for want of room on the opening days, Sept. 26th and 27th. Ask to see them. d68tf

The Canal Commission.

The Trent Valley Canal Commission will meet in Peterborough on Wednesday, Oct. 3rd, and will proceed over the eastern part of the canal route, and from the eastern end to Kingston. The Commissioners will at the same time arrange dates for holding further sittings to take evidence regarding the canal.

The Brick Work Completed.

On Saturday Mr. A. Rutherford, the contractor for the building of the new Nicholls Hospital, hoisted flags on the top of the walls, as a sign that the brick work was completed. The walls are substantially built and the structure, standing as it does on the hill and being large and of good design, presents an imposing appearance.

Greenfield the Right Man.

Chief Roszel left for Buffalo yesterday morning to see the man Greenfield, held there on suspicion of being the Gough burglar. This morning Mr. E. B. Edwards, Town Solicitor, received a telegram from the Chief which stated that Greenfield was the right man. The extradition investigation will take place at Buffalo the beginning of next week, when the witnesses will have to attend from here. Constable Stewart and Mrs. McNern are the only two witnesses who will probably have to go.

AMAZON dress and jacket cloths in all the new shades with trimmings to match, will be shown on the opening days, Sept. 26th and 27th, at Turnbull's. d68tf

The Fight for the Championship.

The Riversides intend to make a great struggle to secure the championship honors from Orillia. The game will, probably, be played away from both of the towns represented by the teams, but the place or date have not been fixed. The Riversides are to meet for exercise on the grounds this evening at six o'clock. Many of the boys have got a little out of form and hence the necessity of a little exercise to limber up again.

DON'T FORGET to see R. H. Baird's Company to-night in the Opera House. 1d70

A Fatal Prize Fight.

Geo. Fulljames, who will be remembered as having run a boxing school here last winter, has been killed in a slugging match in Grand Forks, Dakota. A despatch from that place gives the following particulars:—Late on Friday night a brutal prize fight took place in a barn. One Barrett and Geo. Fulljames, champion light weight of Manitoba, were the principals. Barrett had the best of the fight from the start, and punished his opponent so badly that he was rendered unconscious and died last evening. Barrett is in jail.

A Wide Smile on the Kid

Because he has secured $7,000 worth of first class boots and shoes at a very low rate on the dollar, and to make room he will thrash them out at such low prices that customers can't help buying. Listen to a few of the bargains. Ladies' shoes, 15 cents, sold everywhere for 40 cents. Ladies' laced boots, 90 cents, sold usually at other places for $1.75, and our men's long boots for $1.75, unsurpassed for value in the Dominion, every pair warranted. But call and see Kidd, the boot man, and he will show you why he smiles. Still there is more to follow. d70

Do not fail to see the large exhibit of carpets, lace curtains, fancy wool goods in fascinators, clouds, shawls, jackets, caps and hoods, on Wednesday and Thursday evening, Sept. 26th and 27th. No goods will be sold at J. C. TURNBULL'S. d68tf

Scotchmen's Meeting.

The Burns club met in the W. C. T. U. hall on Saturday evening, when several new members were present. President Hendry occupied the chair. The whole evening was taken up in discussing the rules and by-laws submitted by the committee appointed at the last meeting to draft the same. Some lively discussion took place on certain clauses in the by-laws and it was decided to adjourn the debate until next meeting. The night of meeting was changed from Saturday to Friday evening each week, so that the club will meet next Friday evening in the W. C. T. U. hall, when every Scotchman or descendants of Scotchmen who have identified themselves with the club should be present to take part in the important discussion which will then come up.

"Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 27 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reëstablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1888.

By REBECCA HARDING DAVIS.

The major leaned on the glass counter for a moment. It was two days since he had tasted food. The steam of savory dishes below was too much for him. A collapsed stomach in a powerful frame like his is a deadly drag upon a man's pluck. He looked at Sam. The fellow would give him his dinner if he asked it, he knew.

He gathered himself up with an effort. "I'd steal, but I can't beg," he said, silently. He nodded affably to Sam, and filliped to the parrot as he went out. His high featured, usually florid face, had turned cold and blue under the mustache and whiskers, but he carried himself jauntily.

John Proctor saw him as soon as he stepped on the street. There was the identical broadcloth suit cut twenty years ago, and the vast expanse of shirt bosom, frayed in the plaits, but immaculately white. The major was a property of the town, well known as the city clock. With his bushy white mane, his imposing shoulders, his lofty bow, he radiated and filled the pavement from wall to curb. Proctor thought the old man would be glad to see him, but he certainly had not expected the strange effect which the sight of him produced. Standish stopped as though he had been struck a blow, holding him off at arm's length. His pomposity seemed to suddenly drop from him.

"Why, Jack! Jack!" he stammered, "I did not look to see you. I beg your pardon, Mr. Proctor. I forget"— drawing back, yet still holding the young man's coat sleeve with what would have been very like a caress in a woman.

"Forgot! You forget old friends, I think."

"Prince Hal has changed his state," said the major, smiling, with an effort to be himself. "It is time he shook off old Falstaff.

> How ill white hairs become a fool and jester!
> So surfeit swelled, so old and so profane!

"You did not use to affect the cynic."

"No. It is the sight of you that reminds me of what I had better forget."

Proctor was ashamed, as one man always is of emotion in another. "You had always an unreasonable liking for me, vicious young dog that I was!" he said, lightly. "You're at the old place, I suppose! I'll come round at dusk. We'll broil a steak together, hey, major? My hand has not lost its cunning."

The old man looked down at him steadily with an inexplicable brightness in his keen eyes. "I did not think you would go so far as that, my boy," he said quietly.

Mr. McMurray's carriage drew up at the door at that moment. It was plain but rich, the horses thoroughbred. An innocent looking, delicate little blonde, dressed with Quaker like plainness, looked out and blushed crimson at the sight of John. At that the blood mounted also into the fellow's tell tale face, and he went down to the carriage, leaning on the door to speak to her.

"A handsome pair, major," whispered Withrow, who was still loitering near.

"She's worth a cool half million; that's the way in which I'd think you would look at her."

"So I do, Mr. Withrow. Proctor is lucky, very lucky. Talents and education and religion, and now a good wife with money. The boy could not ask for more."

There was something in the old man's unusual quiet, and the look which he fastened on Proctor, that roused Withrow's curiosity.

"There used to be some connection between you and the young man, wasn't there? He was under your guardianship when he was a boy, I think I've heard?"

"Not at all, sir," eagerly, "not at all. It was a mere business transaction. I held certain moneys for the lad's use from his father, and paid his bills; that was all. I placed him under Mr. McMurray's care when he was entered here first at school. McMurray has the entrance to the best society, and is religious; those were the two things I looked at. Why, the boy's blood is of the best. His father was one of the old blue bloods of Virginia. He would never have trusted his son to the guardianship of an old scallawag like Dan Standish." The major was himself again, his rolling voice and theatrical gestures keeping time and apparently enjoying each other thoroughly.

"Oh, that's it! You were not one of the blue bloods then?"

"My father was a butcher, sir. I've lived by my wits; and an infernally poor capital they are for any man. I'll say that. I've dined with dukes and ragpickers in my day, Mr. Withrow. But the smell of the slaughter house followed me. A man is nothing without family here in Philadelphia." And again his eyes rested on Proctor, with the anxious thoughtfulness so strangely at variance with his ordinary stagey manner.

Withrow clapped his hand to one pocket, then to the other. "By the way! Where the deuce— Oh, here it is. Come this way, major," drawing him into the doorway, and opening a New York paper. "Here in the Personals. 'Richard Standish.' You see? No relation of yours, eh?"

The major had the paper up before his face. He took out his cracked eyeglasses and adjusted them on his nose; took them down and wiped them leisurely; read the card once, a second time. "No; I don't know the man."

"From Virginia, you see," said Withrow, putting the paper in his pocket again; "and came here about the same time you say you did. But your name's Dan. Certainly. It looks like a trick of the police to get hold of a criminal to me."

"So it does to me."

"Going, eh! Proctor's busy," with a significant wink. "He has no need of old fellows like us, now."

"No." The major stood a moment watching John's eager gestures, and the bright, blushing face bent over him. "Now he has no more need of me," he said quietly, and turned away with a bow as he passed the [illegible] though neither of them saw him.

Mr. McMurray, with the young clergyman again in his office, safely trapped, could not let him go without a word or two of rebuke. "Should you accept it" (they were talking of the call), "you must be careful, my dear sir, to avoid even the appearance of evil. You are young and impulsive, fond of your friends. The dignity of your position would render improper many associates whom you knew as a boy, unless, indeed, you approach them officially, administering the Word as the hope of salvation. This Maj. Standish now, for example"—

"I am very uncertain about accepting this church at all," broke out Jack. "There is a place in the west that suits my ways better. But I could not marry on their salary. It's the merest pittance. I could barely live on it."

Mr. McMurray paused, and answered with deliberation: "In the matter of marriage, must you consult that point of salary at all, Mr. Proctor? The wife you may select may —will, in all probability—be independent. A woman ought to feel herself honored in being called to share the spiritual work of a Christian minister, and should rejoice if she can bear her part in his temporal burdens."

"I'll never be supported by a rich wife," said John, bluntly. "I'll be frank with you, Mr. McMurray. There is a woman whom I have loved long and faithfully. I will marry her, if I can. If she has money, well and good; but I must be the provider in my own household."

"It is a natural feeling, and a manly one," said McMurray, not ill pleased.

"We differ, too, in this matter of associates," obstinately resumed Jack. "I have never felt that my 'cloth,' as the vulgar phrase has it, placed me one whit apart from other men. When I measure myself with a prince or ruffian in the dock by his courage or good sense or faithfulness to his friend, I touch a brotherhood between us stronger than any church bond. We get our naked hands together. You understand? And oftener then it is he who gives the Word to me than I to him," he added, under his breath.

TOPICS FROM THE CAPITAL

AN APPLICATION MADE FOR ROBBER GREENFIELD'S EXTRADITION.

Over Four Thousand Cattle to be Exported From Calgary to Great Britain this Fall.

OTTAWA, Sept. 25.—Application has been made to the Department of Justice to make a demand upon the United States for the extradition of John Greenfield for committing a robbery on a policeman at Peterboro whom he subsequently shot.

The Public Works Department will commence dredging Montreal Harbor and the Lake St. Peter Channel next spring. The department and the works at Montreal will be connected by telephone.

Prof. Fream, agricultural correspondent of The London Morning Post, has returned from his trip to the Northwest. He found the settlers in Manitoba contented and pleased with their prospects. Lands along the Manitoba and Northwestern Railway, he thinks, are well adapted to mixed farming. He says more than 4000 cattle will be exported from Calgary to Great Britain this fall.

Sir John Thompson has left for Montreal.

Dr. Montague was in the city yesterday.

The Central Exhibition committee have issued invitations to Sir John and the Cabinet to meet His Excellency the Governor-General at luncheon to-day on the Exhibition grounds.

A Firebug at Guelph.

GUELPH, Sept. 25.—Fire was discovered in a house on Essex-street, occupied by Martin Murphy, Sunday afternoon about 4.30. The alarm was sounded and a large crowd soon gathered. Before a line of hose could be laid, however, the blaze was extinguished by a couple of buckets of water. Chief Randall and Sergeant Dooley immediately set about investigating the origin of the conflagration. Circumstances pointed very strongly toward Murphy as being the firebug. He was accordingly detained by the sergeant. It is claimed that Murphy sent his wife and children up street, and then placed a pile of light wood in a clothes closet and ignited it. Murphy has an unsavory reputation. He has been in the meshes of the law several times and yesterday made a stout resistance when arrested. Murphy appeared at the Police Court yesterday and was remanded till to-morrow.

Fire at Port Hope.

PORT HOPE, Sept. 25.—Sunday morning about 10 o'clock fire broke out in Spooner's copperine factory. Fortunately water was near and by great exertions the blaze was brought under subjection before the brigade arrived. The loss was not serious.

Wrecked in a Cyclone.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The steamship Louisiana, which arrived from New Orleans to-day, reports that on Sept. 19, when in the Gulf of Mexico, she sighted a large, newly copper-bottomed ship floating keel upwards. It is supposed that the vessel was overturned in the cyclone.

Wheat at 85c. at Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 24.—Wheat took another rise to-day and is now quoted at 85 cents.

The Hudson Bay promoters left to-day for St. Paul, to consult with Mr. Onderdonk as to their future action.

MANAGER FAIS INNOCENT.

Another Confesses That He Stole Louise Paullin's Money.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25.—Through the confession of the real thief, Stage Manager Charles C. Fais, of the Carleton Opera Company, was acquitted after three and a half hours' deliberation by the jury of stealing $1500 from Louise Paullin when she fainted at a matinee at the Chestnut-street Theatre at the close of the season two years ago. The trial has lasted five days, and just as the chain was tightening on the defendant beyond hope District-Attorney Graham arose with a large roll of bills in his hand and said he had an important statement to make. He then told that Property-man Weeks, of the theatre, had confessed to Lawyer Thomas W. Barlow that he had found the money in Miss Paullin's dressing-room, part of which he had put in the bank and the rest he had spent in dissipation.

Lawyer Barlow at once acquainted the District-Attorney with the facts, and Weeks was brought to court to testify. Weeks then took the stand and said he found the money in Miss Paullin's dressing-room the morning after she fainted. He thought it was "stage" money and thrust it in his pocket. When he found out differently he deposited $500 in a savings' bank in December and spent the rest. He returned the $500 and $200 additional, which he had recently received as a legacy.

Fais' lawyers asked an immediate acquittal, but the District-Attorney sent the case to the jury, saying there were some points which showed that Mr. Fais had more knowledge about the money than a man entirely innocent could have, and that the new evidence did not entirely clear up the case. When the jury brought in their verdict Fais broke down and wept like a child. The new testimony clears several actresses from suspicion, among whom were Miss Alice Vincent, Miss Griffiths and Miss Gossin. Weeks will escape punishment, as the case is barred out by the statute of limitations.

Boy Bandits and Captive Girl Queens.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Johnnie Wilson and Charlie Hansen, twelve-year-old boys on the west side, have been reading cheap novels with the usual results. They ran away from home, dug a cave in a vacant lot and lived there as bandits. They plundered hen roosts, clothes' lines and even residences, furnishing their cave with carpet, rugs and chairs and living on stolen food. Their last exploit was to steal two school girls, Jessie Thomas and Edna Holton, and keep them in the cave as captive queens. Two policemen got into the cave and arrested the bandits for stealing valuable game chickens.

THE STRICKEN SOUTH.

RELENTLESS PROGRESS OF THE YELLOW PESTILENCE.

Fresh Victims Added to the Death Roll—Railway Trains Abandoned on Account of Quarantine Regulations.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 25.—Yesterday was one of the most disagreeable days of the season. Sunday's northeaster was succeeded by a cold rain and drizzle. This weather is regarded as exceedingly unfavorable for the sick, but it is encouraging to note that only five deaths have been reported. New cases, however, still continue in abundance. The report shows 113, of which 85 are colored and 28 whites. Four-fifths of the new cases are in the suburbs. It is impossible to approximate the number of cases that have not been reported. One physician has had over 130 cases, few of which have been reported.

At Fernandina.

FERNANDINA, Sept. 25.—Yellow fever was officially declared yesterday. Two deaths.

Through Trains Stopped.

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 25.—Owing to the restrictions of quarantine regulations in Mississippi, Tennessee and Kentucky, the Mobile and Ohio has stopped all through passenger and freight trains on that road.

Locals Abandoned on the Illinois Central.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 25.—All local trains on the Illinois Central Railway have been abandoned. Gen. Glyn, acting under instructions, has withdrawn all trains on the Northeastern road on account of the action of the quarantine authorities at Meriden, Miss., and York, Ala., in refusing to allow trains to pass those points.

Grand Lodge U. O. O. F. Postponed.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 25.—Grand Master Forester of the United Order of Oddfellows of the United States and Canada has postponed the meeting of the Grand Lodge at Nashville, Tenn., from Oct. 2 to Nov. 27, on account of the yellow fever in the south.

The Smallpox Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Sept. 24.—H. A. Reynolds of Collins Centre and another citizen of that town reported at the Board of Health office to-day that last night three cases of smallpox had been discovered among the Indians on the reservation.

The thirteen new cases of smallpox that came to the knowledge of the Board of Health in this city, Saturday, were followed yesterday by two more. One of these is the wife of a barber whose shop is below his residence rooms and he has constantly attended customers. A large store and meat market in the same building were closed by the authorities to-day.

A MOB IN POSSESSION.

Rio Grande City Dominated by a Lawless Body of Armed men.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Acting Secretary Thompson has received the following telegram from the Collector of Customs at Brownsville, Tex., dated Sept. 23: "An armed mob has possession of Rio Grande City on account of the killing of a Mexican by a Customs officer in a personal encounter. The officer went to Fort Ringgold for protection. The civil authorities of Starr County are powerless. Please obtain orders to be telegraphed for the military at Ringgold to protect the Custom House and citizens until danger is over. The necessity is urgent. Fighting is hourly expected. Orders have to be sent by carrier from Fort Brown. The line to Ringgold has been cut by the mob."

Soldiers Ordered Out.

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 25.—The Governor has received a despatch from the County Judge of Starr County, saying that there is a bloody riot in Rio Grande City and asking that rangers be sent there immediately, or, if that was impossible, for him to ask the United States troops there to give protection against the mob. No particulars were given. The Governor ordered out Capt. Jones' company of Rangers, but it will be several days before they can reach there.

This Note Excited a Virginia Town.

LIBERTY, Va., Sept. 25.—The following note was picked up on Main-street Saturday morning and is supposed to have been dropped by a balloonist. There were two keys attached to it. It created great excitement and was read by more than a hundred people: "If this should chance to fall into the hands of anyone tell my wife, Mary Brooks, 204 Gram-street, Cleveland, O., that I am high in the skies with my balloon and that it is unmanageable, dashing along at a fearful rate. I think I am moving eastward. The sun has been in view for more than an hour. CHARLES BROOKS."

An Uglier Man Than Hewitt.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—In an interview to-day Mayor Hewitt stated that he would accept a mayoralty nomination against any Democrat in this city, Andrew H. Green excepted. Said the Mayor: "If there is one man who can be uglier than I can be in protecting the interests of the whole people and enforcing the laws he is Andrew H. Green. I would support him no matter what Democratic faction nominated him. I would not run against him. I shall go further and state that he is more fitted to be Mayor than I am. He ought to have been nominated when I was."

British Ambassadorial Changes.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—A rumor is current that Sir R. D. Morier, the British Ambassador at St. Petersburg, has been appointed Ambassador to the Austrian Court and he will be succeeded at St. Petersburg by Sir Lionel Sackville-West, now British Minister to Washington.

British Troops Carry Thibetan Outposts.

SIMLA, Sept. 25.—The British troops have made an attack upon the advance posts of the Thibetans, Tukala and Simla. The Thibetans fled. None of the British troops were killed.

Stanley's Interpreter in London.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Farran, Henry M. Stanley's Syrian interpreter, has arrived in London. He left Aruwhimi on account of illness three days before Major Barttelot started on his journey. He confirms the reports as to Barttelot's temper, and the brutality shown by him to the natives and says he expected that Barttelot would be killed. Stanley, he says, insisted upon the natives being kindly treated. The acts of brutality began soon after Stanley left. Farran believes Stanley reached Emin Bey but he admits that the anxiety felt concerning the explorer is justified. Tippoo Tib, he says, hated Barttelot and obstructed the progress of the expedition.

Too Bad Even for a Judge to Listen to.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—A divorce case that can disturb a Chicago judge may be supposed to be pretty bad, but that is the kind of a case that came before Judge Horton. Mrs. Louis A. McCarthy was the complainant, and with sobs and tears and fainting turns she explained that the ground for her divorce was her husband's criminal conversation with her own daughter. The daughter corroborated her statement. Judge Horton was so deeply affected by the story that after granting the divorce and ordering the husband to be proceeded against criminally he declined to hear the rest of his cases, closed court and went home.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Fell and Broke His Neck—The Police Magistrate's Big Docket.

TORONTO, Sept. 25.—A young man named Cooper tried to get in through a back window of his residence, on Wellesley-street, Sunday night, his wife having gone out and locked up the house. He procured a step-ladder from an outbuilding, and, having mounted it, was about to try the window, when he fell backwards to the ground and dislocated his neck. He died in a few minutes. The young widow is in a state of wild grief.

A man named Joseph Houghton, who gave his residence as Kingston, was arrested yesterday on a charge of personating a Mr. Beard, of Deseronto, and defrauding citizens out of sums of money.

A Roman Catholic college for ladies, capable of accommodating 500 students, is mooted and its promoters are looking for a site in East Toronto.

Michael Doheny, who lives at the corner of Front and Princess-streets, reports that on Saturday night he was robbed of $19 in a lane off King-street.

The congregation of Knox Church is stirred by the discussion of a recent pulpiteer, in which he said that "The ladies and women" of the Toff auxiliary would hold a meeting.

A lad named George Jenning, whose parents live on Conway-street, broke his arm in a fall from a wagon. He was taken home and his injuries attended to.

There were 133 cases on the Police Court docket yesterday morning, 33 of which were for breaches of the liquor law. This is the highest number on record with the exception of one day last year, when there were 137 cases on the docket.

Robert Muter was apprehended last night by Detective McGrath, at 57 Richmond-street west, where he was lodging, charged with burglary at Cross Hills, Waterloo county. The amount stolen was $39.

EMIGRATION OF CROFTERS.

Numbers Anxious to Settle in the Canadian Northwest.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Messrs. MacNeill and Graham, the emigration commissioners acting in behalf of the Imperial and Canadian Governments respectively, are meeting with success in their mission to the crofter districts of Scotland. Under their present powers the commissioners can only definitely select and assist twenty families from Lewis, and in order to obtain these have already granted interviews to 300 heads of families, 103 of whom formally applied for Government aid. It is evident, therefore, that numbers are anxious to settle in the Northwest. Enquiry also proved that the Lewis crofters are by no means as destitute as alleged. One accepted applicant swore to a personalty of £100; the others are able-bodied males and females, likely to prove excellent settlers. The commission will shortly conclude its enquiry in Lewis and proceed to Harris, North and South Uist and Barra.

The Wrong Man Jailed.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 25.—Charles Bell, giving his home as New Brunswick, was arrested on Sunday by Detective Phair for stealing some $12 or $13 from a satchel belonging to Mrs. McGill, at McGill's hotel, on Saturday. The lady identified two stamps, a 10-cent piece and a copper found in the prisoner's possession as hers. The rest of the money was not recovered. Now comes the peculiar part of the story. Ten days or so ago two coats were stolen from James McDonald's hotel, Carling-street, and were sold at Sainsbury's second-hand clothing store. Henry Carroll, or Carl, was arrested for the theft and Mr. Sainsbury thought he was the right man. Carl was therefore sent for trial and is now in jail. However, Mr. Sainsbury afterwards saw Bell on the street and recognised him as the right man without doubt. One of the girls in the hotel also knew him as the party she had seen going in there when the coats were taken. He has been at the St. Thomas Fair and just returned. Carl will probably be tried by the judge at once and released. Bell has a lady's narrow gold bracelet in his possession and the police are looking for an owner.

Mysteriously Stabbed.

MONTREAL, Sept. 25.—A mysterious stabbing affair took place an evening or two ago. Walter Holloway, in charge of the Balmoral billiard room, was returning about 11 at night from Cote St. Paul with about $75 in bills on him, and when he neared the railway crossing on Notre Dame-street, an unknown man with a dark beard, jumped out from the side and hit him a heavy blow on the right side, with what seemed to be a sharp stick. The assailant next tried to hit him on the head with a heavy club, but Holloway caught his hand, and a cab coming their way the highwayman fled. When Holloway arrived at his home he felt a smarting pain in his side, touched it with his hand and withdrew it covered with blood. A physician who was called in found a knife cut about two inches in length and half an inch deep.

The Pitcher Case.

MONTREAL, Sept. 25.—In the Court of Queen's Bench yesterday Chief Justice Sir A. A. Dorion gave judgment on motion in the case of C. A. Pitcher, late teller of the Union Bank of Providence, who was recently convicted for bringing stolen money into Canada. There were two motions, one to obtain restitution of the stolen property, and the other for a reserved case on certain points. The Chief Justice decided that all the gold taken from the prisoner must be handed back to the bank from which it was stolen, but the greenbacks and bills of exchange, not being legal money in Canada, must be sued for in a civil court.

Bazaine's Melancholy Funeral.

MADRID, Sept. 25.—The remains of Gen. Bazaine were interred yesterday in the San Justo cemetery. The funeral was attended by the sons of the deceased and a few friends. The funeral procession consisted of three carriages containing the mourners, among whom was Marshal Campos. Twenty cards were left at the residence of the family. No floral emblems were displayed, only the sword and epaulettes of the deceased resting on the coffin. A group of Frenchmen standing near the hearse failed to uncover their heads when the procession passed but all raised their hats when another funeral went by a minute later.

The Austrian Budget.

VIENNA, Sept. 25.—The Political Correspondence, a semi official journal, says that the coming Budget will show a deficit notwithstanding the new brandy and sugar taxes.

The Porte Obtains a Loan.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 25.—The Porte has obtained a loan of £1,000,000 at 7 per cent. from the Deutsche Bank, granting in return a concession for the extension of the Sentari Ismid Railway to Angora.

Her Life was Saved.

KINGSTON, Sept. 25.—Yesterday morning a Mrs. Wright, living on Johnson-street, took poison but her life was saved by the prompt use of emetics.

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—The funeral services over the remains of Wm. Warren, the actor, were held yesterday in Trinity Church, in the presence of one of the largest congregations that ever filled the edifice. The floral tributes were lavish and beautiful. The services were conducted by Rev. Philippe Brooks. The remains were taken to Mount Auburn for interment.

A ROCKWOOD SENSATION.

A MOTHER AND HER NEWLY-BORN BABE FOUND DEAD.

An Inquest to be Held—A Woman Assaulted by Two Brutes Near Hamilton—One of the Villains Still at Large.

GUELPH, Sept. 25.—A sad and shocking affair occurred at Rockwood on Saturday evening, which resulted in the death of a mother and a new born babe. Mrs. Lawrence, the woman in question, was a hard working, industrious widow who earned her living by making mits for Mr. Jago, of the Rockwood Glove Factory. She had five little children, her husband having died some years ago. On Saturday night, after working hard all day, she went upstairs in her house and, it is said, sent out all the children but one and to him she gave orders to allow no one in, she having previously locked the door. But a more probable story runs that the second boy went to a neighbor's, Mrs. Hurlburt's, and asked her to come over. She told him if his mother wanted her she would. He then returned home, and in a few moments came back and said he thought his mother was dead. Mrs. Hurlburt called Mrs. Bolton, another neighbor, and together they went in and found that Mrs. Lawrence had given birth to a child and that both were dead. A doctor was at once sent for, who, on his arrival, said neither babe nor mother had been dead fifteen minutes. It is also said that the little one was placed in a washtub under the bed which contained enough water to drown it.

The report in Guelph this morning was that the mother murdered her infant and then killed herself, so that the Crown authorities sent down Dr. Herod, coroner, to hold an inquest.

THE ADELAIDE MURDER.

No Light Thrown on the Crime at the Coroner's Inquest.

STRATHROY, Sept. 24.—The adjourned inquest on the body of Jonathan Robinson was opened in the Town Hall here before Coroner Lindsay this morning. The witnesses examined were principally those who were first present after the finding of the body and but little light was thrown on the mysterious affair. The doctors who held the post mortem said the injuries inflicted caused the death and that deceased could not have done it himself. One witness said he had heard of the finding of the old man dead on Friday, Sept. 13, but it was thought he had confounded it with the sudden death of another old man. The jury returned this verdict:

That Jonathan Robinson at some date subsequent to Sept. 13, at his house in Adelaide, was feloniously and with malice aforethought killed and murdered by some person or persons unknown.

Two Brutes Assault a Woman.

HAMILTON, Sept. 24.—Margaret Ferguson, a married woman, last Tuesday evening started out with some friends to drive to Greensville. They went as far as Poole's Hotel on the Dundas road, and Mrs. Ferguson remained there for a couple of hours. Then she started to return home. She was overtaken on the road by Frank Osborne and Peter Burns. Osborne made an improper proposal to her, and then struck her fully a dozen times in the face. She was stunned and could scarcely speak. The more she screamed the oftener they struck her. Afterwards the men dragged her down a hill and continued the assault. They also attempted to abuse her, and when she struggled with them one of the men wanted to cut her throat. At last the men desisted and left her lying under a tree. Her clothing was saturated with blood, and she was so weak that she could not go home until the following morning. Screams were heard coming from the ravine Tuesday night by persons living near the toll-gate, but they did not notify the police until the following day. Osborne was caught and appeared at the Police Court this morning, being remanded until Wednesday. Burns is still at large.

A Chapter of Horrors.

HALIFAX, Sept. 25.—J. R. Kennett, formerly a leading china and glassware merchant, jumped from the Dartmouth ferry boat yesterday afternoon and narrowly escaped drowning. He was rescued in an unconscious condition.

Two youths went partridge shooting at Brooklyn, Hants county, on Saturday afternoon. One named Harvey, aged 16 years, was accidentally shot by his companion and his brains were blown out.

An extraordinary story comes from Cow Bay, C. B. Three little boys were playing "pig." One, the 6-year-old son of Mrs. Anderson, who keeps the village hotel, was bound hand and feet by his companions and thrown upon the ground, when his throat was cut with an old, ruary, blunt knife. The little boy has died from the effects of the wound. The tragedy was enacted "in play," and the perpetrators are too young to arrest.

Haldimand Assizes.

CAYUGA, Sept. 24.—The Haldimand assizes opened here to-day, Mr. Justice McMahon presiding. There are three civil actions entered for trial, two of them for seduction. Jones, Grace and Rogers for damages for false arrest. The principal defendant is the Scots Act Magistrate of Brant County, and the chief question raised in the action is the extent of the powers of such. The trial was commenced before a jury and was unfinished.

He Would Have Been a Great Actor.

BIRMINGHAM, Sept. 25.—Ben Smith, a young murderer confined in the county jail, is a remarkable actor. Three months ago he feigned insanity, tore his clothing into shreds, and attacked every one who came in his way until he was placed in irons. Just as the authorities were about to commit him to the insane asylum, he admitted that he had been shamming. While making his midnight rounds the warden heard groans in Smith's cell and opening the door found him apparently in convulsions. He said he had taken poison and was dying. He was taken into the Warden's office, where he soon ceased to speak and was apparently dying in great agony. Physicians were hastily summoned and they soon brought him around. When they found that he was shamming a strong emetic was forced down his throat, and in a little while he went back to his cell and promised not to do so any more.

This Tragedy Ended a Feud.

BIRMINGHAM Ala., Sept. 25.—An old feud between two prominent families in Shelby County ended this week in the murder of George Turner at Coosa Mountain. Turner was the last male representative of his family. Alex. Mattock, many years ago, married Turner's sister against the protests of the Turner family, and out of this grew the feud which has resulted in many bloody encounters. Mattock and Turner had not met for two years until they came face to face in the road in front of Mattock's house. Turner was in a buggy and Mattock on horseback. Both pulled their guns and opened fire. After the fifth shot Turner sunk down in his buggy, with two bullets through his breast, and died shortly afterwards. Mattock rode away and has not been captured. Mrs. Mattock, Turner's sister, stood at the porch and witnessed the fatal duel.

King Milan returns to Belgrade on Sept. 30. He is still pressing his divorce.

CANADIAN EXPORTS.

In answer to a contemporary, which had pointed out the great market for agricultural produce in Great Britain, the Port Hope Guide asks:—

"How many dozen of eggs Canada ever exported to England, or are ever likely to? How many bushels of barley are we likely to send across the sea, or potatoes, or fish, or oats, or sheep, or lambs, or horses? Is not the United States the only market for the above mentioned articles of export?"

Perhaps it is unfortunate that all the information asked for cannot be given, as no record is kept of the number of "bushels" of fish, sheep or horses sent across the ocean. But a record of the value of all exports is available, and perhaps for ordinary purposes that will do as well.

Canada did not export any eggs to England in 1887. The eggs exported were sent to the United States, British West Indies, Newfoundland and St. Pierre, the United States taking $1,821,364 worth. As to how many eggs Canada "are" likely to export to England, it may be mentioned that in 1887 the United Kingdom imported over $15,000,000 worth. If the United States should supply itself with eggs, as it does with other produce, the trade might be directed into the transatlantic channel.

The United States is not the only market for the other "articles" mentioned. Great Britain and not the Republic is Canada's principal market for oats. Last year 1,627,629 bushels of oats, valued at $509,875, were sent to Great Britain, out of a total of $653,837 worth exported. Of fish $1,704,190 worth was exported to Great Britain, and the value of other commodities mentioned shipped to that country was, barley, $5,827; potatoes, $640; sheep, $568,433; horses, $38,230. The Guide, like other Liberal advocates of commercial union or unrestricted reciprocity, disregards facts in its arguments and makes altogether incorrect and misleading statements.

Having furnished the Guide with the information it asked for, let us look a little further into the question. There are other animals and products of which Canada produces a surplus. The value of some of the exports to Great Britain in 1887 are given as follows in the returns:—

	To Great Britain.	To United States.
Horned cattle	$5,344'375	$887,756
Butter	757,261	17,207
Cheese	7,065,983	30,667
Bacon	870,439	17
Apples	649,282	197,615
Peas	2,036,070	331,349
Wheat	4,275,417	265,349
Flour	1,582,147	17,572
Oat Meal	176,518	3,805
Other seeds	87,419	3,356

The total value of the animals and agricultural products exported to Great Britain from this country in 1887 was $25,753,882, and to the United States, $15,257,617. During the same year Great Britain imported of grain and flour, bacon and hams, animals, butter and butterine, cheese and eggs $410,375,745 worth. The value of agricultural products of every kind imported by the United States amounted to $22,085,210.

The total imports of agricultural products by the United States did not amount to as much as the exports from Canada to Great Britain. If the United states had dealt only with this country, Canada would still have had a large share of its surplus left on its hands, while in Great Britain there is a market for far more than this country has to sell. The obvious conclusion is that Great Britain is the better market for Canada's agricultural produce, and that this country would be unwise to imperil its trade with that country in an attempt to improve its facilities for selling in the market that is at the best a very limited one. If the United States would consent to an arrangement that would give freer commercial relations between the two countries and that would not imperil other and more important Canadian interests, the Dominion would approve of such a treaty. The Republic has so far refused to do so.

The Nicholls Hospital.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—I have understood that the members of the Board of the Nicholls Hospital have undertaken to make the Otonabee river a sewer. The scientific plan which commends itself to these gentlemen is that the sewage should be conducted to the sparkling Otonabee and there impartially distributed to the inhabitants of Peterborough. Two doctors have given it as their opinion that the scheme is fraught with danger, but the mighty intellects of that Board are of the contrary opinion. What is the use of a Board of Health clothed with all the paraphernalia of wisdom with a doctor at the head who, though apprized of this outrage, takes no steps to forestall it? "Undertaker" wrote a capital letter and I hope to hear from him again. Truly "the fools are not all dead yet." It is due to the people that Mr. Richard Hall and Mr. D. W. Dumble, of the Hospital Board, and one of the Board of Health, say, Mr. Pearse, should enlighten us on this proposed migration of the microbe.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you tou may depend upon this for certain.

JOT it down and remember that Turnbull will show 50 different styles of Children's and Misses' mantles, all handsome designs on the Opening days, Sept. 26th and 27th. These goods were manufacturers' samples bought at a bargain and will be sold cheap. d68tf

TEAS!

Tea is the Universal Beverage.

The Tea known as Gunpowder is one of our most popular Green Teas. In appearance it is round, like small shot, with a beautiful bloom, which will not bear the breath. It has a greenish hue, and a fragrant, pungent taste.

This kind of Tea is often adulterated by inferior kinds, colored, glazed and manipulated to look like the Gunpowder with which it is mixed.

Where the leaf is open and loose, the outside of a darker hue, and the taste brassy and unpleasant, it should be promptly rejected.

Teas should never be bought in quantities unless first tested by steepping, as a fair style of Tea may be a poor drawer, and the adulteration of Tea is more readily detected by this means.

My Teas will be found to stand this test, and are really splendid in the cup.

Cold Weather.

Now is the season for laying in a stock of Flannels and there is no place in town where you can get better value that in W. W. Johnston's, 410 George-st. There is also a nice stock of Flannel Embroideries to choose from. 2470tf

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Y.M.C.A. will be held this evening, when, no doubt, a large number of citizens who take an interest in the work of the Association will be present. The anniversary will be held on Thursday evening in St. Paul's Church.

Discussing the Constitution.

The Carpenters Union met last night when the amendments to the constitution which have been prepared were the subject of discussion all evening. The work of considering these will probably be finished at the meeting next week, when the revised constitution will be adopted.

County Convictions.

County Magistrate Edmison had four Scott Act cases to consider this morning, and as three of the accussed pleaded guilty, they were fined $50 and costs. Those fined were Carney, of Young's Point, Eastwood, of Buckhorn, and Robinson, of Lakefield. The case against Costello, of Young's Point, was laid over until this afternoon at three o'clock. The costs in these county cases run from six to nearly eight dollars.

Of Particular Interest to Ladies.

Miss E. Delaney wishes to announce the fall opening of her Millinery and Mantle show room, which will take place on Tuesday, Sept. 25th. The display will be rich and varied and includes the latest Styles and Novelties which have been procured. Miss Delaney has personally selected the stock from Toronto and Montreal houses, and the most fashionable pattern bonnets, hats, and trimmings have been selected. Miss Delaney will be glad to have ladies call and inspect the display. 3d70

Queen's University.

The Rev. Dr. Smith, of Kingston, who preached in St. Andrew's and St. Paul's Churches on Sunday, remains in town a few days in the interest of Queen's University Jubilee endowment fund. In ten months Rev. Principal Grant has raised the fund $250,000, and Dr. Smith, who has been appointed General Secretary of the University, is devoting some time to raise the balance, $60,000, and so far we are pleased to say he has met with success. Dr. Smith has no doubt that Peterborough will contribute with its usual liberality. Already there has been $2,500 subscribed in this town. A meeting of friends of the University was held in the Y. M. C. A. hall yesterday afternoon, at which Dr. Smith and the Rev. D. J. Macdonell, B.D., of Toronto, were present. The subject was discussed, and Mr. Macdonell left in the evening.

The Great Demonstration.

Those who have in hand the proposed great labor demonstration of next year lose no opportunity of furthering the arrangements for the celebration. The presence on Monday of a large number of members of Belleville labor unions, who came here on the excursion, gave an opportunity of consulting them as to whether they would join in with Peterborough next year, and the trades unions from that city were pleased to agree to do so. With the trades unions of these two places united, a large demonstration would be assured, but other places will be invited and no doubt more will accept. It is intended that speakers who thoroughly understand the labor movement and are versed in its history and workings will be present. Mr. Powderly, General Master Workman of the Knights of Labor, will be invited, and also Mr. McGuire, of Philadelphia, General Secretary of the Carpenters and Joiner's Union.

Will Leave Peterborough.

Mr. W. H. Stevens, secretary of the Y.M.C.A. here, will probably tender his resignation at the meeting to-night. During his sojourn in Peterborough Mr. Stevens has been most earnest in his working for the local association, and his loss will be felt severely. A Sherbrooke paper thus speaks of his future and his many friends in town will join in wishing him the greatest success in his new field of labor:—

The Rev. Wm. Howitt, pastor, has accepted a position in the Wesleyan Theological College with the consent of his quarterly board and the approval of the chairman of the District. His place on the circuit will be supplied for the remainder of the year by Mr. Wm. H. Stevens, General Secretary for the Young Men's Christian Association, of Peterborough, Ont.

The above item is taken from The Methodist, published at Montreal, and refers to a young Sherbrooke boy, son of Major S. A. Stevens, whose course in the ministry, to which he has been looking forward for some time, will be watched with interest by his many friends and well wishers in Sherbrooke and Montreal. He has proved himself an able, efficient secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Montreal and Peterborough, and his work in those places has been of great assistance in fitting him for the high calling he has chosen.

CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

THE FIRST DAY OF THE PETERBOROUGH FAIR.

A Busy Scene at the Exhibition Grounds—Arranging the Exhibits—The Inside Departments.

The morning of this the first day of the Peterborough Central Exhibition opened fine. The clear sky and beaming sun augured well for fine weather for the fair, and though clouds appeared later the weather was still favorable.

At an early hour there began a stream of vehicles of all kinds towards the exhibition grounds. The exhibits for the inside departments had to be in position by two o'clock, and all morning agricultural products, roots, dairy products and appliances, fruit, vegetables, plants and flowers, exhibits in fine arts, and ladies' work.

POURED THROUGH THE GATE.

These were taken hold of by the exhibitors committees and care takers and rapidly placed in position. As the morning passed the space inside the building was filled up, and the exhibits presents an orderly appearance.

The manufacturers who have secured space on the grounds also brought in their exhibits, and heavily laden trucks passed down the street with the rolling carriage and dashing buggy. There is a comprehensive display of agricultural machinery shown by different exhibitors, and other articles are opened out on the grounds. Carriages and buggies are also shown.

Though live stock was not required to be on the ground until the morning of the second day, a number of animals were brought in, and before noon many stalls, pens and poultry coops were occupied.

The industrious Secretary, Mr. Wm. Collins, and his able assistants, Miss Collins and Mr. F. Adams, were occupied every minute, supplying exhibitors with tickets and attending to their multifarious duties.

The genial Superintendent Fitzgerald was in demand, and was zealous in answering calls and in attending to his difficult duties. The Superintendent has had considerable work done about the sheds. The offices are more conveniently arranged, the sheds and stalls have been improved and new pens constructed.

NOTES.

Numerous tents dot the grounds between the gate and the building.

Flags are flying over the grounds from the top of the buildings and the tents.

There are a dozen entries for one of the special speeding in the ring sections, and several entries for each of the other similar events.

Fast horses were out this morning and were driven about for exercise. There will be some close competitions.

TO-MORROW'S PROGRAMME.

The gates will be opened to the public at 9 o'clock a. m. The formal opening will take place at 1.30 o'clock, p. m., when the exhibition will be opened by the Hon. Chas. Drury, Minister of Agriculture.

The stallion trot, farmers' prize, hardware merchants' prize and brewery cup will be the speeding in the ring events. The baseball tournament will take place on the lacrosse grounds within the track. The band will be in attendance during the day.

Shooting Bears.

It would appear from all reports that now would be a most glorious time for camping at Stoney Lake, as bears are said to be quite numerous in certain parts. Two Peterborough gentlemen who have been up the lakes camping had the honor of killing a fine large bear at McCracken's Landing. The animal was in the water when shot and was being kept there by a number of men in canoes. Our two citizens, one of whom was the possessor of the only gun in the party, each had a hand in the shooting, as the shot fired by the first man only made a flesh wound in the animals neck, and the second which was fired by the other gentleman entered brulin's head through the ear and laid him out.

Another Big Demonstration.

The Salvation Army are to have another "big go" on Thursday evening next, when blood and fire soldiers from the eastern division of the Army will be present. Among the officers will be Major Margrett, commander of the Eastern division, Adj. Happy Bill Cooper and wife, St. John's, N. B., Adj. McIntyre, of Yarmouth, Adj. Smithhall, Halifax, Adj. Beatty and wife, Prince Edward Island division, and Major Calhoun, who is announced to be accompanied by "his brand new wife, only one day old." Quite an interesting freak of nature will be Sttegram Bogam, the saved dude. A most lively and happy time is expected.

TURNBULL'S fall and winter stock is now complete. Every department is crowded with beautiful goods, which will be sold cheaper than ever this season. d68tf

At the Opera House.

The Baird comedy and dramatic company opened a season of one week at the opera house last night, when they presented the comedy drama "Our Bachelors." The company seemed to be working under an evil star, as everything was against the proper presentation of the play. "Bob" Baird is as comical as ever, however, and kept the audience in good humor. Miss Wigman is an actress of considerable ability, and their engagement here this week will probably be successful one. The farce, "The White Elephant," concluded the programme last night and was very laughable. The little boy and girl singers each gave a song and then a duet. They will put on the comedy drama "My Partner" to-night.

A Pleasant Evening's Entertainment.

The Christian Endeavor Society in connection with the Baptist Church gave their first open meeting last evening which proved to be a great success. The society intend holding these meetings every month or six weeks during the winter season, and from the programme of their first and the pleasant manner in which the evening was spent the success of their future efforts is assured. There was a good attendance and quite a neat little sum was realized from the silver collection taken at the door. Dr. Scott presided in the seat of honor and, after Rev. Mr. Parker had opened the meeting with prayer, made a few remarks in reference to the Society and its objects. The programme was quite lengthy. The opening piece was an instrumental duet by Masters McKee and Duff, violin and piano respectively. Rev. Mr. Parker then gave a recitation, followed by a vocal duet by Mrs. Minore and Dr. Scott, both of which items were loudly applauded. The Messrs. Walke gave a guitar duet which was encored, and Mr. Routley rendered a vocal solo in his usual good style. Miss Ward, of Birmingham, England, who is visiting in town and who had kindly consented to contribute to the programme, rendered a song in most excellent voice, and was followed by Mrs. Duff and Miss Nellie Wrighton in an instrumental duet entitled "The Sleigh Bells." This ended the first part of the programme and a short time was spent in social chat and intercourse. The second part opened with a pretty instrumental duet by Algi and Kathleen Duff, and the second number was a reading by Miss Emma Aldridge which was deservedly applauded. Mr. Duff contributed a song and Mrs. Dunford and Mr. Mann rendered an excellent vocal duet, and were followed by the Messrs. Walke on their guitars accompanied by a mouth organ, a number that met with so favorable a reception as to call for an encore. Miss Ward contributed another song, "Tit for Tat," in a charming manner, and a duet by Mrs. Dunford, piano, and Mr. Mann, violin, brought the programme to a finish. "God Save the Queen" was the grand finale which brought the successful meeting to a close.

A Worthy Entertainment.

The announcement that Sergt.-Major Rundle and his "daughters of the regiment" and drilled boys would give an entertainment on Wednesday evening was received with favor. Last evening the Sergt.-Major drilled his corps in the skating rink. The previous edtertainment given by them was a marked success and all who attended were delighted, but since then much hard work has been done in drilling and teaching new movements, and the "daughters" have got fine new uniforms, so that this entertainment will be much better than the last one.

And they will look beautiful on Wednesday night, Sept. 26th—the Daughters of the Regiment—when they appear in their tasty and attractive uniforms. Misses Kingdon and Menzies have the order for sixty uniforms for the Collegiate Institute girls, and those for the "daughters of the regiment"—about forty—are about completed. The material is navy blue flannel. The blouse has closely set brass buttons, and is trimmed with white military braid. The breast is adorned with three frogs, and there are straps held down by buttons at the shoulder and wrist. The skirt is plain, of the same material, relieved by two rows of white braid at the bottom of the skirt. Every skirt reaches within five inches of the ground, thus uniformity is secured. The costume is completed by a navy blue cap—deer stalker crown with peak in front only—trimmed with white braid and buttons. The uniforms will be beautiful and the daughters of the regiment drilled to perfection. Their performance at the rink on Sept. 26th will be the most delightful effect ever produced in Peterborough. Don't fail to see the "Daughters of the Regiment" and the other attractions of almost equal merit. Band and choruses, etc. 2471

"Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reëstablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1888.

By REBECCA HARDING DAVIS.

Mr. McMurray checked the angry rebuke on his lips. All young men were flighty nowadays, and given to this visionary talk. He remembered John Proctor's brilliant reputation in the church, the crowds that pressed to hear him as he went from city to city. If Clara were his wife, no woman in the church would hold higher rank. "I cannot understand," he said, gently, "what bearing this has on your intimacy with Maj. Standish, particularly"—raising his voice when Proctor would have spoken—"when I have every reason to believe the police are on his track as a long escaped criminal."

John's face burned as though he himself had been accused. "What proof have you of this?" he said, rising.

"There is a New York detective here to identify him now," in a mysterious whisper. "I could learn no more from him than that Standish is living under an assumed name. But I fear the worst, Mr. Proctor, the very worst."

"Bah!" muttered John to himself. "Where is this fellow? I'll go to him at once," putting on his cap.

McMurray rose and put out his hand. It was high time that he became the mouthpiece of the church and Clara. "Mr. Proctor, I beg that you will not espouse this disreputable old man's cause so vehemently. His name is a public by-word of infamy among newspaper men. A vaporing boaster and liar."

"Newspaper men know but one side of the fellow," retorted John, hotly. "I could tell you tales of him, of his unselfishness and his noble charity, that would put the lives of many of our professors to shame. Besides, he was kind to me when I was a boy. I'll not turn by back on him now."

McMurray's sallow cheek began to burn. "Then I regret to say, Mr. Proctor, that you must make your choice between the church and your very boyish impulse. A clergyman who makes an associate of so doubtful a character is hardly suited to our society. As for his good traits, I know nothing. I do not know that the righteousness of the carnal flesh is filthy rags."

"And I know that courage and self-sacrifice are proofs of as good mettle in poor old Standish as in a church member, and come as direct from the Master of both. I must judge for myself in these matters."

"Assuredly. But if your judgment in points so essential differs so widely from ours, I must beg leave, as chairman of the committee, to withdraw the call. Do not be rash, my dear sir," changing his voice and laying his hand on John's shoulder. "There! don't answer me now. Think it over, and by evening you'll see that I was right. You are young and—pardon me—a little hot-headed."

A friendly word disarmed Jack. He laughed. "You're right there, anyhow. Let the matter go till evening. But I will not change my mind." And, nodding a hasty good-by, he ran down the office stairs.

Now the quality of loyalty to his friends was exaggerated in John Proctor. But yet he was a young man, with all the ambition, tastes and shrewd knowledge of the world belonging to young men of the present day. When he reached the pavement he saw the stately towers of the church in which he was called to minister, and beyond, the exquisite parsonage, its picturesque walls draped with ivy. Mr. McMurray's carriage rolled by again, and soft, tender little Clara beckoned smiling to him with her white jeweled hand. It was a high path and a flowery one that opened itself before him. No wonder that the doubt suggested itself to him, as he stood hesitating, whether it was worth giving it up for a bit of quixotism—a romantic fealty to a boyish fancy.

PART II.

Later in the afternoon the major stood leaning against a pile of bales in front of the ware house, loftily tapping his chin with his pinchbeck headed cane and listening to Mr. McMurray. That gentleman, in his anxiety lest the church should actually lose Proctor, had resorted to the desperate remedy of an appeal to Standish. The old man kept his malicious eyes fixed upon him, and grinning with enjoyment of his embarrassment, but under the grin he looked haggard and anxious.

"So the boy has a mind to take the part of his old friend? He'd stick by the hulk because it's going down? Tut! tut! There's stupidity for you."

"I do not talk in metaphor about hulks. I only thought it likely, from my knowledge of you, you might presume on your acquaintance with the lad and his generous nature to draw him into trouble, and I warn you what the result will be to him."

"It will ruin him to be known as even my friend. I understand."

McMurray hesitated. After all, why not give Standish a hint of the detective on his track? If he would escape, all difficulty would be over. "Inquiries of a significant kind have been made for you this week, Maj. Standish," he said.

"So I have been told."

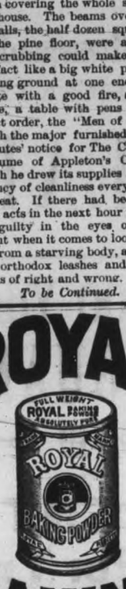
"I do not know to what part of your past career they refer."

"And you'd better not ask too closely, Mac. Dan Standish has led a hot life, I tell you," with a vicious wink that made the deacon shudder from hat to boots.

"Well, I have discharged my duty," he said, after an irresolute pause. "It is most probable that young Proctor will come to seek you this afternoon."

"And if he comes, I am not to see him!" with an attempt at a jocular tone that had more terrible force in it even to the cold blooded hearer than any painful outcry. "Why, man, I am pushed nearer to the wall today than anybody knows. As for this boy—well, no matter what he is to me. I gave up something for him once. It seems as if I had the right to ask his help now, when—when death has me by the throat." He looked vacantly, quickly about him, at the boxes, the cars rattling by, at the head of his cane. McMurray thought he had been drinking. "I am sorry I troubled myself about it," he said, with dignity. "Good day, Maj. Standish."

"Good day," effecting a flourishing bow with his unsteady hand. "Take old Dan to point your next sermon, will you? I've lived by my wits. I've made myself the companion of poets—of nobles, sir! And now when the end comes, damn it, man, I haven't a friend!"



Mr. McMurray hurried nervously away, picking his steps among the boxes and bales. Standish stood a moment looking at the ground, and then turned and stumped up the narrow rickety stairs that led to the top of the building. He did not know what especial sin of old times was coming back to give him the last blow, nor did he care. That was all fair enough. It seemed to him sometimes, comparing his life with that of other men, that he had lived just like a beast from hour to hour, out of whatever impulse was in him. He was ready to meet any old abomination of his past life and take the punishment. "I've had the dance, and I'll pay the piper," he said, kicking open the door of his room and going in.

"But—the boy!"

Now the major's cockloft was in reality a garret room covering the whole sixth story of the warehouse. The beams overhead, the plastered walls, the half dozen squat dormer windows, the pine floor, were as clean as lime and scrubbing could make them. It looked, in fact like a big white plain with a little camping ground at one end, in which was a grate with a good fire, a tent bed neatly made, a table with pens and paper laid in exact order, the "Men of our Day," out of which the major furnished obituaries at ten minutes' notice for The Camera, and an odd volume of Appleton's Cyclopædia, out of which he drew its supplies of science. Great decency of cleanliness everywhere, but nothing to eat. If there had been, perhaps the major's acts in the next hour would have been less guilty in the eyes of religious people. But when it comes to looking out in the world from a starving body, a man is apt to slip the orthodox leashes and follow his own notions of right and wrong.

SHERMAN'S RESOLUTION.

AGAIN TAKEN UP IN THE UNITED STATES SENATE.

More Retaliation and Annexation Talk—The Resolution Referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Mr. Sherman's resolution for an inquiry into the state of the relations between the United States and Great Britain and Canada was taken up in the Senate yesterday and Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.) proceeded to discuss it. He said it was an obvious fact the distinctive policy of the Republican senators was that no other but a Republican administration should have the settlement of the questions now open between the people of the United States and those of Canada. The Senate, he said, was to have a glance at the substitute for the Mills Bill and would then probably adjourn.

Proceeding to discuss the President's retaliation message Mr. Morgan asserted that the safest, cheapest and best form of retaliation was to resume the collection of customs duties on goods imported into and exported from Canada. The most direct effect that would follow it would be the transfer of a large part of the trade which Canada now conducted with Great Britain and other foreign countries to American merchants and manufacturers. Canada could not afford to pay its own tariff duties and American tariff duties in addition on its imported and exported merchandise, nor could Canada afford to import during the summer all its necessary supplies for summer and winter. The President, he said, could not have safely confined himself, as had been demanded by the Gloucester fishermen, to the prohibition of the introduction of fish. It would have been equally his duty to spread his proclamation so as to exclude from the United States lumber, wool, iron ore and such other products as came in competition with American products.

Mr. Morgan proceeded with his argument in favor of the policy suggested by the President. He declared the suggestion to be a masterly stroke of policy. It would have more to do with the coming of Canada within the political affiliations of the United States than any other argument which any human being could name, because it brought before the eyes of Canada the great practical questions that their material interests were so bound up with those of the American people that a common government was necessary for all alike.

Mr. Dolph (Rep., Ore.) replied to Mr. Morgan. He spoke of the inconsistency of Democratic senators who, from being on the British side when the treaty was pending, were now the most radical advocates of retaliation. The Senator said that the act of March 3, 1887, would have injured Canada. Was that the reason why the President had not executed it? The power asked for would injure American interests. Was that the reason why the President desired it? It would seem to be the President's desire to retaliate on the people of the United States rather than on the people of Canada.

After the close of Mr. Dolph's remarks the resolution was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations. Mr. Sherman stated that it would be considered in committee to-day.

Amateur Burglars Nabbed.

STRATFORD, Sept. 26.—Three stores were burglarized early yesterday morning. Mr. J. H. Dufton's store was entered by a rear door. Pocket books, cigars and various trinkets were taken. The burglars secured an entrance into Messrs. W. & F. Workman's by an upstairs window. Carpenters' tools, dark lanterns, revolvers and $4.15 were stolen. The burglars are two young lads of about 12 and 13 years of age. They were discovered while dividing the plunder. Their names are Thomas Connolly and Mickey Merkins. They had a hearing at the police court yesterday and will be tried by a jury.

Charged With Desertion.

PARIS, Ont., Sept. 26.—One of Mrs. John Campbellford's sons was very sick and not expected to live, in Pennsylvania, but her husband would not give her any money to go to him. Another of her sons in the States, sent her enough and she went, but could not get home for eight months on account of not having any money. However, she got home, and on going to the house of her husband, he caught her by the neck and threw her out and would not support her, he having another woman keeping house for him. Mrs. Campbellford charges her husband with desertion.

White Women for Chinamen's Wives.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Sam Wall, a Chinaman, and his wife, a white woman, are locked up at the Armory Police Station, charged with bringing white women from Milwaukee and furnishing them for wives to Chinamen here at $25 each. Through their matrimonial agency, it is charged, four or five local Chinamen have been furnished with wives.

The Rockwood Tragedy.

GUELPH, Sept. 26.—The coroner's jury which investigated the death of Mrs. Lawrence and her babe at Rockwood found a verdict to the effect that Mrs. Lawrence came to her death from want of proper attention caused by her own criminal action in not allowing and refusing help, and the child from loss of blood.

The Opera House Didn't Burn.

PESTH, Sept. 26.—The report that the Royal Opera House was on fire was untrue.

An Italian bark, the Teresa Olivari, has been seized at Chatham, N.B., for smuggling. The vessel was released on the payment of $100, pending a departmental decision.

Six more Scott Act cases were up at the Peterboro police court yesterday morning, and all the accused were fined $50 and costs. Three county cases were also tried by the county magistrate and the three hotel men were also fined $50 and costs.

JEALOUSY AIMED THE BAR.

Narrow Escape of a Lover Whom a Rival, it Seems, Would Slay.

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 26.—The crazy antics of a jealous lover and the trials and tribulations of a pretty Augusta maiden were made public in the Municipal Court here yesterday. Miss Nellie L. Clark is a blonde, 22 years of age, with a handsome face, bright eyes and a comely form. Her home is in a rural district four miles above the city. For over a year she kept company with a neighbor's son named Alger Dudley, and became deeply attached to him. They became engaged and at the Christmastide their banns were published. The wedding day was set and the wedding outfit was in preparation, but suddenly, for something he did, the young lady broke off the engagement. Time went on and Nellie consented to overlook Alger's failing, so far as to keep company with him again. Finally, last August, there was another rupture, when she informed him that they must part forever.

Nellie is an attractive girl, and, naturally, other young men in the neighborhood had an eye on her, and last Thursday evening one of them, Wm. E. Gilley, who is rather immature, having seen but eighteen summers, visited Nellie with a team. He is a nice-looking, well-dressed boy. Hardly had they got the curtains drawn, when suddenly there was a crash and there came flying through the window, carrying sash and glass with it, a heavy iron bar three feet long, which just grazed the young man's head. The couple were much frightened. Mrs. Harwood hurried into the front yard, and swears she saw Alger Dudley running away, not ten feet from her.

On examining Gilley's horse it was found that both the breeching straps were unhooked, the evident intent being for the horses to run away and injure the boy. Nellie told the story of her unfortunate love affair in court between her sobs yesterday, and finally broke down altogether. Dudley was held in the sum of $1000.

SURVIVING HYDROPHOBIA.

A Boy Gets Well After Showing All the Symptoms of the Disease.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26.—The leading physicians are greatly puzzled over the case of Willie Mochl. The lad is 14 years old. On Friday afternoon he developed violent symptoms of hydrophobia. First he lost consciousness, then he revived and began barking like a dog and biting at the furniture. The neighbors came, accompanied by the physicians, and found the boy frothing at the mouth and chewing up the carpets. He snarled and barked and fought desperately when an attempt was made to overpower him. It required four men to bind him, and he was carried to a bed and fastened to the posts with ropes. As the sight of the people seemed to increase the terrible malady the physicians ordered everyone away.

In order to determine if it was hydrophobia a small pan of water was brought in the room, and the patient went frantic at the sight of it. The physicians then agreed that it was hydrophobia. The parents were told that there was no hope for the lad and that his death was liable to occur at any moment. After barking, biting and frothing all night he became unconscious, and remained thus for six hours. Then he woke up, rubbed his eyes and wanted to know what he was tied up for. The physicians were thunderstruck. The boy was released and when interrogated it was discovered that he had no recollection of what had happened during the twenty-four hours. The physicians say the case is without parallel. The boy seems fully recovered. He says he has been bitten by dogs several times this summer.

A Frenzied Worshipper.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The congregation in attendance at the early morning service in St. Patrick's Cathedral, on Fifth-avenue, yesterday were startled in the midst of devotions by a commotion in the body of the church. An unknown woman who had been audibly praying suddenly jumped to her feet and throwing her arms about the neck of a woman beside her cried out:—"Oh! Holy Mother of God, save me!" The woman who found herself so suddenly embraced is Miss Mary Slattery, a regular attendant at the church. She quietly disengaged herself and held the stranger down in the pew until the aisle attendant came forward and removed the woman to the street.

The latter's conduct clearly indicated insanity, so an ambulance was sent for to take the woman to Bellevue Hospital. The incident caused no excitement nor interruption of the services, those present believing that someone had fainted. Inside the prayer book dropped by the insane woman was the name of Delia Kehoe. This is all that could be learned of her. She refused to give any information about herself. She appeared to be about 25 years of age, and is probably a servant.

Proposed Coal Combination in Cape Breton

HALIFAX, Sept. 26.—A scheme is on foot for the investment of several millions of dollars of American capital in Cape Breton. Rufus Hatch, the banker, and a Mr. Bothwell of New York city, are now looking into the project and making negotiations. The scheme is to buy up and consolidate all the coal mines in that part of the country. Ten mines, all owned and worked by different companies with English or local capital, have been trying to cut each other's throats. Prices have been ruinously low, and the total output of the ten mines last year was only about 400,000 tons, while from a single mine in another part of the province 600,000 tons were taken and sold. There are three coal mining districts in Nova Scotia—the Cumberland county, Pictou county and Cape Breton areas. The two former are under single management, and would be able to make all reasonable competition against the proposed trust in Cape Breton in case the scheme is effected. It is said that the majority of the mines have made propositions of sale and that Messrs. Hatch and Bothwell will soon return to New York to report.

Shot at by His Stage-Struck Wife.

WICHITA, Sept. 26.—M. Peck, a wealthy and prominent Topeka grocer, found his wife playing under the name of May Fiske in a dime museum. She was warned of his presence, and rushing in her stage costume off the stage was driven away in a hack. He had been looking for her for two months in all the large towns of the west, and heard of her presence here through a friend. Yesterday afternoon he again attempted to see her, when she fired a revolver at him as he appeared at the door of her room, but fortunately missed her mark. A suit for divorce, with charges and counter charges, is pending.

The Admiral Will Resign.

PARIS, Sept. 26.—The Budget Committee persists in its demand for the reduction of the naval estimates by 5,000,000f. The resignation of Admiral Krantz, Minister of Marine, is imminent.

Reinforcements Ordered to Suakim.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—Reinforcements have been ordered to Suakim, where the rebels have assumed a threatening attitude. Gen. Grenfel is proceeding in haste to that place.

Fire at Garden Island.

KINGSTON, Sept. 25.—The machine shop and sawmill of the Calvin Company at Garden Island were burned last night. The machine shop contained some very valuable machinery. The total loss will amount to over, $15,000, no insurance.

A RIOT AT SAWYERVILLE.

FLEECED ITALIAN LABORERS TAKE THE VILLAGE.

A Conflict Between the Rioters and Other Workmen—Five Men Killed and Forty Wounded.

MONTREAL, Sept. 26.—News reached the city late last night of a serious riot in the County of Compton in the Eastern Townships. Shirley and Corbet, the contractors on a section of the Hereford branch railway who drew a check for $25,000 from the company on account of construction on Saturday last and left the country with the proceeds, had in their employ over 700 Italian laborers who had not been paid a cent of wages since Aug. 1, and are in a destitute condition. As soon as the duped foreigners learnt of the departure of their employers they became desperate and when yesterday morning the railway company attempted to assume the work of construction they flatly refused to do a stroke and at once destroyed all they could lay their hands on.

They soon took possession of the village of Sawyerville and threaten to destroy it unless they are paid. The people are terror-stricken and have fled leaving their houses and goods behind. At last advices the Italians were pillaging the deserted houses and were in a complete state of riot.

The militia of Sherbrooke have been called out and an urgent request sent to the military authorities for assistance. Two regiments left by special train yesterday morning for the scene of the troubles.

Later news brings the intelligence that the Italians had a conflict with a party of Hungarians and citizens who represented the cause of the railway company, and that in the fight one Italian and four Hungarians were killed and between 30 and 40 injured. The 58th battalion left Sherbrooke last evening by special train for the scene of the trouble and it is hoped their presence will put an end to the disturbance.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

The Panic Said to be Slowly Subsiding—Some Towns Still Excited.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 26.—The President of the State Board of Health says there has not been a case of yellow fever in this city or State during the past three years. Trains are entirely suspended on the Mississippi Valley Railroad. Freight will go out to-day as far as Hattiesburg to carry provisions to points along the railroad this side of Meriden. Despatches from many points in Mississippi indicate that the panic is slowly subsiding. A few places, however, seem to be wild yet. A despatch from Yazoo City says that place is perfectly healthy, that all trains and mails have been stopped yet more than half the people have moved from the town. Similar conditions are reported from other points.

Jacksonville More Hopeful.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 26.—While new cases are developing rapidly the type of the disease appears to be milder than heretofore and while many people are very sick the death rate continues to improve and a more hopeful feeling prevails.

There have been about a dozen deaths in Fernandina during the past two weeks.

Montgomery Relieved.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 25.—The favorable reports from Decatur have greatly relieved the situation. Business is going on here as usual. The weather is cool, cotton is rolling in, and the streets are crowded with people coming in to trade.

Matters Getting Serious at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Sept. 26.—The smallpox epidemic grows apace, and there is getting to be a serious feeling of uneasiness. The pest is attacking all quarters of the town and the best residential portions are not escaping the dread disease. Cases are reported on Niagara-street and Main-street and to-day Swan-street, the Delaware-avenue of the east side, sends its contribution in the case of 19-year-old Orlin Erner, a boarder at 296. A strict isolation of the house was ordered at once, but the children of the family have been attending one of the most popular schools on the east side and people have been passing in and out freely for several days. A case is reported to-day in Tonawanda.

EDWARD HUGH M'KENZIE.

He Hasn't Got His Inheritance and It is Said His Parents Are Alive.

NEW BRUNSWICK, Sept. 26.—Edward Hugh McKenzie, a young Scotchman, made his appearance at farmer Johnson's place, near this city, as a tramp last fall and subsequently married his daughter. He also declared he was the heir of property in Scotland. He afterward bought Mrs. Cooper's farm in Plainville, but was ousted from it because he had never paid a cent of the purchase price. In the course of that part of his trouble he had Mrs. Cooper arrested and she had him arrested.

Last week a man appeared in Somerville, where McKenzie and his wife are, who said he was his brother and wanted him to return to Scotland. The man said McKenzie was the son of well-to-do people in Scotland, and that his parents were still living. A few months before he turned up here, he got into a scrape and was sent to an uncle's in the West Indies. After remaining there a short time he came to this country and for a time his uncle sent him small sums of money, but finally he ceased to do so and McKenzie became a tramp. The man said McKenzie must return home and he would compel him to do so, even if he had to have him arrested. He did not say how he would accomplish his purpose.

ONLY SEVENTEEN AND A GIRL.

Yet Her Employers Charge Her with Embezzling Their Funds.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—An alleged female embezzler, only 17 years old at that, smiled at the Tombs yesterday when charged with the larceny of $15 from her employers. It was only a clerical error, she said. She was Mary E. Raven of No. 52 Greenwich-avenue. The complainant, Joseph Schloss, of the firm of Schloss & Stern, bustle manufacturers, of No. 32 Howard-street, claim that the clerical excuse wouldn't do as there were other items which made the total amount appropriated by her $104. The specific amount on which she was required to furnish $1000 bail was for the larceny of $15 by altering an entry in the books. The complainant appeared to be afraid of a tongue-lashing at her hands. "If she comes in here," he said (meaning the examination room), "she'll raise a row." But her lawyer prevailed on her not to do so and James Turner of No. 402 West 29th-street, who has a snow-white beard and is said to be worth $200,000, went bail for her to appear for examination to-day.

Typhoid Fever at Bridgenorth.

PETERBORO, Sept. 26.—There are about fifteen cases of typoid and typho-malarial fever in Bridgenorth. None of these have, as yet, proved fatal. It is thought that the epidemic is due to the prevalence of malarious winds from the marshes along the shore of the lake at Bridgenorth, which are developed by impure water.

Albert Lloyd, of Tyendinaga, is in Belleville jail charged with rape. He made a desperate attempt to escape when arrested.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 26.—The Board of Pardons has granted a pardon to Milton Weston, the Chicago millionaire, who is serving a five years' sentence for contributory murder in causing the death of a man named Haymaker during a fight between the employes of the two men over the possession of a piece of land in Western Pennsylvania about four years ago.

CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

The Autumn Fair in Full Swing.

A SUCCESSFUL SHOW.

THE INSIDE DEPARTMENTS ALL WELL FILLED.

The Manufacturers have Good Exhibits —The Entries Exceed Former Years —Large Attendance.

The second day of the fair opened fine and clear. At an early hour the streets were filled with people, and as noon grew nearer the exhibition grounds began to fill up, until after one the rush began.

Inside Departments.

The inside departments of the Exhibition—those located inside the building—are well filled. All the space in the main part down stairs and the available space in the galleries is occupied.

SPECIAL EXHIBITORS.

Upon entering the main doors musical instruments are seen on either side. Mr. J. W. Crosby, the enterprising dealer, shows at the left side of the chief entrance six excellent instruments. His exhibit comprises two cabinet organs, a church organ with six sets of reeds and a pipe top organ of nine sets of reeds, all of the Uxbridge make, and two Lansdowne pianos, one cased in maghogany and the other rosewood. These are finely finished instruments and of beautiful tone.

Messrs. R. S. Williams & Sons., on the right, display four splendid pianos. One of them is a magnificent instrument constructed of Italian walnut, which was shown at the Colonial Exhibition in London, Eng., and a counterpart of which was sold to the Queen. The other three are will built and sweet toned pianos, and the whole exhibit is attractive. Mr. R. W. Errett is agent for this company. Mr. W. Moore, formerly of Peterborough, is with the firm's exhibit.

The Singer Sewing Machine Co., for which Mr. Joseph Steinton is agent, exhibit several sewing machines and also samples of work done by them.

Mr. Wm. Fadden, photographer, has two large cases filled with photographs of various sizes, from the cabinet up to large, very large pictures. There are single pictures and groups, and all are good specimens of the photographer's art.

Gough Bros., who are known as the "wonderful cheap men," occupy a large space with a display of the ready-made clothing in which they deal. Suits and overcoats are hung on walls, and dummies are used to show suits to better advantage. Always enterprising, they make a fine display.

Messrs. Muckleston & Co., have an attractively arranged exhibit of hardware. The assortment shown is large and varied. On an exhibit board in the background saws are hung, cutlery and other goods are shown in a glass case and there is a large display of shelf and other hardware. This is an exhibit that does not fail to attract attention.

AGRICULTURAL AND DAIRY PRODUCTS.

There is a comprehensive exhibit of grain and seeds. The wheat is good, the grain being clear and plump, and the coarse grains are if anything better. In the number of bags shown wheat and peas lead, and there are a number of exhibits of barley, oats, corn, beans and rye.

The display of vegetables is excellent. Mr. F. Birdsall of Asphodel, shows a sweet pumpkin, green in color, new to the exhibition, he having obtained the seed from the United States. A tremendous field squash is shown by Mr. George Howson, of Cavan, and there are other fine specimens of quashes and pumpkins. There is a very large exhibit of potatoes, and all other roots are present in numbers, the quality being high. The collections of potatoes and collections of vegetables are exceptionally good. The vegetable department is even better than it has been before.

Of butter there are a large number of fine samples, in rolls, tinnets and firkins, that gave the judge some difficulty in awarding the prizes. The exhibits of bread are unusually numerous and the quality is good, and there are several cakes shown. There are several fine specimens of cheese, and fine displays of honey, pickles, maple sugar and syrup, beeswax, canned fruit and collections of herbs.

THE SECOND STOREY.

One of the first things that draws attention on ascending the stairs is the very large and very excellent display of plants and flowers. Mr. F. Mason has a very large collection on view from his greenhouse, comprising many kinds of beautiful plants and flowers. Mr. G. M. Roger, from the West End greenhouse, has a comprehensive exhibit of splendid foliage plants and different kinds of flowers. A younger exhibitor is Mr. Percy Hamilton, who shows a collection of flowers and some fine grapes. Over this part of the Exhibition the visitor is sure to linger.

The display of apples is very large, and includes many varieties and fine specimens in each. Apples form the principal part of the display of fruit, but there are excellent specimens of grapes, fine pears, crab apples, and a few plums.

The ladies' work department is well filled, and there are numerous specimens of good taste and fine work on the part of the lady exhibitors. The samples of painting are very attractive. There are a large number of beautiful table scarfs and covers, and an unusual number of sofa cushions beautifully worked. Many specimens of blankets, quilted work, mats, carpets, flannels and other articles called for by the prize list are shown.

Mr. R. M. Roy is an extensive exhibitor in fine arts. His display covers considerable space, and includes oil paintings of flowers, a stag and a marine view, and a photograph portrait finished in oil, a pen and ink sketch, sepia drawing and collection of photographs of scenes and building taken by this enthusiastic amateur artist at various places. Miss Lettie Magill showed two good specimen of oil paintings, flowers, and Miss Owens a handsome oil painted screen. A set of china fish plates, hand painted, the work of Miss G. E. Vair, is an attractive exhibit.

Mr. R. M. Roy also shows a table that is an excellent specimen of inlaid work. Mr. Wesley Northcot, of Lakefield, has on view a fine case of stuffed birds—a splendid collection of small birds admirably arranged.

Outside Department.

On the morning of the second day the outside department rapidly filled up. The liver stock was brought in early and the manufacturers had their exhibits displayed.

THE MANUFACTURERS.

The exhibition building is surrounded by the displays of the manufacturers. Mr. J. J. Turner, the sail, tent and awning manufacturer, has several tents on the grounds, showing the style and stability of his work, and also a display of flags, camp chairs and beds, etc., made at his factory.

Messrs. Fitzgerald & Stanger occupy a large space under cover with their exhibit of buggies, sleighs and cutters. The display is a very fine one, showing good work tastily executed.

Mr. Forsyth, manufacturer of fanning mills, wind mills, pumps, cisterns, etc., shows specimens of his fine mill, the I. X. L. and of the Champion, a fanning mill that bags the grain as it cleans it. He also exhibits a model of the windmill.

Mr. Peter Hamilton has a large and varied exhibit from his agricultural works, including the Hamilton light binder, the celebrated sulky plough, Daisy drill and seeder, Crown mower, sulky rake, riding cultivator, three sizes of straw cutters, turnip pulper, a collection of ploughs, spring tooth harrows, etc. The work is done in the well known manner executed at these works and are a centre of attraction. The painting is finely done, by Mr. Steve Roadhouse, the scrip lettering being particularly good.

Mr. Henry Owens shows samples of his well known make of pumps, the pumps standing in a well and showing just how they work. He also shows the Wisner drill and cultivator, the Brantford binder and Chatham fanning mill.

Mr. G. G. McDonald shows the frost and wood binder, a pulverizing harrrow and an automatic grindstone.

Messrs. Best & Fife show the Massey binder, mower and rake, the Best riding plough, roller and harrows, and the Massey spring tooth harrow.

Mr. E. E. Bowie has a display consisting of the Mason drill, Cockshutt riding and walking ploughs, Oshawa mower, Gillis cultivator, Wilkinson scraper, and Stantz grain crusher.

Mr. T. Cochrane shows the Fleury grain crusher, gang plough and an assortment of ploughs.

Messrs. W. G. Bain & Co. show the L'Original double cooler (McIntosh patent), for which they hold the right for Peterborough, Victoria and Durham. Dairymen are struck with its advantages.

Mr. T. Crowley shows a unique clothes line, invented and patented by him last June. It covers about six feet square of ground and is thirteen feet high. Endless chains or pulleys carry rods on which the clothes are hung, and when the articles are placed on, turning a crank hoists them in the air.

Mr. A Johnston has one of his windmills at work, which automatically stops when the tank is full, and goes on when water is taken out.

The formal opening of the Exhibition took place at 1.30 this afternoon with an address by Hon. Chas. Drury.

An Important Branch Business.

The first instalment of J. Muckleston & Co.'s stock, a large consignment of window glass, arrived here to-day direct from Antwerp. Besides the ordinary sizes, there is a variety of tinted and coloured class of different shades. This firm, as has already been intimated have opened a branch of their Kingston business here and, we understand, they intend carrying a very large stock of iron, steel, chain, &c.; also full lines of English and American shelf hardware, and a general assortment of stationery and fancy goods for country merchants, which, from their intimate and long experience in the trade, and direct connection with the leading manufacturers of the United States and Europe, warrants us in stating that the opening of such an establishment will be a great benefit to all requiring the class of goods mentioned, not only in Peterborough, but in adjacent counties. It also proves that Peterborough, with its excellent railway system, is becoming a point of distribution, as we understand Muckleston & Co. hopes, after a time, to job goods from this point. Mr. Muckleston is president of the Kingston Board of Trade, which has done much to advance the interests of Kingston—(is it not time we had a board here?)—and his partner, Mr. Sears, is head of the Hardware Association of Kingston. The business here will be managed by Mr. Jas Poille, with Mr. Archie Moffat, who is well known to our citizens, as assistant, and doubtless will not only prove a success, but be a powerful inducement to wholesale houses in other branches to start in our growing town.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain.

TEAS!

Tea is the Universal Beverage.

The Tea known as Gunpowder is one of our most popular Green Teas. In appearance it is round, like small shot, with a beautiful bloom, which will not bear the breath. It has a greenish hue, and a fragrant, pungent taste.

This kind of Tea is often adulterated by inferior kinds, colored, glazed and manipulated to look like the Gunpowder with which it is mixed.

Where the leaf is open and loose, the outside of a darker hue, and the taste brassy and unpleasant, it should be promptly rejected.

Teas should never be bought in quantities unless first tested by steeping, as a fair style of Tea may be a poor drawer, and the adulteration of Tea is more readily detected by this means.

My Teas will be found to stand this test, and are really splendid in the cup.

Addresses In the Music Hall

Lord Cecil addressed a good audience in the Music hall last evening on "Justification of Faith." He was to leave this morning for Toronto. Mr. Hayhoe expects to address a meeting in the same hall on Friday evening next.

A Signal Victory.

The cricket match with the Campbellford team yesterday resulted in a most signal victory for the home team, who won by 45 runs and an innings. Peterborough went to bat first and made 142 runs, while the visitors in two innings only totalled 97 runs. A detailed account of the game and the score are crowded out of this issue.

And they will look beautiful on Wednesday night, Sept. 26th—the Daughters of the Regiment—when they appear in their tasty and attractive uniforms. Misses Kingdon and Menzies have the order for sixty uniforms for the Collegiate Institute girls, and those for the "daughters of the regiment"—about forty—are about completed. The material is navy blue flannel. The blouse has closely set brass buttons, and is trimmed with white military braid. The breast is adorned with three frogs, and there are straps held down by buttons at the shoulder and wrist. The skirt is plain, of the same material, relieved by two rows of white braid at the bottom of the skirt. Every skirt reaches within five inches of the ground, thus uniformity is secured. The costume is completed by a navy blue cap—deer stalker crown with peak in front only—trimmed with white braid and buttons. The uniforms will be beautiful and the daughters of the regiment drilled to perfection. Their performance at the rink on Sept. 26th will be the most delightful effect ever produced in Peterborough. Don't fail to see the "Daughters of the Regiment" and the other attractions of almost equal merit. Band and choruses, etc. 3d71

At the Opera House.

The Baird Dramatic Company presented "My Partner" to a fair audience at the Opera House last night. Mr. Baird as Josiah Scraggs was, as usual, the life of the evening and Miss Ella Wieman as Mary Brandon also displayed considerable dramatic ability. The rest of the support was fairly good and the little boy and girl songsters again pleased those present with their singing. To-night they will put on the Irish drama entitled "The Bells of Shandon."

Of Particular Interest to Ladies.

Miss E. Delaney wishes to announce the fall opening of her Millinery and Mantle show room, which will take place on Tuesday, Sept. 25th. A Farewell Supper.

Messrs. Vernon Halliday and Charlie Brown were tendered a farewell supper last evening in the rooms over Mr. Schofield's drug store. Mr. Halliday is leaving to attend McGill College, Montreal, while Mr. Brown goes to Buffalo, where he has accepted a good situation. About twenty of their friends gathered last night and the pleasant and happy time that was spent will always cause the guests of the evening to remember their Peterborough friends. After ample justice had been done the inner man, songs, speeches, choruses and music made the hours fly pleasantly. The music of the amateur orchestra that was present was splendid and attracted quite a number of listeners on the street.

TURNBULL'S fall and winter stock is now complete. Every department is crowded with beautiful goods, which will be sold cheaper than ever this season. d68tf

The G. T. R. Special Train Service.

The train service to the Fair grounds is a great convenience to the public. Heretofore the distance to the grounds was a serious impediment to the attendance of many who not having vehicles were compelled to foot it or stay away. This year that objection is removed. Not only can the visitors ride to the grounds but the time used up in walking the distance can be put to other uses. He can have just that much longer to look about the grounds and admiring the stock or he can spend the time up street making a personal visit to the stores of our merchants. In this case he is sure to call at gough bros. where just now the tremendous clearing sale of boots and shoes is going on. Here you find a huge $6,000 stock, bought at 40 cents on the dollar, and sold at half wholesale cost, to select from. Hundreds have come to gough bros.' and bought themselves happy, and the cry is "still they come." Lawyers, doctors, merchants, mechanics, and farmers, their children and their wives are today wearing boots and shoes bought at gough's. Boots and shoes fit for princes, but cheap enough to permit paupers to buy them are being sold every day at gough bros', 375 George-st. Don't delay; come along at once and buy yourselves wealth. Thousands of pairs of the best boots going at less than half wholesale cost. Tremendous bargains. Don't miss them.

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

Y.M.C.A. WORK OF THE PAST YEAR LAID BEFORE THE PUBLIC.

The Annual Report Held Over—Flattering Reports of Committees—Expressions of Thanks — Election of Officers—The New Secretary.

The annual meeting of the Y.M.C.A. took place last evening. The young ladies of Y.W.C.T.U. had prepared a most tempting tea for the members at six o'clock, but, through some mistake, only a few of the young men availed themselves of the ladies' kindness. It was about 8.30 when Mr. H. S. Griffin, Vice-President, took the chair and called the meeting to order. The matters that came before the meeting cover almost all the departments in the Association work, and any one who has only a very misty idea of the workings of the Association will be greatly enlightened by a perusal of the proceedings, and the secretary's report to-morrow.

The Chairman opened the meeting by reading a portion of Scripture, and Mr. Stevens followed with a brief prayer.

Mr. Griffin said he must apologize on behalf of Mr. Roger for that gentleman's absence. He was detained through sickness and regretted it as much as they did. Mr. Griffin said he would call upon the Secretary to read his annual report without further preliminaries.

Mr. Stevens presented an exhaustive report dealing with the work in every department, but we have been obliged to hold it over until to-morrow.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

Mr. J. W. Bennett, Chairman of the Finance Committee, presented their annual report. It showed that the nominal deficit for the fiscal year ending 15th September, 1887, was $304, but owing to several overlooked liabilities the actual deficit at that time was over $400. Although some of the old subscribers had been unable to subscribe as liberally as formerly, the report stated that they would probably be able to meet their bills as they became due and perhaps have a small surplus. An accurate statement could not be presented, but the figures submitted would show about their present standing. Their liabilities amounted to $373.46, against assets of $250. This left a deficit of $123.46. The committee thought this most gratifying and urged the members to earnest work. The suggestion was also made that the secretary be requested to open a bank account and pay all accounts by cheques.

A discussion on the report followered, in which several members joined. They all referred in flattering terms to the magnificent manner in which the deficit had been reduced. The question as to the best ways to wipe out the deficit of $123 before the anniversary meeting on Thursday was considered. It was reduced to the even hundred by the individual subscription of members present, and the hope that the small deficit remaining would be wiped out so that the association might enter upon a year with a clean sheet was expressed. The report was then adopted.

REPORTS OF OTHER COMMITTEES.

MR. ISAAC RICHARDSON, presented the report of the Devotional Committee, which showed that interesting and instructive meetings and Bible readings had been held throughout the year with good results to the young men who had taken part. Mention was also made of the several special addresses that had been given before the association during the year. This report was also adopted.

Mr. R. H. HENDERSON presented the report of the committee on the physical department. The report spoke of the formation of the snowshoe club, which had proved a beneficial organization. A lacrosse club had been formed, and had been most successful in the pennant series, having won nearly ever match. The report was carried.

Mr. FIFE, chairman of the committee on lectures and entertainments presented a report which mentioned all the lectures and concerts that had been held during the year. The adoption of debates was a new departure in their entertainments and had been most prolific of good results among the members. The lectures and concerts had netted about $110 over all expenses. The report was adopted.

Mr. THOS. A. TEBB presented a report from the Reception Committee which dealt with the work which had been accomplished by the committee in receiving and introducing strangers. Every evening two or more members of the committee had been in the rooms to attend to strangers.

RESOLUTIONS OF THANKS.

Mr. J. W. BENNETT moved a resolution thanking the REVIEW and Examiner for the assistance that had been given during the year past.

A resolution of thanks was unanimously carried expressing the gratitude of the Association to the young ladies for the excellent tea which had been served that evening and the valuable assistance which had been rendered by them during the year.

The thanks of the Association was also tendered to the churches in town which had taken up collections in aid of the Association during the week of prayer.

Mr. STEVENS spoke of the work that had been done by the Invitation Committee. A register had been prepared containing some four hundred names of young men in the town. This work was an important one and should not be neglected.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The Executive Committee had been appointed to draft a list of officers and the result of their considerations was presented and upon a vote their report was adopted with but few changes. The officers elected were as follows:—

PRESIDENT.—Geo. M. Roger.
1st. VICE-PRESIDENT,—H. S. Griffin.
2nd. VICE-PRESIDENT,—Dr. Scott.
TREASURER,—Mr. Herbison.
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE,—Geo. S. Bean, Alfred F. Johnston, O. C. Rowse, Arthur Tebb, I. Richardson, J. W. Bennett, W. W. Johnston, Geo. J. Early, Mr. Beal and J. C. Turnbull.

Mr. GRIFFIN said before the meeting closed he would like to speak of the loss the Association was about to sustain in the leaving of Mr. Stevens their secretary. He referred in the most eulogistic terms to the faithful work of their Secretary during his term of office and closed with the hope that his future might be as the path of the just, growing brighter and brighter until it shone as the perfectday.

Mr STEVENS made a neat reply. He referred to the manner in which God had opened up the way for him to come to Peterborough, and said that at first there had been a great many discouragements and he had often wished to be away from Peterborough, but now he did not know any place where he would rather live, except, of course, his home. He would always have pleasant memories of his work in Peterborough and would often visit the town. He asked for the prayers of the members of the Association in the new work he was about to enter upon. He believed strongly in the power of prayer and he had often been sustained through it.

The doxology and benediction then brought the meeting to a close.

THE NEW SECRETARY.

Mr. Herbison, the gentleman whose name is opposite the office of secretary, has been recommended to the Association as a young man of great zeal and a most earnest worker. He comes from near Brockville, and has acted as secretary to an American Association. It is not known whether he will accept the position or not, but it is hoped that he will.

FAVORITISM AT THE FAIR;

Porter Bros.' Vigorous Reply to the Quibbling Statements of the Directors—An Affidavit Ready to be Sworn to—Fair Play and no Favor Demanded.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—We wish to make the following reply to the quibbling statements contained in a paragraph in the Examiner of the 25th instant, respecting our difficulty with the Directors of the Central Fair:

1st. It is not true that the circulars issued by us are "misleading." On the contrary, every word contained therein is justifiable; and we are distributing these circulars all over the Fair grounds into the hands of honest and intelligent farmers and others of the Midland district, who, we are satisfied, will adjudge us that measure of fair play which we and others have been denied by the Directors of the Peterborough Central Fair.

2nd. We are prepared to make an affidavit to the following effect:—That some time in the month of July last, three of the Directors, viz:—Messrs. Rutherford, Fair and Vance, called at our office soliciting subscriptions to the Exhibition; that after some talk about our space at the Exhibition this year, their subscription book was handed to us, and we therein entered our subscription for the sum of $5, attaching thereto a memorandum to the effect that our subscription was on condition that we were allowed the space this year that we occupied on the previous three years; that these three directors consented, and took our subscription upon this expressed condition, and did not raise any objections thereto; that as a consequence, it was deemed by us altogether unnecessary to attend any future meetings for the allotment of spaces, seeing that our space had been assigned to us by these three directors.

3rd. Such being the case, we maintain that the action of Directors, in refusing to grant us the space to exhibit our goods, which they had agreed to, and giving it to a competing firm of carriage makers, was unjust and unfair. All we want is fair play and no favour, and if we cannot secure this from the directors of the Central Exhibition we are bound to let the public know the reason why. Read our circulars and accept the hearty invitation contained therein to visit our warerooms, where there is at present to be seen as fine an exhibition of buggies, carriages and other work of our own manufacture as you can put your eyes on in Ontario.

Yours respectfully,
PORTER BROS.

Wm. Jackson was charged at the Police Court this morning with having cruelly ill-treated a horse on Saturday. GREENFIELD IS FERGUSON.

The Daring Burglar Proves to be a Peterborough Boy.

Chief Roszel returned home from Buffalo last night. He could identify the man from the description and the wounds which he bears, and there is not the slightest doubt but that Greenfield is the right man. The Chief brought a photograph of the prisoner back with him and this has been recognized as a Peterborough boy, who went by the name of Ferguson, and who is well known here.

Ferguson is a young man. He will be well remembered here and has always borne a rather hard character. His proper name is Greenfield, but, his father having died, his mother married a man by the name of Ferguson, and the boy took the latter name and always went by it in Peterborough. He has given the police considerable trouble at different times, and is no stranger to prison bars. His first term was for larceny and was a month in the gaol. He was arrested again shortly after on another charge of larceny, and about four years ago he was given three years in the Kingston penetentiary for the robbery of Mills Bros., and McKee & Davidson's. There is every reason to believe that he was connected with the attempt to blow open and rob Hazlett's safe, and also the robbery at LeBrun's clothing store. For breaking into a bonded car at Whitby and stealing a hand car a short time ago he was sentenced to a year in the Central Prison together with his accomplice. Greenfield or Ferguson escaped from the Central and went to Buffalo. A month or two ago he turned up in the robbery of a gents furnishing store in Barrie, the spoil of which burglary he took to Buffalo, where he was arrested for bringing stolen goods into the States. No one appearing to prosecute, he was given thirty days for vagrancy and released on August 24th. He must have then came to Peterborough, intending to do the job and get back to the States at once, and would probably have never been caught if he had not been cut and thus marked.

It was suspected that Greenfield and Ferguson were one and the same man, and all the burglaries for a long time past have been credited to him. He was reported to have been seen here several times, but it was thought this must have been a mistake. The extradition of the man will take some time, there being a great deal of red tapism to be gone through with.

The Drainage of the Nicholls' Hospital.

A meeting of some of the medical men was held last evening in the Council committee room to discuss matters of interest to the profession, and the question as to the drainage of the Nicholls' Hospital, which they had been asked to pass an opinion upon, came up, but the matter was dropped until the plan of the building had been examined by the doctors.

"Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reëstablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

IMPORTANT PATENT CASE.

MR. EDISON ATTACKED BY THE ROYAL COMPANY.

The Case to be Heard on Nov. 13—Large Increase in Immigration—Hon. E. Dewdney Sworn In.

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—An important patent case was heard yesterday before Mr. R. Pope, the Deputy Commissioner of Patents, in which the Royal Electric Company petitioned to have the patent held by the Edison Electric Light Co., dated Nov. 17, 1879, "for improvements on electric lamps," declared null and void, on the ground that the patentees had violated the 37th section of the Patent Act in not having manufactured the invention within two years from the date of the patent, and for having imported after the expiration of one year from the date thereof. By mutual consent Tuesday, Nov. 13, was fixed for the trial and Mr. Pope reserved his decision upon the question of the production of the respondents' books, etc., stating that he would communicate his decision thereon to the parties in ample time before the above mentioned day.

The immigration returns for August show the arrivals for the month to be 12,893, and the total arrivals from Jan. 1, 116,027, or an increase of nearly 14,000 as compared with the same period last year. The settlers in the Dominion during the month were 7646, and for the eight months 62,611, an increase of nearly 10,000 as compared with the same period in 1887. The total number of passengers who have passed through Canada to the United States this year is 53,416, an increase of 4000, indicating the growing popularity of the St. Lawrence route.

Hon. Edgar Dewdney was sworn in as Minister of the Interior and a Privy Councillor of Canada before his Excellency the Governor-General yesterday morning. Mr. Dewdney attended his first Cabinet meeting yesterday afternoon.

Tenders for the proposed improvements in the St. Lawrence canal will be opened today.

Hon. Mr. Dewdney, the new Minister of the Interior, made his first public appearance yesterday on the occasion of the opening of the exhibition.

CANADA-AUSTRALIAN TRADE.

Interest in the Matter in London—A Zollverein Empire.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—A telegram from Ottawa stating that the Dominion Government had received advices from the Australian Governments urging negotiations for closer trade relations between Australia and Canada is arousing comment here. The Daily Chronicle voices the general sentiment in an editorial when it rejoices at the movement as distinctly tending to imperial unity, and says if both the colonies wish to enter into such negotiations it is quite safe to assume that the Imperial Government will gladly give the required assistance. The Australian invitation is opportune, seeing the possibility of retaliation by the United States. It hopes the various parts of the Empire will ultimately recognize the wisdom of forming themselves into a sort of Zollverein Empire, which could afford to adopt the American free trade policy between the various States, and protection in dealings with other countries.

A Hunting Accident.

PORT ARTHUR, Sept. 26.—Mr. George McDonald of Fort William West was driving along the State river road when he espied a huntsman and a partridge. Pointing out the latter to the former and forgetting to get out of the line of fire, the hunter let bang at the bird, and the charge of shot tore out McDonald's left eye. The wounded man's condition is very precarious.

Scott Act Cases at Guelph.

GUELPH, Sept. 26.—There was a batch of Scott Act cases at the Police Court yesterday morning. J. R. Hewer and Thomas Blanchfield were up on remand. The former was fined $50 and costs and the latter was dismissed. Charles Haugh pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs. The charge against Charles Shmuck was enlarged till Sept. 28.

The first step towards testing the constitutionality of the Magistrates' Court was made yesterday when James Crankshaw filed a declinatory exception in a case wherein he appeared for the defendant. The magistrate held that the constitutionality of any court or law could not be questioned unless the Attorney-General had been given eight days' notice. Mr. Crankshaw will give the Attorney-General notice and raise the question in another case.

John Jamieson & Co., oil and varnish manufacturers, who suspended payment a few days ago, made an official assignment to day with liabilities of $40,000 direct and $30,000 indirect. The Bank of Montreal is a creditor to the extent of $30,000.

THE POLITICAL POT BOILS.

Intense Excitement in Montreal East—Both Sides Claiming a Victory.

MONTREAL, Sept. 26.—The excitement over the Montreal East election is intense. It would be difficult to attempt to foretell the result of the contest by the two last elections in the constituency. Hon. Mr. Coursol, whose support was claimed by both parties, was elected by acclamation in February, 1887, and at the last local election on Oct. 14, 1886, Mr. David scored 3036 votes, Hon. Mr. Taillon 2870 and Mr. Gravel 2428. On Sept. 10, 1808, Hon. Mr. Coursol defeated Mr. F. X. Archambault, Q.C., by a majority of 1392 votes and on June 20, 1882, Mr. Coursol was again elected by acclamation. There are rumors of a probable disturbance to-day during the election and it is suggested that the chairman of the Police Committee should instruct Chief Hughes to take more than ordinary precautions in order to see that the law respecting the closing of saloons is enforced. Mr. Lepine has formally signed a pledge to do all in his power for the cause of prohibition, if elected, and to vote for the Alliance resolutions in Parliament.

WALDRON'S FRAIL PARTNER.

Mrs. Bidwell Returns Home—Mysterious Arrest of Mr. Bidwell.

QUINCY, Mich., Sept. 26.—Mrs. Bidwell, who is alleged to have eloped with Barker Waldron, of Hillsdale, came home Monday night from Detroit with her husband, who claimed that his wife had been insane and had been in an asylum for treatment. At 4 o'clock yesterday morning Bidwell was awakened at his home and placed under arrest. The officers refuse to make any disclosure as to the cause of arrest. There is reason to believe that some important discoveries have been made concerning the Waldron bank wrecking at Hillsdale and Reading. It is said the officers are looking for Mrs. Bidwell, who fled immediately after her husband's arrest.

During Fair Time, I shall keep in stock at Mr. D. Smart's old stand a number of the Best Canadian Pianos and Organs, and will offer them for sale at greatly reduced prices.

Small wares, sheet music and musical instruments of all kinds under the management of Prof. Doucet, will be sold at a great discount.

My interest in Peterborough is much greater than that of an ordinary traveller, who drops in for a few days and spends three or four dollars with some hotel, and offers pianos by the catalogue—which no honest local man would represent. My prices are from $50 to $100 less than any traveller will quote you. Kindly inspect my stock and I will prove the above.

THE SAWYERVILLE RIOT.

NO FURTHER TROUBLE REPORTED YESTERDAY.

The Contractors' Deliberately Planned Swindle—The G. T. R. Refuses to Carry Ammunition to the Scene.

Montreal, Sept 27.—Advices from Sawyerville state that the 58th Battalion and Cavalry arrived at the scene of the riots last evening by special train. No further particulars about the laborers' attitude have been received, but it is hoped the worst is over.

The departure of the contractors, Shirley, Corbett & Co., who hailed from Ottawa, seems to have been deliberately planned. They were the lowest tenderers and under their contract they were to be paid 90 % of their estimates of the previous month on the 15th of every month. They deposited $5000 with the company as additional security. They commenced their work in June and were paid for their June, July and August work. Their estimate for August amounted to $20,000, but they represented to the company that it had been a very rainy and hard month for them and that they had a note to pay for money that they had borrowed to put into the work. They therefore asked the company as a favor to return them the deposit of $5000. The company consented and paid them $25,000. This was on Saturday the 15th. There was not at that time the slightest suspicion of their good faith. On Friday last all three absconded and took their bookkeeper with them.

The most of the laborers were Italians. They were badly advised by their interpreters and instead of going to work for the company, which gave notice that it would finish the work, they came down in a body numbering about 400 to the contractors' office at Sawyerville and about 200 to the contractors' office in Hereford, and since every effort has been made by the company to induce them to return to work but without success. The company have furnished them with bread to live on in the meantime. The Italians are armed with revolvers and dirks and threaten to cross the line into the United States, which is quite near.

Col. Houghton, D.A.G., secured 10,000 rounds of ammunition from the St. Helen's Island armory yesterday morning and had it taken to the G.T.R. depot to be forwarded by the 7 a.m. train, but the G.T.R. authorities refused to carry it and it had to be delayed until the 5.15 p.m. train by the C. P. R.

A LETTER FROM BAXTER.

The Broker Explains to Magistrate Denison Why He Doesn't Go to Toronto.

Montreal, Sept. 27.—Tuesday morning Mr. James Baxter decided to proceed to Toronto in accordance with the subpœna which had been served upon him in the case of the Central Bank against Barnett. Arriving at Ottawa he left the train to consult his Montreal counsel, Mr. McMaster, Q.C., who had in the meantime received a lengthy communication from Mr. J. J. Maclaren, Q.C., Mr. Baxter's Toronto counsel, telling him that as far as he could discover, Mr. Baxter's presence was not required in Toronto in the Barnett case, but that the subpœna had been served upon him merely as a trap to entice him there, when other proceedings in connection with the Bank case would be taken against him. Mr. Baxter therefore returned to Montreal and addressed a letter to Police Magistrate Denison, stating the above as his reason for not going to Toronto.

Yesterday afternoon Chief Hughes received a telegram from Chief Grasett stating that a detective had left Toronto with a warrant for Baxter's arrest, and requesting the Montreal Chief to have the famous broker arrested. This Chief Hughes refused to do, and says if Baxter is to be arrested here it will have to be by a Toronto officer.

IN THE SUNNY SOUTH.

Jacksonville's Death Roll—Disgraceful Conduct of Nurses.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 27.—The official bulletin for the 24 hours ending at 6 o'clock last evening reports 103 new cases (whites 31, negroes 72), deaths 8. Total cases to date 2237, total deaths 229. Some of the nurses who have come here are causing trouble by their bad character. One female nurse who had been very faithful hitherto was arrested to-day drunk and was placed in jail. One of the patients had a relapse on account of her neglect. The Harry Miner nurses say they have received no remittances from home and are asking who is to pay them. The Board of Health are considering the matter.

New Smallpox Cases at Buffalo.

Buffalo, Sept. 27.—And still the smallpox epidemic grows. Two cases were reported yesterday, one of the variety known as the dreaded black smallpox. A mild case is reported on Seneca-street, at 957, but the place is a boarding house and the 15 or 20 inmates have been exposed.

WINNIPEG NEWS.

Fulljames' Funeral—Dollar Wheat at Portage la Prairie.

Winnipeg, Sept. 27.—The funeral of Fulljames took place yesterday. The man who struck the fatal blow is Bennon, at one time a resident of Winnipeg. Parties who saw the wound in Fulljames' temple are of opinion that it could not have been caused by a blow with the bare fist.

On the extension of the Brandon-Morris branch tenders have been called for twenty miles by the Northern Pacific.

Wheat is quoted at $1 at Portage la Prairie.

The charge against Strachan and Deegan for complicity in the McKay mock marriage was withdrawn yesterday morning by the Crown and another of forgery laid. As forgery is extraditable an effort will be made to bring McKay back.

THE WHITECHAPEL MYSTERY.

A Strange Statement Made Before the Coroner's Jury.

London, Sept. 27.—The coroner in summing up at the inquest in the case of the last woman found murdered in Whitechapel stated to the jury that shortly after the details of the last sitting of the jury had been published the sub-curator of the English pathological museum had informed him that some months ago an American had visited him and asked him to procure a number of specimens of the uterus. The visitor stated that he would willingly pay £20 each for specimens, his object being to issue an actual specimen with each copy of a book upon which he was engaged. The sub-curator promptly informed the applicant that it would be impossible to comply with his request. The American still urged the possibility of procuring the specimens and said he wanted them preserved in glycerine instead of spirits, in order to keep them flaccid. The request had been repeated at another institute. The sub-curator had promptly informed the Scotland Yard authorities of the facts in his possession. The coroner expressed the hope that greater publicity would tend to elucidate the mystery, and that the publication of these facts in the American press would assist in throwing light on the subject.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT AT THE CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

Carried Up 1000 Feet into the Air a Young Man Falls to the Earth from that Perilous Height.

Ottawa, Sept. 27.—At the Exhibition grounds yesterday afternoon a young butcher named Tom Winsley was dashed to pieces by falling from a balloon at a height of over 1000 feet. Before Prof. Williams, the aeronaut, got ready to start, he asked assistance in holding down the impatient monster. Among the volunteers was Winsley, who with others grasped a stout rope running around the base of the balloon Prof. Williams entered the car and shouted to let go. All released their hold with the exception of Winsley who retaining his hold was swiftly borne upwards. The aeronaut was unable to help the unfortunate, who though called upon to let go, still clung to the ropes. The balloon had now gone 1000 feet upwards, and the spectators stood paralyzed with fear, gazing upwards at the unfortunate man, who, after letting go one hand, desperately clung to the rope with the other, only to fall earthward the next moment. Down he came, executing a series of somersaults in the air. He struck in a field 100 feet from the grounds, and with the exception of his face was terribly smashed. Winsley was aged 20 and was unmarried.

Caught in the Shafting.

London, Ont., Sept. 27.—The first really serious accident to mar the enjoyment of the Western Fair took place yesterday afternoon, about 3.30, in Machinery Hall. Mrs. Annie Towers, a young lady from Hibbert, who came from Exeter with friends to visit the fair, had gone into Machinery Hall and after looking at the exhibits for a while, sat down to eat her lunch. Unfortunately Mrs. Towers did not observe how close she was to the moving machinery, and before she could realize her danger her dress became entangled in the shafting, around which she was rapidly whirled a number of times before she could be released from her terrible situation. When extricated the unfortunate woman was entirely denuded of clothing, with the exception of her shoes and stockings, her injuries being of a serious character. The injured woman was at once removed to the City Hospital. The hospital attendants, at a late hour last night, reported that she was progressing favorably.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Frank Osborne Held at Hamilton for a Dastardly Assault.

Hamilton, Sept. 27.—Frank Osborne, the man who gave himself up when he heard the police were looking for him for an aggravated and indecent assault on Mrs. Margaret Ferguson, was in the dock at the Police Court yesterday. He pleaded not guilty, and after a brief consultation with his counsel, decided that it would be better to have trial before a jury. Mrs. Ferguson swore that Osborne had followed her when she started on her way home at dusk from Poole's Hotel; made an indecent proposition, which she resented; he then struck her a stunning blow in the face and gave her a kick on the thigh. She was on the ground, and he left her, but returned soon after with one Peter Burns, and they dragged her into a valley near a creek; one proposed to cut her throat for her resistance; after a while they left her and she lay helpless and unattended from that time (about 10 o'clock Tuesday night) to early Thursday morning. The loss of blood was very great. The husband of the woman testified that she arrived home about 3 o'clock on Thursday morning; that she was in a very pitiable state; her clothes were torn and covered with blood, and her eyes were swollen up so that she could scarcely see. He got medical attendance at once. This was all the evidence ready for the prosecution and the magistrate committed the prisoner for trial at the assizes.

Montreal, Sept. 27.—In the election in Montreal East yesterday to fill the vacancy in the Dominion House, out of 19,000 names on the lists only 6973 were polled, of which Lepine, the Labor candidate, received 3829, and Poirier (Liberal), 3144, leaving Lepine's majority 685.

Cardwell Nominations.

Mono Mills, Sept. 27.—R. S. White and Wm. Stubbs, both Conservative, were nominated here yesterday to contest Cardwell for the vacancy in the Dominion House, caused by the death of Hon. Thos. White.

ARRESTED FOR BURGLARY.

Ex-Lieut. Kenny, Who Fought Bravely in the Northwest Captured in Oswego.

Belleville, Sept. 27.—Charles E. Kenny, of this city, has been arrested in Oswego, N.Y., as one of the principals in the Balk well burglary case. His extradition will be at once sought. Kenny is a young man of highly respectable connections, but of late he has formed bad habits. He served as second lieutenant of "A" company of the Midland Battalion in the Northwest, and commanded the company after Lieut. Halliwell had been wounded at Batouche. Kenny is said to have made some damaging admissions.

A $12,000 Dwelling Burnt.

Picton, Sept. 27.—The dwelling house and drive house of Dr. Williams, two miles east of Picton, was burnt last night. Insured in the Lancashire and Queen for $6700. The house was built about six years ago at a cost of $12,000. The house was unoccupied and the fire was evidently the work of an incendiary.

Money Orders for Japan.

Ottawa, Sept. 27.—The Postmaster-General has authorized the comptroller of postal revenue to enter into negotiations with the Empire of Japan for the establishment of a money order convention, for the direct exchange of international money orders between the two countries.

AT THE BRITISH CAPITAL.

MATTERS OF GENERAL INTEREST TO CANADIANS.

Work of the Crofter Emigration Commissioners — Montreal Civic Debt — Sir George Stephen's Generous Act.

London, Sept. 27.—Important official business compelled Sir Charles Tupper to relinquish his intention to address the Associated Chambers of Commerce now assembled at Cardiff. The hope is expressed that Sir Charles will take an early opportunity to re-affirm Canada's pacific but firm attitude in respect to her relations with the United States.

Sir George Stephen announces his intention to build and endow a cottage hospital at a cost of £5000, in Dufftown, Scotland, for the benefit of Mortlach and Glenrinnes parishes. The gift is highly appreciated in Scotland.

The Crofter Emigration Commissioners will complete their enquiry in a fortnight. The accepted families will leave Glasgow for Canada, beginning in March, two months earlier than this year's batch. The commissioners speak highly of the fitness of the selected emigrants.

Steps are being taken to effect the conversion of the Montreal civic debt upon the lines adopted by the council. It is calculated that £860,000 of new stock will now be issued, half the proceeds being applied to the floating debt and loan charges, the remainder to public works. Three per cent. is spoken of as the rate of interest, 3½ being the maximum. The Canadian Gazette, commenting on the subject, remarks that good 3½ per cent. British municipal stock is worth 110, and though Toronto fours are not much above par they are worth much more. Montreal stock should be worth quite as much as Nottingham stock, which, bearing 3 per cent., is quoted at 97. If this unreasonable difference between colonial and British municipal stock is to be maintained the new Montreal stock must be issued by the best medium on the best method.

It is semi-officially denied that the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. are moving towards the acquisition of the Manitoba Northwestern.

MISS WILSON CRUELLY DECEIVED.

The Man She Married Proved to be a Bigamist and Sentenced to Prison.

Middletown, Sept. 27.—Miss Lucy Wilson, belonging to a respectable family of the town of Warwick, and who has considerable property in her own right, has been made the victim of a cruel deception and wrong. About two years ago she became acquainted with George H. Bale, a good-looking young man, who hailed from Sussex County, New Jersey. It was known that Bale had been married in June, 1885, to Mrs. Susan Quick, a handsome young widow of Deckertown, but he represented to Miss Wilson and her friends that he had obtained a divorce. He courted Miss Wilson and finally persuaded her to marry him, the event occurring in November last.

No sooner had the marriage taken place than Bale set to work to get possession of his victim's property, it is believed with the purpose of converting it into money and then skipping out. Miss Wilson's brother-in-law and legal guardian, Elihu Lovett, was led to make enquiries about Bale's antecedents, which resulted in the disclosure that his wife, the former widow Quick, was living in Andover, N.S., and had never been divorced. Bale was arrested about ten days ago and lodged in jail at Newton. He was indicted and arraigned on the charge of bigamy at the current term of the Sussex County Court. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two years in the State Prison at Trenton.

No Mercy For Beer Sellers.

Wichita, Sept. 27.—The famous Stewart case, in which Stewart, the drug store clerk, pleaded guilty of selling 208 glasses of beer and was sentenced to upward of 17 years in jail and a fine of $20,800, is again brought to notice by the beginning of a suit by Assistant Attorney General Hollowell to recover his fees in the case, amounting to $8200. These, under the Murray amendment, are recoverable from the property in which the liquor was sold, and Colonel Hollowell now proposes to collect the cost by selling the property in which Stewart violated the law. Under the Murray law, should Mr. Hollowell desire to push his claims, he can establish liens on many of the finest properties in the city.

A Peculiar Scoundrel.

Providence, R.I., Sept. 27.—Frank Norcross was sentenced in the 8th District Court of Olneyville last night to three years in the State workhouse for lewd and wanton behavior. He had been at work at domestic service in Auburn in feminine apparel and roamed about through the night frightening women and later accosting men in a loose manner. He was captured and pleaded for an immediate trial. He is the same man who created a stir in Boston several years ago when he was married to a man. He said he had always preferred woman's clothes and woman's work, and had worn female garb for several years. When he was 17 he was married to John King and his sex was not known until after the ceremony.

A Fair Drowned Out.

Providence, R.I., Sept. 27.—The rain which began at midnight on Tuesday continued throughout the night and was accompanied with wind which increased every hour, culminating between 8 and 9 o'clock yesterday morning. The State fair at Narragansett Park was all but drowned out and many of the large dining tents were blown over. In the city, trees, fences, unfinished buildings, wires and campaign banners all suffered. At the anchorage the steam yacht Stylo had her cabin washed off and upper works stove in, doing about $1000 damage. The sloop Rowena and the Dozell were badly damaged. The sloop Undine struck a rock and sunk and a number of catboats were badly injured.

Chicago's Archimedes.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 27.—The mammoth McCormick building, at the corner of Jackson and Market-streets, on the river, six stories in height and covering half a block, has been raised six feet, to correspond with the grade of the new viaduct just built on Jackson-street. The huge brick structure weighs many thousand tons, was raised by means of jackscrews and not a piece of mortar was displaced in the operation.

Fire in an Iron Mine.

Hudson, N.Y., Sept. 27.—At an early hour Tuesday morning fire broke out in the Burden iron mines below this city and still continues. The flames are 300 feet from the opening and are fed by scaffolding, railroad ties and lumber supports. The loss will be large and the damage will cause the suspension of all work at this point for several days. No report of injury to any of the employes has been received.

Woodstock Cheese Market.

Woodstock, Sept. 27.—At the cheese market held here yesterday 2715 boxes August make were offered. The market was very dull and no sales were reported.

Earthquakes in Ecuador.

Guayaquil, Sept. 27.—Two severe shocks of earthquake were felt here last night for about two minutes. The shocks were followed by flashes of lightning. At this time of year lightning has been unknown and the people are panic stricken. At Helena, Ecuador, a sharp shock of earthquake was felt last night about the same time as at Guayaquil.

CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

The Autumn Fair in Full Swing.

THE FORMAL OPENING.

FULL EXHIBITS IN ALL OF THE CLASSES.

The Speeding in the Ring—The List of Prizes Awarded—Large Attendance.

The Formal Opening.

At about 2 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon the Hon. Chas. Drury entered the grounds, accompanied by Mayor Stevenson, M.P., Messrs. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P. T. Blezard, M.P.P., President Rutherford, Vice-Presidents Garbutt and Vance, Secretary Collins, the Directors of the Society, members of the Town Council and others, and escorted by the 57th Battalion Band.

THE ADDRESS.

Mr. STRATTON, on behalf of the Directors, read the following address:—

Hon. Charles Alfred Drury, M. P. P., Minister of Agriculture for the Province of Ontario:

The Directors of the Peterborough Central Exhibition desire, on the occasion of this your first visit to this town and county in an official capacity, to give you a welcome as warm as words can express, and to take this the very first opportunity of thanking you for your attendance to do us the honor of opening this annual exhibition of this society.

We also take this, the first opportunity of heartily congratulating you upon being selected to fill one of the most important and responsible positions in the Provincial cabinet. We regard the appointment, in the first place, as a graceful recognition of your personal fitness for its occupancy, and a practical recognition of your long, faithful and intelligently directed efforts for the promotion of the interests—in every department—of the farming community of this Province. As a successful, practical agriculturist, you have effected much by the force of example, and if one thing more than another empasizes the wisdom of your selection as Minister, it is the fact that a practical farmer has been charged with the specific duty of guarding and promoting the interests of his fellow-farmers.

Again we regard your appointment as the tangible expression of the fact that governments are arriving at a proper and practical conception of the important, and, we can truthfully assert, foremost part which agriculture performs as a factor in the prosperity of this great country. Both the Federal and Provincial Governments have given evidence that an industry, which, in this Province alone, employs in its equipment and operations, a capital of almost a thousand million of dollars, is worthy of special administration and supervision. And we may safely assert that the government of this Province never did a more popular and universally commendable act than the establishing of a Department of Agriculture, and never made a more universally popular and wise appointment than the selection of yourself for the incumbency of the office of Minister of Agriculture for the Province of Ontario.

While we have adverted to the assistance you have rendered in a general way to agricultural interests, it is a pleasure to add that your zealous advocacy, your active personal efforts, in the promotion of Agricultural Exhibitions have had a great and lasting influence for good, evidences of which you may see in the magnificent stock and grand agricultural products now upon these grounds.

For the reasons above implied, we give you a cordial welcome in your official capacity, and as a citizen of the great Midland district, we welcome you personally and extend you the freedom and hospitality of this thriving and prosperous town, the centre of an equally thriving and prosperous country.

Wishing you a long course of usefulness in your high position, we ask of you to do us the honor of formally inaugurating this, the annual exhibition of this society.

On behalf of the directors.

WM. RUTHERFORD, President.
WM. COLLINS, Secretary.

MR. DRURY'S REPLY.

Mr. DRURY thanked the directors for their kindly words. He could not say that he deserved such treatment. He had his record to make, and was glad for the encouragement given him. He referred to his long connection with agricultural pursuits and his early labors at exhibitions. He was for many years identified with the great agricultural society of the Province and its exhibition. They of the farming community must feel grateful to those in the town for the assistance, in time and money, given to make the fairs successes. He was glad to know that in Peterborough active business men gave of their time by serving on the board. If he had a fault to find with the farmers it was that they were too slow to learn. They should be ready to adopt newer and better methods. In Ontario there were a large number of progressive farmers, and as an illustration he pointed to the fact that many in the "burnt district" this year planted American corn for feed. The government was conducting experiments in the growing of this corn and hoped soon to publish the results. He asked their support in carrying on the affairs of the department. It was proper that there should be a practical farmer in the government, and if there should come a change of government there would, he believed, still be a farmer at the head of this department. They had a grand country, a noble people, an unsurpassed climate and infinite resources, and, while he favored closer trade relations with our neighbors, they need not fear any man or any threats of retaliation. The people of this country were self-reliant, and while they desired to be friendly with the United States, if that country decided otherwise, they would depend upon themselves and develope their noble country and go on to prosperity. He wished the society prosperity, thanked them for the honor they had done him and declared the exhibition open.

The band struck up "God Save the Queen," a flag was hoisted on the grand stand, and the ceremony was over.

For Larceny.

This afternoon Officer McGinty ran in a young man from the country, on the charge of stealing a sheep skin from the cellar of Mayor Stevenson's office. The miscreant was caught red-handed on his way to dispose of the skin at a tannery. He is an English boy and explains that he was sent by his employer, who had sold the skin, to see if the tanner would give more for it than he had received.

At The Opera House.

The Baird dramatic company put the beautiful drama "Bells of Shandon" on the boards at opera house last night. The play is a good one and was enjoyed immensely. This is a chance for those who are in town for the Exhibition to have a night of laughter and fun by seeing "Bob" Baird as Uncle Josh, the down east ern farmer.

Obituary.

The death occurred very suddenly on Wednesday of Mr. Charles Crowe, sr., at the age of 56 years. Deceased was a citizen of Ashburnham for the past 26 years being a native of County Monaghan, Ireland. He came to Canada in 1862 and engaged in work in town. He leaves a family of seven sons, all of whom are well known in town and three of which are living abroad. For the last four years deceased has had charge of the "diamond" crossing, in Ashburnham, and previous to this had been in the employ of the G. T. R. some six years. For the last two weeks he had been ailing with erysipelas in the head, and on Wednesday succumbed to paralysis of the heart. His sons David Crowe and Charles Crowe, at Pembroke, Ont., were telegraphed the sad news and are expected in to-night. The funeral takes place on Friday afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock; interment at Little Lake Cemetary.

THE INSTITUTE DRILL CLASSES.

Win Loud and Well Deserved Applause from a Crowded House.

The Charlotte-st. Rink was crowded on Wednesday evening by one of the most select and delighted audiences ever seen in town, for the purpose of witnessing the evolutions of the Collegiate Institute drill classes, under the able tutorship and command of Sergt.-Major Rundle, of the 57th Rangers. To say that the audience, one and all, were pleased does not properly express it. They were delighted, and with good reason too, as the entertainment or exhibition, from beginning to end, was carried out without a hitch, and the almost perfect manner in which all the evolutions were performed drew down loud enconiums upon the heads of all the participants and their able instructor.

While the building is in some respects admirably suited for such an entertainment, in others it is sadly wanting. The floor space is ample and suitable, but the seating accommodation and the lighting are sadly deficient.

At 8 o'clock sharp, the fine band of the 57th Rangers took up a position in the gallery, and every place of vantage about the building was occupied by eager sight-seers on the qui vive to catch the first glance of the pupils, more particularly the Daughters of the Regiment, who on this occasion were to make their first bow before the public in their new uniforms.

The curtains at the north end of the rink were drawn aside, and to the inspiriting tune of the "British Grenadiers," the grand march past commenced, the Daughters leading. They were neatly attired in suits of navy blue, with blouse waists, trimmed with white military braid, with jockey caps. They numbered 34 and each carried a rifle. The boys followed, to the number of about fifty, but as they were in mufti, they attracted but little attention as long as the girls were on the floor. The companies marched as steady as old veterans, there wheeling at the corners was perfection and they richly deserved the loud applause that greeted them all along the line.

The Daughters were next put through squad drill and performed all the movements to the Queen's taste. Their wheeling into line in sections made the officers of the 57th as anxious and was one of the features of the evening.

The exercises on the horizontal bar were omitted for reasons explained by the Sergt.-Major. Military movements, in slow and quick time by the girls were well given. The calisthenics exercises by the girls showed the result of careful training by the instructor as did the dumb-bell and calisthenic exercises by the boys. The different movements were all done in unison and were greatly appreciated by the audience.

After a selection by the band, the girls sang in excellent time "Let me like a Soldier Fall." A pleasing and well performed feature was a skirmishing to the sound of the bugle by the boys. Fancy marching and a motion song by the girls was perhaps, with the exception of the performance of the manual exercise, the best performed and most intricate movement of the evening. The tableau, "A Gymnastic Charge" by the boys, the singing of "Rule Brittania" by the school, and the playing of the national anthem brought to a close a most successful and interesting evening.

To Sergt.-Major Rundle the greatest credit is due for the manner in which all who took part acquitted themselves, and to him the public owe a debt that can be best repaid by filling the house from pit to dome on the occasion of future entertainments.

Police Court.

On Wednesday afternoon John Adlum got on one of his old time whirls and made things howl in his vicinity. Officer McGinty was called and promptly locked John up. He passed the night in the cells and made himself heard for some distance around. At the police court this morning he was as tame as a lamb and in answer to a charge of being drunk and disorderly, told the Magistrate that he was somewhat excited on the previous day and assigned as a good and sufficient reason, the fact that his daughter was to get married today. The P.M. remarked that John had become a nuisance and he sent him up on the hill for ten days with hard labor.

William Roach, the lad arrested for supposed complicity in the burglary at Ball's clothing store and who has been remanded to gaol since August 29th, was committed to gaol for two months as a vagrant.

Mrs. E. Vont was charged with using insulting and abusive language towards her stepdaughter. After hearing the case the Magistrate inflicted a fine of $2.00, to be paid at once.

If When symptoms of malaria appear, in any form, take Ayer's Ague Cure. It will prevent a development of the germs of disease, and eradicate them from the system. A cure is warranted in every instance.

TURNBULL'S establishment will be open on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Sept. 26th and 27th, to give everyone a chance to inspect the large display of millinery and mantles. But no goods will be sold. d68tf

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether arising from teething or other causes 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

It will be a Success.

The directors of the South Monaghan Fair are sparing no efforts to make the show a grand success, and the prospects for these exertions being rewarded are most encouraging. The speeding in the ring will be a great feature of the programme and over $100 is offered in the different events There is a half mile track in the grounds, which has been put in splendid condition, so that the events are sure to be interesting and competition keene. On the posters that have been issued in connection with the fair one thing was ommitted in the description of the speeding events. The treasurer has requested it to be stated that it is necessary that all horses that are entered for the farmer's and colts prizes shall have been owned for at least two months by residents in the township. If the weather on Thursday and Friday, Oct 4th and 5th, promises favourable there is no doubt but that the show will be one of the most successful for years.

What a Time

People formerly had, trying to swallow the old-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bitterness; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well called "medicated sugar-plums"—the only fear being that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango, N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He says: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with them. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

"Ayer's Pills outsell all similar preparations. The public having once used them, will have no others."—Berry, Venable & Collier, Atlanta, Ga.

THE WORK OF A YEAR.

THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE Y. M. C. A.

What the Association Has Been Doing During the Past Year.

The following is the full text of the report presented by Mr. W. H. Stevens, Secretary, read at the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday night:—

Mr. Wm. H. Stevens, General Secretary, then read the following

Annual Report.

To the Officers and Members of the Peterborough Young Men's Christian Association:—

DEAR BRETHREN,—The work of the Association during the past year will be entered into more particularly in detail in the reports of committees that are received at this meeting.

There are some phases of the work, however, that will not be touched upon in these reviews and I will endeavor to confine myself more especially to these in this report.

At one of the first meetings of the Executive Committee whose term of office expires to-night, it was very apparent that if we were to gain the presence of the young men in large numbers at our rooms during the evenings it would be necessary to increase the attractions and to make our rooms more cheerful and entertaining. In the reading room it was decided to make the following additions to our stock of magazines and papers:—Weeklies—Illustrated London News, Harper's Weekly, Scientific American and Supplement, Punch, and Penny Illustrated, magazines—Century, Outing, Youth, Sunday at Home, Boys Own Paper. These with the other periodicals already kept on file were to be neatly covered that they might be kept in good order. Four game tables, given by Mr. Dee, and the following games were supplied for the parlor:—Crokinole, chess, checkers, par-chess and parlor curling. The reception committee issued a neat card calling attention to these additions, which was distributed among the young men of the town. After this the attendance of young men during the evenings continued to increase each month, going from an average of 18 in October to between 40 and 50 in March, showing that the changes made had the desired effect. Some of the results of this work have been as follows:—(A) Young men who for the first time have dropped in to enjoy a quiet game have become members and regular attendants at the rooms and thus prevented from, perhaps, frequenting other places where the associations were not so wholesome. (B) Others have accepted invitations to attend our meetings and have there heard of Christ their Saviour. We have the names of several young men, who indirectly under these social influences, have entered the Christian life and identified themselves with the Christian church. (C) In numbers of cases the rooms have proven a boon and a home to young men who have become residents in Peterborough, whose relatives live at a distance.

We cannot over-estimate the benefit of such rooms as ours to young men who are strangers and unacquainted in the town. It is to be hoped that ere long this embryo city will have an Association building that will be worthy of its growing prominence, a beacon light and safeguard to all young men strangers who enter its gates.

MEMBERSHIP.

We have added 68 names to our roll of members during the past year and have had to deduct 27 most of whom are accounted for by removals. Our membership now stands 268 or a net gain over last year of 41.

During the year letters of introduction to other Associations have been given to 18 young men as follows:—Toronto 5, Montreal 2, Chicago 2, New York City 1, Victoria, B.C.,1, Rochester, N.Y.,1, Buffalo, N.Y.,1, Cobourg 1, Albany, N.Y., 1, Ottawa 1, Los Angeles, California, 2. We have endeavored to follow up these introductions, and in many cases we have been gratified to receive answers speaking about the kindly word spoken and the interest taken in them by the friends to whom they had been introduced.

Quite a number of young men have come to us from other towns and cities bringing letters from kindred Associations, to all of whom we have given a cordial welcome and have assisted them in securing boarding houses and in 5 instances introducing them to businesses where they were successful in securig employment.

ATHLETICS.

Not having any gymnasium the work in the physical has been confined to the outdoor sports we have had in connection with our Snow Shoe and Lacrosse Clubs. These, however, have been eminently successful as will be seen by the report of the Committee on Athletics, etc.

LECTURES AND ENTERTAINMENTS.

Under the management of the Lecture and Entertainment Committee a very sucessful series of concerts, debates and lectures have been held during the year. The debates and entertainments given by the members of the Lindsay and Peterborough Associations jointly in their respective towns were largely attended, highly pleasing and served a purpose in showing the bond of union existing between Associations of this character.

RELIGIOUS WORK.

The success of what may be called our secular as destinguished from the purely religious agencies has increased our opportunities for reaching and helping young men spiritually.

The study of the Word of God was well developed during the year in connection with our young men's meeting, Bible and training classes. The attendance at the Sunday evening meeting has been large, the addresses pungent and practical, and the attention all that could be desired, the results accruing therefrom cannot be other than productive of great good. The special addresses to young men by Rev A. B. Mackay, of Montreal, Hon. S. H. Blake, Toronto, and Rev. Messrs. Shorey and Parker, of Peterborough, given at different times during the year in the hall, drew large crowds and were powerfully impressive.

Many conversations have been held with young men by our workers in connection with these and other services, and in some instances the results have been fruitful and encouraging.

COMMITTEES.

The various committees of the Association represent the more active members in our work and in most instances they have performed their duties with vigor and efficiency. These committees have been as follows:—Executive, Finance, Devotional and sub committees), Reception, Invitation, Lectures and Entertainments, Physical Department and Boys' Work.

REMOVALS.

We regret and feel the loss of many workers and warm friends of our work who have removed to other parts, but trust that men of like spirit may be raised up so that the work may increase in practical usefulness year by year.

ASSOCIATION NOTES.

Seven hundred copies of the Association Notes have been printed and mailed monthly to our members and subscribers. In this way a knowledge of the details of our work have been placed before our friends regularly, creating a more intelligent appreciation and more substantial cooperation with the work. In each number we have given a short, pithy address, specially applicable to young men, and there have been many expressions of the benefit derived in the perusal of the same.

PROVINCIAL CONVENTION.

At the Provincial Convention of the Associations of Ontario and Quebec, held in Toronto in February last, the Association was represented by the following delegates:—Messrs. Geo. M. Roger, A. Clegg, C. W. Beal, R. H. Henderson, E. H. Wood, and W. H. Stevens, from among whom the 2nd Vice President and Secretary of the convention were chosen. Two days after the convention we were favored with a visit from Canada's oldest secretary, Mr. D. A. Budge, of Montreal. About 35 of our committee men met with Mr. Budge in the Association parlor for conference. His address dealt chiefly with methods of carrying on the work, and was practical and clear throughout. We have also had a visit from Mr. T. S. Cole, who has resumed his former position of travelling secretary. He has counselled and rendered assistance to us very materially.

BOYS' WORK.

Besides the work for young men we have carried on quite a successful work amongst the boys of the town. On every Friday evening during the fall, winter and spring months the boys have been admitted to the rooms. From 7 to 7.45 o'clock they have spent in the reading room looking over the illustrated papers and enjoying the games in the parlor. At a quarter to eight they gather in the hall where three quarters of an hour is spent in Bible exercise and study. Besides the memorizing of portions of Scriptures they have been led by the secretary in the study of some Scriptural theme. The attendance has been very large, the greatest being 84 and the aver-age between 40 and 50.

A savings bank has been instituted with Mr. A. E. Scott as treasurer. The bank is open for deposits for half an hour before each meeting. Some 19 accounts have been opened, the money being deposited each week in the Ontario Bank.

Special addresses and entertainments have been given to the boys as follows:—Oct. 7th, lecture, "Gases," illustrated by experiments. Mr. Jas. A. Fife, B.A., Collegiate Institute, Dec. 16th, address, "How to run railroad trains without collisions." Mr. Frank Dobbin; Feb. 3rd, "Chalk Talk, or Art in a School Room." Mr. Frank Dobbin. The work has been carefully managed by a committee of the other boys, consisting of Messrs. W. Smart, chairman, Chas. Collins, secretary, Jack Fairbairn, Walter Wesley, Fred. Rudcliffe, Willie Norton and Ed. Mannel.

Towards the furtherance of our work we have raised during the year upwards of $1,500, the great bulk of which has come from subscription. To some this may seem a large annual outlay, and this is true, but in view of the needs of the young men of this town, and the work that can be done for them by this Association in making them better citizens and more conscentious workers in their various trades and businesses, we have made a very poor beginning, both in what we have attempted to do for them and in money actually given. As Mr. Moody has said, "We have taken a teaspoonful idea when we should have a scoop shovel."

Great good has indeed been accomplished by the Association during the past five years of its existence, and it is hoped that during the years that are to come the work will so grow and commend itself to the public spirited and generous hearted that at least ten fold more will be witnessed during the next five years.

The praise belongs to the Author of every good gift for all that has been done. He has given the strength, means and money which has sustained the work in the past, and this should encourage us to trust more implicitly in Him for the future and bend every energy to make every possibility a reality.

Respectfully submitted,
W. H. STEVENS,
Secretary.

A SKELETON UNEARTHED,

SUPPOSED TO BE THE REMAINS OF RIEL'S VICTIM, SCOTT.

A Hitch Said to Exist Between the Manitoba Government and the Northern Pacific—Destitute Indians.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28. — The Sun says that circumstances all point to a hitch between the Government and the Northern Pacific, the latter not having yet spent a dollar in the province. The suggestion is made that the fact that Duncan Macarthur has a bill ready to file against the Government for breach of the contract made with the Norquay Government may have something to do with the disagreement.

Railway men in making the grade on the north bank of the Assiniboine turned up the skeleton of a man, supposed to be that of the martyred Scott, shot by Riel's orders in the first rebellion. Military buttons were found and Scott is said to have worn a similar kind on his clothing when shot. The bones have been carried off by relic hunters. The skeleton was only twenty inches under the surface and was within a short distance from where the tragedy occurred twenty years ago.

A strong appeal for aid to the destitute Indians in the far north of Athabasca is made by resident missionaries. Owing to the failure of large and small game and the fisheries, there are numerous cases of starvation and great lack of clothing. Aid is demanded from the Dominion Government.

FIFTEEN WIVES IN COURT.

The Jury at Once Declares Champion Bigamist Brown Guilty.

DETROIT, Sept. 28.—About fifteen of the thirty-three women who were married to James W. Brown, the champion bigamist, since 1883, confronted him in the Recorder's Court yesterday afternoon. The list of victims included Helen Brownlee and Anna Winters of Chicago, who, with M. Hazel, Mary Benjamin and Nancy Robertson, were the only ones called upon to give evidence against Brown. The Benjamin woman was the prosecuting witness.

It was established that Brown's method was to advertise for a housekeeper, select as a victim the one from among the applicants who pleased him most and marry her as soon as possible. He would desert her after a few days. Five clergymen of the city certified to marrying Brown to as many different women, and the case against him was so clear that the prosecutor left it to the jury without argument. Brown testified in his own behalf and made a sorry mess of it, contradicting himself at every turn. He professed not to remember any of his dupes; asserted that he was only once married, and that his wife was dead, and that he had since been confined in the lunatic asylum at New Orleans. Brown was pallid and looked like a sick man. During the trial Nancy Robertson's indignation could not be repressed, and she denounced Brown as a perfidious wretch. The jury agreed with her evidently, for they took but four minutes to find him guilty. Sentence was deferred so that they could further investigate Brown's doings.

Sold His Wife for $50.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Amos Snyder, a baker, of North Bergen, N.J., suspected his hired man, Wilkins, of paying marked attention to his wife, accused his wife of being unfaithful to him, and a quarrel was the result. While Snyder was away from home in New York his wife drove away from his home in a buggy in the direction of Guttenburg. When Snyder returned home he searched for his wife without success. On going to his bakery he discovered that the safe in his office had been opened, and that $900 in cash had been extracted therefrom. Snyder swore out a warrant for the arrest of the eloping couple. When confronted by them in the court room he offered to withdraw the complaint if his money was returned to him. His wife thereupon handed him over the cash which she had taken from the safe. Snyder then startled the court by offering to sell his wife to Wilkins for $50. Wilkins promptly accepted the offer and counted out $50 in bills to Snyder, which the latter pocketed with a serene smile and left the court room. Wilkins and Mrs. Snyder went away together and were last seen boarding a train for Pennsylvania.

Buncoed out of $10,000.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 28.—John K. Lemon, of Allegheny, 65 years of age, was robbed by bunco steerers yesterday. The usual lottery trick was played and he drew $5000, but the sharpers insisted that he must first produce $10,000 before the prize would be paid. The old man went to the bank and drew the money. When he returned he showed the roll of bills. He was immediately knocked down over a chair, and when he got up the bunco men and his money were missing. The sharpers locked the room as they left. The old man was released from the room, but too late to institute an effective chase for the rascals.

Killed by a Train.

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 28.—James McConnell, living on Desplaines-street, Chicago, was run over by a Santa Fe freight train at this place last evening. Both arms were cut off and all the ribs on the left side were crushed in. He was trying to get on the train to go to Chicago. He lived only long enough to tell his name and residence.

Killed by an Elephant.

BROCKWAYVILLE, Pa., Sept. 28.—As Forepaugh's show was unloading at Dubois John Paggy, an elephant trainer of Salem, N.J., was attacked by an elephant and killed. The other elephants grew excited and tore up another cage and struck two men.

Accidentally Killed Himself.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 28.—Wm. Vandervoot of this city accidentally shot and killed himself at Sandy Creek, near New York, yesterday.

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—The steamer Worcester, from Halifax, brings the crew of the schooner Isaac Keen, which was wrecked off Newfoundland Sept. 14. The men took to the boats and were picked up.

IN THE CLUTCH OF OLD HUTCH.

The Chicago Wheat Corner—A Big Jump—The Market Panicky.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Hutchinson is engineering the wheat deal. He has been buying all of the September wheat offered lately. As only three days remained for the shorts to settle they went into the pit yesterday morning and began to bid against each other with the result that the price mounted to $1.25. Hutchinson then sent the shorts word that he had a little wheat to sell. They flocked to his office where he disposed of 325,000 bushels at $1.25. He then, after telling those of the shorts who were still waiting, that wheat would go to $2 within a week, went to his club leaving instructions with his brothers to sell the shorts all the wheat they wanted at $1.23 or buy all they would sell at $1.24. There is a suspicion that Hutchinson also has most of the December wheat and in consequence that option went up to $1.

A Very Panicky Market.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—A genuine surprise was in store for operators in wheat yesterday, and it developed in the shape of a material advance in price where many operators had expected a decline. September was advanced 22c over the closing price of yesterday, or to $1.26 with large settlements made at $1.25. This was the principal feature of the day, but none the less unexpected was the advance of 3½c in October, 3½c in December and 1½c in May delivery. The entire list scored an advance and the feeling was greatly unsettled. A feverish excitement characterized the trading. The opening was weak and early trading 1c to 1½c lower. Then followed numerous small fluctuations after which the market became strong and advanced ½ and ¼ at a time for the deferred futures until the advance above noticed was established, while September advances amounted to 2c and 5c between trades. There was not much wheat to be had until the $1.25 mark was reached. The "shorts" were amazed at the turn of affairs. Operators also commenced to argue that September was so easily manipulated what might "shorts" for October expect, and this created a sharp demand for that future, which carried prices above those ruling for December. The receipts of contract wheat are very small. Most of the receipts reported here are billed through. It was also rumored that Minneapolis millers were bidding for the old wheat held here, which rumor helped to strengthen the already unsettled feeling. Foreign advices quoted dull and heavy markets.

BIG FORGERIES IN GOTHAM.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Heavy forgeries have been discovered on the Produce Exchange. No names are mentioned, but it is said Attorney Foster of the Gratuity Fund has not been seen since Tuesday. The frauds are similar to those practised by Bedell. It is known that the Exchange has been victimized to the extent of $168,000 on thirteen forged mortgages purporting to be a lien on property in this city and the larceny of a much larger amount may yet be discovered. The Gratuity Fund aggregates $1,000,000 and is for the most part invested in bonds and mortgages on real estate.

Last evening Pinkerton's detective agency was employed to arrest William R. Foster, jr., but as yet no report has been received from them. Foster has not been seen since Tuesday morning. Foster's father is a very wealthy man residing at Babylon, Long Island. He attended the meeting of the trustees yesterday afternoon with Thomas R. Wentworth, young Foster's law partner. Besides being counsel Foster is also a prominent member of the Exchange and a subscriber to the Gratuity Fund. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon it was stated that the losses by forgeries amounted to $200,000, and the investigation was still in progress.

The notary whose signature purports to be attached to the fraudulent mortgages is an attache of Foster & Wentworth's office and he denies having written it. A similarity has been discovered between the writing of Foster and the clerks. Wentworth, Foster's partner, said the latter was the last man he would have suspected of doing such a deed. He was temperate and was never known to speculate. The whole matter is now a muddle as no one seems to know who will be responsible.

DISGRACING INNOCENT GIRLS.

Their Faces Made to Appear in Brown's Vile Photographs.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The heads, it is said, of some highly respectable young women of Brooklyn appear in the obscene pictures which were found in the possession of Le Grange M. Brown, the amateur photographer and electrician, when he was arrested last week at 100 Hicks-street. Brown, it is said, would cut the head of some innocent Brooklyn girl from a perfectly proper picture and paste it over the head of an obscene photograph, carefully concealing the lines of juncture; thus, by re-photographing, securing a negative from which apparently perfect pictures were produced. For more than two years Brown has been known as a skilful photographer, and very many young women, ignorant of his character, employed him to take their pictures.

Charged with Betrayal.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Joseph W. Mackey, a bookseller, was arrested yesterday in Paterson on a capias issued by Chief Justice Beasley of New Jersey, at the instance of S. B. Ransom of Jersey City. The complainant is Miss Marie A. Phillips, a daughter of John J. Phillips of Brooklyn. The charge is betrayal, and the complainant demands $10,000 damages. Mackey says it is an attempt to blackmail him, but he declines to give any other information. It appears that he left his home in New York about six weeks ago in order, as it is said, to escape the anticipated arrest. He was traced to Paterson, where he was staying with his uncle, Professor Phin, the microscopist. The latter signed his bail bond yesterday.

Fotheringham Must Remit $8000.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 28.—In the United States District Court yesterday Judge Thayer heard argument upon the motion for a new trial of the noted damage case of David Fotheringham against the Adams Express Company, which grew out of the robbery in which "Fred" Whitrock, alias "Jim Cummings," played an important part. Fotheringham sued the company for unlawful arrest and detention, and obtained a verdict for $20,000 damages. Judge Thayer decided that Fotheringham must within five days remit $8000 of the amount of the judgment, or the motion for a new trial will be granted.

Found Dead.

HAMILTON, Sept. 27.—There was some excitement in Dundas this morning when the body of Mr. Patrick Traut was found at the foot of the shackway leading to the Grand Trunk Railway station. Deceased was watchman in the employ of the Grand Trunk Railway Company a great number of years, and was a faithful and honest employe. He was about 55 years of age and leaves a wife and three children.

Of Course He Does.

MONTREAL, Sept. 28.—Henry F. Moore, agricultural editor of The London News, has returned from a trip to the Northwest. He thinks very highly of the country, both for wheat raising and cattle ranching. He will contribute a series of letters to The Times.

TOPICS FROM THE CAPITAL

PORT ARTHUR BREAKWATER APPROACHING COMPLETION.

To be Made One of the Safest Harbors on Lake Superior—County and Township Fairs to be Opened by Ministers.

OTTAWA, Sept. 28.—A deputation from the South Riding of Leeds waited on Hon. C. H. Tupper, Minister of Marine, yesterday and extended an invitation to open the township fair at Lansdown on Friday, Oct. 5. The Minister promised to attend.

Mr. Gisborne, Superintendent of Government Telegraph, is in British Columbia locating the route of the proposed cable between Point Bonilla and Victoria, for which an appropriation of $1500 was made last year. The cable will be laid via Cape Biel.

The work at present under contract on the Port Arthur breakwater is approaching completion and officials of the Public Works Department who have inspected it are perfectly satisfied with the manner in which it has been performed. It is something like 2000 feet long and renders Port Arthur one of the safest harbors on the shore of Lake Superior. Tenders have been invited for a further extension of the work, and will be received up to Oct. 19. Mr. Archie Stewart is the contractor for the work now being finished.

Sir John Thompson has returned to the city.

Mr. Taylor, M. P. for South Leeds, had an interview with the Minister of Customs yesterday.

Messrs. Masson and Mills (Annapolis), M.P.'s. are in the city.

Hon. Edgar Dewdney, Minister of the Interior, will open the Russell County fair at Metcalfe on Oct. 20. Hon. John Costigan will also attend.

The Department of the Interior is still without news concerning Mr. Ogilvy, of the Geological Survey, who left last summer with Dr. Dawson for the Yukon gold country and has not been heard of since February last. His instructions were to explore the Mackenzie river country this summer. Information has been received from Dr. Dawson and Mr. McConnell, who arrived a few days ago at Victoria, B.C. They will return to Ottawa in the course of a month.

The writ for Shelburne has been issued. Nomination takes place on Oct. 8 and polling a week later.

FIRES OF A DAY.

An Early Morning Blaze at Cobourg—The Losses and Insurance.

COBOURG, Sept. 28,—At 2 o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out in the workshop of Geo. M. Stephens, situated in the rear and adjoining his furniture store. A heavy wind was blowing at the time and the flames soon spread to other storehouses and sheds, but the main building and the greater part of the north side of King-street were saved. These are the losses: Field & Bro., dry goods, on outbuilding $500, insured for $100 in British America; on stock $600, insured in Royal and Guardian; Geo. M. Stephens, on rear buildings $1000, insured in Ætna for $600, contents total loss, insured for $1000 in Liverpool, London and Globe, main building damaged $500, insured in Lancashire, furniture and musical instruments in main building damaged by fire and water to the extent of $500, insured in the Ætna.

Fire at Lindsay.

LINDSAY, Sept. 28.—About 3 o'clock yesterday morning a frame blacksmith's shop owned and occupied by Alex. Cullen was discovered to be on fire. The fire rapidly spread to his frame dwelling adjoining, but through the efforts of the fire brigade was prevented from spreading further. The blacksmith's shop and contents are a total loss, insured for $900, loss about $1200; house insurance $500, loss about $200. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Port Ryerse Mills Burnt.

PORT RYERSE, Sept. 27.—The Port Ryerse mills, belonging to Harris & Co. of London, and run by W. H. Summerfeldt & Son here, together with all the contents, were burned to-day about 1.15 p.m. The fire was first noticed in the office and is supposed to have originated from the stove. The Great Northwestern Telegraph Company's office and the post-office were badly scorched, but were saved after considerable exertion. The loss sustained by Summerfeldt & Son is $2500, with a small insurance on the stock.

SMALLPOX IN BUFFALO.

Fatal Case at the Hospital—Seventeen More Cases Discovered.

BUFFALO, Sept. 28.—Miss Ida Abraham, aged 27, died of smallpox at the quarantine hospital yesterday. Two persons suffering from the disease were found yesterday in a house on the east side occupied by two Polish families. A case developed yesterday morning in the family of Crier Ellithorpe of the Supreme Court. Two more concealed cases were found on Shumway-street yesterday afternoon. The house-to-house inspection has proved a wise measure, but it has revealed the spread of the pest to an extent not anticipated, seventeen cases having been discovered where the existence of the disease was unknown.

Yellow Fever's Victims.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 27.—The Board of Health to-day reported 131 new cases, 91 negroes and 40 whites, 8 deaths. Total cases, 2368; total deaths, 237.

The Disease Spread by Refugees.

DECATUR, Ala., Sept. 27.—Miss Mamie Jones died to-day. No new cases since noon yesterday. There are suspicious cases at Hanceville, Hartsell and Madison, all Decatur refugees.

Bitten by a Copperhead Snake.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—James Burns, 20 years of age, is a son of a bird fancier of the Fourth Ward. A young lady called at the establishment of Mr. Burns, sr., yesterday to see about having a bird stuffed. As she appeared to be interested in the snakes that were in the place, he proceeded to stir them up. He succeeded admirably. He poked an old copperhead that was in a glass case several times. The snake, emitting a vicious hiss, dug his fangs into Burns' finger. The young lady screamed and he became very pale. He rushed next door and gulped down some whisky and then ran to the hospital where the finger was cut off.

To Test the Veto.

MONTREAL, Sept. 28.—A decisive step was taken yesterday by Burroughs & Burroughs, advocates, to test the competency of Magistrate Barry to decide the questions raised in the pleadings as to his own jurisdiction and the validity of his own nomination, they having in an action pending in the new court served a petition of recusation upon the magistrate.

Buried in a Mine.

DANBURY, Conn., Sept. 28.—At the Tilly Foster iron mine at Brewster, N.Y., Andrew Dirkin, while unloading a car of ore, was buried by the debris and so seriously injured that he will probably die. Four laborers who were working with him were slightly injured.

Arrested for Perjury.

BEAVERTON, Sept. 28.—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Rev. Mr. McKee, of this place, on a charge of perjury, in connection with recent Scott Act trials. The warrant was served, and Mr. McKee has gone to Toronto to get legal advice. The case was called yesterday and adjourned until to-day.

CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

The Conclusion of the Fair.

SPEEDING IN THE RING.

THE HOTELKEEPERS' PRIZE WON BY WINCH'S SLEEPY DAN.

An Exciting Contest on the Track—The Campbellford Baseball Club Win the Trophy—The Award in the Baby Show.

The weather on Thursday, the last day of the exhibition, was unfavorable for the events and for a large attendance. The morning was fine, but the rain of the previous night had made the roads heavy and later clouds loomed up. After dinner there was a shower, and all afternoon there was a strong raw wind. However, the attendance was very good, and the events of the day were witnessed by large numbers.

The awarding of the prizes for the horses was interesting and the judges were surrounded by a large number of men.

THE PARADE OF STOCK.

At two o'clock the parade of live stock took place. The horses and cattle were called out and were led around the track in the driving park. It was an interesting sight—the splendid horses, large bulls and other animals, the best the district produces, all passing in view before the spectators.

Speeding in the Ring.

The speeding in the ring on this day was very interesting, and during the afternoon the horse ring was the centre of attraction.

HOTELKEEPERS' PRIZE.

For this prize there were three starters, H. C. Winch's Sleepy Dan, P. Morgan's Little Ned and F. J. Daly's Billy W. The race was a very close one. The first heat was taken by Little Ned, the second by Sleepy Dan, the third by Little Ned, with Billy W. second, and the fourth and fifth by Sleepy Dan. The race was very exciting, as the horses were never far apart and at times two were side and side with the third crowding them, and at the finish there never was more than a yard or two between them when there was more than a foot or two.

Summary:—For single horse, in harness, speed to be considered. Twice around the ring, best three in five. Open to all horses. Four to enter, three to start. 1st horse to receive $100, 2nd horse $60, and 3rd horse $40.

GENTLEMAN'S PRIZE.

Best Horse in saddle, twice around the ring, speed to be considered, best three in five. 1st prize, given by J. E. McIntyre, Esq., $15.00; 2nd prize, given by Ed. Brown, Esq., $10.00.

H. W. Kent's horse	2	2	2

CHEESE BUYERS' PRIZE.

For the fastest trotting horse owned by a cheese buyer, or cheese manufacturer, speed to be considered. Heats, twice around the horse ring, best two in three, not less than three to enter and two to start. 1st prize, $7.00; 2nd prize, $3.00.

G. Lipsett	1	1
D. Pilkie	2	2
G. W. Fitzgerald	3	3

A protest has been entered in this race, on the grounds that Mr. Lipsett is not a buyer or manufacturer of cheese.

HIGH JUMP.

First prize given by A. R. Stephenson, V.S., $10; second given by Mr. T. H. Brophy, $5. The first won by Garthorne Jopling and the second by H. W. Kent.

The Baby Show.

The baby show, or the awarding of the prizes for the finest baby under one year, took place at Gough Bros' stand in the main building at 2 o'clock. The prize was a $10 suit for the father, a cashmere dress for the mother and a $5 gold piece for the baby, given by Gough Bros.

The judges were Messrs. Hugh Davidson, Smith, Geo. Prattley, Auburn, and Wm. Carter, Ashburnham. The entries were May Lockhart, Emily, aged 9 months; Willie Cahill, town, 12 months; Herbert Henry, town, 9 months; Lizzie Davis, 14 months, and Celia Beatrice Ferguson, 12½ months. The two last were over the age.

The decision of the judges awarded the prize to May Lockhart, daughter of Mr. Roger Lockhart, Mr. Davidson dissenting. Herbert Henry was recommended for an extra prize. The judges had considerable difficulty in coming to a decision and the mother of the baby that won the prizes remarked that she sympathized with them, as she could see that their duty was a difficult one. After the judges had come to a conclusion, and before the decision was made known, the two children were held up to the throng of people and a vote asked as to their merits. The popular voice was for the boy, Herbert Henry, but this did not effect the judges' award. The little ones were on their good behaviour and were not at all abashed by being the beheld of all beholders.

Baseball.

The baseball match for the trophy given by the Agricultural Society was played on the lacrosse grounds in the centre of the driving track on Thursday afternoon, and attracted much attention. The competitors were teams representing the Peterborough and the Campbellford baseball clubs, and the latter won by a score of 19 to 17. Mr. Thorne, of Toronto, gave good satisfaction as umpire. The playing was not brilliant. The match commenced well, but later the playing was loose, though some good play was shown. The players and runs made were as follows:—

Remarks.

Judged by the number of entries this exhibition is the most successful that has been held. The number of entries for the last three years have been as follows:—

1888	1,918

The attendance on Wednesday was good, nearly 5,000 people having passed through the gates on that day. On Thursday the weather interfered with the attendance, but there were about 2,000 persons present.

The officers were very attentive to their duties throughout. The President, Mr. Wm. Rutherford, and the other officers and directors, were continually on the alert to direct and assist. The Secretary, Mr. Wm. Collins, and his assistants, were indefatigable workers, as well as courteous and obliging, and the press desires to acknowledge his courtesies to its representatives. The superintendent, Mr. Geo. Fitzgerald, and the lady superintendent, Mrs. McKibbon, were courteous and efficient in the discharge of their duties. The committees attended to their different duties carefully and well.

The Society has one of the best agricultural grounds in the Province. The building is a good one and well laid out, but a larger building is needed to give more space. With sufficient accommodation under cover there would be nothing to prevent Peterborough having the Provincial Exhibition held here in 1890.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you tou may depend upon this for certain.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Retaliation Question Dead for the Present Session.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The question of retaliation against Canada is probably dead for this session so far as the United States Senate is concerned. The Committee on Foreign Affairs met yesterday, but the House bill could not be considered as it is still in the hands of the sub-committee, where it is likely to remain. The only action taken by the committee was to send to the Treasury Department for such information as it can furnish relative to the subject of railroad traffic between this country and Canada, and as to what course has heretofore been pursued by the department in the matter, allowing the transhipment of goods in sealed cars free of duty, etc.

There are two investigations of Canadian matters already ordered by the Senate in addition to the one called for by Senator Sherman's resolution. One was authorized by the resolution of Chairman Cullom, of the Inter-state Commerce Committee, in August, and provides for an investigation by his committee of the entire question of railroad traffic across the Canadian domains and why it has been allowed by the administration in view of the fact that Article XXIX of the Treaty of Washington has been abrogated.

About two months ago a resolution introduced by Senator Hoar was adopted by the Senate, providing for a special committee of seven senators to investigate the entire subject of our trade relations with Great Britain and her dependencies. This committee has already done considerable work and has been furnished with a large amount of correspondence from the State Department. Owing to the failure of Congress to adjourn it is likely that Mr. Hoar's committee will be allowed to do the entire work called for by the three Senate resolutions, and the conclusion will be presented to Congress in a single report. Until this work is finished, which will not be until the next session of Congress at least, it is probable that no movement towards retaliation will be recommended by the Republican Senate.

Mr. Sherman's Resolution.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Mr. Sherman from the Committee on Foreign Relations reported back the resolution offered by him for an enquiry as to the state of the relations between the United States and Great Britain and the Dominion of Canada, and it was placed on the calendar. He stated in reply to a question by Mr. Blair that the Committee regarded the matter of such great importance that it did not desire to enter on the consideration without further information.

TEA!

A Chinese writer says: "To make good tea it is an old custom to use running water boiled over a lively fire. That from springs in the hills is the best, and river water next, while well water is the worst. Do not boil the water too hastily; as, first it begins to sparkle like crab's eyes, then, somewhat like fishes' eggs, and lastly it boils up like pearls innumerable springing and waving about. This is the way to boil the water."

The Repeated Entertainment.

The exhibition of drill and calisthenics under the direction of Sergt.-Major Rundle was repeated by request on Thursday evening. Again there was a large and appreciative audience. The girls as before did well in the exercises and movements. The boys excelled themselves, and their drilling and marching was excellent. Mr. Rundle intends procuring uniforms for the boys also, and organizing a bugle band, so that they will be even better equipped than they have been. Mr. Rundle announced that several ladies wished to have a class in calisthenics and drill formed, and he requested those who wished to join it to please meet at the Institute gymnasium at 4 o'clock on Monday, when the class would be organized.

AFTER GREENFIELD.

Evidence Taken in the Extradition Proceedings.

Evidence was taken to day before Magistrate Dumble in connection with the proceedings to secure the extradition of Greenfield for shooting at Constable Stewart. Mr. R. E. Wood, County Attorney, and Mr. E. B. Edwards, Town Solicitor, were present.

Constable STEWART detailed the circumstances of finding the burglar in Gough Bros', store on the morning of Aug. 31st. To the best of his knowledge and belief the photograph produced was of the man who shot at him.

Mrs. MCNEES told how a man came to her place in the evening with wounds on his hand and arm and got water to wash them. He was dirty and had blood on him, and was in his stocking feet. She positively identified the photograph as that of the man who called there. She also said the vest produced (which was found in Gough's) was of the same pattern as the clothes the man had on.

Thos. MCMULLEN, who lives at Mrs. McNern's, saw the man after he had washed. He had seen an account of the burglary in the REVIEW, and charged the man with it, but he said nothing. The man admitted that he had been sent to Penitentiary from here as Ferguson, and claimed that he was innocent. When afterwards McMullen asked him why he broke into the store, he said he had to or starve. He had revolvers with him. He saw the man take the hunters' horse and drive away. The photograph was of the same man.

Chief ROSZEL gave evidence as to his going to Buffalo and getting the photograph.

J. G. MACDONALD, town clerk, identified the photograph as being that of the man previously convicted of burglary under the name of Ferguson.

Wm. BROWN also identified Ferguson and had seen him here last spring.

C. BILLINGS knew the man's father. His name was Greenfield, and the man shown in the photograph was born in Cobourg.

The dispositions will be taken to Buffalo.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Semi-Annual Meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery Branch.

The semi-annual meetings of the Woman's Foreign Mission Society of the Presbytery of Peterborough were held in St. Andrew's Church, Campbellford, on Thursday afternoon and evening, says the Herald, and were well attended, though the number of delegates from the auxiliary societies was not so large as could have been desired. Among those present were Mrs. Fairbairn, Miss Roger, Mrs. Innes and Mrs. Ferguson, of Peterborough, Mrs. McCrae, of Cobourg, Miss Fowlds, of Hastings, Mrs. Cralck and Miss Roddick, of Port Port.

The afternoon meeting, which was exclusively for ladies, was presided over by the acting Vice-President, Mrs. Roger, who was assisted in the devotional exercises by Mrs. Fairbairn, Mrs. McCrae and the young ladies of the Campbellford auxiliary. After the presentation of businesss statements by the Secretary and Treasurer, and the discussion of various subjects relating to the effective operations of the Society, addresses were received from Mrs. Gibb, Mrs. McCrae and Miss Roger, all bearing on the one great theme of Christian service which finds its expression in the watchword of the Society, "The world for Christ." As if to keep vividly before the minds of those present the thought that the work of this society is for children as well as women, the voice of childhood was enlisted to lend its charm to the proceedings. Four little girls contributed recitations, which together with a recitation from Miss Marty, and a duet by the Misses Robertson and Mitchell, completed the programme of very interesting meeting. Tea was served in the lecture room of the church which had been previously decorated with flowers, and a very pleasant social hour was spent before the opening of the evening meeting. The above Society comprises 15 auxiliaries and 5 mission bands with a total membership of 475. The amount raised last year to carry on work among heathen women and children was $1,396 89.

At the evening meeting the congregation with a few others presented a well filled church, to the Rev. John Wilkie, of the Indore Mission, Central India. Before the lecture began devotional exercises were conducted by the pastor and the Rev. D. Beattie, and some members of the choir sang an appropriate selection, "Go ye into all the World," which both in sentiment and execution delighted all present. An extended report is impossible, and perhaps it is enough to say that if the facts and arguments presented by Mr. Wilkie are even partially remembered they will induce Christian people to take a deeper interest in, and be more liberal towards the missions under the care of the church. A collection was taken up at the close of the meeting in aid of mission work.

Address to a Missioner.

The Campbellford Herald says:—An eight day's mission or series of special services was concluded on Tuesday evening the 25th inst. The missioner was the Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, Rector of St. Luke's Church, Peterborough, who although not in good health, kindly undertook the duty, and proved himself eminently qualified for this most important work. It is indeed impossible to listen to his plain and deeply earnest address without realizing that we are in the presence of a man thoroughly imbued with a solemn sense of the overweening importance of spiritual things. The attendance was remarkably good and steadily increased till the close of the mission. The deepest interest was shown in all the services and many spoke of the good they had received. It is hoped that the good seed sown by the earnest missioner may be abundantly blessed, and that the fruits of the mission may be lasting and effectual to the building up of the people in God's most holy faith. The following address was presented the missioner on Tuesday evening by Mr. H. Palmer acting on behalf of the churchwardens and congregation. The missioner made a brief and effecting reply:—

To the Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, Rector of St. Luke's Church, Peterborough.

REV. SIR,—We, the members of the congregation of Christ Church, Campbellford, desire to express our heartfelt thanks for your work and labor amongst us during the past eight days.

The earnest addresses with which we have been favored have been to us the means of bringing new light to our minds as to our religious and moral obligations towards God and our fellow men.

We trust that the result of your labors will be the strengthening and building up of God's church in this parish, the advancement of true religion and virtue amongst us, and the furtherance of Christ's kingdom on earth.

Our sincere hope is that God may endow you with health and strength to continue the glorious work to which it has pleased Him to call you, that His Holy Spirit may sanctify you more and more to his service, that you may win many souls from sin and error, and speed on the glorious gospel of our Blessed Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

Signed on behalf of the congregation.

Y. M. C. A. ANNIVERSARY.

The attendance at the annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association held at St. Paul's Church on Thursday evening was not large. Mr. George M. Roger, President of the Association, presided, and on the platform were the Rev. Dr. Stafford, Rev. Messrs. Torrance, Pearson, Shorey and Parker, Messrs. H. B. Griffin and W. H. Stevens (Secretary). The music by the large choir under the leadership of Mr. Parker added greatly to the pleasure of the meeting. The Rev. P. Clifton Parker read the Scripture selection and led in prayer in the opening exercises.

The CHAIRMAN, in opening the meeting, referred to the object and aims of the Association, which, he said, were misunderstood. The chief aim was the salvation of young men, and various means were adopted to bring about that result, as the Association rooms were the only place to which all the young men of the town were welcome. That alone entitled it to support. The Association endeavored to furnish attractions that would draw the young men away from questionable places of amusement. It was undenominational and designed to assist the churches. There had been encouraging results from the religious work of the Association. They had also benefited young men by procuring them employment, attending them when sick, and in looking after young men who were strangers to the town. He commended the Association to the employers of the town, from a moral and business point of view.

Mr. W. H. STEVENS, the retiring Secretary, expressed regret because he was leaving the town, and was compelled to sever the pleasant ties which bound him to it. He asked their prayers in his behalf.

The Rev. Dr. STAFFORD then gave an admirable address on "The Bible, a Good Book for Young Men." The Bible was a comprehensive book, good for any one, but he wished to speak of it as a book for young men. The principal efforts of the devil were directed to ensnaring the young men of to-day. There was the antiquity of the Bible and its character as the foundation of religion. It was older than the Koran, the writings of Confucius, the teachings of Koroaster or the Vedas of India. There were also its poetry and its history. The preservation of the Bible in its original state from the dark ages was wonderful, and the preservation of its authority in comparisen with other books should be considered. The Bible withstood the criticism of an advanced civilization. It was the means of elevating men, though some men while benefitting by the Christian civilization denied its source. The absurdities of the Koran were referred to, but the Bible did not clash with the discoveries in science or with history. The writings of brilliant infidels had perished, but the Bible still existed. He took up Ingersoll's writings and subjected them to a scathing criticism. The allegations as to the mistranslations of the Bible had been swept away by the revision, by which nothing had been changed though passages had been elucidated. The stability of the Bible was unassailable. He advised young men to hold to it, and there was a grand time coming when it would be the accepted authority of all.

Mr. H. S. GRIFFIN read the financial statement and explained the purposes of the Association.

A collection was taken up, and after another hymn the Rev. Mr. Torrance pronounced the benediction.

Harvest Thanksgiving.

On Thursday evening the annual Harvest Festival and Thanksgiving service was held in St. Luke's church. The service was opened with the hymn, "Come, ye Thankful People, Come," and the anthem was, "Oh, Lord, how Manifold are Thy Works." The Rector, the Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, took his text from Amos, 9, 13: "Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that the plowman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seed," and, although he had just returned from preaching a mission, spoke in his usual excellent manner. After the benediction the service of praise was commenced by an organ solo by Mr. J. E. Jaques. His first selection was "Harvest Thanksgiving March," (Calkin), which was brilliantly played, and Lemmens' celebrated "Fanfare," which showed fine rendering, and displayed the sweet tones of the organ to advantage. His second solo and an overture "To the Poet and Peasant," (Suppe), as well as the accompaniments to the solos and other selections, were played in splendid form. The second on the programme was a hymn, "We plough the Fields," which was given by the choir in a manner that did them credit, and showed the training of Mr. Jaques. The third was a vocal solo by Miss Cottingham. She chose a piece in which considerable expression was required, but her beautiful rendering of it must have been pleasing to the congregation. Miss Vair followed with a vocal solo, "O, For the Wings," which showed good compass, and was given in her usual pleasing manner. The doxology closed the programme. The church was beautifully decorated with grain, fruit and flowers for the occasion. The musical portion of the thanksgiving services will be continued on Sunday, which will be the last occasion on which Mr. Jaques will will play before leaving for St. Thomas. Mr. Jaques' departure will be greatly regretted, especially in musical circles, as he has made many warm friendships here and won high esteem as a musician. His leaving will be especially regretted by the congregation of St. Luke's church, where he has so successfully filled the positions of organist and choir leader.

What a Time

People formerly had, trying to swallow the old-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bitterness; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well called "medicated sugar-plums"—the only fear being that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango, N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He says: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with them. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

"Ayer's Pills outsell all similar preparations. The public having once used them, will have no others."—Berry, Venable & Collier, Atlanta, Ga.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1888.

By REBECCA HARDING DAVIS.

He took off his black coat carefully, hung it up, threw his braces loose down his back, and sat down in his shirt sleeves before the fire, his hands on his fat knees. He wished, dully, Madeline was here to puzzle it out for Him; remarking half aloud, that if that girl undertook to write a leader it would be bosh, but in every thing else she never failed to hit the nail plump on the head. There was a round roly-poly brown crock in the window, in which bloomed a buttony little rose, one of the Burgundy sort, red, fresh and pungent. Madeline had left it. It was like her somehow, the major thought. Do what he would, his thoughts would go back to the girl and to the years she had lived with him, instead of this question of life and death which must be settled today.

There was the door to her little room ajar. He always had contrived to pay the trifle of rent for the room after she left him, liking to think of it as hers. He remembered the day he brought her there first. He had had a tough siege nursing old Durbrow, her father (on The Camera like himself). When he was dead, the major settled up the estate: there were $400 of debts, and for assets, one trunk, empty; one suit of clothes, patched; one watch, gold; a pretty lot of meerschaums; and the little girl of 5, just over the measles. The watch went to pay the debts, and the little girl, of course, must go to an asylum. But the major brought her home for a week, to cheer her up a bit. He took her to the theatre and circuses every afternoon; he bought her a gay little plaid silk suit (it was a flush time with him just then); he stuffed her with oysters and caramels; and in the night, when she cried for her father, took her on his knee in her white nightgown, made her say over her prayers again, and then rocked and croaked over her some old ditty about "Shepherds, have you seen my love?" till she fell asleep. The other men, who missed him at billiards or over their stews and ale when the papers were out toward morning, used to unearth old Standish at this sort of work, and joked him about it roughly enough. But they were pleased when he kept her week after week, and used to be coming in perpetually with scraps of anxious advice about croup or nettle rash, and fell into the habit of buying all sorts of expensive and useless things for "poor Durbrow's baby."

So it went on for years. There was always a strong smell of cigars and printer's ink in the air the child breathed, and no doubt when she came to be a young lady she learned to think in a scrappy, itemizing, newspaper way; but Madeline's life was in fact as cleanly, and sweet, and tender among these men, as if she had been one of any rosebud garden of girls, perhaps more so. Whatever garment of lies the major chose to put on as armor, or to perk and vaunt himself in out among other men, he never wore it into "the cockloft." Nobody could account for the almost pathetic tenderness of his love to the girl. It was more than seemed due for her father's sake, or even her own.

Once, however, he had said to her: "You came to take the place of a child that I lost." That was the only time he had hinted at the secret of his former life. He kept it hidden even from himself.

It came to him to-day, and would not be thrust aside. In a few hours it would be known to all the world.

John Proctor was his son.

He remembered well now the last day when he had called the boy by that name. It was a dreary, rainy season in November, three or four years before he took Madeline. He sat by a hotel window with Jack on his knee. It was a week since he had come from Richmond, leaving the child's mother dead there. He had spent the week going from one newspaper office to another, vaunting and vaporing, and drinking hard, but with a still cold consciousness all the time of standing by her grave, on which the rain pattered, with her child's life left in his hands to do with it what he would.

Mary's boy would have grown into a truthful, God fearing man if she had lived; a gentleman, too; the class which Standish, with all his tawdry bragging, watched far off with jealous awe. Now— What could he make of the boy? He took the little chap's hands in his, and pulled him closer, trying with his bleared eyes to penetrate the future. Like father, like son; it was so always. For himself, whether it was the taint of the butcher shop or some flaw in his make up he did not know, but he was labeled everywhere for contempt. Even here, where he was a stranger, he was marked already, he saw, as disreputable, vulgar, a frothy bubble of a man. He was sore and galled by the snubs he had met with today. He sat quiet in the gaudy hotel parlor, holding Jack close while the servants lighted the lamps and people came and went; he looked steadily at the cost of what he meant to do.

"I'll take the weight of your old father off of you, Jack," he said at last, stooping to kiss the fat, red little face. "Good-by, my son."

He did take it, off. He entered the boy under the name of Proctor at a fashionable boarding school, setting aside the entire sum he had saved with which to start a paper in Philadelphia. "I can scratch for myself," he said.

"Let the lad have everything he wants," he urged his governess one day. "His father had the best blood in Virginia in his veins, madam. And teach him religion. His mother"—but he broke down her. "She's yonder," he said quietly at last, glancing up. The governess nodded, and understood him.

So the feint succeeded. Of what it cost himself, he said nothing; it had lifted the boy at once, he thought, into a pure region of fashion, and refinement, and salvation. The glories of the Proctors, in the course of years, grew and multiplied readily in the major's handling. There were times when he became confused himself, so real had Jack's illustrious family grown. "Remember your father the general, lad!" he would cry, when urging the boy to manliness or courage. "Noblesse oblige."

"Damned if I know whether there was a Gen. Proctor or not!" he would mutter perplexed to himself afterward.

Well, there was the end of it all now. The lie had been played successfully for years, yet now all Jack's world was to know it was a lie. Sitting by the fire in his shirt sleeves, tapping his knees with his clumsy fingers, the major went over it this afternoon.

"There's nobody who knew me in Virginia, and knows my name is Richard and not Dan, that can't tell about the boy." He saw no way of escape. "If to call himself my friend was ruin to the lad, what will become of him as my son!" And to-day, Jack's fate stood in the balance, as McMurray had said. Again and again the major reasoned round the dreary circle.

"On one side the charge of a great church, wealth, and the woman he loves; on the other—me." There was nothing beyond that. To-night must end it one way or the other. The drumming of his fingers grew slower on his knees, till he sat like a block staring in the fire. The gnawing hunger tearing at his flesh made his brain clearer. He was to be hung on his boy like a mill stone to drag him down, till one or other of them died? What if he were dead now? Great gain would follow; and as for loss—

The major rose mechanically, the eyes under his grizzly brows growing strangely keen and glittering. "I don't know that I'm of much account—if one took stock of me." He passed his hand with a queer chuckle over his big, hungry, rheumatic body; then glanced hastily toward the pile of MSS. on which no publisher had drawn for months, proudly conscious for a moment of the genius which had been his birthright. "I never made my mark, though," he muttered. He repeated that once or twice.

MRS. HOWES' SLAYERS.

A True Bill For Murder Returned Against Phillipine and Trafton.

ANDOVER, N.B., Sept. 28.—About noon yesterday sixteen of the grand jury came into court with a true bill for manslaughter against Phillipine and Trafton, charged with the killing of Mrs. Howes, seven of the jurymen remaining in their room. The Attorney-General declining to assume the responsibility of accepting such a verdict, the jury retired and after hearing further testimony returned a true bill for murder. The trial was fixed for this morning. No bill was presented against Day, charged with counselling the killing.

Another Mattawa Tragedy.

OTTAWA, Sept. 28.—Another tragedy is reported from Mattawa. It appears that a dispute took place between W. G. Gilmor, proprietor of the Union Hotel there, and his wife concerning a young man, Joseph St. Denis, who Mr. Gilmor averred was too intimate with Mrs. Gilmor. The result of the row was that Mrs. Gilmor threw a ginger ale bottle at her husband's head, cutting him badly. He died shortly afterwards and the doctors testify that the effect of the blow was the cause of death. When Mrs. Gilmor was summoned during the night time to her dying husband's bedside St. Denis was in her room and escaped by the window. He testified at the examination which followed into the sad affair at Pembroke that he had been intimate with Mrs. Gilmor for the past year and had access to her room at any time. Judge Deacon gave him 24 hours to leave the town. Mrs. Gilmor has been arrested for manslaughter and lodged in Pembroke jail.

Hamilton Cannibals.

HAMILTON, Sept. 28.—A cannibalistic affair occurred on Locomotive-street Wednesday night. Two neighbors named respectively John Jackson and Walter Crofton disagreed, and from words resorted to blows, and from blows to worse, for at the Police Court yesterday Jackson was in the dock accused of biting off a part of Crofton's ear. Dr. Starr gave testimony as to the nature of the wound. A part of the ear is missing and the wound looked as if it might have been inflicted by human teeth. The case was adjourned for evidence. Jackson, who claims to have been bitten on the thumb, was admitted to bail, $800 being the amount—two sureties of $400 each.

DOINGS IN THE DOMINION

TWO OF THE CASES AGAINST BROKER COX DISMISSED.

The Other Again Postponed and Bail Reduced—A New Aspect Presented in the Caza Murder Trial.

TORONTO, Sept. 29.—Thomas Tracey, who disappeared from Brockton a few months ago, having $1500 in his possession at the time, has been heard from in New Orleans.

John Tedford and Wm. James, employes in Gale, Anderson & Co.'s planing mill, on Soho-street, were struck by a board which flew back suddenly from one of the machines. The former was knocked senseless and the latter severely injured.

A man, recently married, named Reed, at 62, Dufferin-street, got somewhat excited last night and jumped out of the two-story window. Chief Quinn was sent for and the jumper picked up a chair and hit the chief over the head, which compelled the close attention of a physician, who had to stitch up an ugly wound. Reed, who had been drinking, is in custody.

The wheat corner in Chicago has caused no end of excitement here, and on the Board of Trade yesterday it rose to fever heat on the jump from $1.25 to $1.40, and subsequently on the receipt of a despatch that Hutchinson & Co. were selling September wheat to the shorts at $1.50 and that the corner was solid. At 1 o'clock there was a drop of one-half, but almost immediately another jump.

Davidson & Co., wholesale saddlery and hardware, 14 Front-street west, suspended yesterday morning with liabilities of $54,000. The assets are estimated at $30,000.

The distribution of the prizes and certificates awarded the pupils of the Toronto Art School for the year 1887-8, was held in the lecture hall of the Education Department yesterday afternoon. The province's gold medal was won by Miss Boron and the school prize by Miss Carrie Marsh.

Mr. Wingfield, J. P., has committed Thomas Maloney and William Greenhill for trial on the charge of having stolen a horse from Hiram Allerton, Trafalgar, Halton County.

Early yesterday morning a thief entered the Bull's Head Hotel, Niagara-street, and stole two silver watches.

In the case of Bell and Smith, the striking plumbers charged with intimidation, Judge Macdougall sustained their appeal and quashed the conviction.

Hon. E. Blake has given $2,500 to the University to found two or more scholarships in political science.

Police Magistrate Denison yesterday afternoon decided that a prima facie case had not been made out against E. S. Cox, in the matter of the $8000 charge. The Anderson case was also dismissed. The $10,000 matter went over a week for further evidence.

The city's total assessment for 1889 is $113,183,828, against $98,297,901 for 1888, and the population 138,150, against 126,169.

WINNIPEG WIRE WHISPERS.

Committed for Trial—The Hitch Denied—Ontario Farmers' Excursion.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 29.—Strachan and Deegan were sent up for trial yesterday afternoon on the charge of forgery in signing fictitious names as bondsmen in procuring the license for the recent mock marriage.

The alleged hitch between the Northern Pacific and the local Government is denied semi-officially.

The missionaries to China were met at the station yesterday and welcomed by a large number of citizens.

The Ontario farmers' excursion arrived yesterday.

The St. George's Snowshoe Club of Winnipeg is to be invited to spend the Christmas holidays at Banff.

LEPINE'S MAJORITY 663.

MONTREAL, Sept. 29.—The returning officer's official declaration places Mr. Lepine's majority in Montreal East at 663.

The evidence in the Caza murder case was continued in the Court of Queen's Bench yesterday. The case has assumed a slightly different color since High Constable Bissonnette found what is supposed to be Caza's pocket-book under a counter in Pilon's hotel at Coteau Landing last evening. The defence had obtained a search warrant, in consequence of McShot's evidence to the effect that Caza had missed a pocket-book with $1200 on the evening of the fatal shot.

James McKenna and Frank Kirby, two boys who ran away from their homes in Montreal on Aug. 27, have turned up in England. Since their discovery Kirby has again disappeared and is thought to have been kidnapped.

THE TOBIQUE MURDER TRIAL.

ANDOVER, N. B., Sept. 29.—In the Tobique murder trial yesterday, Anna Phillippine, sister of one of the prisoners, took the stand and circumstantially contradicted the testimony given by her before the magistrates. Under cross-examination the poor girl was overcome and had to be assisted from the court house. After she returned she repudiated her story of the morning and re-asserted the evidence given before the magistrates. She explained that a man had persuaded her that the only way her brother's life could be saved was by her contradicting her first criminating evidence. After the excitement had subsided the judge called upon the Attorney-General to take the necessary steps to protect the administration of justice. Most of the day was taken up in hearing Major Howes' evidence of the shooting.

A Big Blaze at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 29.—Fire yesterday destroyed the Ohio Falls oak leather tannery. Loss $125,000.

DR. BRYCE IN BUFFALO.

The Situation There Worse Than He Expected—Radical Measures Advocated.

BUFFALO, Sept. 29.—The Health Board yesterday received information of a new case of smallpox on Michigan-street and on Marvin-street, down in the thickly populated First Ward, a mother and her two sons are said to be down with the disease.

Dr. P. H. Bryce, Secretary of the Ontario Provincial Board of Health, is now on a visit to the city. In a conference with prominent health officials yesterday, he told them plainly that something would have to be done at once to isolate all cases of smallpox in the city or an epidemic would be the result. With every known case taken to hospital—rich and poor treated alike—the disease could be stamped out in two months, but the thorough isolation and destruction of the disease-spreading clothing, etc., must be insisted on, or Dr. Bryce believes the consequences will be most serious. "Compulsory vaccination, prompt removal to the hospital and a vigilant and prompt search for concealed cases are all that is needed," added the doctor.

MANGLED BY A THRESHING MACHINE

Terrible Death of a Man who Stumbled into the Cylinder.

PORT ROWAN, Sept. 29.—Edward Chambers, living near Walsingham Centre, slipped and fell in a threshing machine, his legs slipping into the cylinder, which broke the machine. His legs were fearfully mangled. Chambers died in a few hours after.

Killed by the Cars.

RIVER DU LOUP, Sept. 29.—As the way freight was leaving for Levis yesterday afternoon a man named Frank Forgues, a brakesman, was walking on the track to his van and seeing the train coming towards him went across to the siding to clear the train coming but at the same time the pilot engine was coming in the same direction with some cars ahead of her, which he apparently did not see. The firemen on the way freight signalled him and tried to make him understand his peril but failed and the car backing struck him down across the track and passed over his chest killing him instantly. The deceased is from Hadlow Cove where he leaves a wife and five children unprovided for.

A Horrible Death.

INWOOD, Sept. 29.—M. M. Brown, of Paulding, O., head foreman in Holmes, Moore & Courtright's new mill, four miles west of here, was accidentally killed yesterday morning by falling on a large circular saw.

A C. P. R. Brakeman Killed.

SUNDRIDGE, Ont., Sept. 29.—John Moore, a brakeman on the C. P. R., was run over at Powassin Thursday night. He had come down on the express, and was at the station when the mixed train from the south came in, and, as near as can be ascertained, he tried to jump on the engine as it was coming into the station, but fell and was dragged a distance of 50 or 60 yards, the wheels passing over his head and body. His father, Mr. Moore, shoemaker, of Barrie, went up yesterday morning to take charge of the remains. The deceased was about 24 years of age, and was unmarried.

THE DUPED ITALIANS.

A Defiant Attitude Maintained—Efforts to Resume Work.

SHERBROOKE, Que., Sept. 29.—The unfortunate Italians continue very defiant. At Sawyerville Junction they carried their obstruction so far as again to prevent the continuance of track-laying, which was being carried out under the protection of the military, and it had to be suspended for about an hour, Colonel Pope being obliged to order bayonets fixed; but rather than adopt extreme measures he granted them time to re-consider their action, and wiser counsels prevailed. Work was then resumed. A few of the Italians have consented to go to work if permitted by their fellows.

Advices received from the American end of the road say that the Italians, armed with guns, drove off the sub-contractors, who were endeavoring to work on the American section, and chased them into Canaan, Vt.

Short in Her Count.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The recent deficiency in the Redemption division of the Treasury Office is a more serious matter than at first supposed. Treasury officials are very reticent and little can be learned except that Mrs. Ernestine Becker, one of the oldest and most trusted counters in the division, was found $944 short in her cash and has been dismissed the service after making good the deficiency. She was appointed in 1864 by President Johnson. Several errors were found in packages which passed through Mrs. Becker's hands, and she was dismissed. She strenuously denies that she has been guilty of any wrong.

Grand Trunk Earnings.

MONTREAL, Sept. 29.—The earnings of the Grand Trunk Railway for the week ending Sept. 22 were:

	1888.	1887.
Passenger train earnings	$191,110	$178,039
Freight train earnings	267,462	269,113
Total	$458,572	$447,152
Increase 1888	$ 11,420

A Fugitive Balloon Captured.

PROVIDENCE, R.I., Sept. 29.—A large silk balloon, its car deserted and drifting, was captured on Cumberland Hill yesterday, where it caught among the trees. The address, "Carl Meyers, Mohawk, N.Y.," was found on it, and a bit of a Buffalo newspaper pinned to the basket on which was penciled "Met our death in the clouds."

Narrowly Missed the Emperor.

VIENNA, Sept. 29.—A committee of the Lower House of the Austrian Diet advises the rejection of the proposition to give an official reception to Emperor William during his visit to this city.

During an artillery practice to-day a shot narrowly missed the head of the Emperor Francis Joseph.

McCarthy Corroborated.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Mr. Biggar has written a letter corroborating Mr. McCarthy's reply to Mr. Chamberlain's charge that the Nationalist members of Parliament had profited by the Irish agitation. Mr. Biggar says he knows many Parnellites who have been losers.

Two Persons Burnt to Death.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—It has been ascertained that only two lives were lost in the Lake-street fire, the victims being William Cook, the fireman, and a boy known only as Pete. The loss is about $120,000, equally divided between stock and building.

A $125,000 Fire at Romeo, Wis.

ROMEO, Wis., Sept. 29.—Fire last night destroyed a sawmill, boardinghouse, store and contents, two dwellings, blacksmith shop, two hay barns, two horse barns and 2,000,000 feet of lumber, all owned by Wm. Van Hoosears. Loss $125,000.

A Citizen Flogged the School Girl.

SALINA, Kan., Sept. 29.—R. T. Criss, a wealthy citizen, went into a ward school yesterday and drawing a rawhide proceeded to administer a severe flogging to a 12-year-old girl, despite the entreaties of the child, the teacher and other pupils. The girl had slapped Criss' daughter in the face for impudent language.

TO BE CALLED IN JANUARY

PARLIAMENT TO MEET TOWARD THE CLOSE OF THAT MONTH.

The Ayer Appeal to be Abandoned on the Advice of the Minister of Justice—Customs Seizure—Notices from the Gazette.

OTTAWA, Sept. 29.—A Cabinet Council meeting was held yesterday. The Supreme Court session opens Oct. 2.

Hon. John Carling, Minister of Agriculture, has returned to the capital.

Col. R. S. Liddell, hon. secretary of the Waterloo memorial fund, has communicated to His Excellency the Governor-General the desire of the committee to make the object a thoroughly national one by soliciting subscriptions from the whole of Great Britain and her colonies.

The annual general meeting of stockholders of the Ottawa, Waddington and New York Railway and Bridge Company has been called for Oct. 18.

The regulations and forms of application for examination of candidates for the civil service of India have been filed with the Secretary of State.

It is said the Department of Customs have decided on the advice of the Minister of Justice not to proceed with the appeal in the Ayer & Co. case to the Supreme Court of Canada. It would seem that the statute under which the seizure was made, and in respect to which a great deal of difference of opinion exists, was amended at the last session of Parliament so that the same difficulty would not arise again. It did not appear worth while prosecuting an appeal in order to obtain from the courts a judicial construction of the repealed statute.

A seizure made by the Customs Department at Bedford, P. Q., is reported. Officials at that port also report that there has been discovered a large number of invoices purporting to be goods purchased for importation to Canada in New York and representing the value of about $1100 on which duty has not been paid.

It is understood that Parliament will be called for despatch of business about the third week of January next.

The difficulties between the Governor-General's Foot Guards and Col. Macpherson have been smoothed over. The officers have withdrawn their resignations.

The next Civil Service examination will commence on Tuesday, Nov. 13, at 9 o'clock a.m., and will be held at Ottawa, Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, London, Winnipeg, Regina and other usual places. Applications for forms will be received by Secretary Lesueur until Oct. 15, and the forms duly filled up will require to be returned to him not later than Oct. 25, after which date the rolls of candidates will be closed.

CANADIAN CATTLE.

A Further Sale at Aberdeen—Fair Average Prices Obtained.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—A further sale of Canadian store cattle imported by the Canadian Cattle Company at Aberdeen, yielded an average price; 397 were sold. There was a large attendance and brisk buying. The total proceeds were £5647 15s., giving an average of £14 4s. 6d. per head, against £13 10s., the average of the last cargo. An extra cargo of 315 cattle is due by the Europa, and the trade is assuming large proportions.

Nova Scotia Nuggets.

HALIFAX, Sept. 29.—Owing to the excessive cost of construction, transportation and breaking up, Mr. O'Leary will build no more big rafts in Nova Scotia.

Charles McGuntz kept the pledge two years. On Wednesday he went to Caledonia Corners, Queen's County, and obtained four bottles of rum and that night drank himself to death.

Active operations are being pushed on the Chignecto ship railway. Shantics are being erected along the line for the accommodation of workmen, of whom 2000 will be employed in the spring.

The lifeless body of Joseph Ackles was found in a gutter at Springhill yesterday morning. His head was badly battered and there is no doubt he was murdered.

A despatch from Cape Race says two of the crew of the Government steamer Newfield were drowned there yesterday by the upsetting of a boat.

Gold has been discovered in Big Bras d'Or mountain, Cape Breton.

Scalded to Death.

EXETER, Sept. 29.—While an adopted daughter of Mr. D. Braund, Exeter North, was standing near the stove the other day, by some means a kettle or pot full of hot water standing on the stove got upset, and the contents fell upon the child. The child suffered intensely from pain until death put an end to its sufferings.

Chased His Wife With a Knife.

HAMILTON, Sept. 29.—Arthur Buggby cannot keep out of trouble. He got out of jail yesterday after serving a term for assaulting his wife, and to-day he chased her along the street with a knife in his hand, and threatened to kill her. Buggby was arrested.

THE WHITECHAPEL MURDERS.

A Crank on a Spree Pretends to be the Criminal.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The phase given to the mystery of the Whitechapel murders in the disclosures to the coroner in regard to the American who desired to purchase from the curator of the Pathological Museum specimens of a female organ has awakened interest in the subject. Although the officials of Scotland Yard affect to sneer at the coroner's story and seem to be apathetic regarding what every one else considers a fresh clue, it is doubtful if the officers have taken the trouble to cable to the New York police department to learn anything about the alleged American. The newspapers are unanimous in the opinion that the coroner's story ought to be thoroughly investigated and the matter given the greatest possible attention.

Fitzgerald, the man who gave himself up to the police officers as the murderer of the Chapman woman, is evidently a crank who was on a spree, and was amusing himself at the expense of Scotland Yard. Through the evidence taken in a case of assault that came before the criminal court it was learned that nearly all the women of the East End of London carry police whistles, with which they can summon assistance in case of trouble. They have adopted this means of protection since these horrible murders came to light.

The legality of the sentence of five weeks' imprisonment which was imposed upon Mr. John Redmond will be one of the first questions discussed in Parliament at the autumn session. The words of Mr. Redmond which were adjudged illegal occurred in a moderate speech to his constituents. Jurists maintain that Mr. Redmond's constitutional rights as a member of Parliament have been infamously infringed.

Reinforcements Needed.

Correspondence of the Review.

OBITUARY.—It is our sad duty to record the death of another old settler in the person of Mr. Pue, sr., who passed away on Thursday evening last, after a few days illness at the ripe age of 74 years. Deceased was a loyal orangeman, in politics a staunch Conservative and was highly respected by all who knew him.

ACCIDENT.—James Fields, in the employ of Mr. W. H. Morrison, met with a very painful accident while assisting with a threshing machine at a neighbors. He was getting off the horse power when his foot caught in a fearful manner. Dr. Grey was speedily in attendance to the suffering man. Fears for the necessity of amputation were entertained at first, but the symptoms are now more favorable.

A LOCAL EVENT took place at the residence of Mr. Will Dawson on Wednespay evening, the 19th inst., when Mr. and Mrs. Dawson entertained a large number of their friends and young people to a party. A very jolly evening was spent, with music, games, etc., while those who felt inclined tripped the light fantastic to their heart's content. All were pleased and satisfied that Mr. and Mrs. Dawson are the best of entertainers.

SEEING THE SIGHTS.—Quite a few from this vicinity visited Toronto last week to do the Industrial. All arrived safely home and report having enjoyed themselves immensely.

PERSONAL.—Miss Maggie Galloway left on Wednesday morning for Ottawa. She intends being absent a few weeks.

The Nicholls Hospital Drain.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—Last week I addressed a few lines to you by way of comment on the proposed system of drainage for the Nicholls Hospital. Since then "Paterfamilias," more power to him, has bolstered me up a bit; but as yet none of the Hospital Board have condescended to reply to these letters, or even to quiet our uneasy minds by telling us to "don't be afraid, for we know better than the doctors," or something assuring of that kind.

I dare say the Hospital Board never considered the question of drainage at all until the hospital itself was nearly completed, and when the fact that drainage was necessary dawned upon their minds they came to the conclusion that all that was needed was some sort of a channel that would run down hill and take the sewerage away from the hospital. A bright idea struck them! The river was the very thing! Once the sewerage from the hospital struck the river it would run down current like the mischief. Tenders for the construction of this drain to the river were at once asked for, and the Board flattered itself that the hospital would be the best drained building in Peterborough.

Do you think, Mr. Editor, that it ever struck these gentlemen that there is a vast difference between originating a system of sewerage and merely connecting a conduit pipe with a trunk sewer? Is it possible that these gentlemen ever for a moment considered what is to become of all this filthy matter that they so recklessly propose to fling into the Otonabee, directly above our populous town? They one and all object to the polution of our river by sawdust, and, ye powers! what is sawdust compared with hospital sewerage? Our town, gentlemen, is better of WITHOUT a hospital at all, than with one such as you propose thrusting on us. I cheerfully recognize the generosity that prompted the endowment of such an institution and I almost cheerfully pay my share of taxes for its support, while I consider that the institution is properly managed. But allow me to add that now when the hospital is being transferred to permanent quarters and when every precaution should be taken for its proper construction and isolation, I feel constrained to raise my feeble voice in protest against that tile drain.

Yours truly,
UNDERTAKER.

THE BOSTON CRUSADE.

A Movement to Banish All Catholics from the School Board and Schools.

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Women are flocking to the city hall for the purpose of being assessed, as a prerequisite to voting, in such numbers as to utterly overwhelm the assessor's office. Nothing like it was ever known. At the present rate the total at the close next Monday night will reach 12,000. The greatest previous number was less than 2000. The cause of it all is the agitation which Justin D. Fulton and his coterie have stirred up over the public school question. The law provides that women citizens may vote for school committeemen in all town and city elections provided they are assessed and pay 50 cents poll tax and are registered. The city elections in this State all come in December and it is against this day that all this preparation is making.

Swinton's History with its paragraph about the sale of indulgences was tabooed by the school committee early in the summer, and a high school teacher who had commented on the subject in a manner which wounded the feelings of his Catholic pupils was transferred to another post of duty. The agitators, including some of the most prominent clergymen in the city, seized upon this as an evidence of the Jesuits' alleged determination to wreck the American public school system; and a campaign started which is resulting in this rallying of the women in defence of what they consider their imperilled liberties. The watchword as given by one of the speakers at the great Faneuil hall meeting in June was: "No more Catholics in the school board. No more Catholic teachers in the schools." Meetings are held nightly all over the city and in the suburbs at which Protestant women are urged to register and vote, and the result is something wonderful.

Archbishop Williams, Editor O'Reilly of The Pilot, and Editor McGuire of The Republic, look upon this crusade with equanimity, confident that such intolerance will only injure its abettors. They are outspoken against retaliation and advise the women of their church to abstain from enrolling themselves, prefering to let the storm blow itself out. Certain Democratic politicians have, however, taken a different view of the situation and within the past few days Celtic and Italian faces have begun to appear in the throngs about the assessors. Yesterday it was estimated that nine Catholic women were assessed to every Protestant.

Women of all classes crowd the corridors and stairways. Some of them have their babies in their arms. Others apparently are out shopping. Still others, more strong-minded, are electioneering. All are apparently in dead earnest. The innocent creatures don't all seem to know the difference between assessments and registration. From the nature of the case it is fair to presume that the vast majority of the Protestant women will be able to meet all the tests of the registers, but the foreign-born woman may find it difficult to satisfy the naturalization laws. A great deal of bad blood is being stirred up over the question and the municipal election will probably be the most bitter ever held in Boston.

THE BAXTER WARRANT.

An Objection Pointed Out—The Question to Be Decided To-day.

MONTREAL, Sept. 29.—When Sergeant Reburn's bench warrant for James Baxter's arrest came before Judge Dugas yesterday afternoon D. McMaster, Q. C., counsel for Baxter, raised the question that as the proceedings against Barnett were for appropriating negotiable securities, the Attorney-General's consent should be secured and as there was nothing on the face of the bench warrant to show this, it was insufficient. Judge Dugas took the point en delibere until to-day.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you tou may dep end upon this for certain.

TEA!

A Chinese writer says: "To make good tea it is an old custom to use running water boiled over a lively fire. That from springs in the hills is the best, and river water next, while well water is the worst. Do not boil the water too hastily; as, first it begins to sparkle like crab's eyes, then, somewhat like fishes' eggs, and lastly it boils up like pearls innumerable springing and waving about. This is the way to boil the water."

SIX MONTHS IN THE CENTRAL.

Henry Fay's Punishment for Stealing a Coat.

Henry Fay, who in company with John O'Neil was arrested on Sept. 22nd on a charge of vagrancy and remanded, appeared at the Police Court this morning charged with stealing a coat from Mr. Sheppard's store. Mr. R. E. Wood, County Attorney, appeared for the prosecution. Fay pleaded not guilty and conducted his own case.

Mr. SHEPPARD was sworn and gave evidence regarding missing the coat. Two boys came into his store at about 5 or 5.30 o'clock and said they had seen a man take a coat from the front of the store. He went and looked for the man, but could not find him. The coat produced (which had been found under a lumber pile) he identified as his.

GEORGE STINSON, a boy, said he saw the prisoner taken a coat off the rack at Sheppard's and tuck it under his coat. There were two men together. He recognized the coat produced as the one taken. He noticed the pants and vest of the same suit left. He followed the prisoner to Comestock's lumber yard and saw him with his coat off. He left a companion to watch and went to tell Mr. Sheppard.

BURTON BROOKS corroborated a portion of Stinson's evidence, as did also Percy Rubidge.

CONSTABLE MCGINTY said he found the coat under a lumber pile in Comstock's yard.

JOHN O'NEIL was called for the defence. He said he and the prisoner came to town on Sept. 22nd. They were together all day till 5 p.m., when they parted at the Hub. Saw prisoner again at the C. P. R. station, when the prisoner said to him "You stole a coat." They came from Ottawa to work on a gravel train. They were show men—tumblers and contortionists.

Fay was found guilty and sentenced to six months in the Central Prison. The charge of vagrancy against O'Neil and Fay was dismissed.

Look out for particulars of above exhibition in next week's papers. To be held in roller rink early in October.

A Horse Race.

The racing fever caused by the speeding in the ring at the exhibition brought on a trotting match yesterday. The contesting were animals owned by John Armstrong and Matt. Dean, and the stakes were $5 a side. The race was interesting, one heat being a dead one. The match, however, was won by Armstrong's trotter.

The Market.

There was a good attendance on the market this forenoon. Fruit and vegetables were offered in abundance, especially cabbage and appies, the former selling at 3 for 10c. and 5c. each, and apples at 60 and 70c. a bag. Corn sold at 10c. per doz., potatoes at 60 and 70c. per bag, and butter 23 to 25c. There was the usual accompaniment of nick-nack seliers disposing of their wares.

Rooney, Head Master of the Ashburnham school, and Secretary of the Teachers' Institute of the town and county of Peterborough, left to-day for Norwood to attend a meeting of the Committee of the Institute to arrange for the Convention, to be held in October. The annual matches of the Lindsay Rifle Association were held on Friday. Messrs. George Fitzgerald, D. Cameron, R. H. Smith, A. Blade, W. A. Mason, H. Robinson and J. B. Pentland went up to take part. They had a good time and succeeding in carrying off seven prizes, Mr. Fitzgerald winning three, and Messrs. Smith, Blade, Pentland and Mason one each.

Suggestion to the Directors.

Now that the smoke of battle is clearing away, the situation can be looked over. The central fair has been a success. There was a large attendance and everyone seemed well pleased. The exhibits were interesting and well placed, but the practice of charging merchants and traders for space to exhibit is an old-and-behind-the-times policy. The buildings should be enlarged and ample room provided, and merchants invited to contribute their exhibits to make up a good show. No charge for space is made at Kingston, at Lindsay central, at Belleville, or at Port Hope, nor for that matter anywhere else. Of course the trader is not obliged to make an exhibit for he can do the same as gough bros., have his own show up street. They, for instance, showed a huge $6,000 stock, bought at 40 cents on the dollar, and sold at half wholesale cost, to select from. Hundreds have come to gough bros.' and bought themselves happy, and the cry is "still they come." Lawyers, doctors, merchants, mechanics, and farmers, their children and their wives are today wearing boots and shoes bought at gough's. Boots and shoes fit for princes, but cheap enough to permit paupers to buy them are being sold every day at gough bros', 375 George-st. Don't delay; come along at once and buy yourselves wealth. Thousands of pairs of the best boots going at less than half wholesale cost. Tremendous bargains. Don't miss them. 1w39-1d75

What a Time

People formerly had, trying to swallow the old-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bitterness; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well called "medicated sugar-plums"—the only fear being that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He says: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with them. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

"Ayer's Pills outsell all similar preparations. The public having once used them, will have no others."—Berry, Venable & Collier, Atlanta, Ga.

PRICES AND PROSPECTS.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW OF THE WEEK'S BUSINESS.

Mercantile Failures for the First Nine Months of the Year—A Corner in the World's Wheat Markets Predicted.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—At cities east, west and northwest the customary reports of a fair or satisfactory volume of general trade continue to be received. Bradstreet's special telegrams from southern cities show that the fright having subsided, quarantines against points having, or suspected of having, yellow fever are being very generally raised. A week's business has been lost south of Kentucky and east of the Mississippi.

The total number of mercantile failures in the United States reported to Bradstreet's in nine months of 1888 is 7330, against 6958 in nine months of 1887 and as compared with larger totals in the three preceding years, but the total liabilities have declined this year as compared with the last over $6,000,000, about one-seventh, while the assets have actually increased slightly. These features raise the proportion of assets to liabilities from 49.1 per cent. in nine months of 1887 to 53.1 per cent. this year. The total numbers of failures in Canada for nine months is 1274, against 946 in 1887. The total liabilities this year are $12,441,839, against $11,083,466 last year. The total assets are $5,618,552, against $4,759,954 in 1887.

Speculation in stocks shows increasing strength and buoyancy. Bonds are in good demand, but the investment inquiry of first-class issues is larger than the supply. Money at New York continues easy, call loans 1½ to 2 per cent. Foreign exchange is easier on increased offerings of commercial and security bills and slack inquiry, demand sterling $4.87½ to $4.87¾.

There is less general demand for crude iron east and west, though leading markets remain fairly active. A significant feature is the offer of a prominent steel firm to sell bridge, structural, plate and tank steel at iron prices. Rails continue quiet with prices low. There is less prospect reported of an advance in iron prices. Anthracite coal is moving actively, largely on old contracts. The extra demand from the west has helped to sustain prices east.

The total exports of wheat (and flour as wheat) from both coasts this week is 2,614,410 bushels against 2,739,424 bushels last week. The aggregate so shipped, July to date, is 31,443,403 bushels against 48,015,859 bushels in a like portion of 1887. An English authority predicts a corner in the world's wheat markets next spring, due to deficient crops and to over-confidence and reduced stocks in the United Kingdom. During the past week cash wheat has advanced at New York about 4c per bushel to $1.02¼, the highest price touched for five years.

Prices of sugar were depressed but the loss in price has been regained. The New York market has been dull owing to short arrivals, stiff views of importers and refiners' unwillingness to meet prices asked for raw. Coffee has been dull with declining speculative prices.

The wool market continues steady with prices firm, dry goods are in fair request, there is some gain in clothing, the cotton movement is slow, the Indian corn crop will be heavy, hops are no higher.

Mercantile Disasters.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The business failures throughout the country during the last seven days as reported to Dun, Wiman & Co., number for the United States 186 and for Canada 34, or a total of 220 as compared with 228 last week and 217 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of 1887 the figures were 195, made up of 171 in the United States and 24 in Canada.

THE WHEAT CORNER.

September Reaches $1.50—Settlements Offered on That Basis.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—The wheat pit was again the center of attraction. The attendance was not unusually large. The early session was noticeable for activity and a large business was transacted in all of the various futures, with a higher range of prices. But a desperate effort was made to break prices and the raid proved partially successful except for September, which ruled strong, and another 25c. per bushel was added to the advance of yesterday, at which figure the future was held. The opening for September was the same as the closing figure of yesterday and with 5c jumps, prices struck $1.50, at which figure the market rested, and at noon the traders who had control of the market offered to effect settlement on that basis.

OLD HUTCH'S "PROFITS."

A Sensational Episode Connected With the Chicago Wheat Corner.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—During the day, "Old Hutch" drew out of the clearing house a check for $675,000 as his profits on sales made on wheat Thursday.

One of the most sensational features of the day happened after the close of the board when Abel H. Bliss of the firm of A. H. Bliss & Co., one of the substantial commission firms of the city, notified the Corn Exchange Bank that he would withdraw his deposits and patronage. Charles L. Hutchinson, President of the bank, who is also President of the Board of Trade and a son of "Old Hutch," immediately sent for Mr. Bliss and asked what was the matter. Mr. Bliss replied: "Any man who runs a corner on the market and squeezes the life and blood out of the trade is no better than a thief. Your father, who owns fifty-one per cent. of the stock of this bank, built just such a corner and I do not consider my money safe in the hands of a thief, therefore I withdraw my patronage.

TURNBULL'S fall and winter stock is now complete. Every department is crowded with beautiful goods, which will be sold cheaper than ever this season. d68tf

PLAYING AT "MUSEUM."

How Little Harry Bavendam Cut Off His Sister's Fingers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Harry Bavendam, the 11-year-old son of a mounted policeman attached to the Fourteenth precinct, on Ralph-avenue, Brooklyn, undertook to imitate one of the "fakirs" that illuminate a cheap Bowery museum. He called his sister Mary, aged 8 years, and induced her to personate one of the female "fakirs." She readily consented and prevailed upon her brother to "be the man who eats fire" and she would "be the lady with the long hair." While her brother went to an upper apartment Mary began to decorate herself with loose straw, and when he returned both went into the cellar, where Mr. Bavendam was mending some riding straps.

Said Harry to his sister: "Come here, May, and I'll chop your head off. I'm the fellow what does the choppin' and you're the lady, and after your head's off I'll put it on again. Then I'll put your head on a barrel and you can read a book."

Little May did not look with much favor on this proposition, and in her childish manner told her brother that if he chopped her head off she could never talk again. Harry then proposed that his sister put her arm on a chopping block. He had a small axe in his hand, and the moment the little girl laid her arm where her brother directed down came the weapon and two little fingers dropped off.

Young Harry said that when he played with his sister he thought that she would swing her arm one side when he came down with the axe. He maintained that it was purely an accident. When Mrs. Bavendam heard of the matter she fainted. The physician said it would be some time before the girl would be able to be out.

AN ANNEXATION SCHEME.

MR. ERASTUS WIMAN SAYS ONE IS BEING DEVISED.

A Resolution to That End to Be Reported from the United States Senate Committee of Foreign Affairs.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—I deem it my duty to say that information from Washington reaches me of a reliable character to the effect that the Senate Committee of Foreign Affairs has, during the past few days, in furtherance of the views of its chairman, Senator Sherman, been discussing the question of inviting the Dominion of Canada to join the United States.

So far have matters progressed that it is not at all unlikely that a resolution will be reported for concurrent action of both Houses, declaring it to be the duty of the President to open negotiations with Great Britain looking to a political union between the English-speaking nations on this continent.

The condition attending the invitation of Canada is understood to be that the United States would assume the entire public debt of the Dominion, estimated at $300,000,000.

Commercial Union was urged as the basis of the proposed negotiation, on the ground that while a large majority might be secured for it only a small minority favored political union, but the sentiment of the committee was so strong in favor of proposing at first Political Union that it was impossible to contend with it. ERASTUS WIMAN.

Attempt to Wreck a Train.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 30.—Some three weeks ago a most dastardly attempt to wreck a train was attempted at Graham's bridge, about 1½ miles east of Lucknow. This bridge spans a large gulley about twenty-five feet deep, and one of the rails on the east side of the structure was torn up and the fish plates put under one end of it between the rail and the sleeper. The intention apparently was to throw the night train off the track, as the track was all right when the freight train passed over it that evening about six o'clock. At the request of the railway authorities, in the hope that the perpetrators could be found out, the affair was kept a secret, but the company have now offered a reward of $200 for their conviction.

A Mad Bull Kills a Horse.

DRUMBO, Sept. 30.—During the holding of the Drumbo fall show, a thoroughbred bull, belonging to Mr. Jas. McArthur became irritated and made a dash at his attendant, tossing him in the air with its horns. The boy fell heavily but was not hurt. Instantly the bull made a rush at a horse standing near by. It ran its horns far into the horse's flanks completely disembowelling it, and pushing it through a board fence. The horse made a feeble resistance to a second attack at his forequarters by seizing the bull near the nose with his teeth, but this was its last effort. It was dead in a few minutes. The attendant afterward secured the bull.

Under the Crushing Car Wheel.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 1.—Frank Logan, a switchman on the Northern Pacific, who is an old Londoner, was switching with an engine which was pulling several box cars. He was climbing the ladder on the side of a car when he was struck by a telegraph pole. The unfortunate man was forced from the ladder and between two cars. As he struck the ground he grabbed the brake beam but did not get a hold sufficient to enable him to avoid the deadly wheel, and one wheel passed over his right thigh and upon the right hand portion of his abdomen. The injured man was conscious for an hour, but died in the patrol wagon while en route to the hospital.

A Bullet Through His Heart.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 30.—The particulars of the death of William Vandervoort of this city, at Sandy Creek, N. Y., are, that on Wednesday he was seized with a violent fit, and on being brought to, acted more peculiar than ever, and threatened to do harm to himself or some of those around him. During the afternoon he eluded those who were guarding him and making a dash out of the house ran to the woods, which were a short distance away, and committed the rash deed. When found life was extinct. Death must have been instantaneous the bullet having pierced the heart.

Another Good Man Short in His Cash.

MILVERTON, Sept. 30. — Mr. Joseph Brydone, J. P., who has filled the position of treasurer of Burns Church here for over twenty-five years, has his books in a fearful muddle, and is said to be over $3,000 short in his accounts with the church. At the annual meeting last January, when the auditors' report was read, it was rejected and referred back for investigation. Suit has been entered on behalf of the church to recover the amount.

Two Men Burned to Death.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Sept. 30.—A special despatch from Jackfish says: Fire broke out in Mrs. Gerighty's hotel here yesterday and the house and contents were entirely destroyed. Two men, Dan Brown and one Cunningham, were burned to death in the building. It is believed the fire was caused by a lamp explosion. Loss not known; no insurance. Mrs. Gerighty herself was badly burned and cut.

Burglary at Tamworth.

TAMWORTH, Sept. 30.—The drug and jewelry store of C. R. Jones was entered by burglars through the front window, a pane of glass in which was smashed out. The contents of the store were greatly upset. The safe door was drilled, and blown off by the explosion of a charge of powder. The loss is valued at $200.

Killed by a Street Car.

KINGSTON, Sept. 30.—Israel Lynn, a broker, while on his way to his home in Portsmouth last evening fell off a street car and was killed almost instantly, the wheels passing over his head. He leaves a large family.

THE WORK OF THE HURRICANE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The Department of State has been informed by the Consul at Turk's Island, West Indies, that the hurricane of Sept. 2 caused much damage on land and at sea. The schooner Sidney G. Hopper, of Thomaston, Me., which was loading at Turk's Island, ran ashore and became a total wreck. The crew were saved. The schooner Lewis A. Hodgdon of Booth Bay, Me., lying at anchor in the harbor dragged her anchor and went to sea. The vessel turned bottom upwards in the Channel and all hands were washed overboard. The only known survivor, a seaman named Samuel Holm, drifted on some wreckage to North Caicos shore, where he was rescued. The bark Silas Fish of New York left Cockburn harbor in a leaking condition, a few hours before the hurricane, bound for Turks Island. She was struck by the hurricane before her arrival and was wrecked in the channel. The master, in an injured condition, and one seaman named Guintor Gaul drifted ashore on some wreckage on one of the Caicos islands. It is probable they were the only survivors. The schooner Norena of Portland, Me., landed the crew of the schooner J. M. Hayes of Bath, Me., which foundered at sea Aug. 23. After landing the men the Norena was driven before the gale through the channel and probably was struck by the full force of the hurricane outside.

THE ITALIAN RIOTERS.

An Attempt to Tear Up the Track Stopped by a Volley Over Their Heads.

SAWYERVILLE, Que., Sept 30.—With the exception of an attempt by a body of rioters, numbering fifty, to tear up the track in the vicinity of the trestle work of Sawyerville about 1 o'clock yesterday morning, no further violence has been used by the strikers. In this case, a volley fired over their heads by the militia stationed at the trestle work caused them to retreat precipitately.

mperor Francis Joseph's Narrow Escape.

VIENNA, Sept 30.—The artillery practice, at which Emperor Francis Joseph narrowly escaped being shot, took place at the Steinfeld ranges. The Emperor had ordered that the bugle sound the signal to cease firing in order that he might inspect the target. The officer in command of a battery located 1000 yards away did not hear the signal, and as it was impossible for him to see the Emperor as he advanced, owing to a depression in the ground, the battery again fired. Fortunately the Emperor and his suite were out of the line of fire and consequently were not hurt. Orderlies rushed to the batteries and prevented any further firing.

Pitcher Properly Punished.

MONTREAL, Sept. 30.—In the Court of Queen's Bench yesterday, Chief Justice Sir A. A. Dorion sentenced C. A. Pitcher, lately teller of the Union Bank of Providence, to seven years in the penitentiary for bringing stolen money into Canada. His Honor said there was no doubt but that Pitcher had committed a grave crime. He had done his best to wreck the bank by which he was employed, and not only had he defaulted in the United States, but he had tried the same game in Montreal by purchasing a bill of exchange with stolen money. Pitcher received his sentence unmoved.

FIRE AT GANANOQUE.

The Ontario Wheel Company's Factory Burnt—A Loss of $25,000.

GANANOQUE, Sept. 30.—Fire, supposed to have originated in the engine room, destroyed the factory of the Ontario Wheel Company this morning. Loss, $25,000, insurance, $16,000, divided between the British America, Queen's, Western, Royal, and London and Lancashire.

FRENCH POLITICS.

A Government Bill to Revise the Constitution Determined Upon.

PARIS, Sept. 30.—Another ministerial council was held yesterday. The Cabinet decided to introduce in the Chamber of Deputies during the coming session a bill for a revision of the constitution.

The Italian charge d'affaires in an interview with M. Goblet, Minister of Foreign Affairs, yesterday asked for an explanation of the decree ordering the use of the French language in Tunisian schools and the inspection of the schools by the French authorities. M. Goblet replied that the Government in issuing the decree has acted within the limits of the rights of France and that the Bey of Tunis was under French protection.

The Boulangist agitation has been resumed. A stormy meeting was held last evening at which a vote of confidence in Gen. Boulanger was passed.

Thirsty Burglars.

MONTREAL, Sept. 29.—Early yesterday morning the grocery store of Mr. Oscar Melancon, 408 Dorchester-street, was broken into and a quantity of whisky stolen. The loss will only be about $20. The grocery store of Mr. Valliere, on St. James-street, was burglarized and about $100 worth of liquor carried away. Mr. Dwyer, grocer on Fulford-street, also received a visit. About $200 worth of liquor was stolen. The private apartments of Mr. H. Lanctot, advocate, corner of Notre Dame and St. Gabriel-streets, were entered a few days ago and a quantity of clothing stolen.

The Scare a Thing of the Past.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 30.—The first through passenger train for several days on the Louisville, New Orleans & Texas Railroad left here this evening for New Orleans. The road is now open at all points. Nearly all the small towns in this vicinity have also abolished quarantine and drawn in their shot gun brigades.

THE WHITECHAPEL FIEND.

Two More Women Added to the List of His Murdered Victims.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—This morning the whole city was again startled by the news that two more murders had been added to the list of mysterious crimes that have recently been committed in Whitechapel. At an early hour it was known that another woman had been murdered and a report was also current that there was still another victim. This report proved true. The two victims as in the former cases were dissolute women of the poorest class.

The first murder occurred in a narrow court off Berners'-street beneath the window of a foreigners' socialistic club, the woman's throat had been cut from ear to ear but the villain had evidently been frightened away before he had time to mutilate the body.

The second crime was committed 45 minutes later in Mitre-square, five minutes' walk from the scene of the first tragedy, and the victim was shockingly mutilated.

Polluted by Buffalo Sewage.

FORT ERIE, Ont., Sept. 30.—Ernest Cruickshank, formerly warden of this county, has written an open letter protesting against the contamination of the Niagara River by the sewage of Buffalo. He details the steps taken by himself and the members of the County Council; their appeals to the Ontario authorities and to the Dominion Government, and the reference of the matter to the British minister at Washington, the temporary abatement of the pollution and the renewal, and appeals for concerted action to the people to prevent the further deposit of filth in the river.

THE WORLD OF LONDON.

A MATTER WHICH PROFOUNDLY DISTURBS TWO NATIONS.

Mr. Balfour on the Mandeville Case—Mr. Chamberlain's Alleged Betrayal of Mr. Forster—The Parnell Defence Fund.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The discussion on the Emperor Frederick's diary is followed with the keenest interest here, as having important bearings on the future relations between the English and German Courts. When it was supposed that the Empress Frederick had a hand in the revelations, great anxiety prevailed. Relations between the Queen and the Emperor William are very strained, the Kaiser having practically refused to meet the Prince of Wales at Vienna, and the Queen having hinted that she is not burning to receive the Kaiser as a guest at present in England. The Kaiser's relations with his mother had greatly improved when this new trouble arose, and he had ceased to tender his Imperial authority in the form of threats. But had the Empress been unable to disavow responsibility for the publication of the diary, the scenes at court would have resembled those of mediæval times. Happily the Empress Frederick was able to disavow responsibility, and she is angry with The Deutsche Rundschau.

The Queen is also disturbed.—Prince Bismarck is somewhat vindictive toward the English Court, as is shown by the publication of the late Emperor William's secret counsel not to tell too much to the Crown Prince lest he betray Germany to the English Court, which is said to be French in sympathy. The allegation was absolutely unfounded. Prince Bismarck forgets that the Queen is German by descent, German by marriage, and German by all the associations she draws round her. The unity of Germany was an old dream of the Prince Consort. The only foundation for Prince Bismarck's allegations is that the Queen was anxious, in order to prevent future wars, that Germany should deal tenderly with France in 1871. Prince Bismarck's state paper is likely still further to strain the relations between the courts and between grandmother and grandson.

Notwithstanding all declarations, official, officious and otherwise, the diary is authenticate, even to the charge against Napoleon of proposing war against England. The ex-Empress Eugenie is very angry about this last aspersion. She knows nothing, probably, of what Napolean did at Wilhelmshoe, but she is having a statement prepared in refutation of what she regards as a calumny. The prosecution of the Deutsche Rundschau is certain of success. The object is not to punish the editor and publisher, but to prevent further disclosures of the same kind, Prince Bismarck being very determined to repress the tendency of German Liberals to use the Emperor Frederick's memory as a means of working on public opinion against the conservative regime.

Mr. Balfour speaks to-morrow at Glasgow and deals with Mr. Mandeville's case in its full details, repudiating the responsibility of the authorities for his death and giving reasons for believing that Dr. Ridley's suicide was due to the Nationalists. But the intervention of the Cabinet prevents a new Mandeville case from arising. Mr. Balfour has been instructed by his colleagues to release any political prisoner showing signs of weak health.

The quarrel raised by Mr. Gladstone over Mr. Foster's reputation has taken an unexpected turn and begins to center round Mr. Chamberlain. It is roundly asserted that Mr. Forster in 1882 confided to Mr. Chamberlain his determination to resign if Mr. Parnell, before his release from Kilmainham, gave no public declaration binding him in honor before the world to disapprove and resist outrages. Mr. Chamberlain then worked for a private declaration through Captain O'Shea and thus abused Mr. Forster's confidence to secure his overthrow. Mr. Chamberlain has not yet replied. Mr. Gladstone's summing up of the entire matter is likely to appear in The Nineteenth Century next month. He was unaware of the correspondence with Mr. Chamberlain, and was frankly surprised at Mr. Forster's resignation. He will have to acknowledge his ignorance so far, but will plead that Mr. Forster never emphasized to him the necessity for a public letter, and that Mr. Chamberlain kept the key secret in his own breast. When Captain O'Shea saw Mr. Forster and learned from him that he considered Mr. Parnell's private letter, known as the Kilmainham Treaty, insufficient, he telegraphed to Mr. Chamberlain that the Chief Secretary was playing false.

The Parnell Indemnity Fund has reached $25,000, and there will be no difficulty in raising it to $50,000. But if the Special Commission takes a long time, the cost of the defence of the Irish leader will fall not far short of $100,000. Few American subscriptions are yet acknowledged. The Nationalists, nevertheless, expect a large contribution.

Turkey signs the Suez Canal convention. This neutralizes that waterway, and slightly, but perceptibly, increases the English hold on Egypt. There is, however, a cloud on the horizon. Suakim demands a larger garrison, disturbing Egyptian finance; and, if the Soudanese grow troublesome at Wady Halfa, and the financial balance be overthrown, the International Commission comes into play, to the exclusion of the sole English interest. The situation at Suakim is disquieting, but not immediately dangerous.

Strenuous attempt has been made by the forward Anglo-Indian party to induce the Government not to leave Thibet until the Thibetans have agreed to trade with India. Had this policy been accepted, the English expedition would have had to go to Chassa, and complications with China would have been threatened. The original object of the expedition having been attained, orders have been given for Colonel Graham to return to British territory, and the forward party is defeated.

No steps whatever are being taken in London for a Congo expedition. So far as the English committee is concerned, it is paralyzed. The German expedition is making progress, and the result is likely to be that the Congo will become German. Fainter ahd fainter grow hopes of Mr. Stanley, and the fear now is that the white man on the Bahr el Ghazel is not he. G. W. SMALLEY.

His Property Attached by the Produce Exchange Gratuity Fund.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—An attachment against the property of William R. Foster, jr., the missing counsel of the Produce Exchange Gratuity Fund, has been obtained by the counsel of the Produce Exchange in a suit to recover $2,000. The attachment was granted on affidavits of the officers of the fund. It is supposed that Foster has fled to Canada.

Lulu, Foster's adopted daughter, is stopping with friends in this city. Late yesterday afternoon the complaint committee of the Produce Exchange gave notice to the members that they would hold a meeting on Monday and expel Foster. The reason for this is that if Foster should die or commit suicide while still a member of the fund his heirs would be entitled to $8000.

"Fatty" Stewart Gets Off Easy.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 30.—"Fatty" Stewart, the suspected crook from Windsor, was tried at the Police Court yesterday and found guilty under the vagrancy act, but the Police Magistrate suspended sentence to give him a chance to leave town, warning him that if he ever came back he would be heavily sentenced.

CANADA'S MARKET.

THE Liberal paper in Port Hope no longer pretends that the United States is Canada's only market for oats, fish, etc., since the REVIEW pointed out how grossly it erred, but it does not correct its misstatements. It now says that the principal portion of the exports from Ontario goes to the United States, and this time goes to the Trade and Navigation returns, which it only misquotes, by another "slip of the pen," by a few hundred thousand dollars. The misquotation, however, makes little difference in its argument. Its cunning is displayed in another way. Ontario exports largely through Quebec ports and, the returns being made from those ports, these exports are classed as being from that Province though they are the produce of Ontario. By ignoring this the Guide attempts to make its readers believe that Ontario exports only $5,175,074 worth of produce to Great Britain.

The Guide conveniently puts aside the figures quoted by the REVIEW—it asked for the information but refuses to profit by it—and evates the point that the aggregate imports of agricultural products by the United States from all countries did not amount to as much as Canada's export of agricultural products to Great Britain. Why should Canada imperil her trade with Great Britain, where there is a practically unlimited market, by trying to procure better facilities for reaching a market that would not absorb all our surplus?

A treaty that would give freerer commercial relations between the two countries and that would not imperil more important Canadian interests would be acceptable to this country. The United States refused to consent to such a treaty, and is aiming to get Canadian trade entirely into its hands, and to deprive the Dominion of part of its governing powers, with a view to bringing this country under the stars and stripes. That the Conservative party resists, and unless the United States will treat fairly, and agree to a bargain that Canada can honorably and safely enter into, the Dominion will go on and prosper as it has been doing. The policy of development pursued since 1878 has placed this country in a much more independent position than it was and it will not sacrifice its independence or its markets, and will not enter into a combination with the United States against Great Britain.

Life becomes almost a burden when th body is racked with the suffering which arises from scrofula. If any taint of this disease lurks in your blood, Ayer's Sarsaparilla will expel it. The entire system may be thoroughly renovated by taking this medicine.

REVIEWS.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE.—The October number of Scribner's is a capital sample of the regular series, beautifully illustrated, splendidly written and remarkably well edited. Of particular interest is the first paper, that on "The Temples of Egypt." With its fine illustrations and clear and concise text it delineates the wonders of the Egyptian ruins and carries the reader back to a period in the world's history three thousand years ago. The full and varied table of contents includes other excellent papers, among which will be found "Memories of the Last Fifty Years," by Lester Wallack, "Problems in American Politics," by Hugh McCulloch, "Sea in October," by Elisabeth Fairchild, "Behind the Scenes of an Opera House," by Gustav Kobbe, with illustrations from drawings by Robert Blum, Francis Day, M. J. Burns and others. "First Harvests"—chapters xxxii.-xxxvi, by F. J. Stinson. "The railroad in its Business Relations," by Arthur T. Hardley, with portraits. "Romance," by L. Frank Tooker. "Charity," by H. H. Boyesen, illustrations by Charles H. Stephens. "Two Grecian Myths," by C. P. Cranch. "Contributions to the History of Life, Random Memories," by Robert Louis Stevenson. Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger airl passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you tou may depend upon this for certain.

It is extremely interesting to visit some of the leading manufacturing houses in Toronto. Perhaps the most interesting and surprising of them all are the extensive Ornamental Stained Glass and Decorative works of the McCausland & Son. It is from this establishment that the finest windows have come for the principal edifices, throughout our country.

HUTCH'S FINAL SQUEEZE.

TWO DOLLARS WAS THE PRICE HE PLACED UPON HIS WHEAT.

And the Poor Shorts were Compelled to Pay It—The Wildest Excitement During Saturday's Closing Hours.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—The scene on 'change yesterday was even more animated and exciting than Friday. The knowledge that it was settling day and the expectation of seeing the utter demolition of the bears made the general public extremely anxious to gain admittance to the gallery, so that long before the opening hour a large crowd was in waiting to make sure of being there when the fun began. The ladies formed as large a portion of the crowd as on preceding days. "Old Hutch" came in early and took his accustomed seat at the north entrance, where he remained during the session. Of course the whole interest of the day was centered in the wheat pit, which was filled by an immense crowd, who yelled and gesticulated and shouted themselves hoarse in efforts to make themselves safe on the general deal.

Immediately after the first flurry the thought of the crowd seemed to be to make themselves safe in expectation of the collapse, when the September deal would close later in the day. This feeling prevailed over thirty minutes, causing October to reach 98 cents; December, 98¾ cents; May, $1.00¼. About 10.30 the sentiment changed and prices began to climb again. At noon October and December had reached $1.02⅜. The feeling became stronger, and at 12.15 December, which appeared to be the center of ball interest, touched $1.03—an advance of 4¼ cents over the price two hours before.

Of course, the trading element and the public were anxiously inquiring about September. The nominal price of $1.60 was posted upon the board. Sales of car loads to be delivered before 12 o'clock were reported in the pit at various prices from $1.25 to $1.45. Hutchinson bought one lot at $1.45, but when shorts approached him he deliberately demanded $2 for September or cash wheat. Very little was done in September to give the trade any idea of who the remaining shorts were, or how extensive the short interest remaining to be carried.

The close was of the most sensational character. In the last few minutes of the session December wheat touched $1.05. At the same time some of "Hutch's" brokers stood on the edge of the pit facing the cash wheat crowd and created surprise by bidding $2 for regular September wheat. About this time Mr. Hutchinson left his post by the entrance and moved around the wheat pit, to where the cash traders were gathered. Had he been a white elephant he could not have attracted more attention from the crowd on the floor and in the gallery. He was surrounded by several hundred, who surged back and refused to let him escape. He shook his head and fist in anger, but still the crowd pressed around him. There was bellowing and barking by the younger members, clerks and others, who climbed on the steps, chairs and tables to see the fun. About one minute before the bell tapped Hutchinson offered $2 for regular wheat, and four cars were sold to him at that price. How much he sold at that figure during the day only himself and the shorts who were obliged to buy know and they are slow to state.

TEA!

A Chinese writer says: "To make good tea it is an old custom to use running water boiled over a lively fire. That from springs in the hills is the best, and river water next, while well water is the worst. Do not boil the water too hastily; as, first it begins to sparkle like crab's eyes, then, somewhat like fishes' eggs, and lastly it boils up like pearls innumerable springing and waving about. This is the way to boil the water."

Home from Manitoba.

Mr. R. N. Scott, of Smith, returned last week from a visit to Manitoba. In the Souris district he found the crops generally good. In places the grain was damaged by frost, in some places slightly and in others more severely. The frost went in streaks, following the river and extending on each side. Mr. Scott took a great fancy to the country. The ground is easy to work and a farmer can start on less. Some men whom he met there had little when they went to Manitoba and now own farms and are comfortable.

A Wide Smile on the Kid

Because he has secured $7,000 worth of first class boots and shoes at a very low rate on the dollar, and to make room he will thrash them out at such low prices that customers can't help buying. Listen to a few of the bargains. Ladies' shoes, 15 cents, sold everywhere for 40 cents. Ladies' laced boots, 90 cents, sold usually at other places for $1.75, and our men's long boots for $1.75, unsurpassed for value in the Dominion, every pair warranted. But call and see Kidd, the boot man, and he will show you why he smiles. Still there is more to follow. d70

Presentation to Mr. J. E. Jaques.

The proceedings at the usual weekly meeting of the St. Luke's choir were very pleasantly varied on Saturday evening, when the rector, Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, at the close of the practice in a neat and pithy speech presented Mr. Jaques on behalf of the wardens and the choir with a handsome solid leather dressing and shaving case, as a token of the personal regard in which he was held by each individual member of the choir, and the great interest he had always taken in them both in his official and private relations. During his stay at St. Luke's there has not been a single instance to mar the harmony which always should, but often does not exist between an organist and the members of his choir. While very much regretting his leaving, the choir are pleased to know Mr. Jaques has obtained an advancement in life and wish him every prosperity in his new position. Mr. Jaques leaves town today to fill a similar position in St. Thomas.

A Public S.S. Meeting.

An open session of the Charlotte-st Methodist Sunday school was held in the school room on Sunday afternoon, in place of the regular quarterly review meeting. Short and pithy addresses were delivered by Sergeant—Major Rundle, Messrs. I. Richardson, A. Tebb, O. C. Rowse, superintendent of the Sunday school, and the pastor the Rev. S. J. Shorey. Mr. Crane presided at the piano and the singing was very good. Quite a number of the parents and friends of the Sunday school were present.

Business from Red Rock Up.

The reason some men are always mad, like the mosquito, is because they are insignificant—they do not amount to anything—and they feel their position keenly. This was clearly shown by something that occurred in a Port Hope business house the other day. A gentleman went in the front room and asked an employe if the proprietor was in. The employe answered in an illnatured manner and said he didn't know. The gentleman passed on to a clerk and asked the same question. The clerk growled out, without looking up, "He ain't in here; you may find him in the back office." The gentleman went to the back office and asked for the proprietor. The proprietor stepped forward, said in a pleasant manner that he was that individual, asked the gentleman to step in and inquired his business. That is usually the way a man acts who owns a big institution, and has made all his money himself. That is not the way customers are treated at Gough Bros', where business is done as business should. All are welcomed. The man who wants to spend ten cents is just as welcome as the citizen who proposes to shell out ten dollars, for the ten cent man will get such good value that he is sure to return and buy. Just now the rush is for boots and shoes. Summer shoes are going out of service. Something heavier is needed and gough bros. can supply the demand. Boots that shed the water and stand off the cold are by hundreds on the shelves and prices are so low that it is just like finding money to buy there. The indications are that the fall will be a wet one and the roads so heavy that a man can't lift one end of them. Get your feet well covered with gough bros' shoes or boots.

DO not fail to see the large exhibit of carpets, lace curtains, fancy wool goods in fascinators, clouds, shawls, jackets, caps and hoods, on Wednesday and Thursday evening, Sept. 26th and 27th. No goods will be sold at J. C. TURNBULL'S. d68tf

A STORY OF ROBBERY.

A Lad's Tale of Being Attacked—What Enquiries Developed.

On Sunday morning at a little after seven o'clock Thomas Baker, a lad employed in the post office, aroused his sisters and told them he had been robbed The family live on Lansdowne-st. near the locks. The story told by the boy to the family was a follows:—He had drawn $28 from the post office savings bank on Saturday forenoon to give his father to make a payment. At noon his sister not being home he kept it in his pocket. In the afternoon when taking the letters out of a drop box he found a note printed in pencil which read, "Meet me at the Agricultural Grounds corner at 11 o'clock." He thought the note was a joke. He went home at a little after 11 o'clock, from the Opera House, and when at the corner mentioned in the note he hesitated. What happened then he did not know, but he knew no more till 4 o'clock in the morning, when he was lying on his face with his hands and feet tied. He got one hand loose, but was unable to untie the cord from his feet, and it took him about half an hour to get home, about the distance of half a block. He then laid down on the floor and worked himself free and aroused his sisters at the hour first mentioned. His pocketbook, a red morocco one, was gone with $28 and some mailing cards.

Such is the story he told at home. Mr. Baker, the boy's father, went out to the corner and found the drop box keys of the post office lying on the ground where the boy said he had been robbed.

On Sunday the boy told Constable Stewart about his adventure. To-day he was at his post as usual, and said he felt a trifle sore on the back of his head. He gave the same account to a REVIEW reporter of what took place at the Agricultural Grounds corner, but varied his story by saying that he had borrowed $23 on Saturday afternoon from from a man named McMahon, living on the corner of George and Lake-sts., and that the other $5 he had, and that instead of being at the Opera House during the evening he had been playing pool. As a matter of fact he did not draw the money from the post office bank. And Mr. McMahon, when asked about it, said he had not loaned young Baker the money. This rather spoiled the sensational story.

Chief Roszel visited Baker's home and also questioned the boy, and learned the stories substantially as here given. The boy did not know how he was rendered insensible and had not seen anyone. He suggestively asked if it could have been done by chloroform as he had seen a man chloroformed in a play a few nights before.

TURNBULL has a pile of low priced German ulsters and mantles which he will be unable to exhibit for want of room on the opening days, Sept. 26th and 27th. Ask to see them. d68t

They Knew Each Other.

When Fay, who was arrested for stealing a coat from Mr. Sheppard's store, was taken to gaol he met Roach, the boy who was committed as a vagrant, but was suspected of knowing something of the burglary of Mr. Ball's store. The two recognized each other as soon as they met.

A Fowl Discovery.

When Constable Stewart was coming on duty on Saturday night he found a small box containing six fine looking chickens on the market square. They were taken to the station, placed in a more comfortable position and fed. It is probable that some one brought them to the market to sell and forgot them.

A Pleasant Farewell.

Last Thursday night, chaperoned by Mesdames' Fairbairn, Rutherford and Griffin, the "Y." at the request of Mr. W. H. Stevens, entertained himself and a few of his special friends in the W. C. T. U. Hall, George-st. When the guests arrived after Dr. Stafford's lecture they were agreeably surprised to find the hall transformed into a combination drawing and dining room. In one section were tables with lovely boquets, illustrated periodicals and parlor games, while in the centre of the apartment stood two long tables in snow white drapery, upon which were spread in tempting array the viands with which the physical man was to be refreshed. Festoons of maple and grape leaves in all their gorgeous autumn tints adorned walls and gasaliers, while in crystal epergne and silver basket they formed appropriate setting for clusters of juicy grapes—the whole effect being suggestive of the changing season. An impromptu programme enlivened the evening. Miss K. B. Annesley rendered a choice musical selection, and Mr. Rowse recited "The Eagle's Rock"—a story of maternal love and heroism—which was given with good effect. Mr. Dixon amused the company by one of his ever popular exhibitions in ventriloquism, while the Y. M. C. A. trio made their final appearance in several selections, comical and pathetic. As time drew near "the wee sma' hours," Mr. G. M. Roger, President of the Y. M. C. A., was called upon and made a neat little speech in reference to the special object for which the friends had gathered—namely to say good-bye to Mr. Stevens, who had resigned the secretary-ship of that Association, to enter the Methodist church ministry. Mr. Clegg, in graceful style, seconded Mr. Roger's resolution of regret, associating with Mr. Steven's name that of Mr. R. H. Henderson who will also take his leave of Peterborough at an early date. The gentlemen responded in fitting terms, expressing their sincere regret at the breaking up of so many pleasant associations. The company then formed a circle, joined hands in regulation style and sang "Should Auld acquaintance be forgot," repeating the chorus with energetic motions and evident fervor of spirit. The party dispersed having spent a couple of hours in most pleasant manner.

INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITIONS.

The Principal Idea Concering them Should be a Religious One

The Rev. M. L. Pearson's theme for his Sunday evening discourse was "Industrial Exhibitions." During the course of his remarks he said that authority and dominion over nature was given to man. All nature served him, and all labor was commanded and honored of God. It was in recognition of this honor God had conferred on man that industrial exhibitions should be held, and in so far as they were in recognition of God's bounty they were worthy of support by Christian people. Exhibitions indicated the progress in knowledge and industry made during the year. Progress in industry and invention was required of them. The instinct that directed animals was a wonderful power. Man was given no such inspiration to understand the various arts, but God had honored him by giving him power to understand and advance. Man at his beginning was the feeblest of all creatures, but God had given him great wants and faculties to provide for them. As these faculties became restless to supply his neeessities, they advanced and the world enjoyed a progressive age. Nothing was provided ready at hand for man's use, and that was a proof of God's regard. The opportunity of knowing and learning, of progress and development, was the badge of their nobility. It was impossible to attend an exhibition without recognizing their advantages as compared with an earlier age. Inventions had not fostered indolence; the world was never so busy as to-day. They rejoiced as Christian people in the progress made. He would not have such exhibitions as was held here called fairs. Fairs originated as places for traffic, while industrial exhibitions were places for instruction. When directors allowed such exhibitions to degenerate into mere fairs, and allowed horse races and other questionable attractions, they robbed the exhibitions of their glory, and what were intended as educators became unmitigated evils. When visiting an exhibition they would feel thankful to God for the land they lived in. There were lands where less toil was necessary, but they were undesirable for places of residence, and in this zone men attained the highest physical, mental and moral developement. While efforts of certain Christian socialists were in the right direction, the radical infidel socialists who wished to abolish all inequalities of wealth were mistaken, and in this connection he instanced the French revolution. It was impossible to visit an exhibition without admitting that there was an author of mind, wisdom and understanding. To the prevalence of Christian ideas more than to anything else they were indebted for the advancement made in human industry. He referred to history to show that the ideas men have of God and His providence, and the motives they inspire, effect the tendency of industry. Wherever Christianity resembling that of the New Testament prevailed they found the most industrious, clear headed, laborious and successful men. Christianity had to do with the ordinary pursuits of life as well as with the hereafter. It taught to plough as well as to pray, to spin as well as to sing, to weave as well as to worship. Christianity was the industry of divine mercy. They should remember that the command (Gen. i., 28) was to subdue the earth and not to be subdued by it. They should set their affections on things above, and by holding fellowship with eternal things they would more speedily reach the mark set before them.

It is Absurd

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

A WINNIPEG SENSATION.

NEWSPAPER CHARGES AGAINST THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT.

The Free Press Alleges the Existence of a Corrupt Bargain—A Prompt Denial Entered.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 2.—"A Second Pacific Scandal" is the heading of a startling article in yesterday's Free Press, in which grave charges are made against the local Government. The gravamen of it all is that the Manitoba Central Railroad people, represented apparently by T. C. Scoble and Duncan McArthur, entered into an agreement with Premier Greenway, by which the latter, in return for certain legislation which he was to secure for the company, was to receive $2500 for the expenses of his own election and $10,000 for the expenses of the general elections. It does not appear that the money was ever paid.

Afterwards the Manitoba Central people, who claim that they represented the Northern Pacific, were thrown overboard and negotiations entered into, it is alleged, on less favorable terms with the Northern Pacific officials direct.

Attorney-General Martin and Treas. Jones specifically deny any knowledge of the matter and say the whole thing is trumped up, that the Government had got rid of one gang of boodlers and now another was after them.

A LATE WAR OFFICE ORDER.

Some Comment Aroused—Canadian Cheese in the Old Land.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Some comment is aroused by the orders just issued by the Imperial War Office for increased strength to the Eighteenth Company of the Royal Engineers, now serving at Halifax, by a strong draft from the submarine section of the Royal Engineers and the depot companies from Chatham. Some point to the present tension in the relations with the United States as the possible cause, but it is probably only due to departmental changes.

The Agricultural Department of the Privy Council is circulating the report of the Canadian Commissioner of Inland Revenue as regards the alleged adulteration of Canadian cheese. Agricultural journals admit that after seeing 112 samples analyzed without a single example being found of cheese containing extraneous fat, the Canadian Commissioner is justified in asserting that filled cheese may be common in the United States, but is not made in Canada.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

Ten Deaths Yesterday—More Money Than is Needed Sent in.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 2.—The scourge has increased in force again, and the new cases reported for twenty-four hours number 99, of which 25 were whites and 74 blacks. There were ten deaths. Among the deaths was that of Mr. N. Baker, teller of the Bank of Florida. The mercury Sunday night fell to nearly freezing point but a frost before the last of October would break the record for the past sixteen years. The local physicians are of the opinion that the epidemic will gradually die out, fluctuating somewhat as the end approaches.

The Citizens' Association has referred to the Executive Committee the question of asking the people throughout the country to discontinue contributions. There have been received $236,867. The disbursements have been $74,478, leaving a balance of $152,389.

Shotgun Quarantine Removed.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2.—All shotgun quarantines in Mississippi having been withdrawn the railroads throughout that State and Louisiana have resumed business with but slight hindrance. The weather continues clear and cool.

Shooting Accidents.

MONTREAL, Oct. 2.—Felix Coulard, aged 25, while picking beechnuts was accidentally shot, on Saturday, by two sportsmen, and severely hurt. He was taken to the General Hospital.

Ellen O'Grady, aged 11, while playing with her brother at Cote Des Neiges, on Saturday, was accidentally shot. She was taken to the General Hospital in the ambulance. Her life is despaired of.

Firebugs at Listowel.

LISTOWEL, Oct. 2.—The stable belonging to G. L. Leidenberger, together with the contents was totally destroyed by fire about 3.30 yesterday morning. Insured in Mercantile for $200 on building and same amount on contents. The stable adjoining belonging to T. Rolls and occupied by Geo. Wright was also burnt. No insurance on building, $400 on contents in Waterloo Mutual. The insurance will about cover the loss in both cases. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

Two Brighton Lads Drowned.

BRIGHTON, Oct. 2.—On Sunday afternoon six young lads from the village set sail from the dock in a small boat to visit the Murray Canal. The return trip was nearly accomplished when, it is supposed, a gust of wind struck the boat and capsized her. Four of the boys clung to the boat and were rescued. The other two, Bert Stanway and Jake Scriver, about 16 years of age, were drowned.

Death of Senator Ross.

QUEBEC, Oct. 2.—Senator James G. Ross, Quebec's millionaire merchant prince, died last evening at the residence of his brother, Holland house, near this city. Deceased was one of Canada's first merchants, and in point of wealth, probably, ranks first in this country after the Canadian Pacific Railway magnates.

Almost Two Thousand.

PORT ARTHUR, Oct. 2.—For the month of September 1991 immigrants passed through here for the Northwest.

ST. THOMAS TIDINGS.

Youthful Thieves—A Traveller Robbed—Pockets Picked at a Fair.

ST. THOMAS, Oct 2.—A number of boys entered a Michigan Central car which was being loaded at the freight house on Saturday afternoon, and broke open a box containing candies, shipped by Patterson Bros., Brantford, to J. A. Hicks, of Essex Centre. Eleven pounds of candy and three pounds of cakes were secured when the freight-house foreman appeared on the scene and captured William Brann and James Taylor, aged 11, and George Elliott and John Morrison, aged 9. The four lads, together with John Moore, were arraigned at the Police Court yesterday morning. The magistrate ordered that the value of the goods be paid by the accused to the M. C. R., and sentenced each to four hours in jail.

Mr. G. Mowat, traveller for Radford Bros. & Co. of Montreal, who was a guest at the Hutchinson House on Friday night, had a quantity of silk handkerchiefs, scarfs, shirts, umbrellas, etc., stolen from his samples. He notified the police and a search was made of trunks of the employes of the hotel. The trunk of Wm. German, who is a runner of the hotel, was searched and a number of the missing handkerchiefs were found in it, together with a large quantity of towels, slipper patterns and gloves that still have the sellers' marks on them. German was arrested yesterday and will be brought before the police magistrate to-day. He claims the handkerchiefs were given to him.

A number of persons were relieved of their money by pick-pockets at Aylmer Fair on Saturday. Amongst those whose pockets were picked was Miss Dunn, who was relieved of her purse and $25; Miss Clunas, whose loss is between $20 and $30; Mrs. Van Patlers, $38, and Mrs. W. R. Farthing, whose pocketbook contained a small amount of money and some keys. The thieves are supposed to be two professional pick-pockets, and Detective Clayton has the matter in hand.

SIR ALEX'S BUTLER.

How He Managed to Marry a Society Belle —Arrested at Chicago.

TORONTO, Oct. 2.—A lively story has just come to light here about the doings of Sir Alexander Cambell's butler, Wm. Henry Hitchcock, who came from Ottawa with Sir Alexander and remained in his employ till May last. Hitchcock, it is alleged, while living in Toronto, represented himself as a man of great wealth, telling his new made friends that he was proprietor of lands and mills in Muskoka of immense value. By cheek and indomitable energy he succeeded in getting the entree to the houses of very respectable families who were gulled and even charmed by his easy way of conducting himself. The result was that he managed to marry a society belle in secret. Subsequently he eloped with Alice Bryan, a maid at Government House. They went to Chicago as man and wife and were last week, at the instance of the man's secretly-wedded wife, whose game the paper withholds, arrested on a charge of immorality. Mrs. Hitchcock now sues for divorce from her deceiver.

THE WARRANT FOR BAXTER.

It Has Not Yet Been Endorsed but Probably Will Be To-day.

MONTREAL, Oct. 2.—The warrant for the arrest of Mr. James Baxter was received by Detective Reburn through the postoffice yesterday morning. The flaws which had been pointed out in the first warrant are corrected; the warrant states that the action against Barnett has been taken with the authorization of the Attorney-General of the Province of Ontario and James Baxter is ordered to appear in the City of Toronto before Magistrate Denison.

Immediately upon receipt of the warrant Detective Reburn proceeded to Judge Dugas' room and offered the warrant for endorsation. The Judge notified Mr. Baxter and his counsel, Mr. Donald MacMaster, Q.C., to appear before him at 10 o'clock if they had any arguments to offer why the warrant should not be endorsed. The arguments, however, were postponed until 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The warrant was not endorsed in the afternoon because Judge Dugas said he wanted to give Mr. MacMaster a chance to prepare steps to obtain a habeas corpus if the warrant be endorsed. Personally, he though the warrant was correct and that he had to endorse it, and it would require good arguments to show him the contrary.

The matter was postponed until to-day.

WENT BACK TO WORK.

The Trouble in Compton County Apparently Over—A Settlement Made.

SHERBROOKE, Oct. 2.—The Italians who had gathered at Sawyerville went to work yesterday upon the understanding that they are to receive September pay, and have their share of anything which may be left over in the final winding up of the estate left by the contractors whose whereabouts are yet unknown. Advices received last evening say that work has also been resumed on the southern end, all being quiet. The military, however, have not yet left for their homes.

AMBITIOUS CITY NEWS.

Opening of the Autumn Assizes—$2000 Damages Awarded in a Seduction Case.

HAMILTON, Oct. 2.—The Autumn Assizes opened yesterday. The first case brought on was an assessment of damages in the seduction suit of Peer v. Oles. Edgar Oles is a young farmer living in Brantford Township, Brant County. The evidence of the plaintiff, Nelson Peer, and his daughter, Martha Elizabeth Peer, showed that Oles courted the girl and seduced her during the process of "keeping company." He married another girl shortly before Miss Peer became a mother. No one appeared for the defence. The jury brought in a verdict for the plaintiff for the full amount of the claim, $2000.

The next case was Keating v. Rousseaux. This is a suit about "bucket-shop" margins, and was unfinished.

The trial of Frank Osborne in the Police Court, on the charge of committing an aggravated and indecent assault upon Mrs. Margaret Ferguson, of New-street, on Sept. 18, resulted in his acquittal.

Belleville Briefs.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 2.—Mr. Delew Ham, one of the pioneer farmers of the Towhsnip of Thurlow, passed away on Sunday at the age of 74, after a long and honorable life. Mr. Ham was at one time reeve of the township.

Mr. S. Clark Edwards, proprietor of the Commercial House, who has for some time been prostrated by an attack of paralysis, died Sunday morning, in his 45th year. Deceased, who leaves a widow and a family of five, was a member of the Masonic fraternity, by whom he was buried yesterday afternoon.

In the Police Court yesterday morning Wm. Arnott was fined $25 for assaulting Officer Stoneburg, and $5 for assaulting Officer Morton, in the discharge of their duty. Both fines were paid.

Boiler Explosion at Whitby.

WHITBY, Oct. 2.—By the explosion of the boiler of a traction engine on the fair grounds here late yesterday afternoon, W. G. Gibson, John Hurst and his son Duncan, aged 12, were badly scalded. The boiler was not shattered, but the water and steam bursting through the fire box caused the mischief.

LONDON'S LATEST HORROR

FURTHER PARTICULARS OF THE WHITECHAPEL MURDER.

Description of the Victims—The Butcher's Skill—Awful Degradation of the Slums —Inefficiency of the Police.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Previous despatches have told of the excitement and alarm caused in London by the sensational murders in Whitechapel. London is dreadfully frightened. Scores of women are hysterical. Tens of thousands could not possibly be induced to step out alone. Everyone, of course, expects fresh atrocities, and that is how things stand at present. It is not flattering to the police nor comforting to Londoners, who imagine themselves well protected. The following tells what is known of the fresh crimes, which, as an evidence of an almost unprecedented condition of the human mind, are more interesting to the philosopher even than to the simple citizen who likes to have his blood curdled:

About 1 o'clock Sunday morning a Russian Jew who sells jewelry from a custer cart was driving his pony home, intending himself to find relaxation with the members of an international socialist club, which is conveniently near his stable yard on Berners-street. At the entrance to his yard the pony shied, and after examination, what looked like a small pile of mud turned out to be a woman.

The police soon came and found nothing to do but turn faint at the sight of the horrible gash in the neck and the brutal blows on the head. The woman's body was still warm. Her blood was only partly congealed. Her throat was deeply cut as those of the former victims. She was lying on her back and her legs were drawn up as though in pain. The examination has caused the conclusion to be arrived at that the murderer stood with his left arm around the woman's neck, probably to stifle her cries, and cut her throat standing.

The woman's clothes had been disarranged, indicating the murderer's intention to practice the same mutilation of her person as on the other victims, but he was probably disturbed by some one going in or coming out of the club. There is no question as to the dead woman's character, but she apparently did not belong to the lowest class of unfortunate women. She was a dark brunette, under 40, with a comely face. Her black hair was neatly arranged. Her underclothing was clean. She wore two petticoats, and her dress was tidy though old. A crape bonnet with an evening paper stowed away in it, was on her head. On her breast was a small bunch of roses and ferns covered with blood.

A short walk of a quarter of a mile took the murderer to the scene of the second crime, also in Whitechapel. He must have shown a butcher's skill in remaining free of blood stains, as he could not have had time to rid himself of them, and with them could not have induced a second victim to go with him. This latest and most terrible butchery took place in a dark corner of Mitre-square, to which the unsuspecting woman doubtless conducted the murderer. The square is reached by a narrow entrance from Mitre-street, within a stonethrow of Leadenhall and Aldgate-streets, two of London's best known and most important thoroughfares. Mitre-square is a large dreary stone-paved yard about 120 feet square. It has three entrances, in one of which there is a street fire station and fire escape, with three men always on duty. Two sides of the square are occupied by warehouses and a private house occupied by Policeman Pearce. The third side is formed by a wholesale drug store, and the fourth by a warehouse, workshop and the backs of two unoccupied private houses, by the back wall of which the body was found. The square, which is a busy thoroughfare during business hours, but almost deserted after 7 or 8 p.m., is fairly well lighted as London streets go. Five lamps throw their light into it.

The murder was discovered by Constable Watkins, a member of the city of London police force organization, distinct from and superior to Warren's metropolitan force. The body was found at 1.45 a.m. in the southwest corner of the square, a spot that Watkins had passed on his beat a quarter of an hour before, which shows with what dispatch the woman-killer must have worked. The body was lying on its back on the footway, with the head toward the wall and the feet toward the carriageway. The head was inclined on the left side and both arms were extended outward. The left leg was straight out, and the right leg bent away from the body. The body was quite warm. Blood was all around, but it had not congealed, proving that the murderer must have gone just as the constable was approaching. Watkins sent for doctors, and while awaiting aroused the policeman Pierce, and the two taking courage together threw the light of their lamps on the corpse, which Watkins had not dared to do. It is not to be wondered at that the policeman has been too ill all day to answer questions. The woman's throat was cut from ear to ear, and half way round the head. Her clothes had been raised up to the chest and the body had been completely cut open from the pelvis to the chest. In addition a portion of the right ear was cut off and the nose was slashed half way through. The face was also slashed and cut in a most brutal fashion, and a portion of the intestines was placed in the gash around the neck. Several doctors arrived and examined the body. They found a prodigious quantity of blood, which had flowed chiefly from the throat, but the murderer had so carefully avoided it that not a single footmark could be traced.

The detailed description of the underclothing, etc., shows that the woman belonged to the lowest class of fallen women. On her left forearm "M" was tattooed in blue ink, which will doubtless cause her to be identified. Your correspondent has spent from early evening till past midnight wandering through the Whitechapel slums. The best idea of the awful degradation of the men there can be formed from a description of the women, whose ability to keep alive proves the existence of men so low as to consort with them. These wretched women swarm the streets by thousands even now, but keep close together and look sharply around for murderers, even while pretending to laugh and asking each other whose turn to be cut up will come next.

The language in which they speak of the fiend who has made it his business to murder them it is impossible to reproduce. Such profanity and hideously foul language as may be heard coming from the groups of women at any Whitechapel corner can probably not be heard anywhere else. Some of these poor animals have actually grown old in their misery, shrivelled, horrible, gin-soaked hags, who fight and quarrel on the gutter's edge, and to approach within yards of whom is torture. The younger women, the queens of these slums, are even more distressing to look at. Some are mere girls, almost children, but all celebrate any stroke of fortune by getting drunk.

No new theory worth mentioning has been put forward. It is evident that the police are not going to do much. The murderer has promised to murder twenty in all.

Halifax Notes.

HALIFAX, Oct. 2.—The York and Lancaster regiments embarked on the troopship Orontes yesterday, and sail for the West Indies to-day.

A great naval, military and militia review will be held here next Monday.

The weather was exceedingly wintry yesterday.

The Daily Review.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1888.

WHAT DOES HE MEAN?

In the REVIEW yesterday was published a despatch sent out from New York and signed by Mr. Erastus Wiman, the father of the commercial union movement in Canada, saying that the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs was arranging to ask Great Britain to unite Canada with the Republic. This despatch has a little history. First a despatch was received from the Northwestern telegraph office by the Toronto papers asking them to receive a despatch from Mr. Wiman. The despatch, as published, followed, and after that came another from the telegraph company asking to withdraw Mr. Wiman's statement. The Globe and Mail permitted the withdrawal, in obedience to Mr. Wiman's request (for he controls the telegraph company), but the Empire and other papers published it.

The question is, What did the manœuvring mean? Is the Senate Committee considering such a move and did Mr. Wiman make it public too soon? Or was the despatch sent out as a feeler? It may be taken for granted that if such a movement is on foot Mr. Wiman knows about it. His fellow commercial unionists on the other side—such as Mr. Butterworth and Mr. Hill—are Republicans. The Senate Committee has a Republican majority, and its Chairman, Senator Sherman, who advocated the annexation of Canada in the open Senate, is a leader of that party. The somewhat mysterious telegram was a part of the plot and what part it was calculated to play may come out more definitely soon. The Globe is putting out a feeler also as to the opinions of the people regarding the future of Canada and is asking all and sundry to send to it their views on a postal card.

In view of these machinations the attitude of the people should be the same as they assumed in regard to the retaliation threat. They should, and will, quietly await events, prepared to "hold their own" as Britons, and to strike down at the ballot box any treacherous politicians who show favor to the movement having for its aim, openly or more concealed, the union of the Dominion with the Republic.

Runaway Accident

Yesterday afternoon between three and four o'clock the delivery horse of Mr. A. Letellier, baker, ran away, upsetting the bake cart and severely bruising the driver, Mr. Joseph Black. The horse started off on Aylmer-st. and ran north, turning the corner of Hunter-st., where one of the wheels struck a large stone in front of Mr. R. H. Green's grocery store. This threw the rig over on one side, against the sidewalk, in front of Mr. Fee's store, and prevented the horse from going any further, although it still continued to kick and plunge wildly. M. Letellier's waggon is arranged so that the driver sits inside in the centre; this seemed to prevent Mr. Black from having full control of the horse which he was trying to stop, and when the rig was thrown over he fell underneath it. Mr. R. H. Green, who happened to see the runaway passing his store, ran out to Mr. Black's assistance and succeeded in getting him from under the cart. It was then found that one of his legs was very badly bruised, that he was severely hurt in several other places and blood was rushing from his nose and mouth. He was taken into Mr. Green's store, where his wounds were washed and dressed and when he had somewhat recovered was taken to his home. Dr. King was then called in and found him very much shaken up but no bones broken. The horse and rig, which was very little damaged, were taken to Mr. T. Laplant's blacksmith shop, and returned in the evening to Mr. Letellier.

In Brief and to the Point.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healt and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Early Closing.

DEAR SIR,—As I had occasion to go down the street last night, I stopped to speak to a young man, and while we talked a young woman and boy tried a store door near by, but could not at first get admittance. However, in a moment or two the door was opened and the two admitted. Time 7.20. Some little time after they came out, the boy carrying a large parcel. Now, sir, if the early closing law is not going to be enforced, we had better know it, and not have a few sharks remain open doing business, while honest, law abiding citizens are closed at the proper time.

I hope the Chief of Police will attend to this matter at once. I do not wish to inform, but the above facts can be proved by several reliable witnesses. Thanking you for allowing me this space,

I am, yours truly,

TEA!

A Chinese writer says: "To make good tea it is an old custom to use running water boiled over a lively fire. That from springs in the hills is the best, and river water next, while well water is the worst. Do not boil the water too hastily; at first it begins to sparkle like crab's eyes, then, somewhat like fishes' eggs, and lastly it boils up like pearls innumerable springing and waving about. This is the way to boil the water."

If you like a splendid cup of tea try one of the many brands in stock. The price varies with the quality. Splendid Teas at low prices. Better Teas a trifle higher. The best not dear and well worth the moderate price asked.

BURGLARY AT NORWOOD.

The Safe in Cumming's Mill Blown Open and $295 Stolen.

Burglars were again at work in Norwood on Saturday night. About ten weeks ago Mr. Cumming, sr., father of Mr. J. D. Cumming, proprietor of the woollen mill, came to Norwood from Cornwall, and he had $295n deposited in the safe. The safe was blown open and the money taken.

When the post office in the village was burglarized some time ago the chisels used in the job were taken from Mr. McMillan's blacksmith shop and were recovered. On Saturday night three chisels were taken from the same shop, but they have not been found. The woollen mill is on the east side of the village, near the grist mill, and there are no houses near it. With the tools taken from the blacksmith shop was effected. The burglars then drilled five holes in the door of the safe, but seem to have been unable to succeed in that way. Another hole was bored in the top of the safe and widened by a pick, the point of the pick being bent by the operation. To deaden the noise blankets were wrapped around the safe, just as had been done on the occasion of the post office robbery. Powder was inserted and the DOOR BLOWN OPEN.

This gave the thieves access to the safe and they opened the locked drawer in which Mr. Cumming, sr., had the $295 and carried off all of it.

The blankets around the safe took fire, but the burglars threw them outside and they also saturated the floor with water to prevent fire. The thieves escaped with their booty and nothing was known of the midnight visit until next morning. Three drills used in opening the safe were left behind and were found in the morning.

At Smith's Falls.

The Smith's Falls News of Sept. 27th says:—"The organ recital held in the Baptist church last Friday night was a pronounced success. The church was well filled and the programme fully carried out. The beautiful new pipe organ was manipulated by Prof. A. E. Carter, organist of St. Andrew's church, Peterborough, and his playing was greatly admired and appreciated by the large audience....The singing of Miss Lily Jackson, of Peterborough, daughter of the organ builder of that city, brought forth rapturous and continued applause." The Record says:—"It is not often that the people of Smith's Falls are given as enjoyable an evening as that of last Friday, on the occasion of the opening of the new pipe organ in the Baptist church. It was truly a musical evening, and to the well trained choir together with the sweet toned organ, the large audience present was indebted for a couple of hours' rare entertainment. The organ is of rich and mellow tone, quite powerful enough for the church, and under Prof. Carter's skillful fingering pleased everyone....Miss Lily Jackson was a surprise to everyone. Although not more than twelve or thirteen years old she has a strong rich voice, well cultivated and under good control. When she had finished her solo, the audience, forgetful of everything but the sweetness of her singing, gave her hearty and spontaneous applause. The recital was a great success in every way and gave general satisfaction to all who attended."

FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT.

Councillor A. HALL read the report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, as follows:—

To the Mayor and Corporation:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Fire, Water and Light Committee beg leave to report and recommend that the petition of Meldrum & Davidson, A. W. Brodie and others be granted, to have three hydrants placed on Rackes-st.

Also the petition of James Bogue, Thos. J. Moore and others be granted, asking the Water Co. to extend their mains on Dublin-st. from George to Aylmer-st.

Your Committee has considered the matter of lighting the outlying streets with electric light and would recommend this Council to take the number required at the reduced rate of $60 per annum and cancel the gas lamps when not required. And that the committee be authorized to have them put up and ready for lighting by December 1st, 1888, and that the gas lamps not required terminate on the same date.

Your Committee consider the following points the most suitable places for the electric light. One electric light each at Auburn, corner of Cemetery and Water-sts., George and Argyle, Smith and Water, Edinburgh and Rubidge, Reid and London, Brock and Reid, Brock and Stewart, Hunter and Downie, Charlotte and Rubidge, Sherbrooke and Park, Albert and Park, Aylmer and Townsend, George and Perry, Crescent and Water, and Aylmer and Lake, sixteen lights in all, and cancel 24 gas lamps.

We have at present in use 23 electric lights at $75—$1,725, and 33 gas lamps at $20—$1,660, a total of $3,385, and recommend 39 electric lights at $60—$2,340, and 57 gas lamps at $20—$1,140, a total of $3,480; an increase of $95 per annum.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ADAM HALL,
Chairman.

Councillor HALL, in answer to Councillor Moore, said that there were 60 hydrants at $50 and two at $40.

Councillor DOUGLAS complained that the part of the town west of Park-st. was given no light.

A discussion took place regarding the three hydrants recommended for Race-st., and the report was amended to read two hydrants on Race-st. and one on the corner of London and Waterford-sts.

Councillor DOUGLAS moved, seconded by Councillor MOORE,—That an electric light be placed on Elm-st., about half way between Park-st. and the boundary, and that this be added to the report.

The CLERK, at the request of the Mayor, read a clause from the contract with the Gas Co., dated 1881 and for five years, which required from the town six months notice before the end of the year to terminate the contract.

Councillor CAHILL put in a claim on behalf of Rubidge-st., south of Charlotte, King-st., west of Stewart, and Chamberlen-st. for light. He moved that an electric light be placed on Chamberlen-st.

Councillor E. H. D. HALL said it seemed to him that the lights proposed by the Committee, on high poles, would light almost the whole town.

Councillor CAHILL brought up the subject of keeping lights all night on George-st.

The report was again amended to state that "the electric poles be the same height as those recently erected."

It was suggested that gas lamps be kept burning on George-st. from 12 o'clock till morning.

Councillor A. HALL said that the Gas Co. might put in an offer and they could secure an offer from the Electric Light Company.

Councillor MOORE moved, seconded by Councillor DOUGLAS,—That a lamp be provided on Bon-Accord-st. and two on Elm-st.

The report was adopted, the amendments being referred to the Committee along with the all night lighting question.

SIDEWALKS WANTED.

Councillor KENDRY moved, seconded by Councillor LANGFORD,—That the Street Inspector be instructed to lay down a sidewalk on Railway-st., east from Water-st. to the railway bridge,—Carried.

THE GOOSE POND.

Councillor LANGFORD moved, seconded by Councillor KENDRY,—That the Street Inspector be instructed to place a fence on the side of Water-st. at the place known as the Goose Pond.—Carried.

THE SEWER.

Councillor LANGFORD moved, seconded by Councillor DOUGLAS,—That the sewer be opened at the corner of George and Hunter-sts., to ascertain the cause of stoppage.—Carried.

THE CREEK AND SEWERAGE.

Councillor E. H. D. HALL said that since Paterson's dam was lowered the stench from the creek was intolerable, and something ought to be done, on account of the creek being used as a sewer. He suggested in appointment of a committee to consider the construction of a sewer down the bed of the creek. He moved that a committee be appointed, consisting of Councillors Cahill, Moore, Langford and the mover.

Councillor MOORE said the committee should also consider the question of arrangements with Mr. Paterson to get relieved from his dam, which caused cost through the blocking of the ice.

Councillor HALL agreed to add that to the motion.

The motion was adopted.

MARKET ACCOMMODATION.

Councillor CAHILL moved, seconded by Councillor DAVIDSON,—That a special committee be appointed for the purpose of considering the advisability of providing better market accommodation and also of a place in which to keep the fire department horses other than where they are now kept, the committee to be composed of Councillors Davidson, Winch, E. H. D. Hall, Moore, Douglas, Langford and Kendry, and that they report to the Council.

Councillor CAHILL said Peterborough had an attendance on the market next to Toronto, and high prices were paid here, yet the accommodation was entirely inadequate.

The motion was adopted and the Council adjourned to the call of the Mayor.

It is Absurd

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

HAND TO HAND.

By REBECCA HARDING DAVIS.

The stock was taken.

He stood quiet a moment, and then sopped his face with his ragged white handkerchief. It was strangely composed and grave. He went to a closet and took down from the orderly shelves a bottle full of dark brown liquid, from which he half filled a goblet, which he placed ready on the mantel shelf; then, as though doubting its efficacy, he took out a tiny vial full of white powder, and hid it in his pocket. Unlocking a desk, he took out an old leather covered Bible, yellow with age, and began turning over the leaves, to find the family record.

He read it over, as he had done every day since he gave the boy up. He fancied God came as near to him in those words as he could in any others in that book. It was the only page which he ever read. She had written them there.

"She knows whether I've loved her and you, Jack," stooping to kiss the faded writing. "Your old father shall never be a weight on you, boy." He opened a knife and cut the leaf. It was loose now; he held it in his hand and stooped over the fire irresolute. After all, his real hold on life for a good many years had been through that page; as it began to crisp, he glanced up quickly at the goblet, then out of the square dormer window. Lights were beginning to gleam in the houses beyond the Schuylkill, the sky warmed red as cinnabar in the frosty sunset, while wisps of feathery smoke from some passing steamer wavered across it. The world gave him a friendly look—for the last.

He threw the paper in the fire, put out his hand for the goblet—when there was a sudden soft flurry behind him, and two nervous little hands were clapped over his eyes. The next thing was a hearty kiss right on his mouth.

"Why, Madeline! child! is it you?"

"Of course it is not me! there are so many pretty girls stealing in to kiss you without leave! Oh dear, I'm quite frozen, Uncle Dan!"

She looked as if she were; her chubby, dimpled face was blue, and the rimy drops stood in her eyes. She perched herself up on the major's chair, beating her hands in their woolen gloves together. "If you only could unlace my boots! My feet haven't had a bit of feeling for an hour. Five miles did they tramp. I didn't want to break the note for car fare. It's the half yearly pay day, you know. Just look at it," fumbling in her bosom under her sack and bringing out warm and crisp a bright new note. "I couldn't sleep until we'd both seen it and—gone halves!" winking with both eyes and laughing all over in the most ridiculous, lovable way. The major had taken off her shoes, and stood with them in his hands looking down at her. She was so alive with beauty, warm blooded and happy! She seemed to come to him like sudden youth or summer in this last desperate hour. There hung about her even the faint scent of roses. It seemed so easy to come back to sit down beside his little daughter, who loved him with all her honest heart, and be happy and jolly and alive as always.

But he knew what he had to do.

"How long are you going to stay, Maddy?" to close it. At that moment Maddy caught sight of a yellow bit of writing on the hearth, stooped, picked it up. She nodded as she read it without surprise.

"His son! And Jack wants the old man now to deny it? Not to stand in his way!"

The first hint about that poor white rabbit Clara had turned her blood to gall. She was suddenly bitter and unjust as death to Jack, to whom she had given her whole life of patient, sweet tempered trust.

The steps came nearer. The poor old major backed toward the inner door, his uncouth face white and wet. "I'm not well. I'm going to lie down on your bed. Take him away with you, Maddy. I can't see either of you to-night." Yet even then it gave him a vague pleasure to hear how light and gay and resolute the boy's steps were.

Maddy came quietly between him and the door. "No, we will both see this Jack, who puts you out of his way."

The door opened. There was the old short, stout built Jack! The old sturdy, honest face under the same fur cap, the twitch in the mouth ready to make a joke at anybody or at himself.

"Why, Maddy? I did not hope to see you here, little woman," giving her a brotherly shake of the hand, and so figuratively setting her aside. How the dull morbid shadows that had filled the room crept aside before him! Madeline felt that her life had been but a passionate dream. Practical, common sense people on the same plane of society saw each other a month ago in Chicago, and married rationally. And why should a practical, rational man encumber himself with this late discovered father, with his undoubtedly unwholesome fancies and stagey habits?

"Maj. Standish"—Jack with all his hearty manner was embarrassed—"I came to speak to you on business of importance. You have no secrets from Maddy?"

"Don't speak, boy! For God's sake! In a little while I will set it all right! Wait one minute!" retreating to the door.

"But I won't wait." Jack had his hands on the major's shoulders and forced him down on a chair. His face flushed as he spoke, and his voice grew unsteady. "Look at this old man, Madeline. Twenty years ago he came here a healthy, middle aged man, with a comfortable living and a son; a boy that he could have educated plainly and had to work for him and be a companion as he grew old. But what does he do? Puts the boy where he will be tended like a prince, be clothed in purple and fine linen, gives up his income to him, while he—look at this cockloft, Maddy! Look—here!" He put his hand on the old man's head and drew it through the thin white hair. Once or twice he began to speak but stopped. At last he said: "I know the gifts you have made to him, the insults you bore, that I might sleep soft and live warm! It's well I do know them all. You will never want the care of a son again, so help me God!"

"Yes, yes, I knew you would say that," cried the major. "But of what use was it all! You have ruined yourself. I know what I am. Who told you this?"

"A man who came from Virginia to find you."

"What does he want."

The Beaverton Perjury Case

BEAVERTON, Oct. 2.—The charge of perjury brought against Rev. T. McKee, Methodist minister, of this place, has been dismissed. The preliminary investigation was held before four magistrates. There is some talk of another charge.

CHICAGO WHEAT MARKET.

The wheat market at Chicago yesterday was again very active and greatly unsettled, more so than during the closing days of last week, and a nervous, feverish feeling prevailed. Prices were advanced some 4½c and 4¾c above the closing prices of Saturday, closing about 2c higher for October, 2¾c for December, and 3½c higher for May than the closing figures of Saturday. At the early advance, or when December touched $1.08, there was a halt in the advance and a reaction set in, prices dropping off ½ to ½ between trades, and in a few seconds dropped from $1.07 to $1.05½. Later the market ruled more quiet, advancing some and closed steady.

BLOCKED BY THE BROKER.

DETECTIVE REBURN LEAVES MONTREAL WITHOUT BAXTER.

A Writ of Prohibition Issued on the Ground That an Important Question of Law is Involved.

MONTREAL, Oct. 2.—The Baxter warrant is not signed yet. Mr. Donald McMaster, Q. C., this morning made a motion before Judge Mathieu for a writ of prohibition against Judge Dugas restraining him from signing the warrant on the ground that the case against Barnett, in which Mr. Baxter is alleged to be an important witness, is not a case de facto before the court as Barnett is in England, is not a prisoner, is not actually in court and on his defence against an indictment. No witness can under such circumstances, Mr. McMaster contended, be forced to appear in a court.

Sergeant Detective Reburn arrived at Judge Dugas' room at 11 o'clock sharp this morning, waiting patiently for the appearance of Mr. Baxter and his counsel. As the latter gentlemen had not arrived at 10.30 the rumor was spread that Mr. Baxter had of his own accord left for Toronto. This, rumor, however, was quickly dispelled when the gentleman in question appeared on the scene at 10.35 o'clock, and was looking for his counsel.

At 12 o'clock, Mr. Justice Mathieu granted the writ of prohibition and had it served upon Judge Dugas immediately with the order to return all the proceedings to the Superior Court. Judge Dugas immediately complied and sent the papers up stairs.

The writ of prohibition is returnable on Oct. 23, and in the event of its being dissolved an appeal can be taken which may go even as far as the Privy Council. Thus it may be years before the case is finally decided

When Mr. Baxter was seen after the proceedings in Court he appeared perfectly at his ease, remarking that the law point raised by his counsel was a good one and that all the judges of the Superior Court concurred in this view. "It's a bigger contract than they calculated upon, taking me against my will to Toronto," he said, with a merry sparkle in his eye. Mr. Justice Mathieu granted the writ of prohibition on the ground that an important question of law is raised by Mr. Baxter's petition.

A FEARFUL GALE.

Disasters in the Upper Lakes—The Cuba Two Days Late.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Despatches from points on Lakes Michigan and Superior yesterday announced that a fearful gale was blowing, and that vessels unsheltered would have a hard time last night. No arrivals from across the lake have been noted since Sunday morning. The passenger steamer Cuba from Montreal, due Sunday morning, has not yet arrived, but it is thought that she is in shelter somewhere this side of the Manitous. The severest part of the storm was felt in Chicago this morning at 6 o'clock, the temperature being almost at freezing.

A Duluth special says that the schooner Brandon has been lost that the schooner Jennie is adrift, that the Regina is water-logged and that the lake tug Walker was badly battered in last night's storm.

KILLED BY A BLOW.

Corporal Clancey's Mysterious Death at Halifax—Suicide of Lieut. Edwards.

HALIFAX, Oct. 2.—Lance Corporal J. Clancey of the West Riding Regiment died this morning in the Military Hospital from the effects of the blow on the head received on the night of Sept. 29 while on duty. Although quite sensible up to the time of his death he could not tell how or by whom he was struck.

The startling report was received to-day that Lieut. Edwards of the Royal Artillery had committed suicide at Plymouth, Eng., where he has been stationed lately, by shooting himself with a revolver, Lieut. Edwards was stationed in Halifax for some time and left here a year or so ago.

Chinese Exclusion.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—In the Senate today Mr. Jones of Nevada offered a resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations, requesting the President to negotiate treaties with the Government of Her Britannic Majesty, and with the Republic of Mexico, respectively, for the exclusion of Chinese laborers from the North American continent, and for the prevention of their entrance into the United States from the territory of either of such Governments or from dependencies thereof.

Forger Foster.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—A special meeting of the Board of Managers of the Produce Exchange was held yesterday and by an unanimous vote William Foster, jr., late Counsel to the Exchange and the mortgage forger, was expelled from membership. It is understood that the detectives instead of working about Canada, as has been represented, are looking for Foster around Spanish ports and the Gulf of Mexico.

The Yellow Fever.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—There are 21 cases of fever under treatment at Fernandina, Fla. No deaths are reported since Sept. 26.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 3.—The prospect is a bright one. For the 24 hours ending at 6 p. m. yesterday not one death from yellow fever has been reported. This is the first instance of a like record in many weeks. Aside from this hopeful outlook the situation presents no new features. The number of new cases was 98, of which 32 were colored.

Revolver Burglars.

SMITH'S FALLS, Oct. 2.—A hardware store here was burglarized on Saturday night. Three revolvers and some other articles were stolen. No clue.

MERCIER'S PROGRAMME.

A Magistrates' Court to Be Established Under the Act of 1869.

QUEBEC, Oct. 2.—L'Electeur's statements this morning leave no doubt that the Mercier Government has decided to issue the disallowance proclamation in the case of the Magistrate's Bill and to establish a Magistrates' Court in Montreal under the Act of 1869, which was never and cannot now be disallowed. It claims this line of conduct to be the duty of the hour, as it repeats its assertion that there was a regular plot concerted by the representatives of this Province in the Federal Government to force a conflict between the Lieutenant-Governor and his advisers and precipitate a Ministerial crisis.

The paper says that Mr. Mercier will not lend himself to the enemy's game, and will submit for the time being to the requirements of the constitution, reserving his right to afterwards fight the disallowance by all the constitutional means at his disposal, but as it is also his duty to restore order in the Montreal Courts he will at once exercise the power conferred upon him by the law of 1869 and name a Magistrates' Court at Montreal, which the Federal Government cannot veto. This court will be presided over by Messrs. Barry and Champagne, who will be re-appointed.

HOT TIMES EXPECTED.

The Free Press' Charges Against the Manitoba Government Creating Excitement.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 2.—Premier Greenway is credited with the intention of suing Luxton, of The Free Press, for criminal libel in connection with the serious charges recently made.

The Legislature meets on Oct. 16, when, it is expected, there will be a hot time, as some Liberals believe the accusations of The Free Press.

Col. Scoble, of the Manitoba Central, writes to The Sun this evening denying that the company furnished The Free Press with information regarding the deal with the Government.

ELGIN FALL ASSIZES.

A Decision of Interest to Beneficiary Societies—The Yarwood Cases.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 3.—The time of the Elgin Assize Court was taken up nearly all yesterday in the hearing of the action, Wells against The Independent Order of Foresters, brought by Minnie Wells, of Aylmer to recover an insurance of $1000 on the life of her father, an Aylmer dentist, who died about four years ago. The claim was contested on the ground that the local lodge at Aylmer had acted contrary to the constitution of the Order in reinstating Wells as a member within a certain time after he had been suspended. The plaintiff took the ground that it was a case of master and servant, and the action of the local lodge was binding upon the higher courts, in which view his lordship concurred, and entered a verdict for $1000.

The Yarwood cases have been traversed to the next assizes.

YOU'RE STABBED, DON'T YOU KNOW.

Murdering a Man While Smiling at Him—The Crime Without Known Cause.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Brundage H. Welton, who is one of the best-known insurance men in Central New York, was standing in the cigar store of Wilcox Brothers, in Bainbridge, when William Gilbert, a cigar maker, walked in and, stepping up to him, punched him in the side, as was supposed with his fist. Welton said "Don't punch a fellow that way, you hurt."

"But you're stabbed, don't you know," grinned Gilbert, punching him again. "Look and see." Welton unbuttoned his coat and the bystanders were horrified to see a great quantity of blood.

"Didn't know it, eh?" chuckled Gilbert, as he drove his blade, a long jack-knife, into his victim a third time. The murderer was at once secured and taken from the populace, who would have lynched him. Welton will die and his wife, who is in delicate health, can hardly survive the shock. There is no cause for the murder, and it is generally supposed that Gilbert is crazy.

Wild Fluctuations in Wheat.

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Fluctuations in wheat were again wild and rapid yesterday and the feeling unsettled and nervous, but aggregate trading fell far short of the previous day, and the most of that in the way of evening up and settling up trades. There is no doubt a general disposition on the part of operators to close up trades, and commission houses unquestionably are advising their customers to do so, and hold off until the market becomes more settled, though the last half of the session developed more active trading. The opening was very unsettled and prices varied widely in different parts of the crowd. There was a good many buying orders at the start and but little wheat to be had at the first prices mentioned. The advance in consequence was sharp and rapid and prices were soon up 3 and 3¼c. above inside figures, later dropped back 1½c. and fluctuated within this range, became firm and advanced ¾ and 1c. above previous outside figures and closed strong and 2c. higher for October, 2 7-8 for December, and 3 1-8c. higher for May than closing figures of Monday.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The trading in wheat here yesterday afternoon was marked by great excitement. The transactions were enormous and fluctuations very wild.

Cupid's Flame Lighted Arson's Torch.

LYNN, Mass., Oct. 3.—Delia A. Ruggles, a dressmaker, 23 years old, was arrested yesterday forenoon, charged with setting fire to the house in which she lived, Saturday evening. She says she was about to be married and had a considerable insurance on articles of wearing apparel. She set fire to the house with a view to raising the money. She will be held on a charge of arson. The house was fired in five different places.

A Marriage That Was a Bad Failure.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3.—Hattie Flack, the 19-year-old daughter of Charles E. Flack, of the St. Louis firm of Shirmer & Flack, who married a mulatto named Pres Sams, the hired man on her father's farm near Jacksonville, Ill., is at home again. She was brought to St. Louis and turned over to her parents by Deputy Sheriff McCoy of Jacksonville, who found her near Moscow, Ky. Sams fled to escape lynching. The negro was a married man.

Morton's Letter of Acceptance.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Hon. Levi P. Morton, Republican candidate for Vice-President, has issued his letter accepting the nomination. He deals almost entirely with the trade issue and favors the party policy of protection. It is said that Judge Thurman, the Democratic nominee, will not issue a letter of acceptance, having verbally notified the committee of his acceptance.

Fiendish Train Wreckers Foiled.

WENONA, Ill., Oct. 3.—A fiendish attempt to wreck a heavily loaded excursion train was made on the Dwight branch of the Chicago and Alton road between Wanona and Lacona. Kerosene was poured on the ties and stringers of a small culvert, rags were saturated in the oil and all set on fire. It was discovered by the engineer just in time to avoid another Chatsworth horror.

ANOTHER LONDON HORROR

THE TRUNK OF A WOMAN FOUND ON THE THAMES EMBANKMENT.

The Head, Arms, and Legs Missing—The Remains in an Advanced Stage of Decomposition.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The trunk of a woman was found in a recess of the new police offices on the Thames embankment this afternoon. The head, arms and legs were missing. The remains, which were in an advanced state of decomposition, were wrapped in rough cloth and tightly bound with cord. It is believed that the arms recently found at Pimlico and Lambeth were cut from this body.

The Whitechapel Murders.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The excitement occasioned by the latest Whitechapel murders increased rather than abated yesterday and to-day. The police have made no progress in their efforts to establish a clue to the murderer and have further lost public confidence in their efficiency by the fact that the persons arrested on suspicion of connection with the tragedies were released to-day for want of even a scintilla of evidence upon which to justify their retention in custody. They profess to be hopeful of success, however, and many people are inclined to hope with them in the absence of any suspicion in their own mind, even remotely defined, as to the criminal's motive, calling or identity. The private rewards offered for his arrest added to that of the Lord Mayor bring the total sum up to £1200, and it is likely that it will soon reach £2000.

Dr. Forbes Winslow and Sir Risdon Bennett and other medical experts express themselves as more than ever convinced that the perpetrator of the crimes is a homicidal lunatic. The fact that the latest murders were committed within the jurisdiction of the city police has created a sharp rivalry between that body and Gen. Warren's metropolitan detectives. Many wagers have been laid upon the question of the murderer's capture, with the odds largely in favor of the city police force solving the mystery and landing the fiend in jail. It is now proposed to send a circular to every householder in the East End requesting the details of the movements, habits, etc., of their respective lodgers. The theory has largely obtained support today that the murderer has two domiciles, one probably as a shop or surgery, to which he retires for the purpose of removing the traces of his crime, and the other a dwelling house where he is known as a lodger, whose habits and manners make him a desirable tenant till the estimation of his landlady. The police are being urged to station bloodhounds in the Whitechapel district, in the hope that they may be able by their keenness of scent to run the fiend down when he seeks a fresh victim.

An inquest was held to-day on the body of the woman found murdered in a narrow court off Berners-street Monday morning. A sister of the victim was called and deposed that she awoke at 12 o'clock Monday morning and heard kisses and a sound which she thought was made by a person falling to the ground. She was convinced that her sister was dead, and after reading the accounts of the murder in the newspapers, went to the morgue and recognized the body of the murdered woman as that of her sister. The house in which the witness resides is several miles from Berners-street. The murder is believed to have been committed about 12.50 o'clock Sunday morning.

Wales Off for Bucharest.

PESTH, Oct. 3.—The Prince of Wales departed yesterday for Bucharest.

Prof. Geffeken's Trial Concluded.

BERLIN, Oct. 3.—The trial of Prof Geffeken at Hamburg was closed yesterday. The case was remitted to the Supreme Court at Leipsic.

Sitting For His Portrait.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The Prince of Wales has been giving sittings to Professor Angeli during his stay in Vienna for a portrait which is intended as a present to the Crown Prince of Austria. The Prince of Wales is to be depicted in the uniform of the 12th Austrian Hussars, a blue tunic with gold frogs, red breeches and Hessian boots, and wearing the Hungarian order of St. Stephen and the Garter.

Patrick O'Brien, M. P., Released.

DUBLIN, Oct. 3.—Patrick O'Brien, Nationalist member of Parliament, was released from Kilkenny jail yesterday. He had been in prison for seven months for offences under the Crimes Act. He looks worn and pale. He was given an enthusiastic reception by the priests and people of the place.

Mr. Gladstone Arranging His Letters.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Mr. Gladstone is occupied at Hawarden with a duty most men leave to executors. He is arranging his correspondence. It is a herculean labor. Not only is he putting into chronological order the letters of a political character, but also all papers on subjects he thought worthy of consideration during his life. We may well marvel at his octogenarian vitality. It is extremely characteristic of Mr. Gladstone to take this labor upon himself. In these days of posthumous publications it is a wise precaution. Lord Beaconsfield left his papers in inextricable confusion. Lord Rowton has never yet been able to make a methodical arrangement of them. The work of arranging and classifying may be one of years.

Dr. Mackenzie's Book.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Dr. Morrell Mackenzie is heavily handicapped. He has been absolutely debarred from obtaining any copies of official documents, while free access to them is allowed his adversaries. At the very last moment he was compelled by certian august personages to suppress the reproduction of an autograph statement of Emperor Frederick, which reflected on the conduct of Professor Bergmann in the strongest possible language. The twenty illustrations which appear will, doubtless, excite a great deal of interest. Most important are the carefully prepared diagrams showing that Professor Bergmann made a false passage. The various stages of the growth in the patient's throat are illustrated by woodcuts. The book may be roughly divided into a narrative of the medical controversy and statistics. In the first chapter is a graphic description of the first consultation at Kron Prinz Palais. The historical portion concludes with the deathbed scene. The second part will principally interest the medical profession. In the third, Dr. Mackenzie proves almost inevitably the fatal consequences of thyrotomy. In the ninth chapter is an eloquent sketch of the personal character of the Emperor. Dr. Mackenzie has labored under countless difficulties, but no medical work is ever likely to cause so profound a sensation. He dedicates it to no one, but has chosen the pungent motto from Shakespeare: "What trick, what device, what starting-hole can's thou now find to hide thee from thy open and apparent shame?"

Up Goes Flour in England.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The Corn Millers Association at a meeting held at Leeds, yesterday, advanced the price of flour 1s. 6d., a rise of seven shillings per bag within seven weeks. The advance is due to the poor condition of English and the increased value of foreign wheat.

The Daily Review.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1888.

EAST NORTHUMBERLAND.

THE East Northumberland seat in the Legislature is vacant—also the registrarship of the same division of the county. The Globe therefore feels called upon to say that "there is no truth in the report that Mr. Ferris or any other person has been appointed registrar of Northumberland." Does the Globe mean to quibble by using the name Northumberland instead of East Northumberland? It further says that "the Government has given all applicants to understand that no appointment will be made or promise given during the pendency of the election." That is doubtful, very doubtful. Of course no public announcement will be made, but no promises! Pshaw, everyone who wants the office will be given to understand that it is within his reach. That is why no announcement is made during the pendency of the election. It is to be used to make votes for Mr. Mowat and the little matter of making no promises will not stand in the way of its being used to the most advantage. At the same time Mr. Ferris may even now be appointed. Mr. Mowat stated in the Legislature that certain appointments had not been made, while the fact was that they had been made some time before. Perhaps Mr. Mowat's memory is again playing tricks with him.

That is not the only office vacant in East Northumberland. Smaller offices than registrarships can be kept open "during the pendency of an election" by the Ontario Government. The bailiffship of one Division Court is vacant, and there is more than one aspirant for the position who feels sure of getting it—after the election. Business in the court was interfered with, and suitors appealed to the powers that be to have a bailiff appointed, but that could not be done—until after the election. A pro-tem appointment has since been made, a bailiff from another division having been given double duties—until after the election. And thus this second office can still be made use of—during the pendency of the election.

No promises made? Of course not! Yet men can be made to feel sure of getting the registrarship—aye, and even look to placing a friend in the office as assistant—and others to understand that the bailiff's office will be theirs—always after the election. Business may be interferred with, and inconvenience felt, but Mr. Mowat must influence votes—during the pendency of an election.

REVIEWS.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.—The October issue of Harper's Magazine is fully up to the very high standard invariably maintained by this excellent publication. The contents are varied and such as form an attractive literary menu. Into the initial article, "Limoges and its Industries," Mr. Theodore Child has condensed a vast amount of information about ceramics. It contains ten excellent illustrations of porcelains and enamels. The poetry consists mainly of "Old English Songs," the words of which have long been familiar to lovers of English literature, with many illustrations. "Western Journalism" is a summary of what can be said on this subject by that impartial and fair-minded newspaper man, Z. L. White, a long time correspondent of the New York Tribune at Washington. There are many portraits of western editors incorporated in the article, the value of which is thus immensely increased. There are more pages than usual of fiction in this number. "In Far Lochaber," by Mr. Black, is continued, as well as Mr. Howells's "Annie Kilburn," and both are of marked interest. "Neptune's Shore" is liberally illustrated, and is one of Miss Woolson's best short stories. "La Veretto and the Carnival in St. Pierre, Martinique," by Lafcadio Hearn, is so true to life that it can hardly be classed under the head of fiction. "Home Uses of Mineral Waters" contains the results of Dr. Titus Munson Coan's investigation as to the best kind of waters to drink. St. Louis and Kansas City are the main topics of Mr. Charles Dudley Warner's article on "The Great West" in this number. "Our Journey to the Hebrides" is the second paper on this subject by Mr. and Mrs. Pennell. It is constructed on the same lines as its predecessor, and furnishes graphic views of Scottish scenery and wretchedness. Mr. Curtis in the Easy Chair is grave and gay, and writes of Partisan Misrepresentations of Public Men, of the Wild West Show, and of Browning and Browning Clubs in America. W. D. Howells in the Study reviews many recent books. Du Maurier and Hyde contribute full-page drawings, well worth the smiles they will excite. There is much else in the Drawer that is bright.—Harper Bros's., publishers, New York, and for sale by all booksellers.

THE CENTURY MAGAZINE.—Probably no periodical is filling the field of popular taste more satisfactorily than the Century Magazine. Beautifully printed—a pleasure to the typographic eye to contemplate—rarely well edited, splendidly illustrated and carefully filled with the best literary matter, the magazine is in every way a satisfactory production. The October number finishes the present half-yearly volume and a copious supply of interesting things are promised for the ensuing year. Prominent in the number before us is Mr. Kennan's continuation of his Siberian experiences, a true, graphic and absorbing account of the fearful penal system of the Russians. The writer is producing a veritable text book on this most important subject and his statements are backed up by such evidence that their authenticity may not be questioned. "Frontier Types," by Theodore Roosevelt is an entertaining paper on the peculiar types of humanity developed by Far West pioneer life and living. "An English Deer Park" is a delightful paper on one of the rural features of that country. A long list of stories, tales and contributed matter together with a liberal slice of the Life of Lincoln make up a very satisfactory number. The Century Co., publishers, New York, and for sale by all booksellers.

ST. NICHOLAS.—The October completes volumn 15, of this charming magazine. The contents are a delightful feast for young readers and a pleasure to older heads. Of the twenty-six splendid stories and articles all are of the greatest merit, the best work of the best brains in the country. Originality is reflected in every page. St. Nicholas is no clipped sheet made up from others but is a reservoir of the best reading matter that can be obtained. It is a joy to the household, a veritable panacea for dull days and dark evenings. Bring in St. Nicholas to your little folks and you give them a delightful treat. Its pages are clean and wholesome, wise yet merry. Buy the October number as a sample, then subscribe. For sale by all booksellers, and by the Century, Co., New York.

Unsuccessful Highwaymen.

KINGSVILLE, Oct. 2.—Highwaymen infest the lonesome roads lying north of here. The other night two young men, in a buggy, having considerable money with them, were accosted by three rough-looking men, one of whom attempted to stop the horse, while the remaining two attacked the occupants of the vehicle. A crack of the whip made the horse jump from the grasp of the robber, and the frightened young men were soon conveyed beyond danger.

One Body Recovered.

BROCKVILLE, Oct. 3.—The body of Harry Bagg, one of the unfortunate young men who went down with the Sunbeam, was recovered at 9 o'clock yesterday morning near Oak Point on the American side. The body was terribly disfigured. He had thrown off his coat and vest and, being found close to shore, it is supposed the poor fellow swam a considerable distance before he became so utterly exhausted that he sank to rise no more. The search for the other bodies is being kept up with unabated vigor.

Burglaries at Orangeville.

ORANGEVILLE, Oct. 2.—A series of burglaries was committed here last night. A. & W. Johnston's hardware store was broken into, the safe blown open and $30 in money taken; also some razors, knives, etc. Crozier & Fleming's store was entered, but the safe was not opened. Some jewelry was taken. Gilchrist & Kent's store was also entered and some clothes taken. There is no clue to the burglars, who were evidently professionals.

A Prisoner's Escape.

MONTREAL, Oct. 2.—Another prisoner escaped from the Court House to-day. After Edward Broderick, the smart New York thief, had pleadad guilty to stealing a watch from a farmer in Bonsecours market, he was led out of the dock by Sergeant-at-Arms Kyle, and as he was not handcuffed was lost in the dense crowd that filled the passages. He has not yet been found.

Blaine, of Maine, at St. Thomas.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 2.—James G. Blaine passed through the city to-day and a considerable number assembled at the depot to have a look at the Republican leader. In a brief address he said that the people of the United States all desired to be good friends and neighbors with the people of the Dominion. A declaration with reference to a closer union was greeted with cries of "No! No."

St. John, N. B., Jottings.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 3.—A slight fall of snow took place in Northern New Brunswick yesterday.

The exhibition at Fredericton opens today. One great feature of the show is the stock recently imported by the Government.

The proportion of taxes paid by the citizens previous to Oct. 1, was larger this year than for many years, showing that the people are in better circumstances.

Beer v. Whisky.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The excise commissioners appointed by Governor Hill at the last session of the Legislature, met for the first time to-day, and on motion of Dr. Howard Crosby passed a resolution that the Legislature be requested to adopt the principles of reasonable restriction in regard to licenses, making a broad distinction between the treatment of distilled liquors and that of fermented brewing.

TEA!

A Chinese writer says: "To make good tea it is an old custom to use running water boiled over a lively fire. That from springs in the hills is the best, and river water next, while well water is the worst. Do not boil the water too hastily; as, first it begins to sparkle like crab's eyes, then, somewhat like fishes' eggs, and lastly it boils up like pearls innumerable, springing and waving about. This is the way to boil the water."

If you like a splendid cup of tea try one of the many brands in stock. The price varies with the quality. Splendid Teas at low prices. Better Teas a trifle higher. The best, not dear and well worth the moderate price asked.

Isblister. The Orillias came off victorious in the third and fourth games, the ball being sent home by R. Frost in both games. These two games though very hotly contested, were won in twenty minutes and five minutes respectively. The match was played under protest, the Riversides entering a protest against the Orillias for having on their team players who were unqualified to play, and stating that there was among the team one named Robbins who had played in the Bradford-Barrie match, in which both clubs were suspended from the Association, and the certificates of several of the players cancelled, Mr. Robbins being one of them. Protest was also entered by the Orillias against Begley, Duncan and Packenham. The play was somewhat rough and several of the boys received some severe knocks.

A meeting of the Board of Education was held on Tuesday evening.

Present—Messrs. Stevenson (Chairman), Dr. Burnham, English, Hughes, Weir, Wrighton, McWilliams, Denne Dumble, and Rutherford.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

ATTENDANCE.

The reports of the attendance during September were as follows:—

	On roll	Av. att.
Collegiate Institute	130	112
Central School	715	596
West Ward School	252	202
South Ward School	168	137

THE INSTITUTE.

The letter from the Department was taken up.

The CHAIRMAN said a letter had been sent giving the information, but it apparently had not been considered. Mr. Stratton had written to the Department.

Mr. DUMBLE objected to any private member of the Board doing its correspondence.

Mr. WRIGHTON read a report of Inspector Hodgins of three years ago, wherein certain things were required and had since been supplied. Now they wanted still more. Dr. Tilley, P.S. Inspector, told him he found no fault with the ventilation as it was a good as the usual run of schools.

Mr. DUMBLE said that the objections regarding the halls and ventilation should be met.

Dr. BURNHAM asked if, when the rooms were crowded, were they bound to receive pupils from the county.

Mr. DUMBLE argued that the ventilation was bad and that the Inspector had done his duty. The present letter from the Department could be met by the Secretary informing the Department what they had done and what they intended to do, but had not been able to do this year.

Mr. RUTHERFORD said the Inspector took the whole building to faulty, while there were only a few rooms, if any, that were badly ventilated. The Institute rooms were the airiest and best.

The Secretary was instructed to answer the letter.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

Mr. WRIGHTON read the following report of the Property Committee:—

GENTLEMEN,—Your Property Committee beg leave to report having made the following repairs during vacation:—A building has been erected north of the Central School for a gymnasium 60 feet in length by 28 feet wide with a ceiling inside 15 feet high. The building is covered inside with felt under the sheeting so that it will be warm and can be used in the winter. A plank platform has been built of proper breadth in front and to one side of the building. A new urinal has replaced the old one. The picket and board fence and gates in front of the school have been repaired and painted. A boulevard 200 feet in length has been made in front of the school. The yard has to a great extent been filled up the dirt excavated from the hill where the gymnasium is built being used for that purpose. The building of the gymnasium was let by contract to Charles Lyle, the excavating was let to Edward Thompson at 18 cents per cubic yard. This included the levelling of the dirt in the yard and filling in the boulevard. Other minor improvements and repairs have been made not enumerated in this report.

Building for Gymnasium	$453 01
E. Thompson, excavating	38 00
Lumber, &c., say	24 00
Work on boulevard	9 00
Painting	5 00
Other expenditure, say	25 00
Charles Lyle	19 00
Total	$573 00

Your Committee believe the work has been done cheaply from the fact that the second lowest tender for the building of the gymnasium alone was $590.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. H. WRIGHTON, Chairman.

September, 1888.

Mr. DUMBLE congratulated the Committee on getting so much work done so well and so cheaply.

The report was adopted.

PAYING SALARIES.

Mr. DUMBLE moved, seconded by Dr. BURNHAM,—That all salaries of teachers shall be paid in each year in reference to that year, counting from January to January; that all teachers entitled to be paid for vacation shall be paid for such proportion of the vacation as the number of days they have taught in that year bears to the entire teaching days in the year.—Carried.

REPAIRS WANTED.

Mr. HUGHES called attention to repairs required at the South Ward School.

Mr. WEIR asked if the Council would give the Board money to spend in the South Ward? It had shut down on the North Ward.

Mr. RUTHERFORD said that one of the rooms in that school was over crowded.

Dr. BURNHAM said that pupils from outside the town crowded the rooms.

Mr. RUTHERFORD asked what had been done in reference to the North Ward School.

Mr. DUMBLE said they should go on and get the plans ready.

Mr. HUGHES moved, seconded by Mr. ENGLISH,—That the necessary repairs be done at once at the No. 1 Ward school house, cost not to exceed $25.—Carried.

The Board then adjourned.

An Evening with Young Pianists.

On Tuesday evening a very enjoyable Piano Recital was given by pupils of Mr. A. F. Hoover, at his residence, Dublin-st. The programme in addition to the numbers assigned to the young people contained some selections contributed by Messrs. W. E. and K. G. Lech, and Mr. Hoover. The handsome music room was turned into a mimic stage while in the drawing room were seated parents and friends of the pupils. The first six numbers of the programme were played by very little people, who rendered the selections assigned them with confidence and with a deal of correctness and attention to the requirements of the pieces. The two last numbers of the first part and—with the exception of the instrumental trio—the whole of the second part was given by the more advanced pupils, who in their fingering, attention to time and the spirit of the selections did much credit to their instructor. The playing of Misses Gryll, Moore, McCarter, Lowthain, Williamson, Calcutt, Oryell, Patterson and Alum, was very pleasing, and in many passages displaying brilliant command of the instrument. To the programme—replacing Miss Owens who was unavoidably absent—Mr. W. E. Lech contributed a violin solo, and further on Mr. K. G. Lech a song, both of which were very acceptable. The instrumental trio made a pleasing break in the programme. At the conclusion Mr. J. C. Brown moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Hoover and Mrs. Hoover, and Mr. D. W. Dumble and Mr. A. Rutherford added each a few words of commendation in recognition of the pleasant evening afforded, and spoke of their recognition of the thorough and painstaking instruction given by Mr. Hoover and his excellent methods of tution which assisted pupils to rapidly advance in their studies. Mr. Hoover returned thanks and expressed his appreciation of the compliment paid and said his efforts were ably seconded by all parents who were glad to see their young people attaining proficency. —The mercury fell to 34 degress during last night.

—The police court presented a clean sheet this morning.

—At an early hour this morning, ice was seen on pails of water which had been standing over night.

—The 57th Battalion did not march out last night, on account of the muddy condition of the streets.

—On Tuesday afternoon Mr. S. Nelson of Lakefield, brought his buggy to Fitzgerald & Strangers shop to get some repairs made. The horse, a fine iron gray animal was tied up in a shed behind. With a burst of enterprise not at all appreciated by the owner the horse jerked out the fittings of the manger and dashed out of the yard with the debris clattering behind him at the end of the halter. He raced down Water-st. and turned on to Hunter-st. where fortunately he was stopped. The animal was cut about the heels with the board.

A Successful Social Ball.

A very successful and enjoyable social ball was given in the Town Hall, Ashburnham, last evening. Between two and three hundred people were present, and a capital time was had. Music was furnished under the direction of Mr. Mucklemiles, the orchestra consisting of violins and organ. Supper was served in the hall at 12 o'clock. The programme was called off by Mr. James Coughlin, who is an expert, and who kept things moving with great good humor. The managers were Messrs. R. Carey, R. Gillespie and Robt. Cleghorn, three good men for the position, and who exerted themselves to make all enjoy the evening. The ball was given by Mr. R. Hallaghan and he was complimented on the success of the occasion.

To Save Life

frequently requires prompt action. An hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pneumonia, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Latimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use, and I advise all families to use it in sudden emergencies, for coughs, croup, &c."

A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middletown, Tenn., says: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."

"I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," writes E. Bragdon, of Palestine, Texas, "believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died."

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1888.

HAND TO HAND.

By REBECCA HARDING DAVIS.

"He would not tell me." Proctor's face clouded. The major's quick eyes marked it.

"He has a warrant for me, I suppose?" sullen and dogged.

"I do not know." He refused to give me any hint.

"There were several little affairs—there's no use in their stirring up muddy water, that I can see," peevishly. "But if it's criminal—let me alone, Jack, catching the young man's sleeve. "You shall not drag yourself down for me. I'll not have my whole life thwarted," fiercely.

Jack's answer was to glance around the poverty stricken garret, and at his own costly, quiet dress. The tears were in his eyes. "We're one now, come what will, father," he said, quietly. "That is the man at the door."

The major went to open it. "I'll balk them yet," he muttered. "I'll not drag Jack down." He came back in a moment, a huge yellow envelope in his hand. "He sent it in a letter. A man can't be arrested by letter! It may be"—turning it over. "What's this! God bless my soul, what's this! Why, it's no arrest!"

"Thank God for that!" muttered Proctor.

"Robert Standish is dead, Jack," poring and muttering over a parchment sheet.

"Is he, sir?" indifferently. Jack was standing awkwardly alone, for Madeline, whom he had time to notice now, was engrossed in tying up some drawings of hers, which she was going to take away with her. She would not leave one vestige of herself in her old home, she thought. The old man would go with his son to the delicate little rosebud of a girl. As for her, what did it matter that she had no home, nobody on earth but them? that her life had held nothing but them?

The drawings looked like masterpieces of art to Jack; he had heard of Maddy's genius. How cold and still she had grown in these two years! It might be devotion to art and to her work. She looked as impassive and abstracted as if she had gone into some height unknown to him, from whence she would look down on all his fancies and his—Jack never remained long in doubt about anything.

"Maddy!" He crossed the hearth rug to the corner where she stood and took up her hand. "The ring! It's gone."

Maddy glanced down carelessly. "Ring! Yes; I remember now. That ring was too small. I took it off long ago."

Jack's eyes twinkled; he held her wrist tight. "How long ago? Within the hour? See how red and bruised the poor little hand is!"

The pity was too much for heroic Maddy. She gave a sob, but held the tears back in her wet, miserable eyes. Jack never knew in all his life how deep the bruise went when that ring came off. He looked at her steadily, closer, closer; lifted the hurt hand till his breath touched it, then kissed it. Just as he used to kiss her lips long ago; as no man had touched them since; as they never would be kissed again.

She drew back. "You have no right to play with me in that way." At the first tone of her altered voice, Jack stood startled and grave. "What do you mean, Madeline? You need not feign that you did not know I loved you when I went away two years ago!"

"You were under no promise to me," quickly. "I have no right to reproach you."

"No promise. But I loved you."

"And now little Clara has taken my place," with icy composure. "I do not think that strange."

"That poor little creature! Oh, Madeline!"

That touch of contempt was worth more than a thousand arguments. "Do you mean to say you don't love her, Jack?" catching his coat lapels with both her hands. I've been so—so miserable! I"—She dropped her head and said no more; but the little Burgundy rose had opened its heart to him now with all its sweetness and spicy perfume, and Jack knew the flavor of it well. He had been waiting for it for a good many years.

They sat together in a shaded corner; the major was poring over his parchment by firelight. After awhile Madeline referred to her rival again, patronizingly. "Clara is pretty, you must acknowledge, Jack. Though she is weak, as you say, poor child!"

"I don't know," said Mr. Jack, whose conscience twinged him with certain moonlight walks in Chicago. "She was very considerate and kind to me, Madeline. Her father was anxious for me to take the First church here. But I'd made up my mind to that little home in the west—if you would go with me."

"I always thought you'd come for me," said honest Maddy.

The major was looking at them over his spectacles. "So! So!" he said, in amazement. "Why, God bless you, children! You plan better for yourselves than I did for you."

Jack laughed and drew his chair over between them. "It will be hard work to live at first. But we three are old comrades, and know how to rough it."

"This is a duplicate of Robert Standish's will," said the major, striving to be legal and lucid, "and by it I find certain demesnes, messuages—well, I don't know, to tell the truth, if it's a fortune or a mere competency, Jack. But it's enough for us all to give McMurray and his cursed Camera the go by for life. We may start a national magazine with it," in his old bragging tone.

"There will be no more of this for you, then, father," glancing around. The bare floors, and pinched poverty and the worn out old man with his white hair in the midst chafed Jack angry and sore continually.

"And here is the supper. At last!" cried Maddy.

"I had really forgotten I was hungry; but it is long past my usual dinner hour," said the major, loftily. He rose with alacrity to help her spread the white cloth and set the hot, dainty dishes on it, manœuvring, as he lighted the lamp, to empty a nail filled goose into the ashes. "Such abominable wine as these fellows furnish me now!" he muttered; and then suddenly stopped, looking at Jack, a shamed, defeated look creeping all over his big body. He went to him. "My son," he said, humbly, "it would be better you left me behind, you and Maddy. I'm a miserable, faulty old man."

"And I am a faulty young one," said Jack, hastily. "But there's that between you and me, father, which God will look to find in us all underneath these weeds that grow atop."

Maddy came closer to the two men. "I think I know what you mean. And I, too," she said with infinite love and very bad grammar, putting her hand softly into theirs.

THE TOBIQUE MURDER.

The Case in the Hands of the Jury—Little Hope of Agreement.

ANDOVER, N.B., Oct. 4.—Judge Wetmore charged the jury yesterday in the Tobique murder case. He was much affected, and with the jurors and spectators shed tears copiously. He said the deepest sympathy should be felt for prisoners at the bar, but it should not interfere with justice. Neither should sympathy for the murdered lady. He reviewed the evidence, instructing the jury to judge for themselves whether the witnesses were to be believed. The jury were also to decide what the prisoners intended to do. The case went to the jury at 11.30 a.m., and there was no word from them at midnight.

The cases of interference with witnesses were taken up yesterday afternoon. W. H. Ellis, charged with contempt in attempting to induce Anna Phillipine to contradict her first testimony, submitted an affidavit denying all the allegations, and stating that his chief remark was an expression of sympathy for the accused.

Attorney-General Blair followed, criticising the partial denial. He declared that he had never seen such determined efforts to interfere with the administration of justice as in this trial. Ellis, a constable, and Lovely, a grand juror, had been specially conspicuous in this instance. He hoped the lesson would be sufficient without further pressing the charge. The health of Anna Phillipine forbade a full investigation.

Another man named Craig was brought before the judge charged with circulating printed dodgers bearing the legend, "The Prisoners Will Not Be Found Guilty." He explained that he was only advertising his eating saloon and did not know he was doing wrong.

There is little hope of the jury agreeing.

A Big Gun Accident.

KINGSTON, Oct. 2.—While shifting a large gun in the barracks, Sergt. Williams had one of his fingers so badly smashed that a portion of it remained attached by a piece of skin only. He plucked the bruised part off and throwing it on the square went in search of the surgeon.

The Whitby Accident.

WHITBY, Oct. 3.—Young Hurst, who was injured by the explosion of the boiler of a traction engine at the fair grounds on Monday, has died of his injuries. His father's condition is precarious.

Mr. Caldwell Will Stand.

LANARK, Oct. 3.—The Reform convention here yesterday unanimously refused to accept Mr. W. C. Caldwell's resignation and he has again accepted the candidature of the party.

YARNS.

There is nothing more essential to the health of the body in this changeable climate of ours than keeping the feet comfortably clad, so, in order to supply the large demand for good Woolen Yarn and Hosiery, we have paid particular attention to this department. Our Baldwin and Wheeling Yarns are imported direct from Scotland. Baldwin's Yarns are so well known we need not say anything about them, and Scotland is noted the world over for wools; so that we can show you all the best makes in any color at the very lowest prices. The Wheeling Yarn is a heavy make intended for children's and boys' wear, very much like our Canadian yarn only much softer and warmer, and it comes at a low price.

HOSIERY.

You should see our Heather Wool Sox for men, knitted by the grandmas of Scotland. They may seem a little high in price, but they are really very cheap as they wear so long. We have Black Cashmere Hose in plain and ribbed in two or three different makes, from the smallest baby's size to the largest ladies, at prices that are right, as we are confident they are not sold cheaper in either city or town in the regular way. We have also a special make of Canadian Hose closely and softly knitted, without a seam. You should ask to be shown these goods when at the Hosiery counter. You will be pleased with them. We need only to speak in a whisper about a bargain we have secured, knowing that it will spread like fire when mentioned. One of our largest hosiery knitting mills, that supplies the wholesale trade only (as they have to sell in large quantities to find market for all they make), after filling all their orders, had a surplus left, which they were anxious to dispose of in order to make room to commence the cotton goods for spring. Our stock not being heavy, we were able to do with them and can now offer you an all wool perfect knitted hose, ladies' size, for 12½ cents a pair. Remember that all through the season we keep our stock well assorted, and no matter what inducements may be offered we never allow ourselves to be undersold.

MR. WIMAN EXPLAINS

A COMMUNICATION TO THE CANADIAN PRESS.

More About Annexation and Commercial Union—Two Interesting Letters—What Senator John Sherman Thinks.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.

To the Canadian Press:

Information reached me last week, of such a character that I could not refrain from believing it, to the effect that the Committee of Foreign Relations of the Senate of the United States was about to report a resolution to the Senate, making it the duty of the President to open a negotiation with Great Britain inviting Canada into the Union on the basis of the assumption by the United States of the national debt of Canada. The information was so important that I deemed it my duty on Saturday evening to send a dispatch to this effect in my own name to the Canadian papers. After having done so, reflection convinced me that an effort might be successful to convince members of the committee that they were mistaken in the belief that any very general sentiment existed in Canada in favor of annexation, and that an invitation to a political union might seriously interfere with negotiations for a close commercial connection, which it seemed under the strained relations of the two countries most desirable should be consummated.

I had prepared a few days before, at the request of my friend, Blakeley Hall, who had recently returned from a trip through Canada, an interview which, fortunately for my purpose, came out in The New York Sun of Sunday morning, and was simultaneously transmitted to a syndicate of forty-two different influential journals throughout the country. I was persuaded that the arguments and conclusions of this article, if properly presented to the members of the committee, would have great weight, backed as it would probably be by influential editorial comment in numerous leading journals. I accordingly wrote a letter, as per the copy below, to Hon. John Sherman, Chairman of the Senate Committee of Foreign Relations, and also to other members of the committee.

After having done so it seemed wise that the dispatch which I had sent on Saturday night if, owing to Sunday intervening it had not been delivered to the newspapers, should not be transmitted, because if the committee had really reached such a decision it would make the task an easier one to retrace its steps if no publicity had been given to its intention. Accordingly I telegraphed to the Associated Press agent at Toronto, if the dispatch had not been delivered to withhold it. Unfortunately he exceeded my instructions, for having had it delivered he without my authority sought its return. All the newspapers agreed to this except two or three, who of course made the most, not only of the dispatch itself, but of the attempt to recall it, entirely misinterpreting my motives.

I am glad to say, however, that no harm has come from this publication for it would seem as if the result of the letter to Senator Sherman, which I subjoin, and the arguments which were used in the extracts enclosed, were conclusive; and whatever had previously been determined upon, it is now certain that the invitation to Canada to join the Union will not at present be pressed.

The following correspondence sufficiently explains the matter, and I submit will relieve me from any charge of disloyalty, especially taken in connection with the arguments which all the force at my command, I had the good fortune to be able to present, not only to Mr. Sherman and his associates, but to the American public at large arguments that I maintain place my loyalty to a distinctive Canadian nationality beyond all possible question.

The following letters speak for themselves:

COPY OF LETTER WRITTEN TO SENATOR SHERMAN.

NEW BRIGHTON, STATEN ISLAND,
Sunday, Sept. 30, 1888.

MY DEAR SENATOR: May I beg as an especial favor that you will read the enclosed interview with me. It appears in The New York Sun of to-day and has been prepared with great care, really as much for your eye as for that of the public.

From most undoubted sources I learn that you have determined upon immediately introducing a resolution making it the duty of the President to open negotiations with Great Britain for the admission of Canada into the Union. It is a bold and masterful policy from a United States point of view, but I am thoroughly convinced that it would fail, and you cannot afford that catastrophe.

It would fail because the people of Canada would not accept it. The proposition would be strongly opposed, and not a few would bitterly resent it.

My dear senator, this is a most grave matter, and you need to have the best information you must not accept as absolute fact the assertions of well-intended Americans, who have little or no knowledge of the real condition of sentiment below the surface. Men who have been born in Canada, who have grown up in the atmosphere of loyalty to the British Crown, and who know the hearts that beat responsive to the strains of "God Save the Queen," are not changed in the twinkling of an eye, to be what they consider to be renegades, by the invitation of even this great country, or by the temptation to be rid of their national debt which you propose to assume.

I beg of you to consider well before your invitation is given and rejected. Consider and get fuller information as to the real sentiment of Canada before you act. Again let me ask you to read aloud, or have some one read to you, the words I have tried to utter into your ear in the within extract.

No one can know better than I do the sentiment of my own people. Of course I may be mistaken, but I submit that what I have urged in this article must be met by equally good authority before you are betrayed into an action that may be fatal to your desire and the desire of all who hope for the closest relations between the two countries.

Your interest and devotion to this matter of the union of the two countries has raised you in the past ninety days above all men, and a make a mistake now is not for a moment to be contemplated. If, after reading the enclosed you would like to see me, I will gladly go to Washington, or I will write you further or go you fuller information.

Most respectfully yours,
(Signed) ERASTUS WIMAN.

COPY OF A LETTER FROM SENATOR SHERMAN TO ERASTUS WIMAN.

COMMITTEE OF FOREIGN RELATIONS,
U. S. SENATE, WASHINGTON,
Oct. 3, 1888.

MY DEAR SIR: Your note of the 30th is received. Your opinions are certainly entitled to great weight, and will receive full consideration. My own opinion has been for many years that political union between the United States and Canada was inevitable and that statesmen and patriots ought to look to bringing this about peacefully, upon terms of perfect equality and so as to promote the interests of both countries.

As to Commercial Union, I see no practical way to bring it about. We will have ample time to think of all this as the subject matter will not again be brought up in the Senate until the next session.

Very truly yours,
JOHN SHERMAN.

I submit the foregoing explanation because of the torrent of abuse to which I have been subjected in the last few days by a certain portion of the press of Canada who take their greatest delight in misrepresentation and misjudging my motives.

ERASTUS WIMAN.

FLASHED UNDER THE OCEAN.

An Advance in Grand Trunks—Sir John Rose's Will.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Grand Trunks have all advanced, partly consequent on favorable reports of Sir Henry Tyler's doings in Canada. The Grand Trunk Railway Company's half-yearly meeting is called for the 30th, when resolutions will be submitted to authorize the company to acquire first mortgage bonds of the Toledo road by exchanging therefor a portion of the perpetual 4 per cent. consolidated debenture stock now held by the company, also to ratify traffic contracts with the United States and Canadian railways and the Beauharnois Junction railway.

Probate was granted on the will of Sir John Rose. The estate in the United Kingdom is valued at £303,493. The Marchioness of Tweeddale receives the household goods, and the residue of the property is left in trust to his five children.

A FRIGHTFUL EXPOSE OF JOBBERY.

$3,000,000 of Uncle Sam's Money Completely Wasted.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Lieut. Townsend yesterday pursued his investigation into the aqueduct tunnel frauds, with the result of uncovering more frauds. It appears that the entire 5000 feet last completed will have to be all done over before it is perfect, and even then competent engineers hold that the entire plan is faulty and that the tunnel, if finished up to contract, will not last. One engineer who was employed on the work and was discharged because he insisted on having perfect work done, says that if the tunnel was finished as per contract it would only last a short period.

The aqueduct was blasted several miles through solid rock, then an arch was built of bricks, leaving the bottom of bare blasted rock. The engineer claims that this rock is such composition that contact with air or water would cause them to crumble. The entire sum, nearly $3,000,000 expended by Government, has been wasted. Congressional investigation will take up this charge also. It was stated at the War Department that no action on the aqueduct matter will be taken until the Congressional investigation is finished.

THE R. R. V. R. R.

An Application for Permission to Cross the C. P. R. Tracks.

OTTAWA, Oct. 3.—The Manitoba Government applied to the Railway Committee of the Privy Council for the approval of the plans of the Red River Valley Railway to cross the Canadian Pacific Railway tracks at two points in the neighborhood of Winnipeg. After two hours' argument the hearing was adjourned until further information, especially on the subject of track-laying, could be obtained. Counsel for the Canadian Pacific Railway opposed the application on the ground that the Manitoba Government had no right to make it in accordance with section 306 of the Railway Act of 1888, which provides that the Dominion Parliament is the only power which can create a railway company, having power to construct a line intended to connect with or cross the railways, including the Canadian Pacific Railway, mentioned in the said section.

No Clue to the Whitechapel Mystery.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—No further arrests have been made in connection with the Whitechapel murders, and the police have discovered no clues to throw any light on the mystery.

Mr. Forbes, the noted war correspondent, writes to The Daily News that he is convinced that the Whitechapel assassin got disease from one of his victims, lost his situation and is suffering from specific madness. He suggests that the murderer is a medical student.

There is now in the London hospital, with a serious cut on her arm, a woman who has solemnly declared she received the injury while protecting her throat from an attempt made to cut it by a man who, having engaged her in conversation and struck an immoral bargain with her, tripped her up, then threw her heavily on the pavement and attacked her, knife in hand, with murderous intent.

Wheat on the Jump.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—The feeling developed in wheat in this market was greatly excited again yesterday, more so than on any previous day, being the outcome of wild speculation. Some of the oldest operators described the opening as, with the exception of war-times, without a parallel. Possibly never in the history of the trade did prices fluctuate so wildly. Almost the whole range of the day's market, which was seven cents, was covered within 6 minutes from the opening. This will illustrate the condition of the market. Prices ran up and down a cent at a jump with no trades at intervening figures. When operators wanted to buy there was but little wheat to be had, and when they wanted to sell there was but little demand to take the wheat. Yesterday's business shows a marked falling off as compared with the preceeding day, and the trading is principally in the way of evening up and settling up trades. Operators do not care to sell on such a market, as it is too easily controlled, and at the same time many operators would not risk buying at the prices ruling. Many merchants are advising their customers not to make new trades in wheat, for the present at least, and there is rapid settling up or balancing up of trades. The market closed 3½c. higher for October, ½ higher for December, 3c. higher for May than closing figures of Tuesday.

Election Appeals.

OTTAWA, Oct. 3.—The Haldimand election appeal occupied the attention of the Supreme Court all afternoon. During the trial of the petition before Judge Street at Cayuga, a scrutiny of the ballots was had and Dr. Montague (Con.) was declared elected by a majority of ten votes. The appellant contends that eighteen of the ballots counted for Dr. Montague were wrongly accepted because of the fact that there was writing upon them. The disputed ballot papers were not found in the record sent to Ottawa. Judgment was reserved.

In the Maskinonge election case, the Court dismissed the appeal of Mr. Caron by consent. This gives the seat to Mr. Coulombe (Con.), the sitting member.

The Liberal Candidate for Shelburne.

HALIFAX, Oct. 3.—Hon. Thos. Johnson, M. P. P., having declined the Liberal nomination to oppose General Laurie in Shelburne County for the Commons, F. T. Congdon, of the Halifax law firm of Russell & Congdon, has consented to run. Russell & Congdon acted as counsel for the petitioner in the recent election trial which resulted in Gen. Laurie being unseated.

East Northumberland Election Voided.

BRIGHTON, Oct. 3.—Judge Burton this morning declared the East Northumberland election void, and Edward Cochrane (Con.), the sitting member, unseated.

Wentworth Assizes.

HAMILTON, Oct. 3.—At the assizes to-day the jury in the case of Stephens v Stephens, a Cobourg slander case, returned a verdict of $1500 for the plaintiff.

Charles Edwards was sentenced to the penitentiary for ten years for firing the barns of an Ancaster farmer.

Walker v. Dundas Cotton Mill Company was an action brought by Catharine Walker under the Compensation for Injuries Act for injuries to her head and brain sustained by falling through a hole in the floor where the flooring had been torn up. The case was settled out of court, the plaintiff receiving $550.

Distress in the Saguenay District.

QUEBEC, Oct. 3.—News from Moisie, 200 miles east of Saguenay, is of the most appalling description. The whole population of the district is on the brink of starvation. The fisheries this season have signally failed; the crops, of no great account at any time, have also turned out badly. The few provisions in the place are high in price, and the unfortunate inhabitants do not know which way to turn for food and clothing.

Blew Out the Gas.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 4.—Thomas Creath and D. H. Fox registered at the Commercial Hotel and took a room for the night. About 6 o'clock in the morning a strong smell of gas was felt coming from their room. The door was burst open and both were found almost suffocated, Fox lying on the floor. They were restored with difficulty.

The Tobique Murder Trial.

ANDOVER, N.B., Oct. 3.—The jury, after being out since noon yesterday, came into court about 10 this morning with a verdict of manslaughter against Phillipine and Trafton, who were charged with the murder of Mrs. Howes. They added to it a strong recommendation to mercy.

Flour for Destitute Indians.

MONTREAL, Oct. 3.—A small quantity of flour has been shipped north by the Government to Peace River and Athabasca, in charge of the Hudson Bay Company, to be applied to the relief of destitution among the Indians of those districts during the coming winter should the necessity arise.

INTERESTING ITEMS BY WIRE.

J. Nadeau, engineer of the Grosse Isle steamer, has been appointed keeper of the Anticosti light house.

Sharp falls of snow are reported in the northern parishes, and the country between Murray Bay and Baie St. Paul is covered with it.

Among the cases to be called at the approaching term of the Court of Queen's Bench at Quebec, standing over from last term, are those of D. Creighton, of The Toronto Empire, for criminal libel, and Herbert Carbray, for electoral corruption, and it is also said the Trudel perjury case will again be brought up. A decision is also anticipated in the Salvation Army case.

The Kaiser Cheered at Vienna.

VIENNA, Oct. 3.—Emperor William arrived here this morning and was met at the depot by Emperor Francis Joseph, the royal Princes and numerous dignitaries. The Emperors left the station arm in arm followed by the other visitors and those who had received them and was driven to the Hofburg. A large crowd had gathered and cheered enthusiastically.

The Rhone Freshet.

GENEVA, Oct. 4.—The River Rhone has overflowed its banks and railway traffic between Geneva and Lyons has been stopped in consequence, the tracks being submerged for miles. The town of Payerne is inundated and several persons have been drowned at Seysel, France. The dykes at Payerne are broken and the plains are one vast lake.

Jacksonville's Death Roll.

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 3.—There were 72 new cases (32 white and 41 colored) and 6 deaths during the twenty-four hours ending at 6 p.m. to-day.

EXHIBITION AT WARSAW.

Annual Show of the Douro and Dummer Agricultural Society.

The annual exhibition of the Douro and Dummer Agricultural Society was held at Warsaw on Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 2nd and 3rd. There was a good attendance at the exhibition, especially on the second day. Although the weather was cool, with a strong cold wind, the people attended in large numbers.

The exhibition itself was a very good one, there being 438 entries as compared with 319 last year. The roots were particularly good, and there were fine exhibits of vegetables, grain, dairy produce, etc., and the ladies' departments were well filled. There were fine horses shown, and good cattle, while the exhibits of sheep, pigs and poultry were well worth seeing. The trotting contest for a special prize for fastest single horses was an interesting event.

Mr. C. C. McDonald, of Peterborough, was present with Chatham fanning mills and agricultural implements. Mr. J. W. Crosby, of Peterborough, showed two fine Uxbridge organs. Mr. F. T. Lumsden, of Warsaw, had on exhibition two Doherty organs that attracted attention. Mr. G. A. Mitchell, Peterborough, showed and explained the advantages of the New Williams sewing machine. Mr. W. D. In Brief and to the Point.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healt and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

TEA!

A Chinese writer says: "To make good tea it is an old custom to use running water boiled over a lively fire. That from springs in the hills is the best, and river water next, while well water is the worst. Do not boil the water too hastily; at first it begins to sparkle like crab's eyes, then, somewhat like fishes' eggs, and lastly it boils up like pearls innumerable springing and waving about. This is the way to boil the water."

If you like a splendid cup of tea try one of the many brands in stock. The price varies with the quality. Splendid Teas at low prices. Better Teas a trifle higher. The best not dear and well worth the moderate price asked.

Peterborough Vocal Society.

A meeting of the Peterborough Vocal Society was held on Wednesday evening in the school room of St. Andrew's church. A short address on Voice Culture was delivered by Prof. A. E. Carter. The society then adjourned until Friday evening after choir practice, as the hour was getting somewhat late. There was quite a large attendance.

People are Surprised at the prices that jewellery is being sold at Muncaster's. It was thought when the sale was first announced that it would be something like most of the supposed cheap sales, but customers find that the whole stock is being sold at about one half the regular price. It is a good and a rare opportunity to procure silverware, or watches and clocks. 391 George-st. 6d78

An Accident.

On Wednesday afternoon Mr. Henry Owens met with an accident by which his right leg was injured. He was engaged in cutting some timber, which lies in front of his pump factory, with a cross cut saw when one of the pieces rolled from its position and fell on his rigt leg, bruising it very severely above the knee. Happily no bones were broken, and with a few days rest we may expect to see Mr. Owens in his accustomed place again.

Prepare! for the Winter is Coming.

With orders on hand at so early a season, we beg to remind the public in not delaying the repairs of their furs for future time. By so doing disappointment may be avoided, as ordered new goods have the preference. As to our new stock of furs, the public is aware that the senior member of the firm selects personally the raw material in the markets of Europe of a superior kind, for which his reputation is well known. Because he has secured $7,000 worth of first class boots and shoes at a very low rate on the dollar, and to make room he will thrash them out at such low prices that customers can't help buying. Listen to a few of the bargains. Ladies' shoes, 15 cents, sold everywhere for 40 cents. Ladies' laced boots, 90 cents, sold usually at other places for $1.75, and our men's long boots for $1.75, unsurpassed for value in the Dominion, every pair warranted. But call and see Kidd, the boot man, and he will show you why he smiles. Still there is more to follow. d70

A Stolen Horse.

Chief Rossel went to Toronto to-day in connection with the recovery of a horse stolen from Mr. Mansfield, of Galway, and the arrest of Alex. Ritchie. The horse was recovered near Todmorden, the Mail says, and it was supposed that the thief had left the city. At an early hour this morning Detective McGrath lodged the alleged horse thief in No. 1 station. He is a man about forty years of age, of rather a pious cast of countenance, lame, and gave his name as Alexander Ritchie. He had been employed by Mr. Mansfield for some time in his saw mill, and during that gentleman's absence borrowed his horse and rig from the stableman, and drove to this city. He then entered into a horse trading campaign, which will result in a number of horse dealers in this city being bitten, now that it turns out the horse was stolen.

Ciscoes and Kippered Herrings will arrive Wednesday morning at Smith's Market, 450 George-st. old post office block. 5d77

The Rifle Matches.

The prize list for the annual matches of the Peterborough Rifle Association on Oct. 9th and 10th, have been arranged by the committee appointed. There are seven in the series and the prizes offered will no doubt draw out a number of marksmen. The Maiden Match is first on the list and in it five prizes are offered. In the Association Match there are eighteen prizes and and the Bankers Cup of 1887, valued at $25, and the Bankers Cup of 1881, valued at $10. In the County Match there are eighteen prizes and the Cox cup, valued at $30. Ten prizes are offered in the Volunteer Match, and the challenge cup presented by Lieut.-Col. Rogers, and two prizes in the Company match. For the Extra Series ten prizes are given and five in the Aggregate.

A Moral Support.

The fact is accepted beyond proof that a good pair of shoes are a moral support to any woman. The costume may be stylish, the hat or bonnet the correct thing, parasol, gloves, etc., all a faultless match, but unless her feet are neatly encased in a well fitting boot no lady feels at ease when on the street. This desire to appear well is a commendable one and it should be gratified, especially if the expense can be kept within reasonable limits. As far as the foot wear of the costume goes the question of expense is easily settled. In order that there may be no doubt about it it is only necessary to mention goughs, the wonderful cheap men. They are doing the shoe trade of the town. The stock is extensive, the assortment complete, the prices the lowest ever before presented in town. Boots for men and women; boots and shoes for boys and children, at about what other dealers make a long suffering public pay for the leather itself. It was a big deal in boots when gough bros. scooped in a $6,000 stock of boots and shoes at 40 cent on the dollar. It meant a big rush of trade for them and a big bonanza in bargains to the public. gough bros. don't run a charitable institution exactly, but the low prices they sell first class boots and shoes at make their store very like one. Call at the store, Bayeur's old stand.

THEIR ANNUAL MEETING.

Devotees of the Roarin' Game to Consider Doings of Last Season and Prospects for the Next.

To-night at the Charlotte-st. curling rink will be held the annual meeting of the Curling Club. It is gathering of the year—for curlers. Not only will the officers who are to direct affairs of the club to be elected but what is equally important, the club skips will be chosen. Further on the club skips will meet in solemn conclave and pick out the rinks, that pitted one against the other seperately or collectively, will strive for supremacy.

Last season a good feeling existed in the club and the members worked well together. Play in local matches was keen and spirited. Well contested matches were worked off with varying success. In foreign match play the club was very successful, winning twelve out of the fifteen matches recorded in the list below. Not only were the rinks successful but by good round scores. Some games played with Lindsay club are not entered on the list the particulars of which are not obtainable.

The approaching season promises to be a good one. The game is becoming more popular each season. It can be pursued in the Peterborough club, under such comfortable and jolly auspices and, so to speak, inexpensively that a large membership is looked for. The game promotes good feeling, is a thorough manly sport, free from everything objectionable and is fast becoming a national winter sport in Canada.

Following is the list of foreign matches:—

Early Closing.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—A very timely article on the above caption appeared in your issue of Tuesday, October 2nd, by a correspondent signing himself Clerk. He says:—"If the early closing law is not going to be enforced, we had better know it, and not have a few sharks remain open doing business while honest, law abiding citizens are closed at the proper time."

Now sir, I do not know the name of your correspondent but I wish to state that I agree with him in every particular.

I believe there are merchants in town who observe the early closing law to the letter, but there are others who do not think twice about violating the agreement entered into a few months since.

Last evening after the town clock struck seven a customer came into my store and asked for goods. The door should have been locked, but as the clerks were busy straightening the goods on the counters it was neglected. I promptly refused selling her any goods, but she went into another store and with seemingly no hesitancy whatever the goods were shown the lady and a purchase was made.

Now, Mr. Editor, I do not see any reason why the early closing law should be violated more than any other. Would it not be a good idea for the authorities to publish the names of the violators of this law as well as of other laws—or else—this would in a very short time place the merchants of the town on a square footing.

Thanking you Mr. Editor for your valuable space, I am, very truly yours,

O. C. ROWSE.

To Save Life

Frequently requires prompt action. An hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pneumonia, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Latimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use, and I advise all families to use it in sudden emergencies, for coughs, croup, &c."

A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middletown, Tenn., says: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."

"I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," writes E. Bragdon, of Palestine, Texas, "believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died."

THE TEXAS FIEND.

MYSTERIOUS MURDERS RECALLED BY LONDON'S HORROR.

A Series of Brutal Crimes in the Capital of the Lone Star State—Eight Women Slain.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The horrible Whitechapel murders at which all London stands aghast are not without a parallel in the fiendishness of their execution nor the mystery that surrounds them. On the night of Dec. 31, 1884, in the western residence portion of the city of Ausin, Tex., a a mulatto woman was murdered and her body fearfully mutilated, after which it was dragged to the rear of the premises where she was employed as cook; marking the earth with a gory trail. A fellow-servant who occupied with her the little room where the crime was committed, was terribly mangled by the same unknown fiend and lay for weeks at the point of death. No light was ever thrown on the murder. A few weeks went by and another colored servant girl was butchered in her bed in the same barbarous way, and that, too, was a mystery. A little while afterwards and a third victim was added to the list.

These assassinations occurring in the capital of a great State, in a city that had ever been orderly and free from such outrages, generally excited the people. The police force was increased, many "specials" appointed, extra vigilance taken by the citizens, rewards offered, in short nothing that reason could suggest was left undone. But the community was still to be shocked by a series of similar horrors. It was early in 1885 when the fourth colored woman, also a domestic, met the same dreadful fate. By this time a feeling of panic began to prevail among this class, and it was well nigh impossible to get a negro woman to stay in service, if required to occupy an apartment alone or one detached from the house of her employers. Most of the murders had taken place in small outhouses, adjacent to the main dwellings. A good many arrests were made, but in no instance was there sufficient proof to hold the persons arrested.

Next came a double murder; two women of the same unlucky race as the others were killed with the same sickening savagery. Horror settled over the town. Complaint was loud and bitter against the local police. Their incompetency to deal with the horrid conditions that seemed to hang over the city like a pall, caused the importation of skilled detectives from a distance. They came but did no better. Not an assassin was taken. These murders had without exception taken place on the brightest of moonlight nights, and some of them at an early hour. Yet such was the quickness with which the ruffians did their awful work that they never failed to escape.

Theories were many; some said it was the doings of a maniac, others that it was a band of outlaws who had a hiding place in some cave or cliff along the Colorado River, near the town, probably a gang of escaped convicts who had sworn enmity to mankind. But why were servant girls alone butchered—and all of them colored? No one could answer. There was absolutely no clue to the demon or demons who did the satanic work.

Six black women had now been slain. Nearly all had been mutilated after death. A good many days went by, and the Austinians began to hope that the epoch of terror was over. It was soon to end, but before the last bloody chapter was closed the culminating horror came. Again there was a ghastly double murder, but this time the female victims were white. Two married women, a Mrs. Phillips and a Mrs. Hancock, met death in its most horrible form, and with them as with the others to this day there is no satisfactory explanation of the crime. The women last named were killed in different parts of the town at about the same hour. The husband of each was arrested and tried for the murder. A great many believed that Hancock and Phillips were the slayers of their wives. The evidence was slight and purely circumstantial against Phillips, and there was scarcely any against the other man. The trials occupied a long time, and failed to solve the mystery. There are many who will always think, and with great reason, that the white women were struck down by the monsters who had slain all the others.

With the killing of Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Hancock the series of brutal tragedies ended. Money and the best detective talent that could be had failed to bring the perpetrators to justice, and though now the usual quiet and good order reigns in the pretty and prosperous capital of the Lone Star State, it will be many a day ere its people forget the blackest epoch in their history.

Charged With False Pretences.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—On Monday night Robert Henry Douglas, formerly employed at the M. C. R. shop, St. Thomas, was arrested on a warrant charging that on the 13th day of April, 1888, by false pretences and fraud he induced Robert Baird to become joint maker with himself and Mary Douglass to a note for $53, payable in three months to Alex. Fraser, and that he converted the said note into valuable security, and obtained the money with intent to defraud. Douglass represented to Baird that he wanted the money to purchase a cow. It is stated that he has also let in Messrs. R. Alfred, Geo. Upper and R. Ray for various amounts. He will be tried next Tuesday.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

THE DISTRICT MAGISTRATES.

MONTREAL, Oct. 3.—The Lieutenant-Governor's proclamation appointing Charles S. Champagne and Dennis Barry District Magistrates, according to the Act of 1869, was read in the Courtroom of Laval University buildings to-day. The salary for District Magistrates under the Act of 1869 is only $1200, while in the vetoed Act it was $5000. The new magistrates will have the right to adjudicate cases up to $50 only, not, as in the vetoed act, up to $200, but they will also have jurisdiction in criminal matters for anything less than a felony.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Wanted for Bigamy—Committed for Highway Robbery.

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—John Taylor, an ex-employe of the Toronto Street Railway Company, is wanted on a charge of bigamy. Five weeks ago he was married to a young lady in the East end by Bishop O'Mahoney, and it new transpires that he has been married before and has a wife in the Old Country.

At the Police Court yesterday Magistrate Denison committed William Joselyn for trial on two charges of highway robbery.

Late last night a fire broke out in E. Fairfield's grocery store, Yonge-street, and did damage to the extent of $2500. There was no insurance.

A Toronto Branch of the Scottish Home Rule Association has been organized here. Dr. Daniel Clark was elected president, Robt. Jaffray first vice-president, and Wm. Houston, M. A., second vice-president.

The central branch of the Woman's Methodist missionary society is in session here. About 60 delegates are present. The treasurer's report showed a total income of $6,490.23, an increase of about $1800 over last year.

On Sept. 1 the police were notified that Mr. Mansfield of Lindsay, had been victimized by a horse thief, losing a valuable bay mare and top buggy. The thief was believed to be a man named Alexander Ritchie of Peterboro. Yesterday afternoon he was captured by a county constable and brought into the city at 12.10 last night, and taken to Headquarters to await the action of the Lindsay authorities.

At a late hour last night a report spread around town that the notorious William Rowe, better known as "Paddy Rats," had been shot by a friend in a drunken fight. A reporter traced "Paddy" alive and well up to 10.30, when no one seemed to know what had become of him. At midnight, when his Adelaide-street dive was visited, the place was found hermetically closed. There was a light in an upper room but no amount of pounding at the door could elicit an answer.

A. Rosenbloom, dry goods merchant at 275 Queen-street west, has folded his tent and silently stolen away. He is mourned to the extent of $3000.

There was a body fished out of the bay last night, and from all appearances it is productive of another temperance lecture. From papers found in his pockets it was learned that he was employed by T. Eaton & Co., of this city, as a city canvasser or traveller. He was observed about the Union Station last night and yesterday afternoon, and between 9 and 10 o'clock was seen sitting in the St. James' Hotel. Constable Dempsey, who was on duty on King and Yonge-streets last night, and who saw the body at the Morgue, says that the deceased went up to him early in the night and said he had been robbed of $25 and a penknife. The policeman told him to report the robbery, but Brennan said he would not. It is a problem as to whether he committed suicide or whether he was accidentally drowned, but the probabilities are in favor of the latter.

TURNBULL'S

YARNS.

There is nothing more essential to the health of the body in this changeable climate of ours than keeping the feet comfortably clad, so, in order to supply the large demand for good Woolen Yarn and Hosiery, we have paid particular attention to this department. Our Baldwin and Wheeling Yarns are imported direct from Scotland. Baldwin's Yarns are so well known we need not say anything about them, and Scotland is noted the world over for wools; so that we can show you all the best makes in any color at the very lowest prices. The Wheeling Yarn is a heavy make intended for children's and boys' wear, very much like our Canadian yarn only much softer and warmer, and it comes at a low price.

HOSIERY.

You should see our Heather Wool Sox for men, knitted by the grandmas of Scotland. They may seem a little high in price, but they are really very cheap as they wear so long. We have Black Cashmere Hose in plain and ribbed in two or three different makes, from the smallest baby's size to the largest ladies; at prices that are right, as we are confident they are not out-cheaper in either city or town in the regular way. We have also a special make of Canadian Hose closely and softly knitted, without a seam. You should ask to be shown these goods when at the Hosiery counter. You will be pleased with them. We need only to speak in a whisper about a bargain we have secured, knowing that it will spread like fire when mentioned. One of our largest hosiery knitting mills, that supplies the wholesale trade only (as they have to sell in large quantities to find market for all they make), after filling all their orders, had a surplus left, which they were anxious to dispose of in order to make room to commence the cotton goods for spring. Our stock not being heavy, we were able to do with them and can now offer you an all wool perfect knitted hose, ladies' size, for 12½ cents a pair. Remember that all through the season we keep our stock well assorted, and no matter what inducements may be offered we never allow ourselves to be undersold.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1888.

SIR JOHN'S QUEER CALLER.

HE DESIRED TO ASSIST IN PUTTING DOWN THE REBELLION.

A Delegation from St. Catharines and Thorold at the Capital—The Haldimand Election Appeal.

OTTAWA, Oct. 4.—The Workingmen's Conservative Association here will tender a banquet to Hon. J. A. Chapleau.

A deputation from St. Catharines and Thorold waited on the Government to-day and urged that manufacturers be allowed the privilege of leasing the water privileges of the new Welland Canal. It is estimated that nearly 1,000,000 horse power is running to waste between locks 1 and 20. A turning at lock 8 is also asked for. The last request is that the pond at lock 2 be filled in. The ministers promised favorable consideration of the matter.

The Shell River Colonization Company has settled its business with the Department of the Interior, having accepted something over $15,000 scrip in liquidation of the claims.

Sir John and his private secretary leave to-night for Toronto and are not expected to return before Saturday next.

Sir Hector Langevin is going to New York with one of his daughters, who is ill, and will consult physicians there.

Hon. C. H. Tupper has been compelled to cancel his visit to the Lansdown Exhibition, owing to pressure of business.

Mr. R. F. Goulet, President of the Stormont and Valleyfield Cotton Company, was in the city to-day for the purpose of effecting a settlement of some customs difficulty which occurred in the summer of 1887, by which it is claimed the agent of the Company entered for duty certain cotton dyes under the wrong class.

A young man from North Gower tried to interview Sir John to-day. He desired to assist the Premier in "putting down the rebellion."

Hon. Mr. Chapleau has gone to Montreal.

Argument was continued in the Haldimand election appeal in the Supreme Court to-day. Mr. Aylesworth, in behalf of the appellant, spoke for over an hour. Mr. McCarthy then entered upon the defence, and was still speaking when the court closed.

The Mining Commission at Madoc.

MADOC, Oct. 4.—The Mining Commission began work in this district on Monday, when several witnesses were examined. Mr. Whitney, superintendent of the Hungerford Marble Company, told about the company's operations at Madoc from which a dark grey marble, equal to any produced in the States of Vermont and New York is taken. The supply is practically unlimited, the vein having been traced two miles and being 900 feet wide. Also the company's quarry at Bridgewater, ten miles from here, from which a valuable white crystaline limestone is taken. Evidence was taken with reference to the mining operations in gold, arsenic, mica and actinolite, all of which are found in the district in paying quantities. There can be no doubt of the wealth of the mineral deposits in the district.

Funeral of Senator Ross.

QUEBEC, Oct 4.—The funeral of the late Senator Ross was attended by an immense number of citizens to-day and representative men generally of all classes. The funeral service was held in the residence of the deceased in St. Foye-road by Rev. W. B. Clarke and Rev. Dr. Mathews. Subsequently the cortege was formed, the chief mourners being his brother and nephew, Frank Ross, sr. and jr., John T. Ross of Quebec and Wm. Ross of London, Eng.

A Strange Discovery.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 4.—The navvies on the Grand Trunk Railway double track the other day unearthed several bones, supposed to be those of a tribe of Indians who inhabited this section years ago.

The main line of the road is being lowered on the grade two feet and a half, and under this the men found rails spiked to ties which were found to be in a perfect state of preservation.

Youthful Thieves.

MONTREAL, Oct. 4—Two boys, aged 15 and 18 respectively, were arrested yesterday afternoon. Mr. Stroud, in whose employ they are, has been missing money, and having his suspicions aroused, marked 42 cents and sent a child in to buy some tea. He watched, and found the boys did not put the money in the drawer. So he had them arrested and the marked money was found in their possession.

Highway Robbers in Brockville.

BROCKVILLE, Oct. 4.—A citizen, while on his way home the other evening, was attacked by three men who maltreated him and robbed him of some $7, all the money he had in his possession at the time. He was confined to his bed for some days as a result of the rough handling he received.

C. P. R. Earnings.

MONTREAL, Oct. 4.—The traffic receipts of the Canadian Pacific Railway, not including earnings on the South-eastern, for the 10 days ended Sept 30 are:

1888	$329,000
Increase for 1888	$6,000

A Case of Child Desertion.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—A woman named Maggie Smith, claiming to be married, sought and found a home during her trouble in the house of Thos. Holdway. One day last week the woman left the house and has not since returned. She left behind her a three weeks old girl baby.

Irrevocably Alienated.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—In a speech at Inverness yesterday, Lord Hartington said he saw no possible chance of a reunion with the Gladstonians.

THE YEOMAN OF THE GUARD.

Successful Production of Gilbert & Sullivan's New Opera.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The new opera of Messrs. Gilbert & Sullivan was submitted for public approval or disapproval last night, and the one mystery which has been almost as much talked about by one set of people as the Whitechapel mystery has by another, is at length cleared up. Never have these two gentlemen left so many details of a joint production until the eleventh hour as they have in this opera. The title was not decided on until two days ago, radical changes in the musical score and orchestration were made by Sir Arthur Sullivan at the final rehearsal on Tuesday, and the changes in the libretto, still damp from the printing press, were so marked last night as to cause much comment. The orchestration, score and dialogue of the opera, which are now on their way across the sea for production in America, differ in many important respects from the performance conducted by Sir Arthur Sullivan personally at the Savoy theatre last night. All the swell people in London who could get tickets were there to see it. It was a gathering of the most brilliant men and women of the metropolis.

"The Yeoman of the Guard, or The Merry Man and His Maid," as the new opera has been named, does not call for much stage setting. There are only two acts and only one scene, namely, the tower of London, reflected in such a sunlight in the first act and such a moonlight in the other as are seldom seen in London. The representation of the historic old tower is so literally perfect that it was received with uproarious applause from old Londoners. Both as regards music and dialog Messrs. Gilbert & Sullivan have taken a much higher flight in this opera than they have in others. The humorous, burlesque, and satirical features have given way to a classic vein. So far as last night's audience—with a large proportion of critics and educated people—were concerned, this was considered to be a big improvement, and the opera enthusiastically received as a success. Whether it will be so popular with the general public, who go to see Messrs. Gilbert & Sullivan's operas for the sake of the funny satire found in "Pinafore" and "Patience," is a matter of much speculation.

Though the music of the opera as a whole is of dignified and distinguished style, there are three or four taking melodies and two effective duets.

All the principal performers were called before the curtain, and were followed by Messrs. Gilbert, Sullivan and D'Oyly Carte, none of whom would respond to the calls for a speech.

The general verdict was that the opera is a success. Some of the critics say that Gilbert is not historically accurate in his costume of Henry the Eighth's time. It is claimed that his hats and tunics represent court fashions nearly a century apart.

THE TRADES CONGRESS.

A Final Circular Respecting the Meeting of the International Body.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The British Consul at Chicago, in a carefully prepared report, contrasts the position of workmen in the Western States and in England. Although he admits that the American workingman receives higher pay he comes to the conclusion that he is no better off because of the dearness of the necessaries in America and for other reasons.

Mr. Broadhurst, Secretary of the Trades Parliamentary Committee, has issued a final notice respecting the International Trades Congress in London, beginning on Nov. 6. The last day for presenting delegates' credentials will be Oct. 22. The official language used will be French, but some speeches will be made in English. The chief topics will be the removal of obstacles to the free combination of workmen, and whether advisable or not to advocate State regulation of the hours of labor.

MUCH DISAPPOINTED.

The Persian Minister at Washington Thinks His Reception Rather Tame.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The Persian Minister was presented to the President to-day. He manifested much disappointment at the plainness of the executive mansion, and thought his reception rather tame as compared with the pomp and grandeur with which representatives of foreign governments are received at the Persian court. When President Cleveland entered the room the Persian prostrated himself before him. Then followed a performance common enough in the Orient, but never before witnessed here. The Minister bumped his head gravely three times against the floor and then, as if satisfied that he had done the proper thing, he straightened himself up and awaited the President's pleasure.

A Theory Exploded.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The British Medical Journal, referring to the Whitechapel murders, says; "The coroner's theory that the assassin's work was carried out under the influence of a pseudo-scientific mania has been exploded by the first attempt at serious investigation. It is true that a foreign physician enquired a year or two ago as to the possibility of securing certain parts of the body for the purpose of scientific investigation, but no large sum was offered, and the physician in question was of the highest respectability and came exceedingly well recommended."

For Legislative Freedom.

DUBLIN, Oct. 4.—Cardinal Moran Archbishop of Sydney, N. S. W., upon the occasion of his presentation of the freedom of the City of Dublin declared that Australia together with Ireland would struggle for legislative freedom.

The Chicago Street Railway Strike.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—The conductors and drivers of the north side will probably have to strike Saturday to enforce their demand for shorter hours and better pay. President Yerkes says the company is ready to stand on the ground it has taken.

Red Dog Running.

RAWLINS, Wy. T., Oct 4.—Red Dog has not been apprehended, and is supposed to have escaped into Montana.

INTERESTING ITEMS BY WIRE.

It is stated that the Quebec legislature will be convened for the despatch of business about the middle of November.

At St. Gabriel de Brandon yesterday Premier Mercier assisted at the inauguration of the new Montreal and Maskinonge railway line.

The body of a man named John Moreau was found and taken from the sluiceway between Chelsea and Ironsides on the Gatineau River Wednesday. It is not known how or when he was drowned.

The Meaford council has entered an action against the sureties of the late treasurer of the town to recover $2500, the amount the corporation is out by the absconding of that gentleman.

A charivari party at Orchardville, in Grey County, on getting neither money nor a dance in reply to their demands, set fire to the young man's father's home and it was burned to the ground, with all its contents.

A St. Paul Firm Goes Up.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 4.—E. Allen & Co., dry goods dealers, have failed; liabilities $70,000.

The Georgia Election.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 4.—The Georgia State election took place yesterday. The Democratic State ticket had no opposition.

A MYSTERIOUS POISONER.

THE PEOPLE OF GALT EXCITED BY A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.

One Victim Dead—The Deadly Drug Contained in Confectionery Sent From Toronto Through the Postoffice.

GALT, Oct. 4.—The citizens of Galt are in a fever of excitement to-night over a fiendish attempt at wholesale poisoning which has caused the death of one victim and is likely to result fatally in another instance.

By the last mail last night there arrived at the postoffice here three packages bearing the Toronto postmark. A 3-cent postage stamp was upon each and the packages were addressed to Mrs. John Cherry, Miss May Lowell and Mrs. John Ridley, respectively, the latter lady being the wife of the incumbent of the English Church here.

Mrs. Cherry was the first to get her package from the post office this morning, and upon getting home opened it and found that the pasteboard box inside of the wrapper contained six chocolate drops which she gave to her three children to eat. Shortly afterwards all of them showed signs of sickness and before the doctor arrived were in convulsions. The eldest child, about 6 years old, is getting better, but the youngest one, about 2½ years old, never rallied and died to-night. The other child is in a very critical condition and not likely to recover.

The several doctors in attendance give it as their opinion that the candies contained strychnine.

The news of the shocking affair spread rapidly, thus preventing Miss Lowell and Mrs. Ridley from partaking of any of the contents of their packages, which also contained chocolate candy, but of a somewhat different shape and size and probably impregnated with the same deadly poison.

The different boxes were evidently sent by the same party. The handwriting is poor and the same style on each, but the boxes are of different sizes and coarsely put up, having the appearance of being done up by some person not accustomed to that sort of work. They were certainly not sent out by any business firm to advertise their goods as there are no marks upon them to indicate who the senders were.

The motive that led to the perpetration of such a fiendish act and who the fiend is remains a complete mystery.

BY ACCLAMATION.

Mr. W. C. Caldwell Elected to the Local for North Lanark.

ALMONTE, Oct. 4.—Mr. W. C. Caldwell, of Lanark, and Dr. Preston, of Carleton Place, were nominated for the Local Legislature here to-day. Dr. Preston retired and Mr. Caldwell was declared elected.

East Northumberland Nominations.

WARKWORTH, Oct. 4.—The nominations for East Northumberland for the Local House took place to-day. C. A. Mallory of Warkworth, warden of the united counties, was nominated in the Reform interest, and Dr. Willoughby, ex-M.P.P., of Colborne, in the Conservative interest.

Drowning Accident at Richmond.

RICHMOND, Que., Oct. 4.—This morning an uncle of Mr. Boisvert, miller of Ulverton, was driving a double team past the mill pond, and besides the driver, there were in the wagon 5 children, 4 of them belonging to Mr. Boisvert. The horses taking fright began to back, and the whole fell over a steep bank into the pond. Mr. Boisvert immediately ran to the rescue, and together they succeeded in saving all but the youngest child, a boy of 3 years of age, who was found to be dead when taken out of the water. An inquest will be held to-morrow.

Another Mill Accident.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 4.—Another accident happened at Ellison's mill, Port Stanley, the victim being John Gough, who was running the slab saw. The saw began to bind in the stick, and in some way the boy had the thumb of his left hand severed, as well as a deep gash inflicted on the first two fingers.

Fell From the Train.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 4.—Andrew Dennis, a brakeman on the Grand Trunk Railway, fell from the train while it was running 30 miles an hour at Stevensville. He was picked up unconscious and subsequently conveyed to his home at Niagara Falls.

Gored by an Ox.

MONTREAL, Oct. 4.—A man named Allan Ryan, aged 35, a cattle man, while engaged in loading cattle into a ship on the wharf yesterday, was gored by an ox. The infuriated animal gashed his cheek twice and knocked all his teeth out. He was removed to the General Hospital.

TORONTO TOPICS.

An Important Insurance Case on Trial Blew Out the Gas.

TORONTO, Oct. 5.—The case of the Attorney-General against the Ætna Insurance Co., went on all day yesterday in the Assize Court. They are really 26 defendant companies, and the amount in dispute is $26,000. The Ontario Government sues to recover the insurance upon the main building of the Lunatic Asylum at London, which was recently destroyed by fire. The government claims that they are entitled to insurance on annexed buildings connected with the main building, which the defendants claim are not to be included. The case will be continued to-day.

The Criminal Assizes will open next Monday when the most important of the cases will be the trial of Tom Buckley for the murder of Bertha Robinson, alias Usher. There are 22 cases on the calendar.

Lucy Harriet Edwards, who was working as a domestic on Prince Arthur-avenue until February last, has not been heard from since that date.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1888.

MR. WIMAN'S EXPLANATION.

Mr. WIMAN'S despatches, the one he wished to withdraw and the second explaining why he wished its withdrawal, are interesting reading to Canadians. The explanation is confined to one point only—why the withdrawal of the first despatch was desired, and the reason given is that after sending it he decided, instead of making the matter public, to communicate with Senator Sherman. This action was frustrated by the publication of his despatch by papers that were under no obligation to suppress news of such moment at Mr. Wiman's request.

The chief interest in the second circular lies in the fact that it confirms the statement first made that the United States Senate committee was actually considering a proposition to make to England for the annexation of Canada. There can be no doubt that the Committee had been greatly misled as to the feeling in Canada, for they surely would not have contemplated such a proposal had they known how strongly public opinion in Canada is against the Dominion being annexed to the Republic. Yet the fact that such a proposal was contemplated, and that schemes are on foot to draw Canada into the States, should place Canadians on their guard against any scheme, however plausible, that would place this country in the power of the Republic.

Senator Sherman has been named as an influential politician of the States who desired free trade between the two countries. So he does, accompanied by political union. That he does not believe that commercial union would be workable unless accompanied or followed by political union is shown by his statement in his letter to Mr. Wiman, in which he said, "As to commercial union, I see no practical way to bring it about."

The concluding paragraph of Mr. Wiman's letter to the Senator is significant. "Your interest and devotion to this matter of the union of the two countries," he says, "has raised you in the past ninety days above all men." If Mr. Wiman does not favor the annexation of Canada, why does he so highly esteem Senator Sherman for his labors to that end? "To make a mistake now," continues Mr. Wiman, "is not for a moment to be contemplated." So he counsels Senator Sherman not to press his annexationist proposal. A "mistake now" would thwart any efforts in the direction of annexation, and a mistake must, therefore, not be made.

Commercial union or unrestricted reciprocity is what Mr. Wiman professes to be working for, but his publicly expressed regret that Canada was not included in the Declaration of Independence, and his counselling and advising, if not acting with, those who are working for the annexation of the Dominion, show that political union is the ultimate object he has in view.

THE question is, did Mr. Wiman know it was loaded?

IT is said that Hutchinson, or "Old Hutch," made $3,000,000 by cornering September wheat. And it does not seem necessary for him to leave Chicago and come to Canada.

ONE case of violation of the law was proven in the East Northumberland Dominion election case and, although it will not effect the result of the election, Mr. Cochrane looses his seat. In giving judgment the judge said that nothing had been proven against Mr. Cochrane, and the electors should again return him to the House.

In Brief and to the Point.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healt and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

LIGHT AND AIRY.

Sally With a Y.

Now, to me a spade a spade is,
You may talk about your Sadies
And the lot of your fine ladies,
All the fashionable fry;
But there's none to hold a candle—
None—howe'er they rig the handle
To their names—in all the land'll
Touch my Sally with a y.

She is neither wise nor witty,
And, perhaps, not even pretty,
But she's good and she is gritty,
And she'll know the reason why
If with her name you daily;
And the man who spells it Sallie
In Humiliation's valley
May perhaps pick up the y.

Tho' fair fools with the new fangled
Names have most adroitly angled
For your uncle—really wrangled
For the love light from my eye—
There is one who never sought me,
Never 'broidered braces wrought me,
Yet somehow she's cutely caught me,
Has my Sally with a y.

A Scene on the Plains.

Gen. W. T. Sherman's liking for circuses and spectacles is well known. When Buffalo Bill was at Erastina and Madison Square garden before he went to Europe, the general was frequently present. He was talking about Buffalo Bill a day or two ago in this way: "Buffalo Bill's show is the most wonderful thing in the way of disclosing to the people how all the great western country has been settled that it would be possible to present. It is marvelous how he has been able to represent the primeval forest, with the wild animals, the wagon trains and the camps, the settlements and the fights with the Indians, prairie fires and all that sort of thing. I watched him as he rode up in advance of the wagon train and found the spring, and where he stooped down and took the water up with his hat and handed up a hatful to his horse.

"It reminded me of many a similar scene which I have witnessed. I remember just such a spring away up on the North Platte river, and I have seen many a man water his horse or his mule at just such a spring. The water is generally deep down in the surface of the ground in a fissure, where it would be impossible for the animal to reach it. When Buffalo Bill jumps on his horse and swings his hat for the wagon train to come on, it is the most natural thing in the world."—New York Tribune.

A Race for Dear Life.

Some weeks after returning to the fort Gen. Emery, who was in command of the district, ordered me to make a scout as far over as Frenchman's Fork, eighty miles away. I started alone, leading Joe for my war horse and for a run home if jumped by the wild boys. I struck the Fork in the night, and, finding a quiet little place in the bend of the river, I camped. At the break of day I climbed a tall tree near by to take a look up and down the river. I had climbed about thirty feet, when I saw several streaks of blue smoke rising up through the trees not a half mile away. I slid out of that tree mighty quickly, and, running up to Joe, soon had him saddled. I had to find out the size of that village, however, and make my report to the general. I tied Joe to a tree and crept up a high hill, from the top of which I had a good view of it. Then, with all of the information I wanted, I started for Joe, when I espied a band of Indians coming up the ravine in which Joe was tied. They were not a mile away, but had not discovered me. The grass didn't grow under my feet while I was getting down the hill to Joe, and we were soon making lively tracks out of that ravine. The Indians came on quietly until they came to the tree to which Joe had been tied. Then they saw the fresh trail running up the ravine.

Not Up on Foundries.

"Are you familiar with Thackeray's works, Miss Scoter?" asked Mr. Miles Standish of the Pittsburg girl, and she artlessly responded, "Can't say that I am. I do not keep the run of half the foundries they are putting up in Pittsburg."—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Rich and Poor.

The man that's rich should happy be;
He need not put on airs,
Nor care a single cent, not he,
What kind of clothes he wears.

The man by poverty oppressed,
Must in his garb take pride,
Wear clothing of the very best
His poverty to hide.

TEA!

A Chinese writer says: "To make good tea it is an old custom to use running water boiled over a lively fire. That from springs in the hills is the best, and river water next, while well water is the worst. Do not boil the water too hastily; as, first it begins to sparkle like crab's eyes, then, somewhat like fishes' eggs, and lastly it boils up like pearls innumerable springing and waving about. This is the way to boil the water."

If you like a splendid cup of tea try one of the many brands in stock. The price varies with the quality. Splendid Teas at low prices. Better Teas a trifle higher. The best not dear and well worth the moderate price asked.

Young Men's Guild Soiree.

There was a fair attendance at the school room of St. Luke's Church last evening, the occasion being the opening meeting of the Young Men's Guild in connection with the church. There was no heavy literary work done, but the young men showed how social they could be, and their visitors being socially inclined, a very pleasant time was spent. Table games of different kinds were played, and a number of curiosities inspected, among which were old books, a "Breeches" Bible, and a collection of stones and shells. A good programme was provided, which was varied at 9 o'clock by refreshments, served through the kindness of the young men's lady friends. Mr. E. B. Burt, Vice-President, made a few opening remarks, referring to the regret of the society at the prospect of losing its president, the Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, for the winter. The programme was opened by an instrumental solo by Mrs. E. A. Peck, which she played in an accomplished manner. Miss Daisy Morgan then gave a song, and again in the latter part of the programme, which was so well received that she was encored and responded. A reading by Mr. Burt was enjoyed, followed by an instrumental duet by Messrs. Norton and Walke. They were recalled and responded. Miss Eva Tivy gave a song in a pleasing and finished manner, followed by Mr. Kingscotte, who was enthusiastically encored. Master B. Turner gave a recitation and the meeting was closed by a few remarks from the President, the Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, who referred to his regret that he could not be with them for some time. The Young Men's Guild have made a successful start of the season's work, and judging by the syllabus which they have issued, the meetings during the winter will be interesting and instructive. There's will be a debate at the next meeting, October 18th.

Mission Band Social and Concert.

A parlor concert was given by the Mission Band of St. Paul's Church on Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. Wm. Davidson. Although the night was very damp and cloudy and had every appearance of rain, a very large number assembled and spent a very enjoyable time. The programme, which consisted of vocal and instrumental music, readings, ventriloquism and kindergarten exercises, was well rendered and thoroughly enjoyed. The ventriloquism of Mr. W. A. Dixon brought forth peals of laughter, and the kindergarten, which was very pleasing, was taken part in by Master Percy Jamieson, Misses Jennie Hall, Marion Hall, Katie Ferguson, Aggie Hall, Elsie Cameron, Jeanie Cameron, Reggie Thompson, Nellie Courtney, May Courtney and Ethel Brodigan. Everyone seemed to have spent a very sociable time and returned home highly pleased with their evening's entertainment. The following is the programme:—

CURLERS IN COUNCIL.

Annual Meeting at the Rink—Election of Officers and Club Skips—Prospects for the Season.

On Thursday night nearly a score of comfortable looking men walked into the club room at the rink on Charlotte-st., hung up their overcoats on the hooks, selected chairs to suit their physical proportions and proceeded to do business. Although a trifle in advance of winter weather, and wanting ice out on the rinks, the curlers dispatched a deal of important matters when in session. There is a gratifying absence of discussion, for curlers are not, as a class, what the apostle calls disputatious men, but rather the reverse. The honors of office, while much esteemed are not "log-rolled" for, as worthiness from a curling point of view is sure to tell. The utmost good feeling prevailed and an informal discussion as to the membership called out the statement that a general effort would be made to double the number.

Among the members present were Dr. Boucher, Messrs. McGill, Davidson, McClelland, Fair, Bellegheim, Ferguson, Alliston, Walker, Rutherford, Dobbin, Stanger and Clegg. Others strolled in but too late to have their names inscribed on the roll of fame.

Vice-Pres. R. S. Davidson, occupied the chair, and Secretary C. McGill, made careful note of the proceedings. The minutes of the annual meeting of 1887 were read and approved. The yearly financial statement was read over by Treasurer McGill, and after some comment adopted. Receipts for the year had about covered expenses, and this was esteemed a fairly satisfactory state of affairs.

The election of officers for 1888-89 was taken up, and in the pleasantest possible way the following gentlemen were elected, or rather re-elected.

PRESIDENT.—Judge Weller.
VICE-PRESIDENT.—R. S. Davidson.
CHAPLAIN.—Rev. P. Clifton Parker.
SEC.-TREAS.—C. McGill.
MANAGING COMMITTEE.—W. G. Ferguson and A. Hall, with officers of the club.
REPRESENTATIVE MEMBER.—Dr. Boucher.

Then followed the important duty of selecting club skips. The membership of the club was totalled up and it was decided to have at least ten skips. Nominations were called for and rapidly made. The formality of a ballot was dispensed with, for it was recognized that the gentlemen who were suggested had won their spurs years ago, and were experienced curlers long before the C. P. R. Railway, for instance, was thought of. All were declared elected.

CLUB SKIPS.—Messrs. W. G. Ferguson, Dr. Boucher, C. McGill, T. P. Attrill, T. Rutherford, S. Ray, Geo. Brown, A. Hall, H. Strickland and Judge Weller.

The list of skips were looked over and gave great satisfaction to the meeting.

JUNIOR SKIPS.—W. F. Hamilton and J. Connal.

In a conversational way members discussed the plan of "grouping" for contests for the trophies of the season and then adjourned.

Obituary.

It is with deep regret that we learn of the death of Miss Edythe E. Roxburgh, eldest daughter of Mr. W. E. Roxburgh, of Norwood, which sad event occurred at noon on Wednesday of this week. Miss Roxburgh had only been ill a short time and her demise was unexpected. She was a popular young lady among her friends, as well as beloved by her family, and her death will be greatly regretted.

Peterborough vs. Victoria.

The protracted suit between Victoria and Peterborough counties for the responsibility of the latter in sharing in the cost of maintaining the Kinmount and Bobcaygeon boundary bridges, says the Lindsay Post, which Peterborough is trying to shirk, was argued before Mr. Justice Ferguson, in Toronto, last Friday. Judgment was reserved, Mr. C. Moss, Q.C., and Mr. A. Hudspeth, Q.C., for Victoria; Mr. Robinson, Q.C., and Mr. E. B. Edwards, for Peterborough.

KEENE EXHIBITION.

A Successful Annual Show of the Otonabee Agricultural Society.

The Otonabee Agricultural Society held its annual exhibition at Keene on Thursday, Oct. 4th. The cloudy aspect of the heavens doubtless detained many who would otherwise have availed themselves of the opportunity of viewing the exhibits, but as it was there was a good attendance, about 700 passing through the gates.

The exhibits were numerous and varied, there being 600 entries. The show of roots was excellent. Mr. James Yourex, of Keene Mills, had the largest potatoes ever seen in the locality, averaging nearly two pounds each. Other roots, turnips, mangolds, etc., were very fine. The flowers looked very fine and the fancy work was good. The other departments were well filled, and good horses and cattle and other animals, were on view.

Mr. W. T. Mather showed a farm waggon, double buggy, several single buggies and a road cart. Mr. J. W. Crosby, Peterborough, exhibited samples of the well known Uxbridge organ, and Mr. G. A. Mitchell also of Peterborough, exhibited a New Williams sewing machine. Mr. D. Kerr, of Keene, showed a couple of Hayden's fine ploughs that are well spoken of by all who have used them.

The village had an animated appearance during the day. Bunting was displayed at the Victoria Drug Store and at Dr. Harrison's residence. Dr. Harrison secured several photograph views during the day.

Altogether the exhibition was very successful and was about the best ever held in Keene.

To Save Life

Frequently requires prompt action. An hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pneumonia, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Latimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use; and I advise all families to use it in sudden emergencies, for coughs, croup, &c."

A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middletown, Tenn., says: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."

"I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," writes E. Bragdon, of Palestine, Texas, "believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died."

MORE ABOUT ANNEXATION

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY'S MOVE TO THAT END.

Profound Consideration Given by a Committee of the U. S. Senate to a Scheme for the Purchase of the Dominion.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The Sun's Washington special says: News reached me a few days ago of a move on the part of the Republicans for the peaceful acquisition of Canada. The object was to spike Mr. Cleveland's retaliation message gun, and go him one better. I made an investigation, and learned that some such movement was not only contemplated, but thoroughly discussed, and that the Canadian question has received profound consideration in the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations. The scheme of welding Canada into the Union by assuming her national debt is indorsed by Senator Sherman.

I asked Senator Morgan whether a resolution looking toward Canada's purchase had been introduced into the Committee on Foreign Relations, and he said: "Yes; Mr. Blair, of New Hamshire, put a resolution empowering the President to open negotiations with Great Britain, but no action has been taken upon it. I think the opinion of the committee is that the resolution is premature, and would not be at all likely to excite any favorable consideration on the part of Great Britain or Canada.

Senator Morgan further said: "There is not a member of the Senate of the United States, and, I suppose, not a member of the House of Representatives, who would not be very glad indeed to see Canada included within our borders, but that would have to be under such circumstances and upon such conditions as would be entirely satisfactory to Canada. We would not want any people coming here who were regretful of the step, who were compelled to come, or whose views upon national policy were overruled and broken down by over-government."

"How do you think Great Britain would act in case we made a proposition in the line of Senator Blair's resolution?"

"My general conception of British policy on that subject is this: Judging from the manner in which she has been acting toward Canada recently, I think she regards her as the chief of her colonial possessions, and that the value which attaches to the Dominion is more particularly in connection with her commerce with Australia, India, and Hong Kong. I think Canada's feeling is growing every day in favor of annexation with the United States. No people of our blood and race and our habits of thought upon all of the questions of personal liberty that have been so long existing in the Anglo-Saxon family, can live in close proximity to a government like ours as Canada does, for any considerable length of time, without imbibing all of the affection for our institutions that we possess. The constant drift is all in our direction."

[On Aug. 6 Senator Blair introduced a resolution in the United States Senate authorizing the President to open negotiations with Great Britain for acquiring Canada but making no suggestion as to terms.—ED.]

Comment in London.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The news that the United States Senate Foreign Relations Committee is in favor of annexation aroused little comment. It is generally regarded as a political move. The Chronicle says the question must be determined at Ottawa rather than at London.

Light Trading in Wheat at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Trading in wheat was light yesterday and there was a general disposition to let the market alone, at least for the present. The market is too uncertain and after the occurrence of last month and the situation generally, operators deem it prudent to hold off. Domestic markets were all lower, and the volume of speculative trading generally lighter than for some days past. Corn was quite active and unsettled most of the session though there were periods when the markets ruled comparatively quiet. Oats were easy and provisions steady.

Developed into a Thief.

KINGSTON, Oct. 4.—Miss Lacey brought a party of boys from England, and among them was Christopher Ragan. Yesterday he stole a silver watch and ran away. He was sent to the reformatory for five years.

Swallowed Carbolic Acid.

BROCKVILLE, Oct. 4.—A 3-year-old child of Mr. Shearer secured a bottle of carbolic acid and swallowed a mouthful of the liquid. A physician was at once summoned and after considerable work the child's life was saved.

The Grape Crop in Essex.

WINDSOR, Oct. 4.—The grape yield in Essex this year is far greater than that of any previous year. About three tons to the acre is the average. The principal kinds are Concord, Delaware and Vermont.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Inquiry at the general offices of the Chicago and Atlantic Railway Company in regard to the reported accident at Koutz, Ind., elicited the following statement from General Superintendent Thomas: A work train with a gang of Italians on board who were engaged upon repairs on the road stopped at the Kankakee water tank to take water when a fast freight train ran into it, causing a general smashup. Three Italians were seriously, though it is not believed fatally injured, and from 35 to 40 others more or less cut or bruised, but not dangerously.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth It relieves the little sufer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether arising from teething or other causes 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

TIRED OF LIFE.

A Deliberate Attempt at Suicide in a Montreal Hotel.

MONTREAL, Oct. 4.—A most determined attempt at suicide was made in the Queen's Hotel in Claude-street last night. A middle-aged man named Kavanagh, whose father keeps a grocery store on Chaboillez-square, came to the Queen's to board on Friday last. He was rather intemperate. Yesterday he went out for a walk after supper, came in shortly after 9 o'clock and went to bed. Some one passing the door heard a moaning sound inside and knocked. Receiving no answer, they broke open the door. The man was found lying nearly insensible with green froth at his mouth. A glass with green fluid stood on an adjacent chair, while a parcel labelled "Paris green" was found in the room. The police physician was telephoned for and on arrival decided to send the man to Notre Dame Hospital, but it was fully an hour before the ambulance arrived, though in the meantime the man had several times gone into a state of coma and was only got round by the assistance of a constable who studied medicine in his earlier days. The unfortunate man on being spoken to, said that he had deliberately taken poison, as he was afflicted with family troubles. He had no wish to live any longer on this earth and it was a gross piece of injustice on the part of any one to bring him back to life. All he wanted to do was to fall into a peaceful sleep. His father and sister were sent for and said the whole trouble of their relative's affliction was whisky.

Prémier Greenway is expected to-morrow when it is anticipated that criminal proceedings will be instituted against the managers of The Free Press for libel.

The bridge over the Assiniboine was completed to-day and it is expected that the regular train service over the Northern Pacific will commence on Oct. 15.

CARNOT'S IMMIGRATION DECREE.

Germans Advised by the Berlin Press to Avoid Living in France.

BERLIN, Oct. 4.—The North German Gazette, referring to the French decree regulating immigration, recommends Germans henceforth to avoid living in France. It says: Every German who crosses the French frontier will understand that he has removed from culture to barbarism, and he has no right to complain if he comes into disagreeable contact with national customs and instincts.

The Vossische Zeitung thinks the decree is rather directed against Italians, while admitting that the decree is a sign of weakness in the French Government which gives way to the chauvinism of the masses. It says Germany has no right to complain, as the decree simply enacts what has been a long time in force in Germany.

Impossible of Execution.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—The Temps declares that President Carnot's decree is impossible of execution, and that opposition will be raised to it in the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies. Concerning foreigners who propose to visit Paris at the time of the Exhibition The Temps says they may rest assured that the decree will not be allowed to interfere with French courtesies.

The Liberte says the Ministry hesitates to approve the decree, and that it will be modified before it is presented to the Chambers.

Yarns and Hosiery
—AT—TURNBULL'S

YARNS.

There is nothing more essential to the health of the body in this changeable climate of ours than keeping the feet comfortably clad, so, in order to supply the large demand for good Woolen Yarn and Hosiery, we have paid particular attention to this department. Our Baldwin and Wheeling Yarns are imported direct from Scotland. Baldwin's Yarns are so well known we need not say anything about them, and Scotland is noted the world over for wools so that we can show you all the best makes in any color at the very lowest prices. The Wheeling Yarn is a heavy make intended for children's and boys' wear, very much like our Canadian yarn only much softer and warmer, and it comes at a low price.

HOSIERY.

You should see our Heather Wool Sox for man, knitted by the grandmas of Scotland. They may seem a little high in price, but they are really very cheap as they wear so long. We have Black Cashmere Hose in plain and ribbed in two or three different makes, from the smallest baby's size to the largest ladies', at prices that are right, as we are confident they are not sold cheaper in either city or town in the regular way. We have also a special make of Canadian Hose closely and softly knitted, without a seam. You should ask to be shown these goods when at the Hosiery counter. You will be pleased with them. We need only to speak in a whisper about a bargain we have secured, knowing that it will spread like fire when mentioned. One of our largest hosiery knitting mills, that supplies the wholesale trade only (as they have to sell in large quantities to find market for all they make), after filling all their orders, had a surplus left, which they were anxious to dispose of in order to make room to commence the cotton goods for spring. Our stock not being heavy, we were able to do with them and can now offer you an all wool perfect knitted hose, ladies' size, for 12½ cents a pair. Remember that all through the season we keep our stock well assorted, and no matter what inducements may be offered we never allow ourselves to be undersold.

SHERMAN ON ANNEXATION

THE OHIO SENATOR SAYS UNION OF WAR IS INEVITABLE.

Why He Thinks Commercial Union Won't Work—The United States Not Anxious But Willing to Absorb the Dominion.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The Sun's Washington special gives Senator Sherman's views on the Canadian question. The Senator said: "Mr. Wiman has strong predilections for Commercial Union. I differ with him a good deal about it. I know of no case in history where Commercial Union has advanced political union. It was tried between this country and Canada twice and utterly failed. It was tried by the American colonies before the Declaration of Independence and utterly failed. It was not until they secured a political union, under the name of a confederacy called the United States, that they were able to make a stand against the mother country. Even that confederacy proved to be insufficient to insure Commercial Union, and so the United States formed a constitution and then for the first time had a commercial and political union. Commercial union followed political union. The Zollverein never promoted union in Germany, it promoted discord. There were treaties of all kinds between England and Scotland for centuries, but they never could unite those people until by accident the crowns of both countries fell upon one head. Therefore I think that these gentlemen like my friend Butterworth, make a mistake when they look upon commercial union as a road to political union. I think commercial union promotes points of difference, not points of union. It is true commercial union tends to increase trade, and yet political union is the only thing that can bring about absolute reciprocity of trade and communion of interests.

"Do you think Canada is ready for political union now?"

"No, I suppose not. That can come only after long consideration. It cannot be hurried. In regard to negotiations I will say that no proposition has been made. The furthest anyone has ever proposed to go at this time is simply to express a willingness on the part of the United States to consider favorably political union. I make no secret or reserve as to my opinion about Canada. I have said for 40 years that the political union of Canada and the United States was their inevitable destiny. When quite a young man I traveled in Canada, and last year I crossed the whole continent from Montreal to Vancouver, and know perhaps as much about it as any public man here.

"I think a political union would be of mutual benefit to both countries, but of special benefit to Canada. The long boundary line of 4000 miles, half of which is an intangible line, and the other half water crossed daily by the vessels of both countries, makes a union necessary or a war inevitable. I do not say there is any feeling that would justify this, but the situation is much the same as it was between the Scotch and English. Wars grow out of trivial things; they do not grow out of committee, they grow out of accidents. The line between Canada and the United States is incapable of fortification or defence, and Custom houses are useless. As a matter of course, any invading army would go around the forts. As for the Custom house, I know for a fact that a certain amount of smuggling is going on all the time.

"There are more than 1,000,000 native Canadians living in the United States, and citizens of the United States have more than $100,000,000 of capital invested in Canada. The similarity of people in language, descent, habits and institutions makes union easy and natural. The lines of commerce from Canada to this country are lines of longitude, not latitude. I know of no province or section but would gain largely by union, without losing any local advantage it now possesses.

"I think, from a selfish point of view, England would get its compensating benefit. She has now practically renounced the allegiance of Canada. She recognizes the independence of Canada. It might be a great object for her to be relieved from the duty of defending and protecting the Dominion. Her commercial interests are not affected in the least, because Canada would use just as much of the British products as now, but they would be imported into our country. We are altogether the largest consumers of British products. We are her best customers, and the union of Canada with the United States would only add to our trade with Great Britain.

"I am not in favor of union with Canada except by peaceful means, by making it the interest of both parties. I don't want to go to war to acquire territory. Territory acquired by war is worth nothing. What I would like to see is that the Provinces of Canada, now organized in separate distinct autonomies, and having sufficient population, should be represented in Congress like our States; then the jealousy and rivalry that now exists between Ontario and Quebec would disappear."

"You are in opposition to the President on the Retaliation Bill?"

"I am not in opposition to him. I differ with him. I think the retaliation measures probably will never be authorized, and would never be put in force by the President if authorized. But the right of American fishermen to enter the ports of Nova Scotia and tranship their catch will always be insisted on."

"Is there a strong desire on the part of the United States for the peaceful acquisition of Canada and Mexico?

"I do not think there is a very strong desire about it, but I think there is a willingness to agree to it. I think that expresses it."

Senator Sherman further states that the public debt of Canada, $300,000,000, would not trouble the United States. Three years of the whiskey tax would pay it all.

The North German Gazette and most of the German papers contrast Emperor William's cordial welcome at Vienna with his formal reception at St. Petersburg.

A BIG GOTHAM SWINDLE.

COLLAPSE OF W. H. INGHAM & CO.'S SPECULATIVE SYNDICATE.

Hundreds of Investors in all Parts of the Country Fleeced Out of Sums Aggregating Over $100,000.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—One of the biggest swindling schemes that have been worked in this city for many years has been brought to light by the disappearance of one William H. Ingham and the closing of the brokerage office of "Wm. H. Ingham & Co." at 38 Broadway. As yet no accurate estimate of the swindler's profits can be made, and very possibly the extent of the fraud will never be known. But from present indications the losses of the victims of the speculative mania will run well up into the thousands and may aggregate more than $100,000. It is thought that Ingham is not his real name. He came here in 1887 and shortly afterward opened an office in Broadway. He did not personally engage the office, but a man with black side-whiskers performed this office for him.

His entry on the scene was soon followed by the appearance in the provincial papers of advertisements calling attention to the immense profits to be gained by investing in "Ingham & Co's Speculative Syndicate." The "Syndicate" was briefly described as a mutual pool which was to operate in stocks, bonds and grain under the direction of W. H. Ingham & Co. The shares were to cost but $10 each, the capital stock was to be $25,000 and the managers were to withhold 30 per cent. of the gross profits as a return for the trouble. The unwary nibbled at the bait, sent in their $10 bills and W. H. Ingham & Co. were soon launched on the sea of prosperity.

Pretty soon the new concern began to resort to the old-time scheme of brokerage swindles, and by means of out-of-town directories secured thousands of names to which their circulars were mailed. Before long the clause in the firm's glowing circular calling for agents in every city, town, and village began to bear fruit. Persons who offered themselves as agents were promised $1 on every share of stock they would sell. The agents were allowed to deduct their commissions before forwarding the purchase money, and as this fact was soon noised about the "firm" ere long had an abundance of agents. By means of these appliances for catching game W. H. Ingham & Co. rapidly built up an extensive clientele.

At the end of the first month a printed statement was forwarded to all the stockholders, or "members" as they were termed, showing that the profits for the month of May, 1887, were 60 per cent. As each subscriber was likewise favored with W. H. Ingham & Co.'s check for 52 per cent. of his investment less the 30 per cent. commission, the deluded members naturally fattened themselves that they had struck a good thing. Most of them promptly ordered more stock for additional and of course advised their friends to invest. When the June statement came along it showed that the month's profit was 30 per cent., and as far as can be ascertained checks for that amount less the commission were also forthcoming.

The business grew with a rush and by-and-by the successful operators had to hire several young ladies to direct and seal the thousands of circulars. In April last statements announced that the managers had yielded to the solicitation of the members of the syndicate and increased the capital stock to $50,000, but must decline to make it $100,000 as they had been urged to do. Members were constantly informed that the syndicate was reaping its large profits through its ability to put up big margins and thus cover heavy declines which would send small operators to the wall.

This statement, it is said, was evidently satisfactory to the neighbors and the firm's business never was larger than during last month. At that time a force of half-a-dozen young ladies were constantly busy directing and mailing circulars, and at times a wagon load of mail has been sent away in one day. On one occasion at least 9000 circulars are said to have been sent out in one day. The mail received was a load of enormous proportions, and—a noticeable fact—was all delivered at the firm's office as it had no post-office box or drawer.

Last Saturday Ingham disappeared. He mailed a card to his victims, reviewing the career of the syndicate and announcing that "in consequence of members' solicitations he had met with heavy losses which had forced him to suspend with the loss of the entire syndicate membership of capital, and all its business and profits and stock." The card concludes by saying: "Soon as we can get matters straightened and our accounts straightened, with full details and figures of the losses and trades, and open our offices again we will notify you. By the word 'Co.' after the name W. H. Ingham is meant each and every syndicate member who constitute the company of the firm."

All Ingham's offices were drawn on either the Seaboard National Bank or the United States National Bank, but he was never allowed to overdraw his account. His supposed partner is said be still in town.

In Search of a Husband.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Alfred Deakin of Hamilton is in the city in search of her husband. Deakin came to Canada some time ago and a few months ago sent for his affianced wife and they were married in Hamilton on June 30 last. The Vacant Senatorship.

QUEBEC, Oct. 6.—It is rumored to-day that Mr. R. R. Dobell, Quebec's leading lumber exporter, and son-in-law of Sir David Macpherson, will receive the Senatorship left vacant by the death of the late Hon. J. G. Ross. The name of Mr. E. R. Price, the surviving head of the great firm of Price Brothers, is also mentioned as a possible candidate for the seat, as the division represented by the late Mr. Ross, the Laurentides, embraces the region from which the Prices have taken their title of "Kings of the Saguenay." Moreover, Mr. Price's brother, the late Hon. David Price, was Mr. Ross's immediate predecessor in the Senate. The names of Messrs. Valin and Laudry, ex-M.P.'s, are also put forward in this connection.

A Thorold Mystery.

THOROLD, Oct. 6.—This village is agitated over a miniature Whitechapel mystery. For some time past ladies walking alone after nightfall have been accosted by a man who, after thoroughly frightening them, would strike them a violent blow and then escape in the darkness. Several ladies have been accosted in this manner within the last couple of weeks, and their male friends are on the watch for the perpetrator of the outrages. If he is caught at his ruffianly work it will go hard with him.

THE WHITECHAPEL HORROR.

Bloodhounds to Be Employed in the Search for the Assassin.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Sir Charles Warren Chief of the Metropolitan Police Force, has decided to employ bloodhounds in his efforts to discover the perpetrators of the White chapel murders.

The police place confidence in the story of George M. Dodge, a seaman, who states that in August last he met a Malay cook named Alaska, with whom he had previously been acquainted on shipboard, in a music hall in London, and that Alaska told him he had been robbed of all he had by a woman of the town and threatened that unless he found the woman and recovered his property he would kill and mutilate every Whitechapel woman he met. The police are searching everywhere for the Malay.

Acting on information which has been furnished them, the police who are investigating the Whitechapel murders have seized and occupied several houses in that section.

Ruining a Great Bank.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—It is reported that a large deficit has been discovered in the New Zealand Bank, a part of which is due to the dishonesty of directors who have used their official positions to get possession of a large amount of the funds of the bank, and are, in fact, defaulters. There have also been large losses through very unwise investments of the funds. A meeting of the stockholders here has been held at which it was determined to entirely wipe out the New Zealand Board of Directors. The London Board will also be reorganized. No dividends will be paid for an indefinite period. The shortage will entirely wipe out the surplus of $500,000, and there will be a considerable deficit beside. The bank has been one of the most profitable and important in Pacific waters.

After Forger Foster.

MONTREAL, Oct. 6.—Another of Pinkerton's sharp detectives has arrived in the city to hunt up the noted Foster, the absconding mortgage forger of the New York Produce Exchange. He strolled along St. James-street yesterday afternoon keeping a sharp eye on those who looked American in cut of dress and general make up. Foster was traced to St. Albans, Vt., where he is known to have been on Saturday, and since then all trace of him was lost. It is now conjectured that he came on to Montreal and reached here on Saturday night and is hiding in or near the city. A reward of $230 is offered for information of his whereabouts. Some of the local detectives think Foster reached here on Saturday night, but at once left by the Grand Trunk Railway midnight express for Toronto.

Criminal Libel Case at Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 6.—Acton Burrows, editor and managing director of The Call, was arrested yesterday morning on the complaint of Attorney-General Martin, for libel for stating in The Call of Oct. 3 that Greenway and he would have suffered a large pecuniary loss by the rejection of the Northern Pacific contract, and that they had procured the support of the House to the contract by undue means. Mr. Greenway arrived last evening. He will proceed criminally against the proprietor and editor of The Free Press for charging that he entered into a corrupt agreement with the Manitoba Central.

Mr. Taillon's $25,000 Libel Suit.

MONTREAL, Oct. 6.—During the recent electoral contest in Montreal East, La Patrie accused Hon. Mr. Taillon of having tried to steal the election in 1886 by causing the ballots in favor of Mr. David to be spoiled through the connivance of those having charge of the ballot boxes. The leader of the Opposition has just met this serious accusation with an action for $25,000 damages, taken against the paper yesterday.

A MURDER OR A MISTAKE

THE MYSTERIOUS POISONING CASE AT GALT.

An Inquest Begun—Strychnine Undoubtedly the Cause of the Cherry Child's Death—No Clue to the Miscreant.

GALT, Oct. 6.—The mysterious poisoning of the infant daughter of John Cherry by eating confectionery received through the mails from Toronto, was the absorbing topic of conversation here yesterday. A coroner's inquest was held last night by Coroner Vardon, and several witnesses were examined at considerable length.

All the evidence would lead to no other conclusion than that the candies were sent by some evil-disposed person, although none of the persons who received them can formany idea as to who the perpetrator of the dastardly act can be. It was brought out in evidence that some of the candies eaten by the Cherry family were very bitter and others tasted like the ordinary chocolate. Neither Mr. Lowell's nor Mr. Ridley's families had tasted the contents of their package.

A post-mortem examination was made on the remains of Mr. Cherry's daughter yesterday afternoon, and all the organs of the body found in a healthy state. The testimony of the medical experts who attended the family during sickness was taken, and all of them gave it as their opinion from the symptoms shown that strychnine was the drug used.

After the hearing of the evidence the inquest was adjourned until next Tuesday to get a report upon the contents of the stomach.

The package addressed to Miss May Lowell was not taken out of the postoffice until after the poisoning at Mr. Cherry's became known, the chief of police in the meantime having given directions that all similar packages addressed to parties in the town should be held back. This package contained three chocolate drops, presumably intended for Mr. and Mrs. Lowell and their only daughter. The package addressed to Mrs. Ridley, at the rectory, was taken home by Mrs. Ridley and contained five candies, with two small slips of paper upon which was written "papa" and "mama" The package sent to Mrs. J. Cherry contained six chocolates, the exact number of Mr. Cherry's household.

When Rev. Mr. Ridley saw the contents of the box addressed to his wife he advised that they should not be eaten, as the sending of the package seemed a rather unusual and strange occurrence. He thought no more of the matter until about three o'clock in the afternoon, when he was informed of the mysterious illness of Mr. Cherry's family, and upon visiting them and ascertaining the cause, he lost no time in reaching his home and at once placed the package which came to his wife in the hands of the chief of police. Mr. Cherry is the proprietor of the Dumfries flouring mills in this town, and was for some years a partner with his brother in the Preston mills. He is a man of whom every one has a good word to say and was not aware that he had an enemy in the world. This makes the crime—and nobody here believes that it is anything else than a diabolical crime—the more incomprehensible.

Postmaster Patteson's Theory.

TORONTO, Oct. 6.—A good deal of excitement was created in this city by the despatch from Galt yesterday, giving the particulars of the poisoning of Mrs. Cherry's children by eating confectionery impregnated with strychnine sent through the post from Toronto. Postmaster Patteson is of the opinion that it is probable the chocolates were made by some one who wished to pay a compliment to friends, and in securing some of the ingredients at the chemist's, a mistake was made and strychnine supplied instead of the harmless stuff applied for. Such accidents have occurred and are likely to occur again. He does not at present incline to the belief that it was a case of wilful poisoning, and no action has been taken by him, but he will forward a report to the department at Ottawa giving his views.

The police have not been communicated with, and consequently have made no effort to find out who sent the deadly messages.

At present the case is enveloped in mystery, and it is impossible to say whether the poisoned chocolates were sent by some evil-disposed miscreant or by a friend who had no idea that there was anything wrong with the sweets.

A Deserted Wife.

MONTREAL, Oct. 6.—Madame Alexandrine Laplante, through counsel, entered an action yesterday morning against her husband, Theodule Garand, farmer, for separation as to bed and board, on the ground of brutality. She was married in 1862 and up to last June they lived happily together, when her husband suddenly changed without any cause and left her, telling her to go to her father's and he would provide for her and her children. She agreed to this, but he has not fulfilled the conditions and has further sold his property and deserted her. She also alleges that he has brutally treated her and that it is impossible to live with him. She asks for an alimentary allowance and the revendication of some property situated in St. Remi, fraudulently disposed of by her husband.

A Fight at Foxboro.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 6.—Thursday night about 6 o'clock, as H. Sine, baker, was leaving Laird's store he was pounced upon by a man named Gilbert Garrison, another village baker, who lifted a large stone over Sine's head and let it fall. Sine instantly fell to the ground stunned and was bleeding terribly. Garrison, not satisfied with this injury, sprang upon him and commenced pummelling him with a large stone which he held in his hand. By-standers interfered and removed Garrison. Sine was taken to his home, where his wounds were dressed. The attending physicians state that the man is seriously injured and may not recover. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Garrison. The feud resulted from business competition.

Lime Works Burned.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 6.—About 6 o'clock last night the lime kilns at Robertson's Point, at the Narrows, on the St. John River, a few hundred yards from Indiantown, were completely destroyed by fire. The fire was caused by the carelessness of a workman, who undertook to fill with oil a lamp which was lighted. About 800 barrels of lime, ready to be drawn, were in the kilns, at the time, but will probably be saved. On the wharf were 1400 more barrels ready for shipment, but these were destroyed. Most of the property was also destroyed. Thirty hands are thrown out of employment. The loss is estimated at $8000 no insurance.

Burglars at Farmersville.

FAIR AT LAKEFIELD.

EXHIBITION OF THE SMITH, ENNISMORE AND LAKEFIELD SOCIETY.

A Very Successful Show—An increased Number of Entries—Large Attendance—The New Grounds.

The Annual Exhibition of the Smith, Ennismore and Lakefield Agricultural Society was held in Lakefield on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 4th and 5th. The inside departments were open on the evening of the first day, and large numbers gathered in the hall to view the exhibits.

The show of grain was very good, and the roots and vegetables were very fine. In domestic manufactures many good articles were shown, and the ladies had on view many tasty specimens of their work. There was a good show of dairy products.

On the second day the exhibition was in full swing. The live stock were shown in the Society's new grounds, further north from the hall. The grounds have been well fenced, a good track constructed and a stand built in the centre from which during the afternoon the Lakefield brass band discoursed sweet music. As is usual at this exhibition there was a large show of excellent horses, and there were some exceedingly good cattle shown. The sheep, pigs and poultry classes were well filled and altogether the exhibits at the grounds was a creditable one.

Mr. W. Forsyth, of Peterborough, exhibited specimens of his make of fanning mills, including the Champion bagger. Mr. H. Owens, Peterborough showed samples of pumps of his manufeature. Mr. C.C.McDonald, Peterborough, was on hand with the Chatham fanning mills, and Mr. D. Smith, Lakefield, exhibited a specimen of harrows. In the hall Mr. J. W. Crosby, Peterborough, showed two Uxbridge organs and a Doherty instrument. Mr. W. M. Graham, Lakefield, had specimens of the Karn organs. Mr. I. D. Hendricks, Peterborough, explained to the ladies the working of the White sewing machine. Mr. T. Gordon, Lakefield, had on view a sample of his canoes.

The attendance on the second day was large, there being about 1,200 persons on the grounds, and the horse ring was the centre of attraction during the afternoon. It is a noticeable fact that the number of entries at the exhibitions in this district this year show an increase all around, and Lakefield was not behind in this, for the entries numbered 684, an increase of 42 over the previous year. The receipts were much larger than formerly, largely owing to the live stock being shown in enclosed grounds, and $208 were taken at the ticket offices.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Sensation in Commercial Circles—Broker Cox Again a Free Man.

TORONTO, Oct. 6.—A sensation in commercial circles is on the tapis. Half-a-dozen well-known business men in Toronto are threatened with legal proceedings by commission men of Chicago, if they do not make good the loss sustained by them in their dealings in September wheat.

Daniel Leaman, who was seriously injured early yesterday morning on the Grand Trunk Railway, at Don station, is considerably better and is now supposed to be out of danger.

A bricklayer named Robert Constable while at work on Thomas Thompson & Sons new building, King-street east, yesterday afternoon, fell from the scaffold to the pavement, a distance of 40 feet. He was badly bruised, but the doctors do not think that he is fatally injured.

At the opening proceedings at Wycliffe College last evening much interest was excited in Principal Sheraton's address on "Christian Unity and the Lambeth Conference."

Police Magistrate Denison yesterday sent Alexander Ritchie, charged with horse stealing, to Peterboro for trial. Sarah Halpering and Bernard Goldstein, the eloping couple from Newark, who stole $100 and a quantity of clothing from their employer, were sent to jail for 60 days for bringing stolen property into Canada.

At the Police Court yesterday afternoon E. S. Cox was called for the last time to answer to the charge of having defrauded the Central Bank out of $10,000, when Mr. Osler stated that he had no evidence to offer, the deposit receipt of $10,000 being now in the possession of the liquidators of the Bank, and it being impossible to show that the Bank paid for the deposit receipt out of its own funds. The Magistrate at once dismissed this, the last charge against Cox.

Sir John A. Macdonald was in the city yesterday.

TEA!

A Chinese writer says: "To make good tea it is an old custom to use running water boiled over a lively fire. That from springs in the hills is the best, and river water next, while well water is the worst. Do not boil the water too hastily; as, first it begins to sparkle like crab's eyes, then, somewhat like fishes' eggs, and lastly it boils up like pearls innumerable springing and waving about. This is the way to boil the water."

If you like a splendid cup of tea try one of the many brands in stock. The price varies with the quality. Splendid Teas at low prices. Better Teas a trifle higher, The best not dear and well worth the moderate price asked.

A New Departure.

At a general congregational meeting of Charlotte-st. Methodist Church, held on Friday night, a new system of letting the pews, or rather sittings in the pews, was adopted. The system formerly the rule of letting a whole pew has been abandoned. Only individual sittings or such a number of sittings as may be desired are let. In fact the officials of the church have decided not to let to anyone more seats than will be fully occupied. It is expected that the plan will work satisfactorily and that a larger number will be accommodated with seats than heretofore.

Fire in a Fruit Store.

Last night about half past ten a fire broke out in the fruit store of Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom. The firemen responded very promptly and soon had it extinguished, but not before the smoke had damaged a large amount of fruit. The fire commenced in a number of drawers containing a quantity of paper, which are built against the south wall of the store and a little to the west of the office. The stove which stands some four or five feet to the north-east of these drawers had a very hot fire in during the evening, and it is supposed the paper in some way got ignited. Damage to the drawers will not be very considerable but the smoke has spoiled fruit to the extent of about $300. The loss is covered by insurance with Wilson & Morrison in the London & Lancashire.

Baseball.

The Port Hope Times of Friday contains the following:—"Peterborough stated through the columns of their papers some time ago that Port Hope might expect a challenge to play them for $75. We have waited for the challenge to come to hand, but have grown weary, so we turn the tables and challenge the Peterborough club to play for $75, on our grounds, any day to suit them after arrangements have been completed. Now, Peterborough, accept or eat your own words.—H. J. JONES, Secretary." We are requested to say that the President and Manager of the Peterborough Association club had nothing to do with the challenge. Those players, however, who had the matter in hand, will no doubt attend to it.

The T.V.C. Commission.

The Trent Valley Canal Commissioners, who went east over the canal route this week, went by water as far as Heeley's Falls, between Hastings and Campbellford, the end of this section of navigable waters. From the falls they went to Campbellford, then to Stirling and on to Trenton, following the proposed route of the canal. At Trenton Mr. Kennedy received a telegram calling him back to Montreal, and the Commission did not go on from Trenton to Kingston as was intended. The Commissioners were much impressed by the country through which they passed and especially with the number of mills and factories along the route which would be feeders for the canal. Judge Weller and Mr. Carnegie returned to town last night. Arrangements for holding further meetings for hearing evidence will soon be made, and the meetings will probably be held during November.

The Effects of Advertising.

People who sit nervously in counting houses, or behind their goods, waiting for customers to take them by storm, and making no effort to let the world know the bargains they have to offer, will find the season very unpropitious. Many who have spent large sums in hiring canvassers have effected large sales but swallowed up too large a share of the receipts to such enormous attendant expenses. The best remuneration has been found by those who have returned to legitimate old-fashioned methods of pushing their business. We say it, not simply because we are interested in this line of expenditure, but as our best advice to all who wish to be enterprising and to secure a larger custom, there is nothing now so effective to this end as judicious advertising. Look at the success attained by Gough Bros. The firm took hold of a stock of boots and shoes less than two months ago. They sailed into the business resolved to make it a success. They have done so. Everyone has gone there to buy. Everyone has been satisfied. Of course selling a bankrupt stock, some reductions in price were to be looked for, but persistent advertising backed up by the goods, has brought success. Go to the sale and buy yourself rich. 1d81

Peterborough Vocal Society.

A business meeting of the Peterborough Vocal Society was held last evening, in the school room of St. Andrew's Church. The members turned out in good numbers, and the preliminary business was transacted, committees were formed and the society well organized. It was decided to hold the rehersals every Tuesday evening, commencing Tuesday, October 9th. The society has every prospect of success.

Attempted Suicide.

This afternoon Adam Dobbin, an old man who has spent some years in the gaol as a vagrant, tried to cut his throat. On Thursday his last term terminated and he was let out of the gaol. He has been attending to Wm. Course, in the gaol, who has a corner in the face, and was paid by the town for doing so. He drew the money, $32.50, from the town and gave Gaoler Neebutt $29 to keep for him. This morning he got $5 of it and at one o'clock he went up to the court house again. While there he got into an altercation with a boy who acts as cook. Turnkey Rae heard them and went in and put Dobbin outside. Dobbin then drew out a pocket knife and cut a gash in his throat. The cut is about two inches long, pretty high up, and laid open the flesh to the wind pipe. Dr. Kincaid, goal surgeon, was sent for, and also Dr. Bell and Dr. Yelland. The wounded man refused to be touched, and when Constable Adams went after him he struggled like a mad man. While being taken out of the court house he stuck his hand through a glass in the door and tried to repeat the operation. He was taken down to the police cells and locked up. It was intended before to commit him as a vagrant, and the papers were all ready, and this afternoon the Police Magistrate sent him up for six months. The gash on his neck, though an ugly one, is not necessarily dangerous.

In Brief and to the Point.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healt and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

ON THE DEATH OF A DAUGHTER.

'TIS O'ER—IN THAT LONG SIGH SHE PAST—
THY ENFRANCHISED SPIRIT SOARS AT LAST.

And now I gaze with tearless eye,
On what to view was agony.
That panting heart is tranquil now,
And Heav'nly calm, that ruffled brow,
And those pale lips which feebly strove
To force one parting smile of love,
Retain it yet—soft, placid, mild,
As when it graced my living child.

Oh! I have watch'd with fondest care,
To see my opening flow'r blow,
And felt the joy which parents share,
The pride which fathers only know.

And I have sat the long, long night,
And mark'd that tender flower decay,
Not torn abruptly from the sight,
But slowly, sadly, waste away.

The spoiler came, yet paused, as though,
So meek a victim check'd his arm,
Half gave, and half withheld the blow,
As forced to strike, yet loath to harm.

We saw that fair cheek's fading bloom,
The ceaseless canker-worm consume,
And gazed on hopelessly,
Till the mute suffering pictured there,
Wrung from a father's lips a prayer,
Oh, God!—the prayer his child might die,

Ay, from his lips—the rebel heart,
E'en then refused to bear its part.

But the sad conflict's past—'tis o'er,
That gentle bosom throbs no more!
The spirit's free!—through realms of light,
Faith's eagle-glance pursues her flight,
To other worlds, to happier skies;
Hope dries the tear which sorrow weepeth,
No mortal sound the voice which cries,
"The damsel is not dead, but sleepeth."

To Save Life

Frequently requires prompt action. An hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pneumonia, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Latimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use, and I advise all families to use it in sudden emergencies, for coughs, croup, &c."

A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middletown, Tenn., says: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."

"I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," writes E. Bragdon, of Palestine, Texas, "believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died."

A handsome bracelet consists of squares of Roman gold linked together, each square having in the center a pearl on a raised setting, while the four corners are set with matched turquoises.

The assortment of enameled fish scarf pins has been extended until now the piscatorial tastes of all can be suited. A gamey bass in natural colors, and carrying a broken swell streaming from its mouth, is a pleasing pattern.

EMIGRATION FROM BRITAIN.

Decrease in Numbers for the United States and a Large Increase for Canada.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The official returns issued yesterday show a material decrease in this season's British emigration to the United States, while the emigration to Canada increased. Emigration to the States is now only 5½ times greater than the emigration to Canada, though the attractive power in population is twelve times greater. Canada received more British emigrants than Australia and all other countries together except the United States.

A recent London despatch to the Canadian journals stated that the French Government proposed to make Canada a dumping ground for human refuse. I have the highest authority to say that it is absolutely untrue. Canada's strong objection to all worthless immigrants is well understood in Paris.

I have enquired regarding the reported intention of the British Foreign Office to negotiate with Washington after the Presidential election for the formation of a joint commission to settle all disputed matters on the initial understanding that the Canadian bonding privilege be yielded to the States, and the highest official circles know nothing of such a proposal. The British attitude is Canada's attitude, namely, to calmly await the subsidence of the American political fever, in the belief that public feeling in the States will then revert to the decision of the commission as the only just basis of agreement.

Another cargo of 314 Canadian store cattle sold at Aberdeen realized an average of £15 6s. per head. The first cargo of Alberta cattle from the Cochrane ranch is commended, some remarkably well bred steers showing the Hereford cross in a marked degree. The wildness of the cattle made slaughter necessary at Deptford, which rather prejudiced the sale.

Suicide at Laprairie.

MONTREAL, Oct. 6.—A laborer named Leon Dupuis, residing at Laprairie, committed suicide yesterday morning by hanging himself from a cross beam in an adjacent stable. He had been drinking heavily for some time past and had been ordered out of the house by his wife. The deceased was one of the witnesses in the Lapraire contested election case. The Coroner has been notified.

Kingston Cheese Market.

KINGSTON, Oct. 6.—At the cheese board yesterday, 1,400 boxes of white cheese and 400 boxes of colored cheese were offered. Prices bid by buyers: 8½, 8¾, 9⅛, and 9¼c. The makes of several factories were contracted for.

Yarns and Hosiery

—AT—

TURNBULL'S

YARNS.

There is nothing more essential to the health of the body in this changeable climate of ours than keeping the feet comfortably clad, so, in order to supply the large demand for good Woolen Yarn and Hosiery, we have paid particular attention to this department. Our Baldwin and Wheeling Yarns are imported direct from Scotland. Baldwin's Yarns are so well known we need not say anything about them, and Scotland is noted the world over for wools; so that we can show you all the best makes in any color at the very lowest prices. The Wheeling Yarn is a heavy make intended for children's and boys' wear, very much like our Canadian yarn only much softer and warmer, and it comes at a low price.

HOSIERY.

You should see our Heather Wool Sox for men, knitted by the grandmas of Scotland. They may seem a little high in price, but they are really very cheap as they wear so long. We have Black Cashmere Hose in plain and ribbed in two or three different makes, from the smallest baby's size to the largest ladies, at prices that are right, as we are confident they are not sold cheaper in either city or town in the regular way. We have also a special make of Canadian Hose closely and softly knitted, without a seam. You should ask to be shown these goods when at the Hosiery counter. You will be pleased with them. We need only to speak in a whisper about a bargain we have secured, knowing that it will spread like fire when mentioned. One of our largest hosiery knitting mills, that supplies the wholesale trade only (as they have to sell in large quantities to find market for all they make), after filling all their orders, had a surplus left, which they were anxious to dispose of in order to make room to commence the cotton goods for spring. Our stock not being heavy, we were able to do with them and can now offer you an all wool perfect knitted hose, ladies' size, for 12½ cents a pair. Remember that all through the season we keep our stock well assorted, and no matter what inducements may be offered we never allow ourselves to be undersold.

THE WINNIPEG SENSATION

A NUMBER OF WITNESSES SUBPŒNAED FOR THE OCCASION.

Premier Greenway Denies the Accusation in Emphatic Terms—Wheat Away up—The Border Frauds.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 7.—In the criminal libel suit against the editor of The Call the latter has subpœnaed Hon. Messrs. Greenway, Jones, Smart and Pendergast, besides Hugh Sutherland, Duncan McArthur, Luxton, Scoble, Alloway and Beaton to give evidence for the defence.

The proprietors of The Free Press will probably be served to-morrow.

While Premier Greenway denies in the most empathic terms the truthfulness of the accusations the friends of paper say they have affidavits to substantiate them.

Wheat is quoted from 90c. to $1.20 in different parts of the province. Grain buyers say the markets have gone crazy.

The Mounted Police will patrol the southern boundary of the province to prevent further stealing of timber and evasion of customs duties by Dakota settlers.

The Winnipeg Choral Union has collapsed.

THE GALT POISONING.

No Further Developments—Awaiting the Result of an Analysis.

GALT, Oct. 7.—There are no new developments with reference to the death of little Meta Cherry. Opinion is somewhat divided as to whether the poisoned candies were sent by some murderous miscreant or by someone innocent of any evil intent. The result of an analysis of the contents of the other packages is awaited with intense interest, but even that will throw little light on the vexed question which can only be settled by the detection of a fiendish plot or by the confession of a mistake on the part of the sender.

The Package Seized at Toronto a Sample.

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—The Galt postmaster was in the city Saturday and called upon Postmaster Patteson, with whom he held a consultation, after which the two gentlemen called at Police Headquarters and interviewed Inspector Stark.

The package of candy addressed to Mr. A. S. McKay, of this city, at Pictou, N. S., which was seized at the postoffice and taken to Headquarters, turns out to be a sample, Mr. McKay being a commercial traveler.

The Mining Commission.

MADOC, Oct. 6.—The Mining Commission continued their enquiries here on Thursday when Judge Fralick gave some evidence with reference to slate quarry that gives a paying yield. Judge Fralick thought the establishment of reducing, stamping and smelting works by the Government would do more than anything to encourage prospecting. He was also of the opinion that there was a want of a "school of mines" where lectures might be delivered to prospectors.

The commission visited Eldorado, where the Consolidated gold mine is situated. Extensive works were erected at this mine, but were afterwards taken out at an expense that for a time caused the cessation of work. But when the mill was worked it yielded $9 worth of gold to the ton. There is complaint here at the dilatoriness of the Geological survey in issuing its report.

He Had Diphtheria.

ORILLIA, Oct. 7.—A man from one of the lumber shanties to the north, reached here suffering from diphtheria, on the way to his home, in the vicinity of Bobcaygeon or Peterboro. The health authorities forbade him proceeding farther. The doctor who saw the man at the shanty, and advised him to go home, deserves severe censure.

Windsor Thieves Captured.

WINDSOR, Oct. 7.—A week ago a quantity of pig lead was stolen from the water works yards. A watch has been kept lightly in expectation of a return of the thieves. Yesterday morning at 12.30 while Joseph Davis was keeping silent guard, three men rowed up to the dock, landed, and began work on the pile of lead. Davis reconnoitered around to the boat, jumped in, and managed to telephone Chief Baines. Before the chief and officers Nash and Moynahan arrived three more had landed. The three officers tackled the six in a hand to hand fight. They shackled two of them. A third made for the river and pulled out for Detroit. The other three hustled for the dock and one jumped in the river. He was fished out and he and his two pals locked up. These three refused to give their names or answer any questions. The two captured first gave their names as Frank Marcel and James Henry. Yesterday Magistrate Bartlett gave them each twenty-three months at the Central Prison in Toronto. The other two will be dealt with as soon as their identity is known. The officers think they shot the man who escaped.

Another Blow Out the Gas Accident.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 7.—A young man named E. Ross, of Warwick, turned the gas off and then on again in his room at the Grigg House. Fortunately he awoke about 3 a.m. and managed to stagger into the hall, where he was found insensible by the night watchman. He recovered.

He Could Not Live Without Her.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—"I cannot live without her," wrote Rudolph Mittauer just before he hanged himself to a door post at his home. Rudolph was 29 years old and a widower. His young and pretty wife killed herself a year ago by taking a preparation of arsenic. Mittauer sent to Germany for his wife's younger sister, whom he desired to marry. She refused to come to America and Mittauer became despondent. The note he left refers, not to his wife, but to her sister.

LONDON'S GREAT MYSTERY

THE WHITECHAPEL MURDERS ABSORB PUBLIC ATTENTION.

"Jack the Ripper" Heard From Again—The Police Assisted by Hundreds of Amateur Detectives.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Nothing that the newspapers can present to their readers receives any attention except the Whitechapel murders. Important political utterances which ordinarily would provoke general discussion are unread, and continental affairs of vital interest to England are thrust aside as of no consequence whatever. The police have adopted the theory that the letter and postal card signed "Jack, the Ripper," sent to The Central News, a week ago Thursday, emanated from the actual murderer. Facsimiles of the letter and card are posted in every police station and upon every dead wall, accompanied by a paragraph begging any person recognizing the writing to communicate with Gen. Sir Charles Warren, chief commissioner of the Metropolitan police. The Central News received another communication from "Jack, the Ripper," yesterday afternoon, announcing his intention to commit more murders to-night, and upon the strength of this the police have ordered every man on duty and are assisted by hundreds of amateur detectives. The reign of terror which has prevailed in the Whitechapel district during the past week still continues and the arrival of daylight to-morrow morning will be hailed with joy by thousands of the denizens of that locality.

The sentimental objection to the use of bloodhounds in pursuing criminals has been broken down entirely by the immunity of the murderer. Had Sir Charles Warren six months since ordered bloodhounds he would have lost his place, it being thought that he had already lost his head. But now the public demand enables the police to employ dogs. Nothing more is known of the murderer. His identity is as much hidden as though he possessed the invisible cap of Perseus. Nothing being known enables much to be guessed. Yesterday the theory was that he is a Malay, because Malays mutilate their victims. To-day the police are searching for an American, probably because an American is most removed from a Malay. The coroner's theory, that the murders are due to the offer of an American of rewards for certain organs, has been given up, and the mystery is left more mysterious than ever.

POOR BUT PROUD.

Pitiful Story of a Deserted Wife—She Refuses to Accept Charity.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6.—A rare scene was enacted at the South St. Louis depot of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railroad last evening. A young woman with a babe in her arms tottered into the depot and sank into a seat, wan and haggard from exposure and want, but bearing all the traces of refinement and beauty. Ticket Agent Walsh was immediately interested, and when the woman asked how far she could ride for forty cents, he kindly but firmly elicited the story of her woe. She had walked from Cuba, Mo., and was endeavoring to reach Delassus, where her father, a wealthy farmer, named Munford, resides. A few years ago Miss Retalie Munford, the broken-down woman, was compelled by her parents to marry a young lawyer, Thomas, though at the time she was betrothed to another, a prosperous young farmer of the village of Delassus. The husband chosen by her parents proved to be dissolute, dragged her down to poverty and want, and finally deserted her, and she had started for her old home, too proud to ask aid of anyone. A purse was made up at the depot but the woman refused to accept it, and burst into tears at the idea of becoming an object of charity. She was finally induced to believe that her money would carry her to Delassus, and the conductor of the train instructed to see that she reached her old home in safety.

JUMPED FIFTY FEET.

Three Persons Leap From the Third Story of a Burning Hotel in Alabama.

BIRMINGHAM, Oct. 6.—A fire broke out in the McClellan Hotel about 4 o'clock this morning and burned so rapidly that the building was almost totally destroyed before the firemen could get the flames under control. A panic occurred among the guests, some of whom found their exit entirely cut off. J. A. Weatherby, of The Evening Chronicle, with his sister and niece, jumped from the third floor to the yard, a distance of fifty feet. Weatherby sustained fatal injuries. His sister had her leg broken and sustained internal injuries. The niece escaped with a sprained ankle.

A Secret Military Order of Anarchists.

WINFIELD, Ks., Oct. 8.—There is great excitement in this vicinity over the discovery that a secret military order of Anarchists, known as the National Order of Videttes, exists in Cowley and Sumner Counties. A man named Pryor, formerly of St. Louis, is given as the leader of the band, and the agitation is increased by the discovery that several well-known citizens are members of it. The discovery was made by a detective employed for that purpose who was initiated into the order.

Charged with Wife Murder.

LANCASTER, PA., Oct. 6.—Detectives have arrested Calvin M. Dellinger on suspicion of having murdered his wife, Kate Dellinger, whose dead body was found on the banks of the little Conestoga Creek yesterday. The relations of the couple had been very unhappy for some time past, and the murdered woman recently sued her husband for assault, subsequently withdrawing the suit.

Frightened the Denizens.

ROANOKE, Oct. 6.—Shortly before 8 o'clock this evening Brown's powder magazine blew up, giving the entire city a terrible shock, breaking a great number of plate store fronts and hundreds of panes of glass in private residences. The magazine was situated about a mile from the city, and contained 400 kegs of powder and 2500 pounds of dynamite. The entire population was terribly scared, and much excitement prevailed until the extent and nature of the disaster was known.

Canadians Badly Swindled.

ALBANY, Oct. 6.—D. L. Sheppard, barister, of Carleton-Place, Ontario, came here yesterday on a mission of inquiry. He had in his possession several papers purporting to be searches of real estate in New York City. These searches were dated April 18, 1888, and purported to have passed through the "second office of Albany," the "third office of Albany," and the "fourth office of Albany." Each bore a certificate headed, "Office of Albany," and signed Frank G. West, Registrar." Mr. Sheppard was convinced that the papers were bogus and that his clients had been victimized, but to what extent he did not divulge.

The Colored Masons' Temple.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7.—The National Grand Lodge of Colored Masons yesterday appropriated $200,000 for the erection of a temple at Kansas City.

A Diamond Robber.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Charles W. Schnell, 40 years old, who obtained several thousand dollars' worth of diamonds on memorandum from Maiden-lane jewellers, was sentenced to State prison for five years by Judge Cowing. The robbed jewellers got back their property at Police Headquarters afterward.

CHICAGO ON FOOT.

The Strike of Conductors and Cable Grippmen Inaugurated.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—The strike of street car conductors, drivers and cable grippmen on the North Side was inaugurated according to programme at 6 o'clock this morning. Not a car is running in the entire north division. The sidewalks have been filled with pedestrians in the business portion of the city since an early hour this morning. Express waggons and rattle-traps of all descriptions on which temporary seats have been fixed are being run by the brokers and others and are patronized to their fullest capacity. Thus far no violence on the part of the strikers has been reported and none is expected.

Much bitter feeling against President Yerkes and the cable road syndicate, growing out of the poor service rendered by them to their patrons, has been brought to a focus by the strike, and the public comment resulting is not favorable to the company. A suspicion exists that the strike is regarded as a boon by President Yerkes as affording an opportunity to alter the mechanism of the whole system. For this purpose a stoppage of some weeks is necessary, and could now be had without the odium which such a confession of failure would otherwise evoke. The real struggle will commence on Monday, when the company will probably attempt to run the horse cars.

PERISHED BY FIRE.

Seven Persons Lose Their Lives in a Nebraska Farm House.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 6.—A special to The State Journal says that a family named Richter, farmers, living between Geneva and Shiowa, consisting of the husband and wife and five children, were all burned to death with the exception of the husband, who was so seriously burned that he will probably die, at their home last night. A tramp who was spending the night with them was also burned to death. The origin of the fire is unknown, but the supposition is that it is another tribute at whiskey's shrine. The tramp had been around the neighborhood for some time and that day was drunk and Mr. Richter had also been drinking. It is supposed that the former may have gone to sleep while smoking and the fire thus originated. It was not discovered until the house and its entire contents were entirely consumed.

Fire at Rochesterville.

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—A fire which broke out in Booth's lumber piles, on Richmond road, shortly after midnight, was alarming at first from it proximity to the suburb of Rochesterville, but it was put out in a couple of hours. Eighteen small lumber piles and the workman's frame dwelling were burnt. The loss is about $3,000; insured.

A $50,000 Fire.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 7.—Fitzgibbon & Crisp's carriage factory was destroyed by fire early this morning, causing a loss of $50,000, which is nearly covered by insurance.

A $60,000 Fire at Boston.

BOSTON, Oct. 6—The six-story building, 111 and 414 Atlantic-avenue, owned by Franklin King, was badly damaged by fire to-night. The total loss is placed at between $50,000 and $60,000 partly insured

BARRY RESIGNS.

Another Vacancy on the General Executive Board of the Knights of Labor

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., Oct. 6.—T. B. Barry, member of the general executive board of the Knights of Labor, has sent a lengthy letter addressed to the chairman and members of the general executive board of that order resigning his position as a member of the board. In his letter he scathingly arraigns the administration of the affairs of the Knights of Labor. He says that he cannot longer endure to be a witness to the many frauds and deceptions practiced upon the innocent masses; that he finds to be one of the members of the general executive board is to be a party to fraud that leads the unthinking masses to hunger and social suffering with nothing for it but promises never intended to be kept. Mr. Barry says he desires to see the order live, but thinks it is impossible for it to survive another year under the methods now practiced by the present administration of the order, and that these practices must cease if the order is to live.

The chief qualifications, Mr. Barry asserts, for membership on the general executive board are falsity, deception and to be able to tyrannize over those whose privilege it is to bear assessments; "to solve the secret problem for ourselves and our families by seeing that the salaries of the board are paid." Instead of calling the general offices of the Knights of Labor "the headquarters of united labor," it would be appropriate, Mr. Barry declares, to call it "the luxurious home of rats."

Mr. Barry concludes as follows: "For my official acts I have neither apologies nor regrets to offer. I did the very best I could to serve the order, and no one can do more. I hope that the common sense of the masses will soon prevail and that the order may be saved from the rocks of destruction it has run against in the past few years."

Corselison, whose horsewhipping of Judge Richard Reed, of the Superior Court, led to the latter's suicide, was respited from imprisonment to-day for the term of nine months. He will then return to jail to serve out a three years' term. The respite is on account of illness.

PRAISED WITH A PURPOSE

EMPEROR WILLIAM DELUGED WITH HONEYED WORDS.

Douglas' Effusion Taken to Mean That Bismarck's Services are to be Dispensed With.

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—Emperor William's reception at Vienna has sent a thrill of gratification throughout the empire. Apart from the popular demonstrations, the enthusiasm shown and the scenes at the banquet given to his majesty, the visit has been of immense value in displaying the Emperor's latent qualities. Emperor William has passed through the ordeal of Austrian society in triumph, acquiring new character as a man of cordial as well as kingly presence. But his social triumph is a trifle beside the significance of the exchange of imperial courtesies at the Riettersal and the banquets. The official papers here and at Vienna comment upon the Emperor's speeches as assurances that the German and Austrian armies are practically united and ready for action against a common enemy. Any remotest suspicion of Emperor William's inclining towards the Czar has been dispelled. On the contrary, several incidents have occurred which impel the conviction that decisive action for the testing of the strength of the alliance will not be long delayed. Emperor William studiously showed himself gracious towards the militant and Slavic element in Austro-Hungary.

Emperor William will remain in Vienna until Wednesday, when he will start for Italy.

The interview of Cardinal Galimberti, Papal Nuncio at Vienna, with his Majesty on Thursday lasted only ten minutes. The cardinal, it is said, has freely stated that the Emperor, after expressing the hope that nothing would occur during his visit to Rome to wound the susceptibilities of the Pope, declined to discuss any question pending between the Vatican and Germany, simply referring him to Count Herbert Bismarck. The Nuncio's subsequent conference with Count Herbert Bismarck appears to have been limited to the arranging of the formalities of Emperor William's reception at the Vatican. Advices from Rome received here last evening announce that the Vatican is genuinely satisfied with the program arranged.

The German and Italian anarchists mean mischief. Letters from Zurich which have been intercepted refer to some plot against his majesty and give rise to the belief that he will be attacked during his tour of Italy.

Count Douglas' effusion is about to be published in pamphlet form for distribution throughout the empire. It opens with the declaration that "never before has our Kaiser, the only Prussian Prince, seen so much of practical life." This exaggeration is the key note of the whole eulogy. The author describes the Emperor as having acquired by severity of training habits of conscientious performance of duties, high moral earnestness and a clear perception of that duty toward the country which must cause him to place personal safety and personal affections below the public weal. According to Count Douglas, William, while a prince, showed himself a "begeisterter and schneideger soldat" amidst the unwearied exercise of his military functions. "He went through training in all the administrative departments, showing an intuitive perception and practical sense amazing to old experienced officials."

"As emperor," continues the panegyrist, "he has shown himself impervious to flattery, though open to conviction and honest advice; the champion of religious toleration; an earnest philanthropist; an assiduous friend of the working classes; not ascetic, but healthily pious; a foe to sensual indulgence and sternly opposed to gambling and other prodigalities. Finally, he is averse to war, sympathizes with popular aims and desires progressive legislation compatible with the nation's interests."

Count Douglas did not draw this character without the Emperor's sanction. Every line is meant to impress upon Germans the belief that he is a sovereign able to govern without the assistance of the greatest statesman and to lead armies to victory, relying upon his own strategy. The inference is that the emperor aims to prepare Germany for the retirement of Bismarck.

A Hamburgh dispatch announces that no definite measure has yet been taken to prosecute Prof. Geffcken. It is not true that the authorities have seen a written permit from the late Emperor Frederick authorizing Geffcken to publish the diary. The inquiry resulted in establishing the fact that Geffcken never got a copy from Frederick. It is not known whence he obtained the extracts.

As the inquiry narrows the circle of possible sources of the betrayal of the diary, the Bismarckian papers become more bitter towards the Ex-empress. "Keine frauenzimmer politik" is again their cry. Insulting suggestions of complicity on the part of the Ex-empress are common, though no one has dared to make a direct charge that she is responsible for the publication of the diary.

The Reichs Bank, it is expected, will raise the rate of discount on Monday. The stock of bullion has decreased 45,000,000 marks within a week. The withdrawals have largely gone to Russia. Altogether there is considerable strain upon the resources of the banks. There is danger ahead and in the coming liquidation croakers predict a general smash.

The Americanists this morning visited the Polytechnic and afterward the mausoleum at Charlottenburg. In the afternoon they went to Potsdam where they inspected the castles and the grave of Frederick the Great.

The North German Gazette, referring to the report that the English Admiral Fairfax has been ordered to establish a protectorate over Savage Island, says that the British Government cannot assume the protection of the island, since by virtue of the Anglo-German agreement of 1886 the island was declared neutral territory.

It is reported that the government has ordered several warships and 3000 troops to German territory in East Africa.

White and Cross Again Convicted.

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 6.—The second trial of Charles E. Cross and Samuel C. White, president and cashier of the State National Bank of this city, in the Superior Court ended to-day, resulting in their conviction on two charges of forgery. Cross was sentenced to six and White to five years at hard labor on the public roads. Both appealed to the Supreme Court. The new indictments against them are to be tried at the January term of the Superior Court of this county.

A Story of a Gold Mine.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 7.—A local jeweler of this city has come into possession of the facts concerning the location of a gold mine in Bayham and expects to reap untold millions therefrom. The story goes that years ago a farmer in Bayham picked up a large piece of ore in the bed of a creek which runs through his farm, and observing that it glistened brightly he brought it to a jeweler in St. Thomas and had it assayed, with the result that it yielded $13.10 of pure gold. He kept his secret locked within his own heart, intending to interest some capitalists in developing the supposed mine. Meantime, however, he was seized with fatal illness and on his deathbed informed his wife of his discovery, and she it is who informed the local jeweler.

MARKET ACCOMMODATION.

When matters requiring consideration as to details are brought up in public bodies, they are frequently referred committees. That is quite right, but too often that is the last heard of them until the appointment of the committee is almost forgotten and the subject is brought forward anew. We do not expect this to be the case with the question of increased market accommodation referred to a committee by the Town Council, on account of the composition of the committee and because of the importance of the subject it was appointed to consider.

Peterborough has a largely attended market. Higher prices are paid here than can be obtained in many towns. As a market for grain it has a good reputation and it attracts from long distances those who have other produce to dispose of. The town is steadily growing, and its augmented population means and increased number of purchasers on the market and a larger quantity of produce to be handled at that place. The natural consequence is that the trade has outgrown the accommodation provided for it. This condition of affairs should not be allowed to continue and provision should be made for sellers and buyers in order that they will not be subjected to discomfort when they enter the market building to do business.

The committee appointed on the motion of Mr. Cahill, who brought the matter up, will no doubt at once apply its attention to this question.

A ROAD TO POLITICAL UNION.

Mr. Sherman, of the United States Senate, differs from his friends Messrs. Butterworth and Wiman in one particular. They wish commercial union as a forerunner of political union, or as a means to political union. Mr. Sherman thinks they go the wrong way about securing their object. His words are:—"I think that these gentlemen, like my friend Mr. Butterworth, make a mistake when they look to commercial union as a road to political union." They are all looking in the same direction, but propose different roads.

Mr. Sherman fears that commercial union would "promote discord," and for that reason would not lead to annexation. Mr. Sherman is an astute politician, an able man, but his friends with whom he differs would probably agree with him in the opinion that commercial union would promote discord. The advocates of continental free trade urge Canadians to accept it in order to escape from present complications between the two countries. If Canada accepted that advice, and unrestricted reciprocity was inaugurated, new complications would arise and discord and trouble would follow. Then the annexationists would say that the surest way to escape from the new troubles would be to take the final step and adopt political union. The German Zollverein, says the Senator, promoted discord, but out of the discord came the united states. We do not believe that unrestricted reciprocity would settle all differences between the Dominion and the Republic. The danger in that policy to Canadian national life lies in the further distance it would put this country from Great Britain, the hold it would give the United States upon Canada, and the discord and trouble that would be sure to arise after it was put in operation.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain.

The Result of the Parachute.

London, Ont., Oct. 7.—A youth named Barned, of London South, while attempting the parachute descent the other day, from the roof of his father's house, connected with terra firma speedier than he had anticipated, and a sprained ankle resulted.

SCIENTIFIC SQUIBS.

The Sheffield free library has adopted the plan of fumigating the books. They are exposed for fifteen minutes to the fumes of carbolic acid at a temperature of from 150 degs. to 200 degs.

One of the most remarkable mechanical changes of the day is the setting aside of steel and the adoption of iron for some of the most important parts of locomotives on many railroads. It is only comparatively a few years since the change was made, on most roads, from iron to steel.

Dr. Grundman, of Hirschberg, has patented a new process of making magnesia into a carbonate by exposing it to carbonic acid as produced by burning coke in close apartments. It thus forms a substance as hard as magnesita, and capable of taking a fine polish. Mixed with marble dust it forms an artificial dolomite; with soluble silicates an artificial stucco.

The power of various explosives has been calculated to be equivalent to the following pressure, the figures giving tons per square inch: Emmensite, a new explosive, for which important advantages are claimed in addition to great power, 283; nitro-glycerine, 264; explosive gelatine, 253; forcite, 250; oxomite, 240; panclastite, 203; gun cotton, 198; dynamite, 144; atlas, 133; rackarock, 117; roburite, 24, and blasting gunpowder, 23.

"Railway brain" is a term applied by Dr. Thompson to a neurosis or general derangement of the nerves produced by a shock received by the head on a railway car. In the particular case described no wound was received, and consciousness was preserved at the time of the injury. Afterwards the patient became melancholic and complained of insomnia, headache, spinal pain, weariness and failure of appetite. A hygienic and palliative treatment was given.

W. A. Lyman, of Milford, Conn., is making the smallest possible specimen of an engine. It will be made with a silver half dollar. The boiler is to hold about eight drops of water, but with four drops the engine can be worked several minutes. When finished it is to be placed under a glass case three-quarters of an inch in diameter and an inch and one-eighth in height. Some of the parts will be so fine and delicate that they cannot be made without the use of a magnifying glass.

Adobe Mansions of Santa Fe.

The adobe house, or "doby," as it is called, is familiar to all western tourists, but it is seen at its very best here. The wealthiest people live in structures which from the outside seem scarcely habitable, but within are cozy and, in many instances, luxurious. Judge Thornton, a wealthy mine owner, has a "doby" house near the plaza, or public square. In the center of the building is a square courtyard filled with magnificent flowers, with a fountain in the center. The doors of each apartment in the house open on the wide veranda which runs around the courtyard, and the effect is very charming. The walls of the building are nearly three feet in thickness, giving opportunity for deep, cushioned window seats. These thick walls keep out cold in the winter and heat in the summer, and there are, therefore, but two fireplaces in the whole house—for use in the event of extraordinary severe weather.

The decorations of the dwelling are such as one finds in Atlanta's Peachtree street homes—beautiful pictures and statuary, imported carpets and rugs, rare bric-a-brac and potteries—everything that money can buy. Of course, all this makes the change from the outside atmosphere of squalor the more marked. Judge Thornton's home is but the type of hundreds of others owned by wealthy Spaniards, Mexicans or Americans, who have settled here because of this incomparable climate.—Atlanta Constitution.

Dr. Geo. McKnight, Hannibal, N. Y., says, "I have used it in cases of nervous exhaustion, with quite satisfactory results."

It is extremely interesting to visit some of the leading manufacturing houses in Toronto. Perhaps the most interesting and surprising of them all are the extensive Ornamental Stained Glass and Decorative works of the McCausland & Son. It is from this establishment that the finest windows have come for the principal edifices, throughout our country.

TEA!

A Chinese writer says: "To make good tea it is an old custom to use running water boiled over a lively fire. That from springs in the hills is the best, and river water next, while well water is the worst. Do not boil the water too hastily; at first it begins to sparkle like crab's eyes, then, somewhat like fishes' eyes, and lastly it boils up like pearls innumerable springing and waving about. This is the way to boil the water."

If you like a splendid cup of tea try one of the many brands in stock. The price varies with the quality. Splendid Teas at low prices. Better Teas a trifle higher. The best not dear and well worth the moderate price asked.

Interesting to Oddfellows.

The Napanee Beaver says:—"At the recent session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Oddfellows, held at San Francisco, among the decisions sustained was one declaring illegal a by-law of Argyll Lodge, Napanee, Ont., which provided for a form of non-beneficial membership by conferring the degree on members for a nominal sum. It was held that a provision of this kind was only legal when applied to those who belonged to the Order at the date when lodges were required to work in the third degree. The by-law in question was passed several years ago and approved by the Grand Lodge of Ontario. We doubt if any member of Argyll Lodge was aware it had been questioned."

To Extradite Greenfield.

Another movement towards the extradition of Greenfield, who is under arrest in Buffalo, charged with shooting at Constable Stewart, has been made. On saturday a telegram was received from Deputy Attorney-General Johnston, of Toronto, requesting the warrant to be forwarded to Mr. J. W. Murray, Provincial detective. This morning Mr. Dumble took the warrant and papers connected with the case to Toronto and will give them to Detective Murray, who will proceed to Buffalo. Greenfield will then come before the court in Buffalo, and if the Canadian authorities make out a case against him to the satisfaction of the court, the order will be made for his extradition. It is possible, but not likely, that Greenfield will be brought here in time to be tried at the present assize court.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

The Commissioners' Inspection of the Canal Route.

The Toronto Empire publishes the following account of the Commissioners' trip from Peterborough to Trenton:—"Leaving Peterborough the commissioners passed through Little lake, rounding Cemetery Point, a lovely spot and kept in beautiful order. A short distance below the cemetery the county of Peterborough are now constructing a fine iron bridge across the Otonabee. This structure, which is near completion, was designed, and its construction superintended, by Mr. John Belcher, C. E. The water in the river is this year exceptionally low and the Golden Eye had to pick her way with some care. After a pleasant trip they arrived at Jubilee Point—at which place the Otonabee reaches Rice Lake—for dinner. Here there is a summer resort, the property of Mr. H. Calcutt, much frequented by pleasure seekers and picnic parties from Peterborough during the summer months. After dinner they proceeded on their way down Rice lake, passing the piers of the old railway bridge, which spanned the lake some thirty years ago. They reached Hastings about six o'clock and remained at the Coughlin house for the night. An early start was effected on the 4th inst. the party leaving Hastings per steamer Golden Eye for Heeley's Falls and Campbellford. A small steam launch was used on getting to the narrows and from thence to Heely's Falls, where they were met by a team from Campbellford. The part of the canal from Heeley's Falls to Trenton will be relatively the heaviest portion of the work, and involving many feet of lockage. It is divided into two sections; the first, or most northerly one commences at Middle falls and extends to Hoard's creek, where it debouches into Percy Reach, following the line of the valley of Hoard's creek, leaving Campbellford to the west. The canal reaching Percy Reach there is again a navigable stretch, passing through one lock at Chisholm's rapids, thence to near the village of Frankford, from which point to the Bay of Quinte at Trenton a canal will have to be built to avoid the numerous rapids that are encountered between those points. At Trenton the Bay of Quinte is reached, which is landlocked and protected from the winds which sweep Lake Ontario. The commissioners have now completed their inspection of the proposed route of the canal. They will probably meet at Trenton early in November for the taking of evidence. Notice of the date will be given when fixed.

A Midnight Fight.

Mat. McDonald and Albert Harvey raised a disturbance at the corner of George and Simcoe-sts., at a quarter to one o'clock on Sunday morning. Constable Adams heard the noise and took both the men to the cells. At the Court this morning they pleaded guilty to a charge of having been disorderly in a public place and were fined $1 and costs each—the fines and costs amounting to $7.50.

A Hunting Party.

Messrs. T. Fitzgerald, R. M. Roy, M. O'Brien and J. D. Collins leave this evening to spend two weeks hunting at Ketchecum Lake in Cavendish township. Others will join the party at the end of the week. Mr. Roy takes his photographing outfit along and expects to secure some fine views. If they get more game than they will be able to bring home they will bring photographs of what they leave behind.

By Day and by Night.

Messrs. Wilson & Morrison have had placed in front of their office, over H. S. Griffin & Co's store, a large square lantern, with the firm's name painted in black letters on three sides of it. It will be lit up at night to inform those who keep late business hours, of the whereabouts of this enterprising insurance firm. Messrs. Muckleston & Co. are also being illuminated at night, as they have had an electric light placed in front of their premises.

From Kalakua's Kingdom.

Mr. Wm. English has received a letter from Honolulu, Sandwich Islands, making enquiries regarding his canoes and the way and cost of shipping them to Honolulu. This opens another territory in a distant country for the sale of articles manufactured in Peterborough. The canoes might have a good effect in Hawaii, as when the people of the islands had an opportunity of enjoying paddling in English's canoes they would probably neglect their standard sport of threatening revolution and terrifying the king.

He Found his Buggy.

Yesterday a man from Smith came to town looking for a buggy that had been borrowed from him the day before. He found it at the side of the road near the Nicholls Hospital, with the shafts broken. On Saturday night a man drove about the streets at a lively rate with a horse and this buggy. At the hospital the buggy was upset and broken, and the horse having fallen down the harness had to be cut to get it up. The driver then mounted the horse and rode back to town, and he made himself so conspicuous that Patrolman Gordon threatened to arrest him. He then left the horse and fled. The animal was placed in the Balmoral stables and was claimed next day.

In Brief and to the Point.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healt and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

ANNIVERSARY SERMONS

In the Ashburnham Methodist Church—Rev. F. McAmmond, B.A., in the Pulpit.

Special sermons in connection with the anniversary of the Mark-st. Methodist Church, Ashburnham, were preached on Sundaay by the Rev. Foster McAmmond, B.A., a former pastor. The Rev. A.C. Wilson, pastor, assisted in the services. There was a large congregation at the morning services and Mr. McAmmond delivered an excellent discourse.

In the evening the church was again filled. Mr. McAmmond took his text from Hosea xiv., 5:—"I will be as the dew unto Israel." Dew, he said, was the vapory matter caused by the cooling of the earth. It descended in infinitely small particles and hung on every blade of grass in pearly drops of dew. The promise in the text implied that there was a somewhere upon which the Lord will let fall the reviving influences of His Spirit. He had heard many complaints this season about the poor crops, and yet he could point to a field that presented a worse picture of desolation than any he had seen in his travels, and that field was the human heart. He looked there for signs of verdure and found everything withered and burnt up by the heat of temptation and sin. By nature there were no signs of verdure in the human heart. The graceful lily of humility, the flower of patience, the twining evergreen of communion with God, and the rose of charity, were withered. The soil was dry and parched, so much so that nothing by nature would grow there. Truths the most important might be announced to a sinner and he regarded them not. As he looked at the hard and withered state of the human heart he would despair of seeing verdure there again had he not this promise that God would be as the dew and refresh and revive it. No matter how hard the heart, the dew of Christ's precious influence would soften it and quicken it into life. The

PARCHED AND WITHERED FIELD

and imperceptibly, during the still nights when no tempest was heard and when there was no noise of the elements or disturbance of any kind. They could hear the rain as it battered, but the dew fell silently. That was about the way that Jesus came to the soul. Conversion involved a process somewhat mysterious. The wind blew, they felt it, but could not tell whence it came or whither it went. Mystery ran through nature. There was mystery in creation and mystery in conversion. There was a lot of things about religion that they felt but could not explain. It was not important to be able to tell the moment that God let in the light, though it would be well if they could, but it was important to know that they were saved. Christ came to them and whispered "It is I." They should open their hearts and let Him come in. Dew fell during the calm nights of summer when the fields were thirsty and nature seemed to be languishing. Those things

WHICH WERE THE THIRSTIEST

attracted the most dew. Jesus came only to the thirsty, fainting, famishing souls. They must desire salvation and want the Saviour before He would come. The dew of heaven would not fall on the hard heart no more than the dew of nature would refresh the hard road. They had to bring down their pride and humble themselves, and the highest plane they could occupy this side of heaven was at the feet of Jesus. Then the dew would fall upon them. Dew had an obvious and wherever it fell. All nature seemed to be refreshed. When Jesus came to the sinner's heart there was a marvellous change in the heart and life of the man. His thoughts were raised from the world and his affections were fixed on things above. They could not hide religion and others must know of the change, and the soul would know it was transformed and saved. This same dew which was such a precious boon to the natural world and so much needed might positively destroy vegetation. If it came into contact with a too hurtful vapor or too cold an atmosphere it becomes what was known as

SALUTARY EFFECT

MILDEW.

So the gracious influence sent down by Christ might, if it met the cold atmosphere of indifference, result in mildew on their souls. Some of them had been surrounded by good influences all their lives and yet were indifferent, and he warned them to take care lest they become mildew to their souls forever. He urged them to let the gracious influences of religion fall upon them for good.

The choir added to the affectiveness of the services by their singing. Mr. Wilson announced the anniversary tea for Monday evening and the meeting was closed with the usual exercises.

CENTREVILLE'S SUCCESS.

Annual Exhibition of the South Monaghan Agricultural Society.

The South Monaghan Agricultural Society held its annual exhibition at Centreville on Thursday and Friday of last week. The entries numbered about 700, and the attendance on the second day was large, making the exhibition a decided success in every respect. The inside departments was a very creditable exhibit. The show of roots and vegetables was excellent, and there was a large and very fine diplay of ladies' work. Fruit of different kinds was shown, as well as flowers and plants and a good display of fine arts. The show of cattle was very good, and fine sheep and pigs though the entries in these departments were not numerous. The show of horses was a superior one and was one of which the township has reason to feel proud.

THE HORSE RING.

The Society this fall laid out a new half mile track on Mr. Lang's farm adjoining the village, and there the special events in the horse competitions were held, and very interesting they proved to be. The following gentlemen acted as judges:—Major Howden and Messrs. Thomas Donaldson and James Kerr. The events were well contested and passed off very successfully, as follows:—

During the afternoon the Baillieboro brass band supplied good music. The managers and officers of the exhibition attended to their duties well and at the conclusion of the exhibition the business was all wound up in a thorough business-like manner.

A Scene on the Plains.

Gen. W. T. Sherman's liking for circuses and spectacles is well known. When Buffalo Bill was at Erastina and Madison Square garden before he went to Europe, the general was frequently present. He was talking about Buffalo Bill a day or two ago in this way: "Buffalo Bill's show is the most wonderful thing in the way of disclosing to the people how all the great western country has been settled that it would be possible to present. It is marvelous how he has been able to represent the primeval forest, with the wild animals, the wagon trains and the camps, the settlements and the fights with the Indians, prairie fires and all that sort of thing. I watched him as he rode up in advance of the wagon train and found the spring, and where he stooped down and took the water up with his hat and handed up a hatful to his horse.

"It reminded me of many a similar scene which I have witnessed. I remember just such a spring away up on the North Platte river, and I have seen many a man water his horse or his mule at just such a spring. The water is generally deep down in the surface of the ground in a fissure, where it would be impossible for the animal to reach it. When Buffalo Bill jumps on his horse and swings his hat for the wagon train to come on, it is the most natural thing in the world."—New York Tribune.

A Race for Dear Life.

Some weeks after returning to the fort Gen. Emery, who was in command of the district, ordered me to make a scout as far over as Frenchman's Fork, eighty miles away. I started alone, leading Joe for my war horse and for a run home if jumped by the wild boys. I struck the Fork in the night, and, finding a quiet little place in the bend of the river, I camped. At the break of day I climbed a tall tree near by to take a look up and down the river. I had climbed about thirty feet, when I saw several streaks of blue smoke rising up through the trees not a half mile away. I slid out of that tree mighty quickly, and, running up to Joe, soon had him saddled. I had to find out the size of that village, however, and make my report to the general. I tied Joe to a tree and crept up a high hill, from the top of which I had a good view of it. Then, with all of the information I wanted, I started for Joe, when I espied a band of Indians coming up the ravine in which Joe was tied. They were not a mile away, but had not discovered me. The grass didn't grow under my feet while I was getting down the hill to Joe, and we were soon making lively tracks out of that ravine. The Indians came on quietly until they came to the tree to which Joe had been tied. Then they saw the fresh trail running up the ravine.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT.

A Little Child Loses its Life by Falling in a Tub.

A very sad accident occurred in Ashburnham on Saturday evening, by which a little child, daughter of Mr. Wm. Kemp, who lives on Lake-st., lost its life. Mr. and Mrs. Kemp were at tea, and Lena, a little girl about a year and half old, got down from her chair and went into the next room. They thought nothing of her going out, as she often ran into Mr. Sanderson's next door, but a few minutes afterwards, when they looked for her, she was not at the neighbor's. She was at once found, but her danger was known too late, as when she was discovered she was in a tub about two-thirds full of water and life was extinct.

It is supposed that the child, who had a doll with her, was playing with the doll in the water, and that by reaching for it she fell over into the tub. No noise was heard and no one had any notice of the child's terrible position until it was too late to save her life. Dr. Clark was summoned but medical aid was of no avail.

Mr. and Mrs. Kemp have sincere sympathy in their affliction, as by this accident they lost their only living child, they having lost one by disease a couple of years ago.

Want of Sleep

Is sending thousands annually to the insane asylum; and the doctors say this trouble is alarmingly on the increase. The usual remedies, while they may give temporary relief, are likely to do more harm than good. What is needed is an Alterative and Blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is incomparably the best. It corrects those disturbances in the circulation which cause sleeplessness, gives increased vitality, and restores the nervous system to a healthful condition.

Rev. T. G. A. Coté, agent of the Mass. Home Missionary Society, writes that his stomach was out of order, his sleep very often disturbed, and some impurity of the blood manifest; but that a perfect cure was obtained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frederick W. Pratt, 424 Washington street, Boston, writes: "My daughter was prostrated with nervous debility. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored her to health."

William F. Bowker, Erie, Pa., was cured of nervousness and sleeplessness by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for about two months, during which time his weight increased over twenty pounds.

ANNEXATION.

A Large Appropriation for the St. Clair Flats Canal.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—In the House yesterday Mr. Cutchins, from the Committee on Rivers and Harbors, reported the bill appropriating $186,250 for completing the improvements and dredging of the St. Clair Flats Ship Canal in the State of Michigan. Congress has always, in making improvements, named the place as in the State of Michigan. The United States assumes that it is within the jurisdiction of the State of Michigan, making that portion of Lake St. Clair west of the Commissioners' line a part of Michigan territory. As the lake and the canal are a part of a great water way, over which the commerce of the great lakes continually passes, it is regarded as somewhat peculiar that what belongs alike to all the States should be put down to the cost of the State of Michigan.

The pending appropriation for the completion of the canal will, when it is considered in the Senate and House, give Congressmen an opportunity to discuss freely the point whether the canal is or is not in the waters of the United States, and whether Great Britain has a right to revoke the provisions of an old treaty and make new provisions entirely unfavorable to the United States.

Mutilated in a Shingle Mill.

ROCKWOOD, Oct. 6.—A saw burst in Richardson's shingle mill here this morning, causing terrible injuries to a 14-year old son of the proprietor, who was working the saw at the time. One arm was broken off at the shoulder and one leg badly broken. His recovery is doubtful. Part of the saw went through the roof of the mill.

In Search of his Daughter.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—There arrived at the Palmer House on Tuesday, a middle-aged gentleman, evidently English, accompanied by a decidedly handsome young lady, 16 or 17 years of age. He registered as Dr. E. Robbins and daughter, Los Angeles, Cal. They were assigned to room No. 364. That evening Dr. Robbins paid his bill and, accompanied by the girl, left the hotel. Last night he sought the assistance of the police to recover his daughter, who he claimed had been spirited away by agents of the Woman's Protective Association. He says that several years ago he parted from his wife in England and came to this country, drifting to Montana, Idaho and finally California, where he amassed a fortune. His wife meantime had secured a divorce. Learning of this, Dr. Robbins sent for his daughter and met her in New York. He claims that some unknown person telegraphed here that the girl was not his daughter, but that he was leading her astray. Two days ago a woman called on the girl and he has not seen her since. Dr. Robbins did not explain where he had been stopping since he left the Palmer House. A search among all the leading hotels last night failed to locate the doctor. Mrs. Dye, clerk of the Protective Association denies any knowledge of the man or girl.

A Drug Clerk's Mistake.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 7.—Mrs. Ellen Watts sent to a drug store to get quinine for a child. The druggist's clerk by mistake gave morphine instead of quinine. Three grains of the drug were given the child. When she went to go to bed she found her youngest born breathing strangely and a little investigation showed that he was barely alive. Several physicians were called and worked with him the rest of the night, but he died shortly after daylight.

An Unhappy Marriage.

DETROIT, Oct. 7.—Janet Hart yesterday asked the Wayne Circuit Court to divorce her from Geo. Hart, to whom she was married at Walkerville, Ont., in 1871. The couple have one son, now 16 years of age. Mrs. Hart asserts that about Nov. 1, 1880, her husband left their home for the avowed purpose of going to the Michigan lumber woods, and she has heard nothing from him since. She has since supported herself and son by menial labor, with occasional help from her relatives and friends.

The Belgic Overdue.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—Some anxiety is felt here on account of the non-arrival of the steamer Belgic, from Hong Kong and Yokohama. She was due last Tuesday and the owners are inclined to believe some accident has happened to her machinery.

Sad Drowning Accident.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 7.—A woman and three children were drowned to-day in the Wicomico River. They were crossing the river and when in the middle a sudden flaw of wind upset the frail craft.

Ghastly Sight at the Bottom of the Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—A professional diver went to examine the machinery of the steamer City of Chester, which was sunk in the waters of Golden Gate in August last by collision with the Oceanic. The diver located the vessel in fifty fathoms of water, cut in two as if by an immense saw. While looking into the steerage the first thing which met his eyes was the form of a man standing with distorted face and tongue hanging from his mouth. The body was swollen to twice its natural size. Going a little further aft he saw another victim of the wreck on his knees grasping a third man around the waist. The diver returned to the surface and reported his discovery, but nothing could induce him to return to the wreck.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, it soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Editor Jenkins Must Serve Out His Term —Unsuccessful Attempt at Burglary.

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—Arthur Henry Newton Jenkins presented his appeal before Judge MacMahon on Saturday. The imprisoned editor of The Brussels Budget after serving 19 days in the Goderich gaol, applied to the Chancellor, making a sweeping apology for his contempt and prayed to be remitted the remainder of his sentence, as his presence would be required at the Goderich Assizes for the libel suit brought by Mrs. Grant, the Brussels postmaster, against him. The Chancellor referred the matter to the committing Judge, who thought that Mr. Jenkins' apology was not sufficient to purge him of this contempt and refused his application. The editor's term of 30 days will expire on Oct. 19.

The members of the Toronto Real Estate Exchange have presented to Judge McDougall a petition praying for the winding up of its affairs. His Honor granted an order returnable to-day, calling upon the company to show cause why it should not be wound up.

An abortive attempt was made on the safe in Mr. William Wordley's store, corner of Carleton and Church-streets early Sunday morning. The door was partly drilled, but the thieves abandoned the job in despair.

The Church of the Sacred Heart, the French Canadian Roman Catholic place of worship, was formally opened yesterday.

A Corcoran Death-Bed Incident.

I heard a few days since an incident of Mr. Corcoran's last illness. Among the callers one day, about a week before his death, was a pretty young girl, a debutante of the past season, whom he had known from her earliest childhood, and in whom he had always taken a great interest. As the girl in her fresh, young beauty approached the dying man he held her hand for a moment without speaking, then with a sigh he said: "Promise that you will not forget me when I am gone;" adding, an instant later, "I want before I go to do you a substantial kindness, and, as your name is not mentioned in my will, I have instructed my lawyer to have transferred to you government bonds for the sum of $3,000." With tears in her eyes the young lady endeavored to express her thanks for the unexpected gift, saying, "What can I ever do to prove my gratitude?" For an instant there was silence in the room, and then, as the feeble hands felt the contact of the warm young fingers clasping them, the old man lifted his face, stirred with a deep emotion, as he replied in tremulous tones, "I ask but one thing—that you will be sorry when I am dead."—Washington Capitol.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there was a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

—AT—TURNBULL'S

YARNS.

There is nothing more essential to the health of the body in this changeable climate of ours than keeping the feet comfortably clad, so, in order to supply the large demand for good Woolen Yarn and Hosiery, we have paid particular attention to this department. Our Baldwin and Wheeling Yarns are imported direct from Scotland. Baldwin's Yarns are so well known we need not say anything about them, and Scotland is noted the world over for wools; so that we can show you all the best makes in any color at the very lowest prices. The Wheeling Yarn is a heavy make intended for children's and boys' wear, very much like our Canadian yarn only much softer and warmer, and it comes at a low price.

HOSIERY.

You should see our Heather Wool Sox for men, knitted by the grandmas of Scotland. They may seem a little high in price, but they are really very cheap as they wear so long. We have Black Cashmere Hose in plain and ribbed in two or three different makes, from the smallest baby's size to the largest ladies; at prices that are right, as we are confident they are not sold cheaper in either city or town in the regular way: We have also a special make of Canadian Hose closely and softly knitted, without a seam. You should ask to be shown these goods when at the Hosiery counter. You will be pleased with them. We need only to speak in a whisper about a bargain we have secured, knowing that it will spread like fire when mentioned. One of our largest hosiery knitting mills, that supplies the wholesale trade only (as they have to sell in large quantities to find market for all they make), after filling all their orders, had a surplus left, which they were anxious to dispose of in order to make room to commence the cotton goods for spring. Our stock not being heavy, we were able to do with them and can now offer you an all wool perfect knitted hose, ladies' size, for 12½ cents a pair. Remember that all through the season we keep our stock well assorted, and no matter what inducements may be offered we never allow ourselves to be undersold.

TOPICS FROM THE CAPITAL

A CUSTOMS DIFFICULTY FINALLY SETTLED.

The Argument in the Preeper Appeal Concluded in the Supreme Court—Resignation of a Popular Militia Officer.

OTTAWA, Oct. 9.—The difficulty between the Stormont and Valleyfield Cotton Company and the Customs Department has been settled by the payment of full rates of duty and the penalty provided in such cases.

Sir A. P. Caron has returned to the city from Quebec.

Contracts for the St. Lawrence improvements have not been awarded.

A Cabinet Council was held yesterday.

Mr. Collingwood Schreiber, Chief Engineer of Government Railways, is expected home towards the end of the present week. He is just completing a tour of inspection of the Cape Breton and Intercolonial Railways.

Lieut.-Col. White, Deputy Postmaster-General, who has sent in his resignation to the Militia Department, is perhaps one of the most popular commanding officers in the Dominion. The Colonel has been associated with the Canadian Militia since 1859, and in 1884 commanded the Wimbledon team.

In the Supreme Court yesterday in the case of Preeper v. The Queen, Mr. Henry, Q.C., replied to the argument of the Attorney-General.

The case of Wyman v. the Imperial Fire Insurance Company was next taken up. Mr. Graham, Q.C., argued the appeal for appellants, and Henry for respondents.

The writ for Cariboo has been forwarded to the returning-officer, Mr. Stevenson, of Quesnelle, B.C. The election day will be fixed by him, he being authorized by law to select nomination and polling days. The nomination must, however, be not earlier than fifteen days nor later than thirty day, after the posting of the proclamation. The day for holding polls must be not earlier than fifteen nor later than thirty days after nominations.

The election in Shelburne has been postponed for a week—until the 22d—by the returning-officer, owing to delay in getting out the proclamation and the necessary time required by law not having intervened.

DR. LA CHAPELLE'S LITTLE BILL.

He Asks $4700 from the City of Montreal for Services as an Expert.

MONTREAL, Oct. 9.—Dr. Severin Lachapelle has created considerable surprise by presenting a bill of $4700 to the city for personal services as an expert and arbitrator in the matter of the erection of Royal Victoria Hospital. It is not thought the account will be paid.

A respectably dressed man walked into the Banque Ville Marie yesterday and demanded a large sum of money from the cashier. He was arrested and is thought to be insane.

Alphonse Gravel was before the Police Magistrate yesterday charged with forging the name of his uncle to a note for $250. He has only been married three months, and has been in the habit of borrowing various sums from his acquaintances. These becoming due, he met them with a note purporting to be signed by his uncle for $250. He has been remanded.

Suppose They Haven't got $50 Apiece.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Oct. 9.—Four Chinamen en route from Chicago to New York over the Wabash and Grand Trunk Railways, were yesterday denied admission into the United States at the port of Suspension Bridge under the Exclusion Act, which went into force Oct. 1, the authorities holding that having left the United States they became amenable to the act. The Celestials will probably have to pay the $50 tax and become residents of the Dominion.

"Hoo Glang," another Chinamen dressed in American clothing with his queue cut off and claiming to hold citizenship papers of the United States was refused admission into the port of Suspension Bridge on the American side, having arrived there on the Grand Trunk 8 p. m. express from Toronto last night. He went over to Toronto prior to Oct. 1 to visit a sick relative there from Buffalo.

Drowned at Bracebridge.

BRACEBRIDGE, Oct. 9.—Edward Rounding and his wife formerly lived in Stisted, and in the spring Rounding became insane and was committed to an asylum for a time; when released from the asylum, instead of going to his Stisted home he came here. The other day he was missing, and search being made his remains were found lying in the river near the shore. Foul play is not suspected.

Serious Accident at Campbellford.

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct 9.—Yesterday, as George Kier, an employe in the Campbellford woolen mill, attempted to shift with his hands a belt from a pulley revolving 1000 revolutions per minute, he was caught by the belt and thrown some distance, striking his head with such force as to break his nose, cut one ear open badly and make a gash over two inches long in his scalp.

Death at a Limekiln.

WIARTON, Oct. 9.—The other morning about 3 o'clock Mr. Robt. Henderson, Deputy-Reeve of Derby, went out to relieve the boys who were attending his limekiln. While renewing the fire the poker slipped, and in some way or other Mr. Henderson received a blow, the poker perforating his bowels. He lingered along in considerable pain for three days, when death ended his sufferings.

ORONO, Oct. 9.—About 2.20 yesterday morning burglars entered the post-office, blew open the safe and secured about $400 in cash and notes of an unknown amount. They were surprised in the act and fired several shots at their disturbers. The building front was badly wrecked by the explosion.

THE WHITEHALL INQUEST.

THE REMAINS WERE THOSE OF A FINE WOMAN.

Who Probably Occupied a High Social Position—Balfour Refuses Military Aid to the Clanricarde Evictors.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—At the inquest on the trunk of a woman found in a cellar in Whitehall on Tuesday last, surgeons who examined the remains testified that they were those of an unusually fine woman who had probably occupied a high social position.

Saturday's Daily Telegraph published two sketch portraits from descriptions of the man last seen in the company of the woman named Stride, one of the victims of the Whitechapel murder fiend. The result has been the unceremonious arrest of every man bearing any resemblance to the pictures, and a great deal of discomfort has been caused by this new phase of police activity. Many of the arrests are made by self-constituted detectives or ambitious vigilance committes. The victims are generally discharged from custody as soon as brought before a magistrate, but some are unlucky enough not to be able to satisfy the officials of the circuit and are subjected to more or less annoying detention. One of the men arrested carried a bag, in which was found a razor. This suspect is still held, and will have to give a very good account of himself and his razor. Another perplexity attending the Whitechapel muddle is due to the fact that the regular police do not know by sight the various amateur detectives, and the latter are occasionally "held up" and put to the embarrassment of explaining their presence and mysterious movements in the much watched district.

ANOTHER INQUIRY.

U. S. Senator Blair Thirsts for Information Touching Riel's Trial.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—In the Senate yesterday Mr. Blair (Rep., N.H.) offered a resolution, which was laid over till to-day, calling on the President for information as to the trial for treason, conviction and execution in Canada on Nov. 16, 1885, of Louis David Riel, who claimed to have been a naturalized citizen of the United States, and whether the proceedings in the case were according to due process of law, including the presentation of the fact of Riel's citizenship and defence of insanity.

The Senate then proceeded to the consideration of the Tariff Bill, the reading in full being dispensed with and the Senate substitute being ordered to be first considered. Mr. Harris asked Mr. Allison (in charge of the bill) to fix a time at which general debate on the bill should close. Mr. Allison declined and proceeded with his statement as to the bill.

A Tariff on Eggs.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The Senate Committee on Finance in charge of the tariff bill desires to have corrected an impression which prevails to the effect that it has added eggs to the free list. Eggs are made free of duty by existing law and the substitute bill does not change that provision although the matter is under consideration, and undoubtedly an amendment will be reported from the committee imposing a tariff on eggs.

Mr. Hatch Sticks to It.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—In the House yesterday Mr. Hatch of Missouri, rising to a question of privilege, stated that in a speech delivered by him at Kirksville, Mo., some time ago he had said that the Oliver Chill Plow Works at South Bend, Ind., exported plows to Canada and sold them at an average cost of $4 less than they sold to American farmers. Since that time a gentleman residing at Kirksville had received a letter from the Oliver Chill Plow Company, denying the correctness of his statement and declaring that the works had little or no trade with Canada. He (Hatch) had to-day written to the Oliver Chill Plow Company, reiterating his statements and giving as his authority Mr. Washington, commercial agent at London, Ont. He read a report transmitted to the State Department by Mr. Washington, stating that the Oliver Chill plow, which in the United States cost $16, can be purchased in Canada for $12.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Joseph B. Smith was found dead in his room yesterday. The room was filled with gas, and there was every indication that it was a deliberate case of suicide. THE GALT POISONING CASE

WHAT DR. ELLIS DISCOVERED YESTERDAY.

The First Chocolate Drop Examined Found to be Loaded with Strychnine—It Was Intended for the Ridleys.

TORONTO, Oct. 9.—One point in connection with the mysterious packages of confectionery sent through the postoffice from this city to Galt last week was definitely settled yesterday. The candy which caused the terrible death of little Meta Cherry was not the only one that contained a deadly poison.

Yesterday there came to Dr. Ellis the contents of the package sent to Mrs. Ridley and Mrs. Lovell—three candies being included in the former and five in the latter—and the viscera of the Cherry child. Dr. Ellis began an analysis at once of one of the candies sent to Mrs. Ridley and said last night that he found it contained strychnine in a quantity sufficient to cause death.

It is evident, therefore, that it was only by reason of Rev. Mr. Ridley's caution in advising against eating the sweets that there was but one victim of the almost inconceivably inhuman crime or the terrible mistake.

The pasteboard boxes containing the poisoned candies were examined minutely in the Attorney-General's office. The pasteboard used in this amateur manufacture was formerly made into handkerchief boxes, or something of that sort. It has been cut down and the corners sewn together with white cotton thread. The sewing is neatly done, and the knot in the end of the thread is not one that would be tied by a man unaccustomed to handling a needle. If the box was made up by a woman the address was written by a man accustomed to writing. The handwriting is not disguised. Not only is the writing on all the boxes identical, but to anyone who has made chirography a study it is the work of a man evidently a mechanic or a farmer, a man whose hand is stiff, one who has not acquired the swing and ease of a penman. The address is written with an indelible pencil, while the names of the different members of the family for whom the candies were intended are written with an ordinary graphic pencil. This handwriting is also different, being somewhat angular, and this is an additional fact to show that there are two persons implicated, a man and a woman.

On the inside of one of the boxes is written in lead pencil, in a hand-writing altogether different from that on the candies or the address, this:

J. C., DUNDAS.

These are the initials of John Cherry, the father of little Meta, who several years ago was a resident of Dundas. Does this tend to prove that the author of the crime was a servant girl in the employ of Mr. Cherry while living in Dundas, who while there possessed herself of a box which had contained some articles purchased from a dry goods house? The girl might have come into possession of the box quite naturally, and when she had made up her mind to poison her former employer and his family had cut up the same box which had remained in her possession ever since. The man who addressed the boxes to Mr. Ridley, Mr. Cherry and Miss Lowell might have done so at her request and quite innocently too. There may be nothing in this, but it is a point that requires a satisfactory explanation. Then there is another bit of writing on the bottom of one of the boxes which might lead to something. This is the private mark of some dry goods house, either in Toronto or some other place.

Detective John Murray, the veteran officer of Ontario, has been put to work on the case.

AN ELECTION DODGE.

The New York Mail and Express' Latest from London.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—A London despatch to The Mail and Express says it is reported that an angry exchange of communications has taken place between London and Washington with regard to President Cleveland's retaliation proposals. Under pressure exerted by the Canadian Government, Lord Salisbury has instructed the British Minister at Washington to protest against the retaliation message as an act of hostility toward a friendly government, and as also a breach of modus vivendi agreement which was made with Joseph Chamberlain, representing the British Government, by the Government at Washington.

Will the Hens Strike?

NEW YORK, Oct. 9—John R. Halsey, jr., a young Brooklyn lawyer, has developed a new way to insure the freshness of the eggs consumed by people who are willing to pay extra for that guarantee. He is one of the incorporators of the Pioneer Fresh Egg Supply Company, of this city, which had been incorporated at Albany with a capital of $10,000.

This sum of money is to be invested in hens of fruitful nature and docile disposition, who are to be left at the homes of customers every evening in order that the eggs they lay over night will be ready for the breakfast table. Customers will pay a fixed rental for the fowls and take the chances of getting more or less than one egg per bird. The company will not be responsible for the failure of any particular hen to fulfil her duty, but will spare no effort to employ hens that will make a reasonable average.

The birds in the service of this corporation will have their throats operated upon so that they will not disturb the sleeping family at night and will be taken away each morning in the cagelike nest in which they will pass most of their time.

The Chicago Street Car Strike.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—The Executive Committee of the West Side Conductors and Drivers held a meeting yesterday morning to consider the question of a strike in sympathy with the North Side men. It was decided to call on President Yerkes and endeavor to secure some sorts of a concession, and that if this should fail they would at once return to the West Side and order a strike. Mr. Yerkes declined to see the committee and they returned to the West Side and held another meeting at which it was decided to call a meeting of the men to consider the question of striking.

General Manager Parsons of the West Division-Street Railway Company said yesterday afternoon that all hope of avoiding a strike of conductors and drivers on his division in sympathy with the North Division strikers has been abandoned, and he had no doubt that the men would quit work at 6 o'clock to-day.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger airl passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain.

TEA!

A Chinese writer says: "To make good tea it is an old custom to use running water boiled over a lively fire. That from springs in the hills is the best, and river water next, while well water is the worst. Do not boil the water too hastily; as, first it begins to sparkle like crab's eyes, then, somewhat like fishes' eggs, and lastly it boils up like pearls innumerable springing and waving about. This is the way to boil the water."

If you like a splendid cup of tea try one of the many brands in stock. The price varies with the quality. Splendid Teas at low prices. Better Teas a trifle higher. The best not dear and well worth the moderate price asked.

Repairing the Slide.

Some alterations which it is proposed to make to the dam at Hilliard's mill will be commenced on Wednesday morning. The improvement includes the work of replacing with a permanent structure the brackets that are placed on the dam during low water season. The work will be executed by Mr. Hilliard and the Auburn Woollen Co., who are largely interested in the water power. It is barely possible that letting the water off may reduce the head so that the pumping power at the water works will not be adequate to keep up the usual pressure, and in such sense the town may have to depend on the steamer for fire purposes.

A Chapter of Accidents.

This morning George Davis, a boy engaged in the Dickson Co's. saw mill, met with an accident in which he lost the little finger of his right hand. He was engaged in edging shingles at one of the circular saws and it putting a shingle away from him his right hand got caught in the saw and the little finger was severed just above the second joint. About a week ago, Davis caught the same finger in the saw, but only received a slight cut. John Cushing, another employee of the Dickson Co., had the thumb of his right hand severely cut yesterday afternoon. He was engaged at the saw for cutting edgings, when his hand slipped and the saw was pulled against the thumb, almost severing it at the joint. On Saturday afternoon, Mr. Henry Williams, an employee of Messrs. Stabler & Donell's planing mill, met with a painful accident. Mr. Williams was working at one of the planers when the mishap occurred. The bed of the planer is perforated with round holes, and in taking off a board which had just been planed, he caught one of his thumbs in one of these holes, and before he could extricate it the end of a board coming through the planer struck it, crushing it severely and tearing off the nail.

LEGAL OFFICES.

Changes in Firms and Removals Among the Barristers.

Peterborough has the reputation of being a town and county in which there is not much litigation, yet at the present time there is considerable movement among the wearers of the gown. Whether it is caused by the unusually large docket at the assizes (three criminal and four civil cases), or whether the agitation is because a case of attempted murder with international complications has arisen here, or not, the fact is that the lawyers, or a least about forty per cent. of them, are moving or brightening up their quarters or making other changes with a view to facilitating business.

Mr. John Burnham has moved his offices into new an elegant premises at 415 Water-st. This is a new building built by Mr. Geo. A. Cox, next the post office, which is being fitted up for offices. It is a neat looking building and Mr. Burnham occupies half the ground floor next to the government building. The front part of the premises is occupied by a clients' waiting room, divided off by a partition of mahogany finish and ornamented with frosted glass. It is tastily carpeted, furnished with seats and a desk for the use of clients and altogether a neat office. Next to this is the public office, furnished with a counter, desks, etc. The vault opens off this office, and is a commodious and safe place for a lawyer's valuable papers. Mr. Burnham's private office is divided from the outer one by a handsome partition and is being fitted up neatly. Altogether the offices are conveniently arranged, nicely fitted up and an inviting place of business. They will be heated by hot water.

Messrs. Hatton & Wood have had their offices, at the corner of George and Hunter-sts., improved and brightened. The decorator and paper hanger has had the offices handed over to him, and the result is a handsomer appearance and more cheerful offices. A counter has been added to the conveniences of the offices, and the heating appliances have been improved.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, one of the latest additions to the legal representatives, has secured an office next door to Mr. John Burnham's. It will also be very conveniently arranged and fitted up in the best style. It is said that the Division Court Clerk's office will probably be in the same building, when it will become a sort of local Osgoode Hall.

Messrs. O'Meara & Burnham is the name of a new legal firm. The partners are Messrs. John O'Meara and Mr. J. Hampden Burnham, M.A., both well-known and respected members of the profession. This will be a strong firm and one that will no doubt succeed. Their office is the one occupied by Mr. O'Meara at the corner of George and Simcoe-sts.

Messrs. Stratton & Hall will soon move into elegant quarters on Hunter-st., next to the post office. They will occupy three commodious offices, a centre one for a clients room and offices at either side of it for the two members of the firm. They are furnished with vaults and will be well fitted up.

Lawyers' offices are no longer in out of the way places or in dingy quarters. That day has gone past. Those of the profession who are not moving, and the gentlemen named include, to be more accurate, a little over thirty-six per cent. of the lawyers here, occupy offices in central places, which are easily accessible—and they do their work so well that an assize docket of seven cases is considered an unusually large one. More silk to their gowns!

Honor to Whom, etc.

It pays to use printer's ink. No one knows that better than managers of agricultural or industrial exhibitions. And the ink should be used judiciously. When posters are got out for the boards good and honest work is required. The managers of the Buffalo exhibition this year spent large sums in posting the cities far and wide and a letter received by Mr. E. C. Hill, Peterborough's bill poster, shows that they were satisfied with the work done here. The following is an extract from it:—

"The immense attendance at the fair we lay directly to advertising and consequently a large portion of the credit is due to you and I take this opportunity of thanking you for the thorough manner you did your part of the work. Trusting that next year the amount of paper which we send you will be much larger than this year and that your business will continue to increase, we are yours truly,

"Buffalo International Fair Ass'n.

Battalion Officers.

The militia general orders (No. 16) contain the following in reference to the 57th battalion:—

"No. 3 Co.—To be Lieutenant provisionally, Arthur Stevenson, vice R. B. Rogers, who resigns.

"To be 2nd Lieutenant provisionally, Charles Scott Shaw, vice E. A. Peck, appointed quartermaster.

"No. 4 Co.—To be Captain, Lieut. R. M. Dennistoun, V. B., from No. 1 Co., vice R. E. Birdsall, who retires retaining rank.

"Erratum.—In No. 6 of General Orders (11) of 1st June, 1888, the appointment of 2nd Lieutenant provisionally, Albert Edward Dixon, to 'No. 3 Co.' and 'view Hill, promoted,' instead of 'Edward A. Peck, appointed quartermaster.'

"Confirmation of rank.—2nd Lieutenant, K. G. Lech, R. S. I., No. 6 Company, 57th battalion, from 15th September, 1883."

We extend congratulations to the officers promoted, who will efficiently fill their positions. Capt. Birdsall has been a zealous and capable officer and his retirement from active connection with the battalion is to be regretted.

Anniversary Meeting.

The anniversary tea and platform meeting of the Mark-st. Methodist church, Ashburnham, took place last evening. Tea was served in the Town Hall from half past five to half past seven, by the ladies of the congregation. A very large number were present and partook of the good things provided, and throughly enjoyed themselves until eight o'clock. They then repaired to the church, and the chair was taken by Dr. Goldsmith. After an anthem had been given by the choir the Rev. M. L. Pearson engaged in prayer and was followed by an address from the chairman expressing his gratitute at being present to assist in the entertainment. A very nice selection was then sang by a quartette composed of members of the choir. The Rev. S. J. Shorey gave a very effective address to young men, dwelling particularly on the difficulties which young men had to overcome in life. A very pretty duet was sung, after which the Rev. F. McAmmond, B.A., of Fenelon Falls, made a very appropriate address upon the work and object of the church, and closed with an appeal to the people to practice a spirit of friendship and kindness. The quartette sang another good selection of music, Rev. Mr. Pearson gave a short address, and after the choir had again sang, the Rev. Mr. McAmmond closed the meeting with the benidiction.

ARCHER, THE GREAT ORGANIST of world wide fame, will give a grand recital in St. Paul's Church. Only a limited number of tickets will be sold. Secure them now. In St. Paul's Church, Tuesday, 16th Oct., 1888. Admission, adults, 25 cents. Children, two for 25 cents. 6d83

THE CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

The Directors Winding up the Affairs of the Three Days Fair.

The Directors of the West Riding Agricultural Society held a meeting yesterday afternoon to attend to matters connected with the Central Exhibition. There were present, Messrs. Rutherford (President), McClelland, Fair, Vance, Garbutt, Baptie, G. W. Fitzgerald, A. Fitzgerald and Tully.

A protest entered against Mr. Lipsett's horse in the cheesbuyers' prize was considered, and the protest was sustained on the ground that the owner of the horse was not a cheese buyer or manufacturer. This gives Mr. Pilkey the first prize and Mr. G. W. Fitzgerald second prize. Mr. J. E. Cullen had been awarded a prize for potatoes in a different class from that in which he entered them, and the consequence was a protest which was sustained. On motion the prize given by Messrs. Hawley Bros. was placed for the second prize for a collection of potatoes and in accordance with the judges' decision awarded to Mr. A. R. Kidd. Mr. Smith, of Cannington, requested the return of the entrance money he paid for Maud S. in the hotelkeepers prize competition, as he was unable to come and did not compete, but the request was not granted.

A number of of accounts were read and referred to a special committee consisting of Mr. Rutherford, President, Mr. Collins, Secretary, and Mr. G. W. Fitzgerald, Superintendent.

The judges having overlooked awarding a prize for the best exhibit of poultry, the matter was referred to the Secretary, and the prize, a bushel of potatoes of a new variety, valued at $3, given by Mr. H. J. Daubur, was awarded to Mr. James Baptie.

The finances of the exhibition have not been settled yet, and the exact position is not definitely known. The gate receipts, however, were more than at the exhibition in the previous year, and at least, despite the bad weather on the Frideay, the accounts will square. Whether they will do more than that cannot be told yet.

Mr. Young is a very efficient accountant and well acquainted with the business he undertakes.

Christian Conference.

A very important Conference is soon to be held in Montreal. The Evangelical Alliance of that city after consultation with the parent society in England, has called together representatives of all the Evangelical bodies in the Dominion to consult about some questions that deeply effect the moral and social life of the people. Gen. Sir Robert Phayre, K.C.B., Vice-President of the World's Alliance, has been sent from London as a representative to take part in the Conference. The meetings will be held, three sessions a day, from Oct. 22nd to 25th. Churches everywhere are urged to co-operate by sending delegates. Certificates for reduced rates of travel can be obtained by any attending the Conference, on application to Rev. W. Jackson. Sec., 58 Fort-st., Montreal. Delegates from ministerial associations and from branches of the Alliance, will be entertained if they will forward their names to the Secretary.

A Series of Entertainments.

Mr. T. Bradburn, proprietor of the Opera House here, is arranging to place before our people a scheme to provide a series of entertainments during the coming winter. The course will include lectures by the most popular men now on the platform, and concerts by companies of recognized ability. As proposed the course would take four or five nights, one ticket to cover admission to all. Tickets would be sold at say $1.00 each, or at such a sum as would cover expenses entailed by engaging the parties who give the entertainments. Several familiar names have been mentioned as likely to "draw" good houses if placed on the list, and a liberal support would ensure this being done. Mr. Bradburn will take steps to ascertain the probable support to be obtained, and should prospective results warrant will go on with the enterprise. It is likely that the concerts would include one lecture by Mr. Clemens (Mark Twain), which would alone be worth the expense of a ticket for the concert.

St. Luke's Church.

A meeting of the congregation of St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, was held in the school room last night, to express sympathy with the Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, rector, in his having to leave them for a season on account of failing health. Mr. John Burnham was in the chair and Mr. E. Burt acted as secretary. A resolution was passed, moved by Mr. H. T. Strickland and seconded by Mr. John Burnham, expressing the deep regret of the congregation that Mr. Bradshaw was forced to leave them under the present circumstances, and their sympathy with him. The Hon. R. Hamilton and others made a few remarks expressive of their appreciation of his efforts among them. The universal expressions of regret heard among his parishioners, as well as those not directly under his care, show the high esteem in which Mr. Bradshaw is held, and that his untiring and loving ministrations among them for the last twelve years are not unappreciated. The reverend gentleman will leave next week, if arrangements can be made, for California.

The J. C. Duff Comic Opera Co. in "A Trip to Africa."

The members of this company have been selected from the best lyrical talent of the country, and each of the principals has a reputation that has been achieved by patient study and hard, laborious experience. The chorus has been culled from the ranks of the most notable operatic organizations, and bring experience and proficiency to their aid in this production. The ladies are remarkably handsome, and there is a profusion of them, and in their prismatic armours and oriental costumes, during their marches and dances, present a picture of most enticing splendor, and for the nonce almost made the auditor imagine he has been spirited away to dreamland, or that he has been transported to some fairy Elysia. The music of the opera has a tuneful rhythm and "catchiness" that few kindred productions possess, and is as popular in the private parlor as it is with the humble street gamin, who imbues his soul with its touching melody, and whistles the airs to drown his troubles and perplexities. The libretto of "A Trip to Africa" is lively and euphoniously adapted to the sparkling airs. The plot is interesting and replete with captivating surprises. The scenery is new and of the most gorgeous description. The opera probably presents the most enticing tout ensemble of any similar production ever submitted to the votaries of music in this country, and its unmistakable success everywhere is certainly a guarantee that patrons will be treated to one of the most recherche lyrical and dramatic entertainments that was ever produced upon the boards. Plan is now open at Schofield's Drug Store, and it behooves those desirous of obtaining desirable seats to make early application, as the demand is already greater than was anticipated. Opera House, Monday, Oct. 15th. 1d83

The Police Force.

Peterborough police force is not a large one in members, but it is a heavy force. Chief Roszel, the head of the force, brings up the beam to 225 pounds and Constable Adams and Constable Stewart are each over 200 pounds. Constable McGinty is lighter, between 150 and 160, but what he lacks in weight he makes up in other ways. The Police Court Clerk is also a heavy man, weighing over 200 pounds. Keep out of the way of the police.

The Annual Rifle Matches.

The shooting competition for prizes in the Maiden match came off at the rifle butts this morning. The shooting was good, although the wind was blowing very strong at the time. Five rounds were shot, the range being 400 yards and the possible number of scores twenty-five. The names of those winning prizes and the scores made were as follows:—

	Score	Prize
1st R. Irwin	19	$6 00
2nd H. Robinson	17	5 00
3rd N. Williams	16	3 50
4th J. T. Emmerson	14	1 50

Endeavor Society.

The regular meeting of the Endeavor Society took place last evening in the school room of the Charlotte-st. Methodist Church. After devotional exercises a very interesting programme was rendered. Considerable business was transacted. A paper and question drawer and connection with the Society was discussed and finally approved of. The paper will probably be known as the Casquet. It is not to be printed, but contributions, original and selected, may be sent in to the editor or editress and read before the Society. No discussion is to be allowed on the contributions except through the columns of the paper. A report from the Entertainment Committee regarding the entertainment on Thursday evening next by Canada's great caricaturist, Bengough, was received. A large number of tickets have been sold and reserved seats are being readily taken up. The election of officers was announced to take place next evening, when a large number of the members is expected to be present.

Just for Appearances.

A few evenings ago the proprietors of one of our stores were looking over the day's business, preparatory to closing up and going home. The junior partner, who is the cashier, asked the senior if he had what pocket money he needed. "Yes" said the senior, as he went through his vest pocket, "I've got seventy cents and I guess I shan't need anymore till to-morrow." "Better take a little more," said the junior, "there's no telling what might happen." "No," said the other, "I might lose it or be robbed, and I don't need it." "That's just the point," said the junior, "You might be robbed, and how like thunder you'd feel to have it reported in the papers, as they'd be sure to get onto the item, that in spite of the police and watchman Gordon the senior partner of this firm was knocked down on his way home last night and robbed, the footpads securing only seventy cents." The boss at once took a five dollar bill. Any man who is at all nervous about losing money had better at once invest it with gough bros. Remember—a $7,000 stock of superb boots and shoes, bought at ruination prices and sold at less than half wholesale cost. Strong boots, Sunday boots, ladies' boots, children's boots, in fact, boots and shoes of every kind at the very lowest prices. Because wheat may rise to 125 cents per bushel, that is no reason why you should waste money by paying double prices for boots and shoes to the high price dealers. One by one the competitors of gough bros. are leaving the field. Old Mr. High Price is dead, but some of his children keep up a a struggling existence, and these will soon pass away, leaving the gough bros. towering alone, a monument of low prices and big bargains. And their great boot and shoe sale is a terrible blow to high prices. Store—375 george-st.

St. John's Church.

A largely attended meeting of the congregation of St. John's Church was held last evening. Dr. Burnham presided and Mr. F. E. Bell acted as Secretary. Regret on account of the continued illness of the rector, Rev. J. W. R. Beck, and sympathy for himself and family were voiced by Mr. A. P. Poussette, Q. C., Judge Weller and others. As the rector's physician had advised that he will not be able to resume his duties for six months, a resolution was passed asking the churchwardens to confer with Mr. Beck regarding the appointment of a substitute for that time. We are pleased to learn that Mr. Beck is some better.

Next Year's A.C.A. Camp.

Next year's meet of the Northern Division of the A.C.A. will be held on Canadian water, and having the right by routine, the general meet of the A.C.A. will be held at the same time and place. This evening a committee go to look at some points which have been suggested as suitable for next year's camp. The committee will be made up of Commodore H. C. Rogers, Mr. J. Z. Rogers, and Messrs. A. F. D. Macpachen and S. Britton, of Lindsay, the latter divisional officers of the last northern meet. The committee go by C.P.R. to Sharbot Lake where the water and possible camp sites will be inspected. Rideau Lake will also be looked over, as the Brockville club are anxious to have the coming meet held down in their section of country. Stave Island, in the St. Lawrence, has been spoken of and may be approved of should circumstances warrant the holding of the camp there. The committee will report to the official meeting to be held in Toronto some time early next month.

CHEESE MARKETS.

There was a boom in cheese at Utica yesterday and the dairy men are all happy. The demand for September stock has been very active in New York and prices made an all around advance of 1½c. Business was very brisk and for the best factories there was such sharp competition that buyers paid more than New York quotations. It is predicted that the advance will be sustained. Transactions were 18,632 boxes, ruling price 10c. Transactions one year ago 13,523 boxes, ruling price 11½c.

The figures at Little Falls last night show an advance of about 1¾ cents in cheese over those of last week. The market was very active all day. The transactions were 8747 boxes, ruling price 10½c. The sales of farm dairy cheese amounted to 876 boxes at 10½c to 10¾c, with the bulk at 10½c. Butter—123 packages of farm dairy butter sold at 21c to 22c, bulk 21c, and 15 packages of creamery at 21c to 22c.

THE POPULAR VERDICT.

ETNA, PA., June 11, 1888.

GENTLEMEN—I am well pleased with your Ideal Felt Tooth Polisher. After using it my teeth are smooth and have a lustre which cannot be obtained by the use of bristle brushes. Please send me two more, cost enclosed, as my family wish to try them.

Truly yours N. SPANG.

NEW ORLEANS, June 11th, 1888.

After satisfactory trial, I can safely say that the polish obtained from the Felt is superior to that which is obtained from the bristles.

JAS. WEST, D.D.

I consider your brush an improvement on the old tooth brush. R. J. FRIDERICHS.

I can cheerfully recommend it as being superior to any other in the market. I intend to recommend it to all my patrons. Respectfully. G. P. MALONEY, D.D.S.

TURNBULL'S

YARNS.

There is nothing more essential to the health of the body in this changeable climate of ours than keeping the feet comfortably clad, so, in order to supply the large demand for good Woolen Yarn and Hosiery, we have paid particular attention to this department. Our Baldwin and Wheeling Yarns are imported direct from Scotland. Baldwin's Yarns are so well known we need not say anything about them, and Scotland is noted the world over for wools; so that we can show you all the best makes in any color at the very lowest prices. The Wheeling Yarn is a heavy make intended for children's and boys' wear, very much like our Canadian yarn only much softer and warmer, and it comes at a low price.

HOSIERY.

You should see our Heather Wool Sox for men, knitted by the grandmas of Scotland. They may seem a little high in price, but they are really very cheap as they wear so long. We have Black Cashmere Hose in plain and ribbed in two or three different makes, from the smallest baby's size to the largest ladies, at prices that are right, as we are confident they are not sold cheaper in either city or town in the regular way. We have also a special make of Canadian Hose closely and softly knitted, without a seam. You should ask to be shown these goods when at the Hosiery counter. You will be pleased with them. We need only to speak in a whisper about a bargain we have secured, knowing that it will spread like fire when mentioned. One of our largest hosiery knitting mills, that supplies the wholesale trade only (as they have to sell in large quantities to find market for all they make), after filling all their orders, had a surplus left, which they were anxious to dispose of in order to make room to commence the cotton goods for spring. Our stock not being heavy, we were able to do with them and can now offer you an all wool perfect knitted hose, ladies' size, for 12½ cents a pair. Remember that all through the season we keep our stock well assorted, and no matter what inducements may be offered we never allow ourselves to be undersold.

THE GALT POISONING CASE

CONTINUATION OF THE INQUEST INTO META CHERRY'S DEATH.

Mrs. Cherry the Only Witness Examined—The Fatal Drug Evidently Intended for Her—The Inquest Adjourned.

GALT, Oct. 10.—The intense excitement which has prevailed here ever since the poisoning of the Cherry family last week was fanned to a greater heat by the news that Dr. Ellis' analysis had disclosed the presence of strychnine in one of the candies sent to Mrs. Ridley. Long before the reopening last night of the inquest into the death of little Meta Cherry the room was packed with an anxious throng which listened with eager interest to every word of the evidence.

Mrs. John Cherry was the only witness examined. Her evidence was mainly in corroboration of that of Mr. Cherry and their niece, given at the previous hearing. The witness testified that the candy, which had the bitter taste and is supposed to be the one which contained the fatal drug, was labelled with the word "Mama" and was evidently intended for her.

The inquest was adjourned for ten days in order to obtain the analyst's report upon the viscera.

All sorts of theories and surmises are afloat as to the perpetrator of the cowardly and dreadful crime but there is not the slightest clue as yet to his identity. Many believe that there were two persons concerned in the plot, a man and a women, and claim in support of their theory that the boxes containing the candies were sewn too neatly to have been made by a man, while the handwriting of the addresses is apparently that of a man.

A substantial reward for the discovery of the criminal will probably be offered at once.

An Important Discovery.

TORONTO, Oct. 10.—While in conversation with Mr. Johnston, Deputy Attorney-General, a reporter asked to be allowed to make another examination of the boxes. Mr. Johnston immediately unlocked a drawer and handed over the box which contained the poisoned candy addressed to the Cherry family. After a few minutes of minute examination, the reporter discovered that there was something most peculiar about this particular box which had never been noticed before. This peculiarity thoroughly convinced the reporter that this box and its contents came originally from Galt. It was sent to Toronto by mail, addressed to some person in this city at league, and the person in Toronto, no doubt, carrying out instructions redirected it to Mrs. John Cherry, in Galt. The peculiarity is this: the box has been through the mails before. When first received in Toronto it was evident that the directions had been written on the top of the box, which had been encased in paper but had simply been tied with a string. The party in Toronto attempted to obliterate the first address, stamp and post-marks by pasting a sheet of notepaper carefully cut to the proper size across the lid of the box. After doing this it was found that the address, though dim, could be read. Other pieces of white paper were again pasted over the address, and the stamp, which, of course, completely hid the first address or the addresses of the party in Toronto. On these pieces of paper were put a six cent stamp and the address in indelible pencil, as has been described. The reporter, when he found that the cover of the box had been pasted, attempted to raise the piece, upon which the address was written, with the object of seeing what was under it. He had just separated it far enough to see part of the faint writing under the piece, when Mr. Johnston thought it inadvisable to go further, that it had better be left to Detective Murray to handle, so that the detective could go into the witness box in connection with the matter. When these pieces of paper have been separated by means of steam, the person who was used as the medium in Toronto will be known. It is a significant fact also that this is the same box containing on the inside of the lid the writing, "J. C., Dundas."

TORONTO TOPICS.

Policeman Jarvis of Move-on Notoriety Found Drunk in a Disreputable House.

TORONTO, Oct. 10.—Policeman Richard Jarvis, who attained such notoriety in connection with the arrest and conviction of the Rev. W. F. Wilson for disorderly conduct, has got himself into a serious scrape, but will probably result in his dismissal. Jarvis was on night duty, and being attached to No. 2 Division reported off duty at Agnes-street station at 7 yesterday morning. At 9 o'clock Inspector Ward proceeded to Jennie Manning's notorious house 52 Albert-street, and there found Policeman James and another officer named Titley lying in a state of semi-intoxication on the lounges in one of the rooms. The Inspector aroused the two men and ordered them up to the station. He accompanied them thither, and once inside he suspended them from duty to await the pleasure of the Chief, to whom he reported the matter later in the day.

Yesterday morning Wm. Joselyn was charged with highway robbery. Donald Bruce, from Beaverton, who had a watch and $12 taken from him on George-street on Sept. 20, was the complainant. Joselyn was committed for trial.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The Queen is enjoying the best of health, revelling in the early winter with its unheard of cold. She comes south in November. She has been taking drives and walks daily during the heavy snowstorms and cold of last week and has been putting the strength and endurance of her ladies-in-waiting to a very severe test.

The death of Mrs. Hull at Windsor on Sept. 24 was a great sorrow to the Queen and her family. She was nurse to the royal children from the time the Prince of Wales was three months old till 1858 and had frequently taken care of the children of the Empress Frederick, the Prince of Wales and the Grand Duchess Alice of Hesse. After her marriage she lived at Windsor and was often visited by the Queen during her illness. Her little house was a model of neatness and was full of presents given during her life by the Queen and the royalties.

Dr. Geffcken has been a great deal in England, and has some friends here who are much attached to him. Though conservative in his leanings, he has taken on all occasions the opposite side to Prince Bismarck, with whom he is very unpopular. The real secret of his disfavor with Prince Bismarck and the Emperor lies in the fact that he was a strong outspoken admirer of England and English institutions.

Sir Morell Mackenzie's book on the Emperor Frederick's illness will create a lively state of things if he publishes all he can—all he would be justified in publishing—in self-defense. If he tells the true story of how the operation for tracheotomy was performed at San Remo, and how the canula was inserted by Dr. Bergmann, and what was the immediate consequence of each operation, he will tell a story that will strengthen the belief that, had the Emperor been an ordinary patient, he might still be living.

A great deal of nonsense appears about the postponement of the Empress Frederick's visit to England. The personal movements of the Empress are said to be subject to pressure amounting to coercion. It is a pity that the offensive fictions should be circulated. The fact is, the empress was so much engrossed in arranging her affairs that it was impossible for her to visit Scotland last month. It was not worth while for her to come over when all of her pressing business had been disposed of, as she wished to be at Potsdam Thursday week—the 57th anniversary of her husband's birthday. Her Majesty also decided to pass a fortnight at Kiel with Prince Henry, after which she goes to Berlin to establish herself in the crown princess' palace. On Nov. 12 she starts for England.

Emperor William has privately intimated an intention of visiting England next year, but not before the middle of June. He will visit the King of the Belgians at Brussels about the same time.

The latest phonographs received by Col. Gouraud are much superior to their forerunners. The voice can now be reproduced in sufficient volume to be heard all over the room. Col. Gouraud is busily engaged in making up records for America. Mr. Edison will soon be able to hear a song by Sim Reeves, a sermon by Spurgeon, an original composition by Sir Arthur Sullivan, and Queen Elizabeth's thanksgiving speech as delivered in Drury Lane by Miss Ada Neelson.

Mme. Trebelli, after a prolonged and severe illness, is entering into convalescence. With an exceptionally vigorous constitution she will keep on. I have known her for 25 years, and never knew her to be ill before.

Lord Alfred Paget's intimate friends were surprised to learn that he died rich. His personalty is sworn at £107,000.

CANADA AND GREAT BRITAIN.

Their Relations Talked of at Gloucester—Alberta Cattle Give Good Satisfaction.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The First Lord of the Treasury's speech at Gloucester has greatly gratified Canadian circles, as calculated to prove to the United States how unitedly Canada and Britain stand. Mr. Smith's reference to the magnificent moderation and judgment on the part of Canada in the present crisis, entitling her to the admiration of the world, is only an echo of the general British feeling where the dispute is understood.

The Alberta cattle from the new Oxley ranche arrived in Liverpool ex steamer Canopus in good condition. The mortality during the voyage was under three per cent. They are described as sound, healthy cattle. The ranche company feel confident that they will find a profitable market in Britain. The excellent quality of the meat is destroying the present prejudice to the peculiar color.

At the meeting of the Alberta Railway Company of New Brunswick yesterday, the bondholders authorized a committee to bid for the railway at the coming sale, with a view to the formation of a new company.

A HAPPY FAMILY.

The Leader of the British House of Commons on International Questions.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—W. H. Smith, in a speech at Gloucester, said the Canadians were willing to bide their time because they knew that after the presidential election in the United States they would obtain a just and fair arrangement of the fisheries trouble. The people of England, America and Canada were too good friends to quarrel over a question of this kind.

Mr. Smith denied the truth of the report that the British Government intended to hand Bechuanaland over to the Government of Cape Colony.

Seized by the Police.

BERLIN, Oct. 10.—The police have seized the remaining copies of The Deutsche Rundschau, which contained the extracts from the diary of the late Emperor Frederick.

A Daring Theft.

HAMILTON, Oct. 10.—A daring theft was committed at the grocery store of Mr. John T. Gully, corner of Wentworth and Nightingale streets. While Mrs. Gully was in the shop a man entered and caught hold of her. Then he secured a box of cigars and ran off with it.

An Indian Held Up.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 10.—On Saturday Andrew Statts, a Sioux Nation Indian, brought into town and sold a load of oats for $75. On his way home he was attacked and most cruelly beaten at Burtch's Corners by George Jones and W. H. Ecoft. Police Constable Adams, on complaint being laid on Monday morning, went to the reservation and brought back the two men handcuffed. This is the third highway robbery that has taken place on the Cockshutt road in a short time.

Consumption Can be Cured

by proper, healthful exercise, and the judicious use of Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites, which contains the healing and strength-giving virtues of these two valuable specifics in their fullest form. Dr. D. D. McDonald, Petitcodiac, N. B., says: "I have been prescribing Scott's Emulsion with good results. It is especially useful in persons with consumptive tendencies." Put up in 50c. and $1 size.

A CASE TO BE STATED.

Manitoba's Application re Crossing the C.P.R. to go Before the Supreme Court.

OTTAWA, Oct. 10.—The Privy Council Railway Committee held an important meeting yesterday. There were present Hon. J. H. Pope, Sir John Thompson and Hon. John Carling. Sir John Thompson read a memorandum giving the conclusion arrived at by the ministers concerning the application of the Attorney-General of Manitoba to the Railway Committee for permission to construct a crossing over the tracks of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The committee deem the question raised by counsel for the Canadian Pacific Railway in opposition to the application to be of so much importance, as affecting this and other applications, that they have decided to adopt the course permitted by section 19 of the Railway Act of 1888. They will therefore state a case for the opinion of the Supreme Court of Canada as to the authority of the Attorney-General of Manitoba to construct the railway referred to in his application under the Manitoba Act.

Mr. T. Murray who is interested in the three vessels, Ben Hur, Dart Russell and Grace Amelia at Algoma, had an interview with the Deputy Minister of Justice yesterday. After the facts had been stated Mr. Murray was asked to furnish information as to the quantity and value of the wrecking material brought into Canadian waters and also the extent of repairs made to the three vessels while in American territory, setting aside the question of insanity of the president of the wrecking company. The offence committed seems to be that they went into American waters as Canadian vessels, purchased a lot of material in order to make repairs, and on coming into a Canadian port they were liable for duty on such repairs. Then they neglected to make a report to the customs officer. In addition to this they brought wrecking material into Canadian waters. It is held that in the eyes of the law they are still Canadian ships.

The Inland Revenue Department finds that certain men make a practice of sending out names of parties who have claims for a refund from the Government. The Minister has in his possession undoubted evidences that a system of blackmail has been carried on by these men successfully in many cases.

Hon. J. Costigan, Minister of Inland Revenue, is considering the grain standard for Northwest wheat and it is understood the one agreed to by the boards of trade last year will be acted on this year.

Sir John Thompson entertained at dinner to-night a party of sixteen barristers attending the Supreme Court.

CHURCH OF OUR IMMACULATE LADY.

The Magnificent Catholic Edifice to be Dedicated at Guelph To-Day.

GUELPH, Oct. 10.—The Church of Our Lady Immaculate, the main part of which has been in process of construction the last four years, will be dedicated to the worship of God this morning.

Among the many churches recently built or in progress, few will surpass in size, and certainly none west of Montreal in the magnificence and purity of its architecture, the temple of worship which now towers aloft on the Catholic hill, with its stately gables and lofty pinnacles.

The magnificent building which now adorns the hill was resolved on, and the foundation stone was laid on July 5, 1877, by Monsignor Conroy, the Apostolic Delegate, who visited Guelph specially to perform this work. With him were the late Archbishop Lynch, Toronto; the late Bishop Brinnon, of Hamilton diocese; Bishop Walsh, of London, who will preach the dedicatory sermon; the late Bishop Jamot, of Peterboro; and a large number of priests.

Designed in the Gothic style, which obtained in Europe towards the close of the 13th century, that splendid period of Ecclesiastical art, it takes generally the form of the Latin Cross, and is composed of spacious nave and chancel, boldly defined transepts, north and south aisles, baptistry and chapels with great twin bell towers, etc. Internally and externally the new church is magnificent in every detail. It has a splendid organ.

The cost of the church, when completed, including the spires, altars, frescoing, stained glass, organ, peals of bells, church furniture, etc., will probably reach $200,000.

ST. CATHARINES.

William Cummings Pleads Guilty to a Charge of Burglary—K. of L. Funds.

ST. CATHARINES, Oct. 9.—William Cummings, a young colored man, was arraigned before the police magistrate this morning, charged with burglary and assault at the residence of Hattie Campbell. He pleaded guilty to trespass only, and the case was adjourned until to-morrow for evidence. Subsequently he sent word to the magistrate that he would plead guilty, but the magistrate would not re-open court. He will therefore be sentenced to-morrow. Cummings served a term of three years in the penitentiary for a murderous assault on Miss Graydon some years ago. He also assaulted an aged woman named Carroll about the same time, and was awarded two years for that offence, or five in all.

There is trouble about the funds of the Knights of Labor. To-day Mr. Thomas McEachie was arrested on a charge of misappropriating or refusing to hand over some $300 of the funds of the District Assembly.

A Cook's Unfortunate Marriage.

OWEN SOUND, Oct. 10.—Last night Joseph Fletcher, a purser on one of the boats plying to this port, was arrested on a charge of bigamy. The complainant is wife No. 2, who is at present employed as cook in the National Club at Toronto. Her maiden name is Annie Campbell, and she is worth considerable money. She married the prisoner in Rochester after a short courtship, and right here is a very nice point in law. The second marriage, which constitutes the crime of bigamy, was celebrated in the States, but the charge is laid in Toronto, where Fletcher will be tried. It is a mooted point whether the Canadian court has any jurisdiction over him. It is claimed by the counsel for Mrs. Fletcher No. 2 that if all the witnesses can be got together in Toronto the man will be tried there.

Blair's Riel Resolution.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The resolution offered by Mr. Blair calling on the President for information in the matter of the trial, conviction and execution of Riel for high treason in Canada in 1885 was taken up in the Senate yesterday and a long statement in reference to it made by Mr. Blair who based the resolution on the ground that Riel was a naturalized American citizen. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

The Senate then resumed consideration of the tariff bill.

The Bears' Day at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—There was fair trading yesterday in wheat on speculative account at lower and irregular prices. The sentiment to some extent has changed to the bear side and there was more general disposition to sell. Local traders sold freely, and the buying was credited to a considerable extent to outsiders and to parties who had sold Monday or early yesterday morning, and who had profits in their transactions. But the feeling was unsettled and fluctuations again covered a wide range. The decline from Monday's outside point was 10½ cents.

CRUSHED AND MANGLED.

A MONTREAL WORKMAN BURIED UNDER A FALLING WALL.

Deep Distress of a Neglected Family—An Alleged Forger Acquitted—Madame Mercier Restored to Health.

MONTREAL, Oct. 10.—J. A. Gravel, the young man who appeared before the Police Magistrate Monday on a charge of forging his uncle's name to a note for $250, was acquitted yesterday.

Hon. Mr. Mercier has returned from New York with Madam Mercier, who has completely recovered from her recent illness.

J. Dowd, who went to the Banque Ville Marie and asked for life or money was sent to Longue Pointe yesterday afternoon.

In a shed behind No. 42 St. Andre-street the police found a family consisting of a mother and her five children, in frightful distress. The unfortunate woman is Madame Bospere Durocher, who, on Sept. 8, had her husband arrested for neglecting to provide for his family. He was released on bail and has not been seen since.

At noon yesterday at H. R. Ives & Co.'s foundry in Queen-street a number of men were at work in the blacksmith shop when a portion of the wall between that shop and R. Millard & Co.'s premises fell in with a crash. One of the blacksmiths named Gillespie was working close to the wall, and before he could jump aside he was buried beneath a portion of the wall, his anvil and a mass of iron. It was nearly an hour before he could be reached. His remains were then a fearful sight, the point of his anvil having pierced his abdomen. The deceased was an Englishman. He leaves a wife and several children who are still in England. The accident was caused by the piling of a mass, estimated at 50 tons, of iron against the wall on Millard's side.

CELESTIALS AT THE FALLS.

Hoo Ylang Disappears—Thought to Have Crossed the Line.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Oct. 10.—The four Chinese from the western states bound for New York are still at the Grand Trunk depot here. They have no money with them and have to depend on the generosity of the citizens here for food.

Hoo Ylang, the Buffalo Chinaman who was stopped returning home from Toronto, has disappeared and no doubt made good his escape across the frontier.

Three other Chinamen, who arrived on the American side from the eastern states yesterday, bound for the western states with tickets over the Ontario and Western and Grand Trunk railways, were refused by the Grand Trunk railway and at present are at Suspension Bridge, N.Y.

Eleventh Annual Provincial Convention in Session at Sarnia.

SARNIA, Oct. 10.—The eleventh annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of this province opened yesterday. There are about 150 delegates in attendance. The convention was called to order by the President, Mrs. Chisholm of Ottawa. The appointment of committees and reports from different officers of the union occupied the session. In the evening a reception and tea was given by the delegates and invited guests in the Baptist Church and addresses of welcome were read from the Sarnia Union, the I. O. G. T., and the Lambton Scott Act Association. Responses were made by Mrs. Shortreed of Toronto and Mrs. Hitchcock of Paris.

News from Halifax.

HALIFAX, Oct. 10.—D. H. Burbidge, principal of the Morris-street school, died to-day aged 48. His brother Judge Burbidge, will arrive from Ottawa on Thursday to attend the funeral.

Governor and Mrs. McLelan held their first reception to-day.

Sandford Fleming, who has been spending the summer in Halifax, leaves for Ottawa to-morrow.

They Jumped and Were Drowned.

WALLACEBURG, Ont., Oct. 10.—While the steam barge W. S. Ireland, of Wallaceburg, was on her return trip from Detroit she collided with the steam barge Margaret Rawson, of Saginaw. The engineer John Decatur and Mrs. Walker, the wife of the captain of the Ireland, ran on deck and in the excitement thinking the barge was sinking attempted to jump on the wood scow which was in tow. They jumped short and fell into the St. Clair and were drowned. Decatur's body has been recovered, but Mrs. Walker's has not found. Both parties were residents of Wallaceburg.

Run Down by a Barge and Killed.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—On Saturday the body of Thomas Atherton, commonly known as Sheet-iron Tom, was found floating in the River Sydenham, about a mile below Wallaceburg. It is supposed that the deceased was run down by some of the passing steam barges, as he left town late at night to go home in a boat. He was considerably intoxicated when he left, having been drinking in town for the most of the day.

A Child Smothered to Death.

PORT HURON, Oct. 10.—Kittie, the 11-year-old daughter of George Phillips, engineer at Botsford's elevator, while walking along the platform of the elevator, made a mistep and fell into a shute used for unloading farmers' wagons and cars. It took about five minutes to release her from underneath the grain, and when taken out life was extinct, she having smothered to death.

The Burglars Escaped.

MADOC, Oct. 10.—Two suspicious characters were noticed prowling around here yesterday. Chief Huff, with two or three others, kept a look-out for them last night and found them in W. H. O'Flynn's dry goods store about 12 o'clock. They made their escape through a back cellar door. About a dozen revolver shots were exchanged, but none took effect. One of the burglars left his hat and one boot behind.

Charged With Seduction.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 10.—Mary Ann Ray of Port Stanley, an unmarried woman, probably 32 years of age, has been in the city for the last couple of days, and has laid a complaint against Robert Higgins, teamster, charging him with seduction. A capias for Higgins' arrest has been issued, but he is nowhere to be found, and it is stated by his friends that he has left the city for the land of the free.

An Alleged Burglar Captured.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 10.—F. J. McCutcheon has been arrested by Chief Murphy on a charge of burglary committed at Crosshill in June last. R. Jennings' house was entered and $40 in cash and $6000 worth of mortgages and notes stolen. The police have been working on the case and one of the parties was sent down for five years.

IMMIGRATION.

The returns of emigration from Great Britain show that Canada is becoming better known in the mother land and its advantages are being better understood. The number of emigrants to the United States decreased, but the number seeking homes in Canada showed an increase. This country has thousands of acres of land, fertile and waiting for the husbandman, which is of little or no use until it is settled upon and tilled. It would not be required in ages by the people of this country, and it is to the advantage of the country to have men from the older and over-populated countries come here and build homes upon them. It is not mechanics or professional men that Canada requires, but men accustomed to agricultural work and who will make use, to their own and this country's benefit, of the land as yet unoccupied. The tide of immigration having set in this way it will probably continue. Each immigrant settled on a farm in the Northwest is an immigration agent, as those moving from their present homes are more likely to go where they have friends or acquaintances. This is the chief reason why we still see Canadians occasionally going across the lines when seeking a home in the west. They have friends who settled in the Republic before the Canadian Northwest was made so easily accessible by the building of the great railway and these friends are a loadstone drawing them in the same direction. So old country settlers in the Northwest will draw others to those prairie lands, and the increase in the number of British emigrants who sail for the Dominion is likely to grow larger.

WEATHER NOTES.—Verily our hot summer has come to an end. Although September is not actually a fall month, still it has throughout been cold and wet, rain falling on 11 days to the depth of 4 inches and 35-100 of an inch, which is far above the average for September, and frost on 13 mornings and ice on three, the 14th, the 29th and 30th, the severest being on the morning of the latter, when the ice was thick, a good crust on the ground and the thermometer standing at 24 degrees. Only twice did the temperature reach 75 degrees at sunset, with down to 40 degrees, leaving the mean temperature of the month at 53 17-30 degrees. We had two thunder storms, a severe one on the 19th with considerable hail, and rain falling to the depth of 1 inch and 15-100 of an inch, but our heaviest rain storm was on the 16th, in 21 hours falling nearly one and a half inches of water. There was fog on 3 mornings and auroral lights on the night of the 27th. I believe snow is almost unknown here in September, but while returning from church on Sunday afternoon flakes of snow were quite visible falling among the rain. I don't remember ever seeing the like before in Canada. It is yet raining and the continued wet weather will make it very disagreeable taking up the potato crop. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing, at sunrise during the month, namely:—North 3 days, south-west 9 days, north-west 6 days, east 3 days, south 2 days, west 3 days, south-east 3 days, and north-east 1 day.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain.

A Valuable Trade Journal.

A periodical that is pushing its way into public favor is the Canadian Manufacturer and Industrial World, published at Toronto. It is devoted to the manufacturing interests of the Dominion, It is doing good service both as showing what is being done in that direction, and also in upholding and advocating the N. P., which makes manufacturing enterprises successful. A specially valuable feature of the paper is its manufacturing notes, in which brief mention is made of every industrial enterprise being started, and of everything of interest concerning those in operation of which the publishers can obtain any information. The "Captains of Industry" series of articles is a feature never before attempted anywhere in any trade paper, and the success the publishers are meeting with in the matter is very gratifying. The series of articles not only perpetuates the portraits of our leading manufacturers, presented in really expensive and artistic style, but the biographical sketches are such as to instill good lessons regarding the rewards that follow intelligent and persistent endeavor. It is true that in the sense of giving the general news of the day the Manufacturer does not devote space to such matters, but very little that occurrs that should interest manufacturing people is missed. As an enterprise aiming to advance the interests to which it is devoted the Manufacturer is a great success, and is liberally patronized, both as an advertising medium of great value and as a record of industrial data carefully compiled.

It is extremely interesting to visit some of the leading manufacturing houses in Toronto. Perhaps the most interesting and surprising of them all are the extensive Ornamental Stained Glass and Decorative works of the McCausland & Son. It is from this establishment that the finest windows have come for the principal edifices, throughout our country.

The Wall Paper trade is booming at A. L. Davis & Co's., because they have the largest stock to choose from; borders to match all papers and at the lowest prices. 6d82

TEA!

A Chinese writer says: "To make good tea it is an old custom to use running water boiled over a lively fire. That from springs in the hills is the best, and river water next, while well water is the worst. Do not boil the water too hastily; at first it begins to sparkle like crab's eyes, then, somewhat like fishes' eggs, and lastly it boils up like pearls innumerable springing and waving about. This is the way to boil the water."

If you like a splendid cup of tea try one of the many brands in stock. The price varies with the quality. Splendid Teas at low prices. Better Teas a trifle higher. The best not dear and well worth the moderate price asked.

The Town Council on Tuesday evening appointed Mr. Charles McGill to the office of Town Treasurer, and Mr. Jas. G. Macdonald Town and Police Court Clerk. Mr. McGill is Manager of the Peterborough branch of the Bank of Ontario, a thorough financier and a gentleman who will make an excellent officer. Mr. Macdonald has been connected with the offices to which he has been appointed for the last twelve or thirteen years while the late C. D. Macdonald was Town Clerk, and during that time has attended almost altogether to the clerkship of the Police Court. In ability and experience he is well qualified for the offices.

THE PROTESTANT HOME

Annual Meeting of the Board of Directors—Election of Officers.

The annual meeting of the ladies of the Peterborough Protestant Home was held in the parlour of the Home on Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock. The ladies present were, Mrs. Vernon, President, in the chair, Mrs. T. G. Hazlitt, Mrs. J. W. R. Beck, Mrs. J. B. McWilliams, Mrs. W. J. Green, Mrs. J. G. Hall, Mrs. J. F. Dennistoun and Miss B. Roger. The Secretary's and Treasurer's reports were read and adopted, and will be published next week. The officers for the past year were re-elected to office and are as follows:—

PRESIDENT.—Mrs. Vernon.

1ST VICE-PRESIDENT.—Mrs. T. G. Hazlitt.

2ND VICE-PRESIDENT.—Mrs. C. A. Weller.

SECRETARY.—Mrs. J. G. Hall.

TREASURER.—Miss B. Roger.

The REVIEW reporter was shown over the Home, which is a large, snug, comfortable building, and is perfectly clean and well kept. The rooms are quite large, comfortably furnished, nicely warmed, and are bright and cheerful looking. During the past year an addition has been made to the north end of the building. It contains four rooms, fully as comfortable as the others. The outside of the building has also undergone some changes, two doors, window-sashes and other woodwork having experienced the painters' services. New fences have been put up and painted and a piece of ground which for some years has been a receptacle for rubbish, to the north of the Home, has been fenced in. This, by the efforts of Mr. R. Lund, a resident of the Home, has been laid out in walks and beds, and planted with strawberry plants and currant bushes. Altogether the Home has the appearance of a well kept residence, and the managers deserve great praise for the efforts they have put forth to make the Home a comfortable and pleasant place of abode for the helpless persons under their charge.

To Help in the Hard Work.

Mr. J. J. McBain has added a power plant to the equipment of his storehouse on Charlotte-st. near the G. T. R. station. A substantial 12 h.p. boiler has been built in, and a handsome and compactly built engine of 8 h.p. connected. Suitable shafting and pulleys take the power along the storehouse to where it is used in driving the elevators and machines used in cleaning grain before shipment. The arrangement is a convenient one and will enable the proprietor to carry on as completely as possible the large business in handling grain and produce. The boiler and engine are from the shops of Gowan & Co., of Galt, Ont., and by whom the plant was erected.

Put to New Uses.

In the old stone building at the corner of Aylmer and Brock-sts. where for so many years the hides of a large number of animals were tanned the youngsters and youths who are seeking physical development will have the opportunity to tan one another's hides. Sergt. Major Rundle has secured use of the building and is setting men to work to clean out the place—which needs cleaning—and fit it up as a gymnasium. The ground floor will be excavated and after being levelled will be coated with sawdust. Certain muscle-developing exercises will be perpetrated on this floor. On the floor above will be taught the classes in fencing, and other sanguinary things, all calculated to make a fellow spry on his pins and active with his biceps. A large room will be reserved as a drill room while a gallery will be fitted up in another where those so inclined can improve the shining hour by becoming proficient and where the genial Sergt.-Major proposes to teach the young idea how to shoot. To night those who are interested meet to form classes and it is expected that between fifty and sixty names will be enrolled.

The Annual Rifle Matches.

The competition for prizes in the Association and County matches took place at the rifle butts during yesterday and this morning. Thirty-seven entries were made for the Association match, the ranges were 200 and 500 yards, and seven rounds were fired at each range. The highest possible score to be made at this match was 100. CLERK AND TREASURER

APPOINTED BY THE TOWN COUNCIL TUESDAY EVENING.

Waterworks Extensions Proposed—Hydrants Wanted—A Question of a Sidewalk — Proposed Explorations for Natural Gas.

A meeting of the Town Council was held on Tuesday night.

PRESENT—His Worship Mayor Stevenson in the chair and Councillors Cahill, Davidson, Winch, Kelly, E. H. D. Hall, A. Hall, Moore, Langford, Kendry and Hartley.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

A PROPOSED SIDEWALK.

The MAYOR said he had received a letter from Mr. Hilliard's solicitor, objecting to the proposed sidewalk on Railway-st.

Mr. KENDRY explained that Mr. Hilliard wished to enter a protest lest by having a sidewalk laid the property should become a public highway. The Auburn Woollen Co. had a lease of the land from the railway company for ten years, and Mr. Hilliard said that when it was not used for railway purposes it reverted to him.

It was suggested that a resolution could be passed securing Mr. Hilliard's rights and the matter dropped.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From E. B. Edwards, Town Solicitor, saying that he had taken the necessary steps for the extradition of Greenfield, the supposed burglar. The evidence had been taken and sent to the Ontario Government. The Dominion Government had been asked to demand Greenfield's surrender, which had been made, and the Ontario Government had taken the matter up.—Received.

Also that $50 be given to the Peterborough Protestant Home for board of Rose Malone as agreed and placed in the estimates.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

R. S. DAVIDSON, Chairman.

Peterborough, October 9th, 1888.

The report was adopted.

FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT.

Councillor A. HALL read the following report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee:—

To the Mayor and Corporation:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Fire, Water and Light Committee beg leave to report and recommend that the petition of Geo. Stethem, P. Hamilton and others be granted (with the exception of the placing of hydrants), and recommend that there be a hydrant placed at the corner of Sherbrooke and Aylmer-sts. instead of that petitioned for.

Your Committee also recommend that the petition of A. P. Poussette, Geo. Walker and others be granted, asking for water mains.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ADAM HALL, Chairman.

Mr. G. W. HATTON was heard and said that the residents on Sherbrooke-st. were unable to procure well water and they wished the waterworks mains laid on that street. The company were willing to lay the mains if a hydrant was placed in the centre of the block. The Committee proposed placing a hydrant on the corner, but the block was three times as long as the ordinary block, and they therefore asked for a hydrant in the centre.

Mr. PETER HAMILTON was also heard and urged the necessity of having the water works to procure water. People would leave rented houses unless they got water. If the report as presented was adopted they would receive no assistance.

Councillor LANGFORD moved, seconded by Councillor WINCH,—That the report be amended to recommend the placing of the hydrant at the centre of the block on Sherbrook-st.—Carried.

The report as amended was adopted.

Mr. E. C. HILL was heard and said last spring a petition was sent in from the residents on the west end of Brock-st. for water and they could get no satisfaction as to what had been done with it. He urged the necessity for water service in that part of the town.

On motion of Mr. HARTLEY, seconded by Mr. KENDRY, the committee was directed to enquire into the matter and report.

CLERK AND TREASURER.

Councillor KENDRY read the following report of the Committee on Appointments:—

To the Mayor and Town Council:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Committee on Appointments and Supervision of Police beg leave to recommend the following appointments:—

That Mr. C. McGill be appointed Town Treasurer at a salary of $300 per annum, Mr. McGill to furnish bonds to the satisfaction of the Council.

That Mr. James G. Macdonald be appointed Town Clerk and Clerk of the Police Court at a salary of $800 per annum, Mr. Macdonald to give bonds for the sum of $2,000 satisfactory to the Council.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

JAMES KENDRY, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

A By-law was introduced by Councillor KENDRY to confirm the report of the Committee on Appointments and it was given its several readings.

AN ACCOUNT.

Councillor KENDRY moved, seconded by Councillor HARTLEY,—That the account of T. Dolan & Co. for police clothing be paid.

Councillor DAVIDSON said that a by-law provided that the police should procure their own clothing.

Left over as a notice of motion.

HYDRANT WANTED.

Councillor KELLY moved, seconded by Councillor E. H. D. Hall,—That the Peterborough Water Co. be requested to place a hydrant at the corner of Gilmour and Park-st.—Referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

A SIDEWALK.

Councillor MOORE, moved, seconded by Councillor KENDRY,—That the Street Inspector be instructed to place a sidewalk on what is called Railroad-st., between Water-st. and the old railway bridge near Hilliard's mill, but having reference to the communication of Mr. Hilliard, it is provided that the laying of the sidewalk shall not in any way prejudice the rights of Mr. Hilliard in the land nor give the town any rights thereto.—Carried.

NATURAL GAS.

Councillor CAHILL moved, seconded by Councillor DAVIDSON,—That this Council appropriate a sum of money not exceeding $2,000 for the purpose of exploring for natural gas in the town or within such distance of the said town as may be approved of by the Finance Committe, which committee shall have control of the expenditure of the above money, such committee, however, to make all reasonable enquiry as to the prospects of obtaining gas before causing the expenditure of any of said money and that the said committee report to the Council before causing such expenditure.

After a brief discussion the motion was allowed to lay over as a notice, and the Council adjourned for three weeks.

CARLESS CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—When the street-car strike began it was stated on behalf of the strikers that no violence would be permitted and that no obstruction other than that of moral suasion upon those who should take the strikers' place would be used to prevent the companies from running cars. So far as the strikers themselves are concerned this promise seems to have been carried out, but the bitterness of feeling towards the management of the lines appears to increase as the time passes and the contagion gives evidence of spreading to the outside elements in the population, which are not under the strikers' control. It is from this element especially that the police look for trouble. Monday the crowds which congregated along the lines, where the cars were being run along the north side, contented themselves by hooting, etc. This was renewed with increased violence yesterday morning, and in the afternoon it developed into the placing of obstructions on the track and collisions with the police. At Garfield-avenue and Larrabee street a number of boys laid a large plank across the track and fastened it securely by iron spikes. The strikers themselves took no part in the work but did not interfere with the lads. When the Garfield-avenue cars came from their down trip they were stopped by the obstacles. Strikers immediately surrounded the vehicles and commenced their appeals. Under these influences three of the drivers left the cars and went over to the strikers. The seceders were born on the shoulders of the crowd to a saloon where their pockets were filled with cigars.

The success of this action led others to follow the boys' example and a riot resulted. The streets were jammed with a howling mob and the tracks were covered with obstructions. Some employes of the road and officers removed the debris, but as fast as it was taken away it was replaced. The mob became so great that the sergeant in command of the men ordered a charge. The officers responded with a will and made a rush, using their clubs freely. Men, boys and women were hit. A woman named Wide, who was particularly demonstrative against the new men, was badly hurt by a severe blow. Three men who were caught spiking the rails at Halsted-street were arrested.

Altogether about fifteen cars were run at irregular intervals on the North Side during the day. Everywhere the new drivers and conductors were greeted with hisses from the crowd who filled the streets. Very few people rode in the cars.

A disturbance marked the ending of the trip of the West Side cars this evening. A dense mob obstructed the police laden cars on the down trip. After passing Halsted-street nothing serious happened until the cars were approaching the western terminus on the return. Then the crowd surged around the conveyances in such a compact mass that it was impossible for the horses to move. A platoon of police with clubs forced a way for the leading car but the one following was brought to a stop. A wooden wedge had been suddenly inserted in the Western-avenue switch by some person in the mob. Superintendent Nagel was the driver of the disabled car. He seemed to be the object of special dislike from the strikers and their sympathizers. In a moment after the car stopped the vicinity was a pandemonium, stones and sticks were hurled at the car and the air rang with yells and curses and a flying brick caught the Superintendent in the stomach. Uttering an oath he pulled a revolver from his overcoat pocket and turned menacingly toward the crowd. Conductor Harris, who had been discharged by the Company for cause long before the strike but reemployed in the emergency, quickly followed the example of the Superintendent. They were promptly disarmed by the police. Nagel left the car and when off his guard a moment received a stunning blow on the jaw from a heavy built man. A general scrimmage ensued in which Nagel and his brawny assailant were roughly handled. The latter, a Chicago and Northwestern switchman named Gleason, had to be mercilessly clubbed and then sat upon by the patrol wagon by half a dozen policemen before he could be subdued. Others were scarcely less determined and but for the fact that all appeared to be unarmed they would have scarcely finished without the sacrifice of a number of lives.

One of the cars on the north side came near going into the river with its load of passengers, most of whom were women. There is a steep grade leading to the State-street bridge and just as the car started down this incline the bridge began to turn to let a vessel through. The driver became panic stricken and forgot how to use the brake and the car moved with accelerating speed toward the open draw. The women screamed and fainted and some of them fell off the car. The bridge tender, at the risk of having the structure run into by the approaching vessel, closed the draw as quickly as possible but only in time to catch the descending car which was on the brink.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether arising from teething or other causes 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

A Brute's Light Sentence.

WHITBY, Oct. 10.—John Conners, found guilty of assaulting a young girl on the street at night, was yesterday sentenced by Police Magistrate Harper to two months in the Central Prison with hard labor.

The Mining Commission.

MADOC, Oct. 10.—The mining commission are continuing their labors. They examined a mica deposit in Hungerford, about 16 miles from here and found it consisted of 27 acres, the width of the location being 16 chains. Five openings, varying in depth from 8 to 15 feet, have been made and a considerable quantity of mica has been taken away and disposed of at good prices. The Richardson gold mine was also visited and the Cochill iron mine. The Richardson mine is near Dolora Station about 8 miles from here. The first discovery of gold in Canada was made on the farm of a man called Richardson 20 years ago, and to it flocked miners from all over the continent. The first specimen taken out was rich and the vein matter at the mouth of the shaft looks as though it would pay well to crush. Crushing works are standing and were working within the past month.

Facts Concerning Inherited Diseases.

In the realm of disease, the facts of inheritance are most numerous, and are daily accumulating. Here they are so longer, alas, curious and amusing, but terrible, fateful, overwhelming. No fact of nature is more pregnant with awful meaning than the fact of the inheritance of disease. It meets the physician on his daily rounds, paralyzing his art, and filling him with sadness. The legend of the ancient Greeks pictured the malignant Furies pursuing families from generation to generation, and rendering them desolate. The Furies still ply their work of terror and death; but we have stripped them of the garb which superstition threw around them, and they now appear to our eyes in the more intelligible but not less awful form of hereditary disease. Modern science, which has cast illumination into so many dark corners of nature, has shed a new and still more lurid light on the words of the Hebrew Scripture: "The sins of the fathers shall be visited upon the children unto the third and fourth generation."

Instances of hereditary disease abound on every hand. Fully 50 per cent. of cases of gout are inherited. The proportion is not much less in that fell destroyer of families, our national scourge, consumption. Cancer and scrofula run strongly in families. Insanity is hereditary to a marked degree, but, fortunately, like many other hereditary diseases, tends to wear itself out, the stock be coming extinct. Nearly all defects of sight are occasionally inherited. Sir Henry Holland says truly that "no organ or texture of the body is exempt from the chance of being the subject of hereditary disease." Probably most chronic diseases which permanently modify the structure and functions of the body are more or less liable to be inherited.—Popular Science Monthly

A handsome scarf pin represents a jockey's cap having a diamond studded peak. A large Cape ruby serves as the body, and the colored gores are reproduced by alternate smooth and rough polished facets on the stone.

A pretty and seasonable novelty in parasol handles recently seen has a hinged cover at the head, which opens with a spring, revealing a fan ready for use. It is made in both plain and frosted patterns of handsome repousse designs.

Yarns and Hosiery
—AT—TURNBULL'S

YARNS.

There is nothing more essential to the health of the body in this changeable climate of ours than keeping the feet comfortably clad, so, in order to supply the large demand for good Woolen Yarn and Hosiery, we have paid particular attention to this department. Our Baldwin and Wheeling Yarns are imported direct from Scotland. Baldwin's Yarns are so well known we need not say anything about them, and Scotland is noted the world over for wools; so that we can show you all the best makes in any color at the very lowest prices. The Wheeling Yarn is a heavy make intended for children's and boys' wear, very much like our Canadian yarn only much softer and warmer, and it comes at a low price.

HOSIERY.

You should see our Heather Wool Sox for men, knitted by the grandmas of Scotland. They may seem a little high in price, but they are really very cheap as they wear so long. We have Black Cashmere Hose in plain and ribbed in two or three different makes, from the smallest baby's size to the largest ladies, at prices that are right, as we are confident they are not sold cheaper in either city or town in the regular way. We have also a special make of Canadian Hose closely and softly knitted, without a seam. You should ask to be shown these goods when at the Hosiery counter. You will be pleased with them. We need only to speak in a whisper about a bargain we have secured, knowing that it will spread like fire when mentioned. One of our largest hosiery knitting mills, that supplies the wholesale trade only (as they have to sell in large quantities to find market for all they make), after filling all their orders, had a surplus left, which they were anxious to dispose of in order to make room to commence the cotton goods for spring. Our stock not being heavy, we were able to do with them and can now offer you an all wool perfect knitted hose, ladies' size, for 12½ cents a pair. Remember that all through the season we keep our stock well assorted, and no matter what in ducements may be offered we never allow our selves to be undersold.

ANDY REID'S CONFESSION.

HE SHOT MR. GRAYDON AT STREETSVILLE.

Also Took Part in Numerous Other Crimes—Arrested and Identified, He Makes a Clean Breast of It.

LONDON, Ont. Oct. 11.—Henry Reid, the sneak thief and robber who was arrested in this city on Monday afternoon by Detectives Phair and Ryder on suspicion, was brought before the police magistrate for trial yesterday morning, and according to his own statement and the evidence adduced he is one of the worst criminals in the province. When he was brought to the police station Messrs. Young & Kester, general merchants, of Thamesford, whose store he was believed to have robbed last spring, were communicated with and he was subsequently identified by Mr. Kester as the burglar. When he heard this he asked for permission to speak to Chief Williams. The request was granted, and he told a story substantially as follows:

He had been connected with over twenty robberies committed in the province during the year, and since he had been identified as the perpetrator of one of them he wanted to make a full confession and have the whole matter cleared up. He thought he might as well be "doing" time as living the life he was. He said he would begin at the Streetsville (County Peel) job, where Mr. Craydon was seriously shot by burglars in the summer. He and a "pal" struck the town on the 22nd of June last, coming in by different routes, so as not to awaken suspicion, and he soon spotted a likely house on the outskirts of the town. He told his companion of it, but the latter was incredulous and wanted to see it himself. He examined the place critically, and, as the sequel proved, awakened the suspicions of the inmates. Between 1 and 3 o'clock that morning they concluded to do the job, and entering the premises by the front gate, went around to the back of the house. They had been expected, and immediately two men and a dog jumped out of the door. Being detected, they turned and fled, the companion clearing the fence readily, but Reid's clothing caught on the fence and held him securely. The pursuers made for him, the elder of the two men leading. He fired three shots to keep him off but the man bent down his head and clinched him. The younger man then commenced to approach, and Reid fired at him and he didn't come any nearer. He finally loosened himself and commenced to scuffle with the old man, and after losing his revolver made good his escape. Reid also gave the details of a series of robberies committed by himself during the spring and summer.

WHALEN'S DEADLY AIM.

A Westport Man Kills the Destroyer of His Home.

KINGSTON, Oct. 11.—A report which has reached here from Westport states that the residents of that place are in a state of excitement over the death of a young man who is well known to those who live in Fermoy and Westport. The story is that the young man was in the habit of visiting the house of one Whalen for the purpose of seeing the latter's wife. Whalen determined to have revenge and lay in wait for the person who was destroying his happiness. On Sunday night he hid himself behind the fence near his property with a gun in his possession, and as the young man passed by on his way to Whalen's home the latter fired and shot his victim in the back. The young man ran and not thinking he was fatally wounded did not visit a doctor. He destroyed that portion of his clothing which was blood-stained and the matter remained a secret. Monday night he was taken sick at the stomach but he still remained silent as to his injuries. Yesterday morning he became worse and then he told the foregoing particulars. A doctor was summoned, but it was too late. Inflammation had set in, and in less than an hour he was dead.

A TEST CASE.

An Ontario Investment Association Stockholder Asking Relief in Chancery.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 11.—In the Chancery Court yesterday, before Justice Ferguson, the case of Nelles v. Ontario Investment Association was opened. This is a test case in which the plaintiff seeks to have the amalgamation of the Superior Loan and Savings Society with the Ontario Investment Association declared ultra vires and void because of fraudulent misrepresentation and concealment. An accounting is asked in respect of the securities transferred and plaintiff who held stock of the Superior Loan and Savings Society in lieu of which stock of the Ontario Investment was issued to him on the payment of a further assessment, seeks to be released from responsibility as a shareholder in that ill-fated institution.

A WOFUL CALAMITY.

Many Excursionists Killed on the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 11.—The fifth division of the Father Matthew excursion train on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, returning from Hazelton, was wrecked above Pennahaven yesterday morning, and the cars piled in one shapeless mass, one being stood upon its end. All the cars were crowded, and the fatalities will run into woful figures. All the physicians from Whitehaven and near-by points are at the wreck, as are also all the Lehigh Valley officials from this city. The number killed is variously reported at from 25 to 80 persons.

The accident on the Lehigh Valley at Mud Run near Pennahaven is beyond all question the most awful disaster that ever happened in this portion of the state. Though no details can be learned, there is no doubt that the number of killed will reach nearly 80 and the injured nearly double that. The trains were excursion trains returning from the celebration at Hazelton, the annual parade of the Catholic temperance societies of the Scranton diocese. Thousands of people went down to Hazelton from the towns of Luzerne and Lackawanna Counteis, seven trains with the cars piled to the doors passed through Whitehaven this morning taking the old route by Pennahaven. On the return the first train passed Hazelton about 5 p.m., the others following as rapidly as deemed safe. The first three sections came through without accident, the disaster happening to the fourth and fifth sections.

For some reason not explained the fourth section was standing on the track near the little station of Mud Run, five miles below Whitehaven, when the fifth section dashed around a curve close behind and crashed into it. The cars were smashed and broken and hurled off the track. The road lies close beside the Lehigh river, a steep embankment 60 feet high running down to the water. Several of the cars rolled down this and others were crushed against the cutting on the other side. No direct communication has been established with the scene of this disaster and the railroad officials here, if they know anything, absolutely refuse to give any information.

Reports about the accident are very conflicting. It is known, however, from despatches received at the depot that the accident is quite as bad as first reported and that at least 30 are killed. Most of the injured are said to be from Scranton and Lackawanna County.

Forger Bedell Indicted.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 — James C. Bedell, who swindled clients of his employers, Shipman, Barlow, Larocque & Choate, out of $368,000 by forged mortgages, was yesterday indicted for forgery. When the case of Emerson and Goss, the policy shopkeepers who had swallowed up something over $127,000 of Bedell's ill-gotten gains, came up for a hearing it was announced that the accused had already been indicted by the grand jury, making the examination nugatory. The charge was that of keeping a lottery establishment. The attorney for Emerson and Goss was furious at what he called the "jugglery of justice." He spoke about the putting off of the case until the rich firm in the case could effect a settlement. He said that he was prepared to show Bedell up in his true colors and to prove that he had been to the Delavan House at Albany with a woman not his wife. Justice Smith dismissed the defendants but they were immediately re-arrested on the strength of the indictment. They were held in $6000 bail each.

Charged With Forgery.

DETROIT, Oct. 11.—Detective Tuttle yesterday morning obtained a warrant against Robert Taylor, the alleged barrister of London, Ont., who was arrested on suspicion. He is charged with forging the name of Thomas Curry of this city on a check for $15 on the Merchants' Bank of Canada at Toronto.

More Libel Suits Promised—Charged with Forgery—Destructive Fires.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 10.—In an interview to-day, Premier Greenway asserted that he will attend to both The Call and The Free Press when his legal counsel can be got together. He appreciated the gravity of the charges and intended to vindicate himself.

C. M. Cole, who claims to be a cotton planter from Jackson, Miss., was arrested last night on a charge of forgery. He asked to have a draft on the Greenville (Miss.) Bank for $2000 placed to his credit at the Bank of British North America, but the manager telegraphed to Greenville and received a reply that the draft was a forgery.

Destructive fires are raging in Southwestern Manitoba, and a number of buildings, granaries, etc, were burned at Deloraine yesterday.

The Northern Pacific is considering the question of an elevator system along the line. The regular train service commences Monday.

TAKEN BY THE ENEMY.

The Naval and Military Manœuvres About Halifax—Macnab's Island Captured.

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 10.—The naval and military manœuvres to-day attracted more attention than anything of the kind in the recollection of the present generation. The object of the manœuvres was to find whether an enemy attacking from the sea would have any chance of capturing the city. The attacking war-ships were the Comus, Pylades, Canada and Ready, while the defence was composed of the West Riding Regiment, Royal Artillery, Royal Engineers and the local militia forces, comprising the 63rd Rifles, 66th Fusiliers and Garrison Artillery. The war-ship Wrangler assisted in the defence of the harbor.

The attacking ships opened fire at 10.30 on the southern end of McNabb's Island. This, however, was only a feint, as only a few guns were fired, when the ships crossed the mouth of the bay and engaged with the fort at York redoubt. Passing under the fort the ships got beyond the range of the York redoubt guns, laid to off Herring Cove and sent an armed force of 200 men ashore. These were met by a force of defenders, who fired on them from the neighboring hills, and after a short engagement the sailors and marines retired to their boats.

By a clever manœuvre the capture of the fort on the island was effected. This was a decided victory for the enemy, but the advantage to genuine invaders would be very brief as it would be almost impossible to make further advance, towards the city under the fire of half-a-dozen forts.

The attack was under the direction of Captain Jackson of the Comus, and Colonel Hill of the Royal Artillery directed the defence.

The Galt Poisoning Cases.

GALT, Oct 10.—The authorities here have suddenly changed from being communicative to extreme reticence. Coroner Varden assured a reporter last night that there was nothing likely to be discovered for a considerable period, and that nothing of importance had recently transpired in connection with the case. Nevertheless, he was at that time holding a conference—interrupted by the advent of a patient—with John Cherry and Chief Ahern. The conference was not an ordinary one, as it lasted nearly two hours, and after it was over it was noticeable that Cherry, in alluding to the clearing up of the mystery, spoke of it as a matter of days, thus differing materially from the coroner.

Evans Jack's Victims.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct, 11.—The official bulletin shows that for the 24 hours ending at 6 p.m. yesterday there were 33 new cases of yellow fever and 3 deaths.

FAIRLY DYED WITH BLOOD

AN IMPORTANT ARREST BY THE LONDON POLICE.

The Prisoner Thought to be Connected with the Terrible Whitechapel Murders—A Theory of the Mystery.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—An arrest, which the police think is an important one in connection with the series of murders in Whitechapel, has been made. On Wednesday a stranger called at a shop on Gray's Inn Road and left an overcoat and a pair of trousers to be cleaned. The clothes were plentifully spattered with blood stains, especially the pockets, which were almost literally dyed red.

The proprietor of the shop thought the incident suspicious, and he at once informed the police, and detectives were secreted in the premises. The suspect called for his clothing and was at once taken into custody. He refused to give any account of himself, or to explain the presence of blood stains on his clothing. He is held a prisoner and a searching investigation is being made.

The newspapers continue to publish column after column about the Whitechapel murders. There is no abatement of popular ideas and excitement, and everything points to a revival of the slumming craze of 1883, as the outgrowth of the recent tremendous influx of visitors to the east end districts. Already the public are asked to subscribe to a fund for the establishment of an immense laundry in which to provide work for Magdalenes, to establish lodging houses for street boys and girls and in other ways to minimize the appalling measure of vice in the lower quarters of the metropolis.

I am informed by a gentleman, who stands in close relation at Scotland Yard, that several of the leading detectives have thrown over the clues and ideas heretofore taken up and are working on an entirely new and most remarkable theory. This theory is that the horrible crimes which have so disturbed the city and interested the entire world are the result of a case in real life of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." Furthermore, the detectives believe that the existence of such a case is directly attributable to the excitement and morbid reflections caused by a mind dwelling upon the circumstances detailed in the story and play just named. Parallels are ingeniously drawn between the acts of the Whitechapel monster, who not only kills but mutilates his victims, and the frenzied brutality, with which the Mr. Hyde of the fiction stamps upon the girl whom he knocks down and injures in the deserted streets at midnight, as told in the first part of the book. Not only have the police been brought to the astounding position, through what they claim is direct evidence corroborative of such a theory, but they are industriously working with a particular individual in view, and they believe they are truly upon the right track. If it be so, London is promised for a not far distant future a sensation of such magnitude that the tragedies leading to it will sink almost into insignificance beside it.

My informant tells me that a well-known prosperous resident of Grosvenor-square is the man thus under police surveillance. He moves in the best society and is completely removed from derogatory suspicion among those who are his daily associates. This man, however, as I am assured, has been tracked and traced until it is absolutely established that he does lead a double life. This Dr. Jekyll lives for the eminently respectable world in which he moves. The other self, like Mr. Hyde, lives mysteriously, revoltingly. This latter self has been tracked to the Whitechapel district, and has been seen, in its form of a man skulking stealthily about dark corners and alleys, or stalking moodily through deserted side streets. This quality of life and conduct established, it remains, of course, to positively connect the subject with the deeds of which he is suspected, and this, at least, one leading detective has hopes of accomplishing.

Of course there are some who scoff at the sensational theory, and allege that at the worst the Grosvenor-square Dr. Jekyll visits Whitechapel in curiosity and perhaps with a desire to apprehend the murderer other than to commit a murder. But I send the information for what it is worth. The story is certainly interesting and striking, and not half so improbable as many of the absurd clues that the police have followed in these cases. Great secrecy is maintained by the police in the matter, and only very remote references to it have been published here.

BRITISH TRADE RETURNS.

Decrease of Exports to Canada—Canadian Stocks Irregular.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Board of Trade returns show that the exports from Britain to the Dominion decreased 3½ per cent. during September and 11 per cent. during nine months as compared with 1887. There was a general decrease in manufactures and increases in iron and horses. The imports from Canada decreased 14½ per cent. in the month and 14 per cent. in the nine months. The principal decrease was in wheat, which was £165,711 less. Butter and wood also decreased, but there were increases in sheep, flour, cheese and fish.

Canadian stock markets were irregular during the week. Two Quebec bonds recovered one; another declined one from the lower prices cabled. Grand Trunks maintain their rise, owing to the prospective results of Sir Henry Tyler's visit. Canadian Pacifics dull.

A Host of Witnesses.

DUBLIN, Oct. 11.—The Fireman's Journal states The London Times has subpœnaed Timothy Harrington to produce the minute, cash, banking, letter and check books and ledgers of the National League, the Ladies' National League and the Labor and Industrial Union from 1879 to 1888 for examination in the libel suit brought against The Times by Mr. Parnell. The Journal also states that The Times will subpœna Messrs. Parnell, McCarthy, Biggar, Campbell, Sexton, Nolan, Quinn, Cox, Kenny and J. P. O'Connor.

To Make a Roman Holiday.

ROME, Oct. 11.—The municipal authorities have decided to decorate the route by which the Emperor William will go to the Vatican. A vast arch is being erected in the Plazi de Termi on the model of the arch of Constantine. Stands capable of accommodating thousands of spectators are being erected. There is an enormous demand for seats in windows and balconies. The reception will be very imposing.

A Flourishing Industry.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The work of forming stations on the Skibbereen coast of Ireland for the cure of mackerel and their exportation to America is flourishing. The fishing boats are at present earning on an average of $350 a night.

Not the Baltic.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—It was the channel steamer Voltage plying between Belfast and Liverpool which sank in the Liverpool dock and not the steamer Baltic as incorrectly reported.

Dr. Mackenzie's Book.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—German booksellers have ordered 75,000 copies of Dr. Mackenzie's history of the case of the late Emperor Frederick. The work will be ready for sale in England on Monday next.

THE EAST RIDING FAIR

A VERY SUCCESSFUL EXHIBITION AT NORWOOD.

A Large Number of Entries and Very Fine Exhibits—Fine Weather and a Large Attendance—Prize Winners.

The East Peterborough Agricultural Society held its annual exhibition at Norwood on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, and a very successful exhibition it was. On the second day the weather was all that could be desired—the sun shone bright and warm and there was no sign of rain. This aided in bringing out a large attendance and about 2,500 persons passed through the turnstiles—yes, turnstiles, for in the gates turnstiles were constructed that let one person in at a time, so that none could pass without showing a ticket or paying. For hours these turnstiles were continually moving around as the people streamed into the grounds, where there was a large number of animals and articles to look at, the enteries numbering 1,370.

THE INSIDE DEPARTMENTS.

All available space in the agricultural hall was occupied with the exhibits of various classes. There was a good show of grain, and the roots and vegetables were of superior excellence. Fine dairy and garden produce specimens were shown, and there was a good display of fruits. In the fine arts department there were quite a number of fine exhibits. Ladies' work was well represented by excellent samples, and there was a good display of domestic manufactures.

The exhibit of produce from along the line of the Canadian Pacific in Manitoba and the Northwest attracted a great deal of attention. Grain in the straw was arranged in a highly decorative style, and samples were shown in cases and bottles. The exhibit included views of farms in the west, and coal from the mines in that part of the Dominion.

Mr. J. W. Crosby, of Peterborough, was present with an Uxbridge Church Organ and a Thomas Cabinet Organ.

Excellent specimens of turned work were shown by Messrs. W. Harrison and J. S. Patterson. There was also an exhibit of stoves.

OUTSIDE DEPARTMENTS.

The horse ring was a great centre of attraction during the day, and the show of horses was an excellent one. The number of animals exhibited was large and included many fine ones. There were some very fine cattle shown in Durhams, Holsteins, Ayshires and grades. The exhibit of sheep was large and good, and there were fine pigs, although the number was not large. There was a very good exhibit of poultry and keen competition in some of the sections.

Messrs. John Finlay & Son, of Norwood, had a good display of hubs and bent cutter stuff, in which there was excellent timber.

Mr. James Payton, of Peterborough, showed four pumps of his manufacture, a force, a lift with solid top, a cistern and a cone.

Mr. W. C. Harrison, Norwood, also had a good display of pumps—including a force pump, cistern, lift, cone and common pumps.

Messrs. Plant & McVittie, of the Norwood foundry, had a large display of agricultural implements. They showed nine ploughs, a riding plough, a mower (the New Norwood, the first mower ever built in the village), a roller, straw cutter, four harrows, a scuffler, gang plough, and samples of fine iron cresting. It was a very creditable display.

Mr. P. W. Stevenson, Norwood, showed a Wisner seeder and spring tooth cultivator, Brantford binder and fanning mill, and Wilkinson ploughs.

Mr. Peter Hamilton had a good display of implements from his works in Peterborough. His exhibit included the Daisy seeder, the Hamilton riding plough, the light steel binder, four ploughs, a hand feed cutter and a power feed cutter.

Mr. Wm Forsyth, Peterborough, displayed specimens of fanning mills of his manufacture—the L. X. L. and the Champion bagger.

Mr. Henry Owens, Peterborough, had on view samples of the model pump made at his factory.

Mr. G. C. McDonald, Peterborough, showed a Frost & Wood binder, Chatham fanning mill, a pulverizing harrow, four ploughs, a power grindstone and a set of creamery cans.

Mr. T. Hendren, of Norwood, had a top buggy on view. Mr. M. McConnell showed the model of a hay unloader. Mr. H. Williams, Campbellford, explained the Mirfield improved washer. Mr. A. C. Huyck, Hastings, showed a Cochrane Bros. reversible carrigr and triple tined fork.

TELL THAT TO THE MARINES!

NO USE DRAGGING A HERRING ACROSS THE TRAIL!

THE PUBLIC WON'T BE DECEIVED BY THE HIGH-PRICE CLOTHING CORMORANTS!

We are carrying the war into Africa. Our Solid Brigades of Overcoats, Regiments of Suits and Battalions of Pants with Companies of Vests and Underclothing, which we have deployed on the field so skillfully during the month, have terrorized the enemy, routed him at all points and carried the fortifications on the run. Our Guns, double-shotted with Low Prices have thrown cannister and grape into their ranks and scattered their forces which only existed on paper.

Our Victory is complete. An agonized wail sent up is a token of Surrender to the inevitable fortunes of war. WYATT & TURNER have carried the day and our enterprise has forever broken the yoke of High Prices that has held the County.

We hurl back defiance at the Clothing Sharks who would grasp at the right of an Honest and Pushing Firm to live and do Trade. The man who wants to buy Clothing don't care a continental whether it is bought wholesale in Montreal, Toronto, Omemee or Pontypool. What the purchaser wants is value. It don't interest him whether the Goods are sold from a plate glass palace or from a clapboard shanty with 7x9 windows. What he wants is Value and Low Prices. It does'nt concern the buyer to know whether the Goods were brought in by rail, steamboat, waggon, oxcart or on foot. What he wants is Value, Low Prices and Square Dealing. He does'nt care whether its rain or shine, hot or cold, late or early as long as he gets the Best Value, the Best Goods, the Best Treatment, the Best Satisfaction and he gets all these at WYATT & TURNER'S.

Our Stock is our own, bought with honest money and we sell for as low a profit as we can do trade and live. Our competitors may howl and squirm, twist and wriggle but they may as well submit to the inevitable that WYATT & TURNER are doing, and will keep doing, the Clothing Trade of the County.

See our Stock before buying. Look at some of our Prices which will be found to be Lower than the Lowest.

TEA!

A Chinese writer says: "To make good tea it is an old custom to use running water boiled over a lively fire. That from springs in the hills is the best, and river water next, while well water is the worst. Do not boil the water too hastily; as, first it begins to sparkle like crab's eyes, then, somewhat like fishes' eggs, and lastly it boils up like pearls innumerable springing and waving about. This is the way to boil the water."

If you like a splendid cup of tea try one of the many brands in stock. The price varies with the quality. Splendid Teas at low prices. Better Teas a trifle higher. The best not dear and well worth the moderate price asked.

A Rural Robbery.

On Saturday night last the house of Mr. Jas. Robertson, near Villiers P. THE AUTUMN ASSIZES

THREE CRIMINAL CASES AND FOUR CIVIL ONES FOR TRIAL.

The Grand Jury—Mr. Justice Street's Address—Explanations as to What Constitutes Murder—Cases Heard.

The fall assizes were opened at 9 o'clock this morning, Mr. Justice Street presiding. There were three criminal cases on the docket, one for murder (that of Farley charged with shooting the Indian with Howe's circus) and two for larceny, and four civil cases.

The bar was represented by Mr. Hector Cameron, Q. C.; W. Lount, Q.C.; Wallace Nesbitt, Toronto; Mr. W. Riddell, Cobourg; Mr. W. H. Biggar, Belleville; Mr. Gunn, Orillia, and local members of the profession.

MCNEIL VS. MCCAMUS—This was the first case called. It involved the validity of a will made by Charles McNeil, an old man, who died in Ashburnham last May, aged 84 years. He formerly lived in Cavan, but retired from his farm and lived with Mr. Earl in Otonabee until the summer of 1886. He then came to Peterborough to live with Miss Isabella McNeil, the plaintiff, who afterwards moved to Ashburnham. In 1882 he made a will leaving his property, valued at from $4,000 to $5,000, to his nephews and neices and appointing Thomas McCamus, of Cavan, a nephew and the defendant in the case, his ex-cutor. In December, 1886, he sent for Mr. John Burnham and made another will leaving all his property to Miss McNeil. Application was made to prove the will, and Mr. McCamus set up the former will and claimed that the last will was void on account of undue influence and because the deceased was not at the time competent to make a will. Judgment was given sustaining the second will, in favor of Miss McNeil. The question of costs was reserved.—Messrs. H. Cameron, Q. C., and John Burnham for plaintiff; Mr. W. R. Riddell for the defendant.

BORLAND VS. CHRISTIE.—An action for trespass for breaches of covenants contained in a lease. Referred by consent to arbitration.—Messrs. O'Meara & Burnham for plaintiff; Messrs. Edmison & Dixon for defendant.

THE GRAND JURY.

The Grand Jury was then sworn in. It was composed as follows:—

James Gelborne, Foreman,
J J Bennett — James Best
Thos E Bell — P Costello
M English — John Flood
Wm Garbutt — W M Graham
John Grady — W H Hall
Robert Hall — R Harrison
Wm Harrison — M Knox
D Kennedy — Thomas Kelly
J Middleton — O H Sheffield
Wm Stabler.

HIS LORDSHIP, addressing the Grand Jury, said that the list of cases coming before them was not a large one in numbers, but unfortunately it included one of the most serious character known to the law. In regard to the crime of murder, it was defined as being a case wherein a person of sound mind and descretion unlawfully killed any reasonable being, with malice aforthought, either expressed or implied. The presence or absence of malice decided whether a crime was murder or manslaughter. If a person did an improper and unlawful act and the result of it was that someone was killed, it would be murder. If a man was attacked, and in the heat of passion picked up a weapon and struck a blow that caused death, the crime would be manslaughter, but if he had a deadly weapon in his possession with the intention of using it, or if he went away and returned and committed an act that caused death, he would be guilty of murder. It was their duty to enquire in this case whether he was killed by the person in custody and whether under the circumstances he should be put on trial for murder. His Lordship then gave the jury instruction regarding the crime of larceny and what constituted that crime, and as to their duties respecting the inspection of the gaol.

The Grand Jury then retired and took up the case of Farley, charged with murder.

FARLEY PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

This afternoon the Grand Jury brought in a true bill against James F. Farley on the count of murder for killing Simon Elijah, the Indian.

Farley was brought into Court and pleaded "Not guilty" to the indictment.

Mr. O'Meara, for the prisoner, applied for an adjournment to give time for witnesses to come.

The case was postponed till to-morrow

CIVIL CASES.

POTVIN VS. MIDLAND RAILWAY.—An action to compel the railway company to arbitrate as to damage done to property owned by L. Potvin, the plaintiff, by running a railway line (the locks line) near it. Settled out of court.—Mr. W. H. Moore for plaintiff; Messrs. Bell & Biggar for defendants.

COONS VS. SCOLLARD.—An action for trespass. Adjourned till next court. Messrs. Lennox, Barrie, and Gunn, Orillia, for plaintiff; Messrs. H. Cameron, Q.C., and W. H. Moore for defendant.

The court adjourned till 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

He Rather Likes Doing it.

Fifteen years ago when a citizen bought a pan of apples or a peck of onions or a small but select assortment of groceries the citizen carried the stuff home himself. He never dreamed of having a spanking team draw up to the house door and unload a trifle of tea and groceries. All this is changed and now the obliging storekeeper sends home anything no matter how small. Then there is the other feature that a business man will not carry home a basket or parcel but he has no objections lugging home a 15lb. turkey. Possibly it is because the turkey is a sort of advertisement and a voucher that he sets a good table. Just in this way the citizen from the town or county rather prides himself on carrying home some of the bargains in boots and shoes which he picks up at gough bros. The wonderful cheap men, have the best and cheapest stock of boots and shoes in Canada, and they give the biggest bargains. A $7,000 stock bought at 40 cents of the dollar and sold at less than half wholesale cost. Here's where bargains are going. Here's where every buyer gets not only the worth of his money but twice the worth of his money. Remember there is no natural gas about this announcement, it is a solid chunk of bonanza in the way of bargains.

THE ANNUAL RIFLE MATCHES.

The Last day at the Butts—Better Shooting than any Previous Year.

The last of the annual rifle matches came to an end yesterday afternoon, and the highest satisfaction was expressed at the way in which the matches were conducted throughout. Although the range had not been in a condition for the Association to practice at for some time on account of the building of a line of railway to Chemong Lake, the shooting was better than in any previous year. A medal valued at $7, given by F. Birdsall, Esq., for the highest score at 400 yards in the Volunteer match, was awarded to Private D. Cameron who made the highest score in this match, his score being 65 out of a possible 70. This is the second time Private Cameron has won this medal and it now becomes his propery. Corporal A. Blade as the one making the highest score in the Aggregate match, his score being 108 out of a possible 140, carried off the Dominion Rifle Association Medal. In the Company match No. 4 Company team won the challenge cup, valued at $10, and presented by Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers. This cup becomes the property of the company on winning it three years. The following are the scores and prizes of the several matches:—

An Eminent Success.

The excellent opera company which appears in the Opera House on Monday evening under the auspices of the Peterborough Athletic Association is highly spoken of. The Toronto Empire says:—The large and select audience at the Grand Opera house last night were most enthusiastic. They had reason to be, for Mr. J. C. Duff's company is a strong one. More than that, the opera was most completely put on the stage. The costumes were bright, rich and appropriate, while the scenery was splendid, and no detail which could add to the perfection of the whole was lacking. Laura Bellini is the Titania. Fanfani, and thee is a graceful actress and a charming woman, and is possessed of a most beautiful voice. Mr. Hubert Wilkes is the Antarsid, Prince of the Mironites, lover of Titania, and both sang and acted with exquisit taste. The gem of the opera was undoubtedly 'The Flower Song,' between the Prince and Titania. A double encore was their reward for the rendering in a most admirable manner a most dainty number. Mr. Harry Brown was an excellent Pasha, giving the part quietly but with a sufficient sense of the humor required. His topical song, 'It's only a matter of taste,' was one of the best we've heard, and brought down the house, four or five encores being vociferously demanded. Miss Agnes Stone, as Tessa, received a warm welcome, and proved to be in capital voice. Her singing the pretty aria, 'Speak with Mamma First, I Pray,' was one of the best things in the opera. Miss Leighton as Mother Bucsametta also acquitted herself admirably. Mr. Gaillard as Miradilla was good, but his voice is hardly strong enough for the part and his actions scarcely sufficiently jaunty and gay. The choruses really left little or nothing to be desired, and gave evidence of great pains in drilling and training. In fact, the ensemble was capital, and 'A Trip to Africa' must be recorded altogether as eminently a success."

It is extremely interesting to visit some of the leading manufacturing houses in Toronto. Perhaps the most interesting and surprising of them all are the extensive Ornamental Stained Glass and Decorative works of the McCausland & Son. It is from this establishment that the finest windows have come for the principal edifices throughout our country.

RIOTING IN CHICAGO.

STRIKERS ATTACK A STREET-CAR FILLED WITH POLICEMEN.

Revolvers, Bricks and Stones Employed but no one Killed—Bonfires Built on the Tracks.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—The first trouble of the day on the West Side occurred yesterday afternoon when a man named Gabbins, who drove one of the cars Tuesday, drove out of the Western-avenue barn in a buggy. He was at once surrounded by a crowd of strikers who caught his horse by the bridle and stopped him with threats of dragging him from the buggy. Gubbins drew a revolver and fired a shot which caused his assailants to loosen their hold and permit him to proceed. He had gone only a short distance when his buggy was again surrounded and he fired two shots scaring away his enemies. They again rallied and for the third time the occupant of the buggy was forced to use his revolver. This ended the fracas and fortunately without bloodshed.

The first attempt to run a car on the West Side was made yesterday afternoon and resulted in a serious riot. It was between 3 and 4 o'clock when a single car was pulled out of the Western-avenue barns, guarded by a half a dozen policemen, headed by Captain Aldrich of the West Side. The crowd stood twenty deep on both sides of the car and the police were arranged on the inside of these walls of frantic men. A stone as big as a fruit can crashed through the window before the car had proceeded twenty feet. Everybody dropped on the floor while a shower of stones pelted the sides of the car. The driver held the reins bravely, though his face was white as a sheet. At the second shower of stones a brick struck him on the temple and he fell behind the dashboard. He immediately arose and once more took the lines. The car was stopped for the third time at Warren-avenue. Captain Aldrich was hit and his scalp cut open. Thus far the police had used only their clubs. The car advanced to the intersection of Madison-street, and there the police caught one striker in the act of throwing a stone. The man was arrested, but in less than a minute a hundred strikers had piled on the policeman and rescued the prisoner. The car now turned the corner and started down Madison-street. The infuriated mob followed, throwing stones. At Leavitt-street a mob rushed out and boarded the car, attempting to drag the driver from his position. The police at once charged on the crowd. This time the maddened strikers held their own and threw stones at the blue coats. One man struck Lieut. Shea, and the officer followed his man through the crowd. He pulled his revolver while running and took deliberate aim and fired, but his bullet missed, and the strikers scattered in every direction. From that time on no missiles were thrown, although a number of the mob followed on foot as far as Halstead-street. The car advanced, crossed to the South Side, and returned without further injury or attack.

Later in the afternoon the mob transferred their operations to Clark-street, the main thoroughfare of the North division, along which most of the cars run. Between Indiana and Illinois streets the mob utilized the heavy stones and the bricks lying in front of a building now in course of construction and piled them upon the track. As the evening came on and the people were going home from their work the crowd at that point increased until the streets were filled with a cheering, cursing, howling mob. They built bonfires on the tracks and danced about them. Fortunately no cars came that way at the time. Only one policeman was visible and he was unable to do anything with the crowd. While he was engaged in putting out one bonfire the mob would build another.

A Kansas Woman's Plight.

ATCHISON, Ks., Oct. 11.—Some excitement has been created in Atchison by the discovery that George W. Ocker, eight years ago an attorney at the Atchison bar and who has been thought to be dead since that time, is alive and well in Colorado, enjoying a lucrative law practice under his right name. In the fall of 1880 Ocker disappeared and his young wife was nearly crazed. Being penniless she could not institute a vigorous search for him. In January, 1881, the mangled remains of a man were found near the village of Monrovia, on the central branch of the Union Pacific Railway, and identified as those of Ocker. In time the supposed widow was wooed and won by a well-to-do farmer of Nemaha County, whom she married and has borne several children.

Not Poisoned in the Harem.

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—According to a local paper there is no truth whatever in the sensational stories recently printed about the alleged poisoning of Laura Schermer Byron, a singer, in the harem of the Sultan of Turkey, of which it was stated she had become a member. A reporter saw Laura's mother to-day. She has been in frequent communication with her daughter and as recently as two weeks ago when Mrs. Schermer received the acknowledgment of a draft sent Laura through Banker Smithe of the Imperial Ottoman Bank at Constantinople. The same banker had previously sent a cablegram in reply to a despatch occasioned by the reports of her death, stating that she was alive and well.

A Kingston Schooner Aground.

FOREST, Oct. 11.—The schooner Southampton, owned by Captain Fraser, of Kingston, broke away from the tow on Monday morning about 20 miles above Sand Beach, and drifted about waterlogged until 2 o'clock yesterday morning, when she ran aground off Kettle Point. The crew reached the shore in safety.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether rising from teething or other causes 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

A FOOTPAD'S HAUL.

MONTREAL, Oct. 11.—Joel Leduc, one of the shareholders of the Hochelaga Bank, has taken an action against F. X. St. Charles, president of the bank, holding him personally responsible for the loss of the money taken out of the safe by ex-Cashier Parent, now a convict in the penitentiary, on the alleged ground that the robbery was caused by St. Charles' own negligence.

Mrs. Jane Evans, a lady from Kingston, Ont., 65 years of age, who was run over on Victoria square by a carter in August, succumbed to her injuries at the General Hospital yesterday.

On Fulford-street Tuesday night a well-to-do young merchant was walking along at about 11 o'clock when he was stopped by a burly ruffian who pointed his revolver at his breast demanding money. The merchant pretending to pull out his pocketbook knocked the revolver out of his assailant's hand and grappled with him. The robber being the stronger man knocked him down and got away with over $100.

His Honor Lieut.-Governor Angers was presented with addresses by the City Council, St. Jean Baptiste Society, St. Patrick's Society and the French Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon, on the occasion of his first visit here.

THE POOR CELESTIALS

NIAGARA FALLS, Oct. 11.—The four Chinamen here are still making the G. T. R. waiting room their headquarters. The United States authorities still refuse to allow them to enter "the land of the brave and the free." They are beginning to realize their position. The railway authorities have taken the matter up with the authorities at Washington, pointing out how innocently the Celestials were led into the trap that the Exclusion Act of October 1 has placed them in, not knowing they were out of the United States, and no doubt the United States Government will make their case an exception and allow them to return to their homes. "Hoo Ylang," the Buffalo Chinaman, knowing the "ropes," when he found he could not cross the frontier here, quietly boarded the Michigan Central train for Fort Erie and made a crossing there. The three Chinamen from the east bound for the west are returning to China and had their Grand Trunk tickets exchanged at Suspension Bridge, N.Y., for tickets by Buffalo and Lake Shore railroad for Chicago and took their departure for that place last evening.

THE C. P. R.'S APPLICATION

OTTAWA, Oct. 11.—The Minister of Railways received from Hon. R. W. Scott yesterday an application from the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for permission to expropriate an increased area of water frontage on the Esplanade south of the Grand Trunk Railway track in Toronto. He claimed that it was required for station grounds and yards. The Fuller estate are the owners of the estate in question under a lease from the city. This lease will expire in four years and the estate claim the right of renewal. This is disputed. While not desirous of opposing the Canadian Pacific Railway in their move to acquire the increased area still the city authorities ask that before allowing the petition the Minister of Railways should first satisfy himself that the property is being acquired for railway and not speculative purposes. Mr. Gormully asked for an adjournment of the case, to enable the Fuller estate to put in a statement showing that the railway company could secure land elsewhere just as suitable. The case was adjourned till Saturday.

The Minister of Customs yesterday gave his decision in the case of the three vessels belonging to the International Transportation Company of Detroit, recently seized at Algoma Mills. Each vessel is to pay a nominal fine for not reporting to the Custom House within the time prescribed by the statute. The Grace Amelia, which vessel still retains her Canadian register, is to pay a duty of 25 per cent. on the cost of the repairs made in the States, and with the other two vessels, the Ben Hur and Russell Dart, will clear as a Canadian vessel under their original names, with permission to take cargo to American ports.

Lieut.-Col. J. S. Rogers, of the 57th Battalion, and Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers, of the Peterboro' troop of cavalry, were in town yesterday to urge upon the Department of Militia the advisability of providing in the next estimates for the erection of an armory at Peterboro' for the use of the militia there.

Yarns and Hosiery

—AT—

TURNBULL'S

YARNS.

There is nothing more essential to the health of the body in this changeable climate of ours than keeping the feet comfortably clad, so, in order to supply the large demand for good Woolen Yarn and Hosiery, we have paid particular attention to this department. Our Baldwin and Wheeling Yarns are imported direct from Scotland. Baldwin's Yarns are so well known we need not say anything about them, and Scotland is noted the world over for wools; so that we can show you all the best makes in any color at the very lowest prices. The Wheeling Yarn is a heavy make intended for children's and boys' wear, very much like our Canadian yarn only much softer and warmer, and it comes at a low price.

HOSIERY.

You should see our Heather Wool Sox for men, knitted by the grandmas of Scotland. They may seem a little high in price, but they are really very cheap as they wear so long. We have Black Cashmere Hose in plain and ribbed in two or three different makes, from the smallest baby's size to the largest ladies; at prices that are right, as we are confident they are not sold cheaper in either city or town in the regular way. We have also a special make of Canadian Hose closely and softly knitted, without a seam. You should ask to be shown these goods when at the Hosiery counter. You will be pleased with them. We need only to speak in a whisper about a bargain we have secured, knowing that it will spread like fire when mentioned. One of our largest hosiery knitting mills, that supplies the wholesale trade only (as they have to sell in large quantities to find market for all they make), after filling all their orders, had a surplus left, which they were anxious to dispose of in order to make room to commence the cotton goods for spring. Our stock not being heavy, we were able to do with them and can now offer you an all wool perfect knitted hose, ladies' size, for 12½ cents a pair. Remember that all through the season we keep our stock well assorted, and no matter what in ducements may be offered we never allow ourselves to be undersold.

TO PASS ROUND THE HAT

THE THUNDERER TO BE ASSISTED IN ITS PARNELL FIGHT.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The Liverpool Courier editorially says, among many provincial papers noticing the same subject: "The New York Herald the other day mapped out Europe and a great part of the world afresh. This was done upon the strength of an alleged knowledge of the lifelong and dearest secret designs of Prince Bismarck—the utter annihilation of Great Britain. We are not superstitious enough to be alarmed when an American prophet, having been given a sensational text, brings to bear upon it a powerful imagination. As the old woman said when the soldier declared he would shoot her, 'he is paid for it.'"

The Conservatives are seriously considering the question of raising a fund to assist The Times in its case before the Parnell Commission and in defeating the action brought against it by Mr. Parnell in the Scotch courts. The advocates of this plan base their cause upon the ground that it would be eminently unfair towards The Times to permit that paper to bear any further share of the enormous costs necessary to fight what is really a party battle, and this idea being impressed on the minds of the monied Tories, it is expected that the contribution offered will greatly exceed the sum required. It is suggested that at least £20,000 should be raised, and the action brought against The Times by Commoner Campbell of South Fernanagh, will very much stimulate subscriptions. The Tories regard Mr. Campbell's action as proof that the Parnellites are weakening, and expect that when that gentleman is called before the commission he will refuse to testify on the ground that what he might say would prejudice his individual case.

Rustem Pasha, Turkish Ambassador to London, held a protracted interview with Lord Salisbury yesterday and strongly protested against the growing impudence of Bulgaria and the agitation against Turkish authority in Macedonia, both of which he ascribed to the fact that Turkey was hampered in her legitimate action in her vassal states by the present attitude of the powers, and particularly of England. It is understood, also, that he attempted to reopen the Soudan question, but failed to induce the Premier to assent to its revival.

Shakespearean Week.

STRATFORD-ON-AVON, Oct. 12.—This is Shakespearean week. Next Sunday Shakespeare's statue is to be dedicated on Boulevard Haussman, Paris, the gift of an English gentleman, and yesterday was unveiled here the statue of Shakespeare, presented, designed and executed by Lord Ronald Gower, brother of the Duke of Sutherland. It has been several years in preparation, and is entirely Shakespearean in character, with a life-size figure of the poet on a pedestal surrounded by four of his greatest creations, namely, Hamlet, Lady Macbeth, Falstaff and Prince Hal. The statue is placed in the grounds surrounding the memorial buildings within a few yards of Shakespeare's residence.

There was an immense gathering, including many visitors from London and the large provincial cities and a perfect multitude from within a radius of 20 miles. The monument was gracefully unveiled amid cheers and music by Lady Hodgson, wife of the mayor of this city and daughter of the chief justice of New South Wales.

Lord Leigh, lord-lieutenant of the county, spoke for Shakespeare's birthday, and remarked: "Since the visit of Ignatius Donelly here our people have read more about Bacon and loved Shakespeare better than ever." Oscar Wilde recited an ode of four lines, which, referring to the bronze figures read thus:

Or Falstaff troll some roystering refrain,

Sir Morell's Book.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The British Medical Journal publishes the following details from Sir Morell Mackenzie's book on the case of the late Emperor Frederick: Dr. Mackenzie complains that he was refused access to important documents which were available to his assailants. He says he was not decided in regard to his patients' real condition, of which there was ample proof. On the whole, Dr. Mackenzie says, the operation of tracheotomy performed by D. Bergmann was well done, but the trachea was opened three millimeters to the right of the middle line. Dr. Mackenzie does not hesitate to say that the death blow was given to the Emperor on April 12, when a false passage made by Dr. Bergman's tube caused extensive suppuration around the trackea which steadily drained away the Emperor's remaining strength and shortened his life at least 10 months. Except when the false passage was made and Dr. Bergman thrust his finger into the wound the Emperor never suffered actual pain.

May be Lynched for His Cruelty.

BANGOR, Dak., Oct. 12.—A farmer living fourteen miles west of here married a Miss Battle some time ago. A few days since he ordered his young wife to go with him to the field and assist in stacking hay. Being sick and in a delicate condition she refused. This enraged the man, who nearly tore an ear from her head, beat her with an ox goad and kicked her so severely that she fainted before reaching the field, and has since been in a critical condition. The farmers threaten to lynch him.

COLONIES AND EMPIRE.

AN IMPORTANT SPEECH BY LORD ROSEBERY.

The Need of Another Cable—Two Thousand Persons Make Application to the French Government to Go to Canada.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Lord Rosebery's speech on the future relation of the colonies to the Empire is well received by the press. The Times says: "We always deprecated a cut and dried plan of federation. The object will more surely be attained by gradual approaches. The plan of colonial defence, postal union and the utilization of high commissioner agents would constitute a general sort of foundation upon which may be gradually built the fabric of Imperial unity."

The evening papers generally approve of he speech, except the Radical Star. The Pall Mall Gazette (Liberal) says: "If we wish to keep the Empire we must pay the price, namely, give the colonies a greater share in Imperial affairs and a larger voice when England speaks abroad." The Globe (Tory) says the Mother Country will not grudge large sacrifices to weld the Empire together, but requires proof beforehand that such sacrifices would produce the intended effect.

Another break has occured in the eastern cables, showing the absolute need of a second cable east via Vancouver. The chairman of the Eastern Telegraph Company denies that the Australian colonies are willing to promote a new Pacific cable. He said at a meeting yesterday that though Queensland was prepared to join in the formation of a Pacific line in order to secure reduced rates, the other colonies were unwilling to injure the Eastern Company.

In confirmation of the despatch regarding the proposal to send French poor to Canada, I am officially informed that 2000 persons have actually applied to the French Government to go to Canada.

The contract between the Imperial Government and the Pacific Railway is now practically settled, and is only awaiting signature.

Sir Charles Tupper visited the British Dairy Show with a view to reporting to the Canadian Government upon the produce exhibited.

Capt. Harston's magazine for the Martini has been recommended for adoption, and provision will be made in the estimates accordingly. Half a million are capable of conversion yearly, costing nine shillings each. The new small bore rifle is not being expected for ten years, and Capt. Harston's invention supplies a want.

IN SORE TROUBLE.

A Former Canadian in Jail Under Hard Conditions in Alabama.

OTTAWA, Oct. 12.—Sir Lionel Sackville West has forwarded certain correspondence to the Governor-General in respect to one J. D. Schneick, claiming to be a Canadian, who is now in jail at Eutaw, Alabama, under an indictment for practising surgery without a proper certificate. Schenick will be admitted to bail upon finding security for $100, but this he has been unable to do, and consequently seeks to obtain the assistance of the British authorities for the purpose of securing his release.

Schenick claims to be a veterinary surgeon from Toronto, and refers Sir Lionel to Messrs. P. Howland and George Keighley, of Toronto, for reference as to his status. He complains bitterly of his treatment in jail. He says he is confined with a lot of negroes in a space seven feet by fourteen; that although he has been in prison four weeks he has had nothing to eat but corn bread and pork, which is usually served to him through a hole in the door two and a half by four inches, as if he were a wild animal.

The Judge of Probate, who apparently has jurisdiction in the matter, has written to the British Ambassador, explaining the circumstances and states that the trial will take place next month and that he is willing to reduce the bail to $50, but that Schenick and his wife are so poor that they cannot even find that amount.

THE KAISER AT ROME.

ROME, Oct. 12.—Arriving at the Quirinal Emperor William was received by Count Giannotti, master of ceremonies, and conducted to the reception salon where the Queen was in waiting surrounded by the ladies of the court. After greeting the Queen Emperor William received the Ministers, the Knights of the Anunziata and the presidents of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies. He spoke a few words to each but he conversed at greater length with the Ministers of War and Marine.

The presentations over, the Emperor gave his arm to the Queen and proceeded to the central balcony followed by King Humbert and the others of the party. There was a crowd of 50,000 persons massed in front of the palace. The appearance of the party was the signal for an outburst of cheers and the waving of the German and Italian colors and countless flags. When the party retired from the balcony the cheering became so persistent that the Emperor twice showed himself to the people.

Throughout the journey to Rome Emperor William met with a cordial welcome. Crowds were gathered at all the stations and greeted the royal visitor with shouts of "Long live Germany and Italy." After long and difficult negotiations it was found impossible for Emperor William to visit the Vatican before receiving the Italian state dignitaries. It has been settled that the Emperor will go to the residence of Baron von Schloezer to-day. Thence the Emperor will drive to the Vatican in the state carriage which, with the horses, was specially sent from Berlin for that purpose.

Before leaving the Vatican the Emperor will confer with Cardinal Rampollo in a private apartment. After making his adieus to the Pope he will return to the Prussian Legation and will drive thence to the Quirinal in the Italian state carriage. Emperor William has ordered the syndic to thank the people of Rome for the enthusiastic greeting extended to him.

The Irredentists have scattered inflammatory bills headed "Down with the Triple Alliance" and similar expressions, through the streets.

Emperor William visited the residences of the Duke of Aosta and the Duke of Genoa. In the evening he attended a grand family banquet given in his honor at The Quirinal. The Emperor several times expressed his thanks to King Humbert for the cordial reception extended to him declaring that he was deeply touched. During the journey of the royal party to the palace, Premier Crispi being much applauded turned toward Count Herbert Bismarck and said, "These marks of approval are intended for you rather than for me, they signify that the alliance with Germany is very popular in Italy."

Parnell's Request.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Mr. Parnell requests any persons who received letters from him during the years 1881 and 1882, to send them to his secretary for use before the commission of inquiry.

Provincial W. C. T. U. Officers.

SARNIA, Oct. 12.—At yesterday's session of the W. C. T. U. these officers were elected: Mrs. D. L. Brethour (Thorold), President, Mrs. M. Fawcett (Toronto), Vice-President, Mrs. P. Rutherford (Brantford), Recording Secretary, Mrs. Wiley (Richmond Hill), Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. J. Cavers (Galt), Treasurer.

ACCIDENT AT SUTTON WEST.

Terrible Injuries Caused by an Unmanageable Team.

SUTTON WEST, Oct. 11.—Yesterday forenoon as a party consisting of Dr. Sibbald, his neice Mrs. R. M. Anderson, Mrs. Anderson's child Allan and the coachman were driving into the village the horses became frightened by an engine. The doctor, who was driving, instructed the coachman to alight and seize the reins at the horses' heads, which he did, but their combined efforts were futile and the maddened steeds turned around and ran alongside the track precipitating the occupants of the vehicle upon the rails in front of the engine which passed partly over the victims, crushing to a pulp Mrs. Anderson's legs below the knees, terribly lacerating her right hand and mangling Dr. Sibbald's arm. Mrs. Anderson also received serious injuries about the head and it is feared she cannot live. The boy Allan and the coachman escaped unhurt.

ONTARIO ELECTIONS.

BRIGHTON, Oct. 11.—The election yesterday for the Local House resulted in the return of Dr. Willoughby (Con.) by 14 majority over Dr. Mallory (Lib.)

Frontenac Remains Conservative.

KINGSTON, Oct. 11.—With five polls to hear from Mr. Smith's (Con.) majority over Mr. Stark (Lib.) is 99.

And East Elgin Liberal.

AYLMER, Oct. 11.—The latest reports show that Mr. J. C. Dance (Lib.) is elected by nearly 300 majority over Mr. Marlatt (Con.)

CAPITAL CHAT.

The Canal Contracts—A $63,000 Claim Against the Government.

OTTAWA, Oct. 12.—Davis & Sons have secured one section of the St. Lawrence Canal work and Gilbert & Co. of Montreal three or four sections.

The three butt barracks constructed for the Department of Militia near Victoria have been completed.

Dr. Hanrahan of Stratford, Ont., has been appointed a surgeon in the permanent militia force. His present duties will be in connection with D. School of Infantry at London.

The Customs Department has ordered the release of the Gladiator on the payment of $50. She was seized at Collingwood.

A prominent white resident of Victoria, B.C., named Menzies was in August last convicted by the Stipendiary Magistrate on a charge of procuring a Chinese woman for illegitimate purposes for a Chinaman and sentenced to eight months' imprisonment. A petition has now been forwarded to the Department of Justice praying for his release.

A resident of Wilberforce, Ont., has written a letter to the Minister of Justice enquiring whether a Mormon elder man can legally solemnize a marriage in Canadian territory. The Department has not acted on the matter of yet.

Mr. Giraurd, M.P., has taken the preliminary steps, on behalf of A. P. Macdonald, to bring action in the Exchequer Court against the Government for $63,000 in connection with an old Intercolonial claim.

"Move-on" Jarvis Dismissed from the Police Force—Fatal Accident.

TORONTO, Oct. 12.—John G. Millar, against whom three charges of forgery were preferred when arraigned in the Assize Court, appealed to the Judge for assistance by reason of his having no counsel, no money and no friends. The court came to his rescue with counsel, but it did not avail him much as he was found guilty on each count.

Michael Mandibble protested strongly that he was not the purloiner of the goods of Mr. John Kehoe, but the evidence was against him and Col. Denison committed him to the Central Prison for six months.

The Meteorological Service report that there is a storm raging through South Carolina, which is moving toward the chain of great lakes to the northward.

Policemen Jarvis and Tittley, who were found the other morning in a house of ill-repute, were dismissed from the force. Jarvis was the officer who gained some notoriety recently by arresting Rev. W. F. Wilson, a Methodist pastor, for not moving on when ordered.

A 6-year-old boy named Alfred H. Pain was run over and killed at the foot of Tecumseth streeth by the C. P. R. incoming express at 9.45 yesterday morning. The poor child was playing with older boys and was unable, like them, to reach the embankment before the train was on him. Both legs and an arm were cut off.

Much unfavorable comment has been caused by Buckley's light sentence for the killing of Bertha Usher alias Robinson.

The Corner's jury in the case of the Way infant who died suddenly under suspicious circumstances found that the child had died from natural causes and severely censured the mother and grandmother for their neglect.

At a meeting of the joint committee, composed of members of the Board of Regents of Victoria University and members of the Methodist General Conference Advisory Board, yesterday, a resolution in favor of taking steps to place Victoria in federation with the Provincial University was carried, 22 to 13.

Riot at Chatham.

CHATHAM, Oct. 12.—An anti-semitic riot of small proportions took place on the market square last night between ten and eleven. It is alleged that Archibald Duddy and George Wilson, alias Taylor, entered Abraham Cohen's shop, and after using abusive language threw some of his goods into the street. Cohen remonstrated when they attacked him, but he succeeded in getting them out, when they left. A few minutes later Cohen went into a Mr. Jackman's shop and was followed by Duddy and Taylor, who again attacked him. He made his escape and got into his own premises by the back door. His assailants broke in at the front entrance and proceeded to demolish the "Christ-killer," as they called him. Several other parties, attracted by Cohen's outcries, appeared, but the valiant crusaders cleared out the crowd in great style. They were soon after arrested and locked up. No less than seven actions and cross actions for aggravated assault, larceny, etc., were entered at the police court, and Mr. and Mrs. Cohen are likely to enter civil suits also. The hearing of the cases has been put off until Monday. Liquor was, no doubt, the prime cause of the fracas.

The Yellow Fever.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 12.—Forty seven new cases of yellow fever and two deaths were reported yesterday. Mrs. Odell Broward, an aged lady, a refugee in South Jacksonville, is sick and it is feared her illness will develop into yellow fever. Last night's gale was very destructive in the suburbs and many small buildings were badly injured. The gale reached a velocity of 40 miles an hour just after midnight. The weather is clear and bracing and the situation decidedly improved.

DECATUR, Ala., Oct. 12.—Two cases of yellow fever, both colored, Wednesday, and one death. No new cases yesterday.

APPALLING LOSS OF LIFE.

THREE SCORE VICTIMS OF THE LEHIGH VALLEY COLLISION.

The Disaster Attributed to a Disregard of Signals—The Story of the Accident as Told by a Director of the Road.

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 12.—The story of the disaster on the Lehigh Valley Railroad last night at Mud Run, as told by an official of the railway, is as follows: Eighty-seven carloads of people attended the parade at Hazelton from Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Carbondale and other places. There were eight sections of the train and these followed passenger train No. 12 with orders to run 10 minutes apart. These orders were also delivered to telegraph operators at all signal stations. The seventh section came to Mud Run ahead of time and was stopped until 10 minutes had expired. The danger signal was displayed at the station and the rear brakemen were sent back as an additional protection. Section No. 7 laid a short distance beyond the station. No. 8 came thundering along and the brakemen gave the engineer the signal. He failed to heed it and dashed by. The train plunged on, disregarding the signal at the station and the awful disaster followed. Three cars were telescoped.

Fifty-six persons are dead, and some of the forty persons injured will die.

Jas. McGinly, recorder of deeds of Luzerne County, was on the section that ran into the preceding train. He said: "I was in the second car from the engine and saw the train ahead of us. We were running at the rate of about fifteen miles an hour, I should judge. I realized that there would be a smash-up, but I could not help myself. It was impossible to get out of the car, and I did not think it would be serious anyway. The crash was a terrible one, though none of us in the car in which I was seated were injured, nor were any of us thrown over the seats, but the scene that followed makes me shiver. I have heard and read thrilling accounts of railroad disasters, but never pictured in my mind anything like this. The horror of that moment cannot be expressed in words. We ran to the cars in which lay the injured people. One would say: 'Oh! lift that iron and take me out, for God's sake help me.' Another would exclaim: 'My leg is fast, cut off my leg, get an axe and cut it off.' Others begged for help in various ways and with the most piteous appeals. Every few minutes one of the poor victims would die. Some were being scalded by the escaping steam, some were crushed to death and some dying slowly of their awful injuries. To look on and be powerless to render aid was enough to drive a man mad. I hope I may never witness such a scene again. At 6.30 this evening the funeral train arrived in Wilkesbarre bearing 57 dead bodies. They had been partially prepared for burial and lay on boards placed upon the backs of the seats in three passenger coaches. It was an awful sight indeed to look through the long coaches at the bodies, each covered with a white cloth. Here the form of a boy of 12 years and beside it a stalwart man. As the train drew up to the depot it took a dozen policemen to keep back the frantic crowd of friends and relatives who had come from Scranton and Pleasant Valley to meet their dead. A special coach had been provided for these friends but they insisted upon entering the cars containing the dead, and were only stopped by force and the efforts of five priests who were on the train. One body was removed from the cars at Wilkesbarre.

The train then continued on its way up the Delaware & Hudson road to Miner's Mills and Scranton. The people in the special coach again began to clamor for permission to enter the funeral car but were again refused, it being alleged that no one had the keys. Several who were in search of missing friends became desperate and soon broke down the car door and began a frantic search for their loved ones. Clothes were torn from the mangled and scalded bodies, revealing the gay uniform of St. Aloysius men, cadets and other members of societies. Those who knew their relatives were on board also flocked into the car and began rearranging the attire or coverings of the corpses. Many were distorted and in horrible attitudes, and friends endeavored to lessen their frightful appearances. At Miners' Mills the train stopped to leave the body of James Flynn. No lights could be obtained and much of the work was done in partial darkness. It was as the train drew up at Pleasant Valley that the most heartrending scenes were enacted. Ropes had been stretched about the depot and guards kept the immense throng back. The shrieks and screams of stricken friends and relatives were pitiful in the extreme. The first body carried out was that of Oscar Gibbons, 13 years of age, borne in the arms of his stalwart brother. Then one after another forty-six white sheeted bodies were carried out and given into the charge of friends. The shrieks and cries of the women and hoarse shouts and imprecations of the men made a terrible scene. When all were out the train again pulled out to bear the remaining dead to Scranton, Minooke, and points beyond.

The Galt Poisoning Cases.

GUELPH, Oct. 12.—Mr. W. H. Cutten, a brother of Mrs. Cherry's, was interviewed last night in connection with the Galt poisoning case. He is very reticent. It seems that on hearing of the tragedy he proceeded to Galt and spent four days gathering the facts and circumstances connected with the case, when he reported to the coroner, which before this is in the possession of the detectives. He positively declines to state the facts for publication. He has no doubt, however, but that the culprit will be apprehended, and in his opinion it is a woman. He has some reason to think that she has at present disappeared. Further developments may be looked for shortly.

Natural Gas.

COLLINGWOOD, Oct. 12.—The Collingwood Rock Well Co. have decided on putting down another well, and have already begun operations on a lot belonging to Mr. Alexander Buist, on Pine-street, near the corner of Fourth. It is supposed from the indications that this will prove a first-class gas well.

A Millionaire Murdered.

HAVANNA, Oct. 12.—Domingo Sanudo, a millionaire, and his wife have been murdered. A son-in-law and a servant are under arrest on suspicion of being connected with the crime.

About 300 Injured.

QUINCY, Ill., Oct. 12.—The casualties from the falling of the amphitheatre at the fireworks display in this city last night are more numerous than at first reported, but so far none have proved fatal. About 300 were more or less injured.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The Republicans last night nominated Joel T. Erhardt for Mayor.

The Case Dismissed.

GUELPH, Oct 12.—The case against Douglas Clark, the fellow arrested for trying to sell one of Hewer & Werlich's livery horses at Heffernan's hotel, Eramosa, last week, was dismissed by Judge Drew yesterday. The Judge held that no sale had been made, and therefore the charge fell to the ground.

To the Reeve and Council of the Village of Lakefield:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Committee beg leave to make the following report:—In a former report we recommended the construction of a wire fence on Queen-st. south of Mr. Crickmore's so as to prevent the snow drifting; after further consideration we believe a temporary board fence built in sections, and placed at a proper distance on the side of the original fence would be more effective. The stones on Bishop and Oxford-sts., have been removed by Messrs. Trotter, Jackman and Charlton, except one pile on Oxford-st., left there by Mr. Trotter, also another pile on Bishop-st., left there by the same gentleman, also another large pile of stones on Bishop-st., which neither parties claim. All of which is respectfully submitted.

WEATHER NOTES.—Verily our hot summer has come to an end. Although September is not actually a fall month, still it has throughout been cold and wet, rain falling on 11 days to the depth of 4 inches and 35-100 of an inch, which is far above the average for September, and frost on 13 mornings and ice on three, the 14th, the 29th and 30th, the severest being on the morning of the latter, when the ice was thick, a good crust on the ground and the thermometer standing at 24 degrees. Only twice did the temperature reach 75 degrees at sunset, with down to 40 degrees, leaving the mean temperature of the month at 57-30 degrees. We had two thunder storms, a severe one on the 19th with considerable hail, and rain falling to the depth of 1 inch and 15-100 of an inch, but our heaviest rain storm was on the 16th, in 21 hours falling nearly one and a half inches of water. There was fog on 3 mornings and aurocal lights on the night of the 27th. I believe snow is almost unknown here in September, out while returning from church on Sunday afternoon flakes of snow were quite visible falling among the rain. I don't remember ever seeing the like before in Canada. It is yet raining and the continued wet weather will make it very disagreeable taking up the potato crop. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing, at sunrise during the month, namely:—North 3 days, south-west 9 days, north-west 6 days, east 3 days, south 2 days, west 3 days, south-east 3 days, and north-east 1 day.

We are carrying the war into Africa. Our Solid Brigades of Overcoats, Regiments of Suits and Battalions of Pants with Companies of Vests and Underclothing, which we have deployed on the field so skillfully during the month, have terrorized the enemy, routed him at all points and carried the fortifications on the run. Our Guns, double-shotted with Low Prices have thrown cannister and grape into their ranks and scattered their forces which only existed on paper.

Our Victory is complete. An agonized wail sent up is a token of Surrender to the inevitable fortunes of war. WYATT & TURNER have carried the day and our enterprise has forever broken the yoke of High Prices that has held the County.

We hurl back defiance at the Clothing Sharks who would grasp at the right of an Honest and Pushing Firm to live and do Trade. The man who wants to buy Clothing don't care a continental whether it is bought wholesale in Montreal, Toronto, Omemee or Pontypool. What the purchaser wants is value. It don't interest him whether the Goods are sold from a plate glass palace or from a clapboard shanty with 7x9 windows. What he wants is Value and Low Prices. It does'nt concern the buyer to know whether the Goods were brought in by rail, steamboat, waggon, oxcart or on foot. What he wants is Value, Low Prices and Square Dealing. He does'nt care whether its rain or shine, hot or cold, late or early as long as he gets the Best Value, the Best Goods, the Best Treatment, the Best Satisfaction and he gets all these at WYATT & TURNER'S.

Our Stock is our own, bought with honest money and we sell for as low a profit as we can do trade and live. Our competitors may howl and squirm, twist and wriggle but they may as well submit to the inevitable that WYATT & TURNER are doing, and will keep doing, the Clothing Trade of the County.

TEA!

A Chinese writer says: "To make good tea it is an old custom to use running water boiled over a lively fire. That from springs in the hills is the best, and river water next, while well water is the worst. Do not boil the water too hastily; as, first it begins to sparkle like crab's eyes, then, somewhat like fishes' eggs, and lastly it boils up like pearls innumerable springing and waving about. This is the way to boil the water."

PETERBOROUGH CRICKET CLUB.

A Review of the Season—The Batting and Bowling Records.

During the past year the club has played ten foreign matches, winning those with Belleville, Ontario County (2), Seabrights, East Toronto and Campbellford, and losing those with Toronto (2), Rosedale and Hamilton.

Stratton heads the batting with the splendid average of 35⅝, especially good when we take into account the bowling against which he played. Every time he went to the wickets he scored double figures and once he carried his bat right through the innings, being also not out in the second innings of the same match. Ray, who comes second, has also played well throughout, his 122 being the only century compiled by a member of the club during the season. Day also batted well especially at the beginning of the season, when his scores were of very great service.

In bowling Hamilton has the best average but he bowled in very few innings. Day has bowled exceedingly well all through the season as his average of 7 for 59 wickets shows. Even then he was unlucky, as he injured his knee in the middle of the season which handicapped him somewhat. Logan has also bowled finely and like Day he was placed at some disadvantage by an injury to his shoulder which prevented him from taking part in one match. Stratton has not been required so much in the bowling line this season, but Rutherford has done good service.

During the season many scratch matches have been played, those between the Colts and Veterans creating great interest. No fewer than 8 matches were played between these sides, each winning four.

Efforts are being made to buy the ground and enlarge it. We sincerely hope these efforts may be successful and then we shall have a ground second to none in Canada.

Mr. H. G. Day has acted as professional during the season, and has given great satisfaction in every respect. He is a very fine bowler, an excellent bat and field and has fulfilled his duties in an exemplary manner.

Died in the North West.

Mr. T. Cahill received a letter this morning from Mr. W. L. Mackenzie, Civil Engineer on the C. P. R. construction, at a point called Moose river, state of Maine, saying that Edward Hourigan, a former resident of Peterborough, had died there on the 5th inst. and was buried the day following in the Moose river cemetery. Mr. Cahill makes the facts public in order that friends in the town and country may hear of the death.

A Trip to Africa.

Of the J. C. Duff Opera Company, which are to appear at the Opera House, Peterborough, on Monday evening next, under the auspices of the P. A. A. A., the Mail of the 12th inst. says:—"Last night's performance at the Grand Opera House of the comic opera, "A Trip to Africa," was well attended by a fashionable audience. The manner in which this piece is put on the stage reflects all possible credit on the management, and leaving everything else out of consideration will well repay a visit to this theatre. Miss Laura Bellini was awarded for her admirable singing continuous and hearty applause, and was several times encored, once in her duet with Hubert Wilke. Mr. Harry Brown in his topical song was several times called back. Miss Agnes Stone also won a recall for her principal solo. Maud Wilson and Rose Leighton both played and sang very acceptably." d86

Caricature Lecture.

Mr. J. W. Bengough, Grip's famous cartoonist, gave one of his well known caricature lectures, in Bradburn's Opera House, under the auspices of the Endeavor Society of the Charlotte-st. Methodist Church, on Thursday evening. The Rev. S. J. Shorey, who acted as chairman, made a few remarks and introduced Mr. Bengough to a large audience. Mr. Bengough said that he thought it would be necessary to introduce himself and stated that he was a lineal descendant of Baron Munchausen, whose history every newspaper office in the country has put down as a big pack of lies. He then proceeded to give a rendition of an entertainment which took place in a certain town, not Peterborough, in which he said he had taken part, in fact he had to take all the parts, as the artists named on the programme did not turn up. Mr. Bengough's powers of mimicry were fully brought out in rendering the songs, recitations and speeches of this programme. His imitations of the remarks of the fictitious reverend gentleman, with his very English accent, who occupied the chair on the occasion, brought forth peals of laughter. The audience were also much amused at Mr. Bengough's oratorical, vocal and elocutionary mimicking, especially in his rendering of a Home Rule speech by Mr. McCoy, in which the brogue of Auld Ireland was well imitated. Mr. Bengough's cartoons were fairly good, his first one of the conventional dude, very much amusing the audience. The second cartoon was one of Mayor Stevenson, stating that he had joined the Army and which Mr. Stevenson said was a whopper. The following drawing was one in which Chief Roszel took a prominent figure but the resemblance was very falat. In the next cartoon the REVIEW came in for a touch of the artist humor, Mr. F. H. Dobbin prominently figuring, with Sir John clinging to his shoulders, while he was attacking the Hon. Oliver with a large quill pen, Oliver being on his back on the ground. Mr. Thos. Menzies brought down the house in the fifth and last cartoon, in which he was represented as selling the Globe to an old Scothman from "way back." The drawings were offered for sale by auction, the proceeds to go to the piano fund of the society, but the amount raised was very small.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

James F. Farley in the Prisoner's Box.

CHARGED WITH KILLING

SIMON ELIJAH, THE INDIAN SHOWMAN.

The Case for the Crown—A Number of Eye-Witnesses of the Killing Examined—Farley Fired the Shot—Previous Quarrels Between the two.

This morning the Grand Jury brought in a true bill for larceny against James Sampson, charged with stealing a quantity of cloth from Eliza Wood in Belmont township on Sept. 14th, 1888.

A true bill was also brought in against Wm. Morrow, jr., and Ann Jane Morrow, for larceny, the charge being that they had stolen $50 from Alex. Small at Norwood on May 28th last.

Wm. Morrow and Mrs. Morrow were arraigned and pleaded not guilty. James Sampson also pleaded not guilty. None of the prisoners were ready for their trial owing to the absence of witnesses, and Mr. E. B. Edwards, their counsel, applied for a postponment, and the case was laid over for a time. Mr. W. R. Riddel and Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the crown.

THE MURDER CASE.

At ten o'clock the case of James F. Farley, charged with killing Simon Elijah, the Indian showman, at Peterborough on the 24th of June, was called. It will be remembered that both Farley and Elijah belonged to Howe's circus and that the Indian was shot on a Sunday afternoon on the market square, where the circus tents were pitched. Farley was arrested for the crime and committed for trial.

When Farley was brought into the box he was well dressed, wearing dark clothes and a high collar with gold button. He looked well and self-possessed, but was pale and had a wearied appearance. The prisoner's father sat near the prisoners box and paid close attention to the proceedings.

Mr. W. R. Riddell and Mr. R. E. Wood conducted the case for the Crown, and Messrs. O'Meara and J. H. Burnham appeared for the prisoner.

The following jury was empannelled:—Wm. Lang, Adam Humphries, Anson J. Lindsay, Robert Telford, David Henderson, John Graham, Jas. W. Fowler, Lewis Hunter, John Brown, James Jackman, Wm. A. Bell and James Lowden.

The following were challenged by the Crown:—Garret P. Galvin, James Scollard, M. O'Donnell and John O'Brien, and the following were challenged by the defence:—Wm. Dixon, Thos. Telford, John Knox, James H. Mann, Bemrose Hunter, George Nicholls, Daniel McBurney, Stephen Nicholls, James Wasson, W. F. Kingan, Charles Leach and Gilbert Douglas.

The court room was filled before the swearing in of the Jury was concluded.

Mr. W. R. Riddell, crown council, addressing the Jury, referred to the gravity of the charge of murder, and as he said that it was a matter of life and death the prisoner's head dropped. It was the duty of the crown to prove the fact of killing, and it was then for the prisoner to show that it was something less than murder, but the more reasonable course, usually followed and which he would adopt, would be for the crown to lay the whole case before them. Having explained the crime of murder, he outlined the circumstances as would be shown by the witnesses.

The witnesses in the case were then, at the request of council on each side, excluded from the court room.

THE EVIDENCE.

R. W. BELL, M.D., who with Dr. King performed the post mortem examination, was sworn: He described the bullet wound found in Elijah's side, the direction of the wound and the finding of the bullet. The cause of death was undoubtedly the bullet wound.

R. KING, M.D., said he saw the deceased on Sunday afternoon on the market square; he was very low and suffering; attended him till his death; assisted at the post mortem examination; quite agreed with Dr. Bell. He described the direction and finding of the bullet. The other organs of the body were healthy and death was caused by the bullet.

GEO. I. ROSZEL, Chief of Police, was sworn, and said:—Took the the prisoner in custody on June 24th; saw him same day just before 12 o'clock in police station, made a complaint about being annoyed by two brothers; he took out a pistol and said he had just taken it out of trunk; told him to put it back or would arrest him; he said he would; arrested him about 3.30 o'clock; found Simon Elijah on a board on the market square; handed the prisoner over to Constable Stewart; a few minutes after got a revolver; [revolver produced]; it was under a cloth on a table in the dining tent; there was an empty shell and three loaded ones in it.

Cross examined—It was just before 12 or 1 o'clock that the prisoner came to the station; he had liquor in him; knew he had no business to carry revolver; he did not offer it to me; he was pretty drunk when arrested; he gave himself up.

J. S. MARTYN was sworn and said:—Saw the prisoner on June 24th on George-st.; saw him in C.P.R. hotel; there was a man named Kemp there, Simon Elijah and others; prisoner had some words with the side-drummer and called him a liar; Elijah came up and said he would let no one call him a "liar; prisoner asked him what he had to do with it; Elijah shoved the prisoner down three times; the third time he got a bottle and tried to hit Elijah, but witness and the bartender took it from him and put him out; prisoner came in the back door with a club in his hand about two feet long and an inch square, he asked where the Indian was and was told he was gone; told him he had better leave Indian alone, and he said he would kill the Indian or any ——— of a showman, and putting his hand on hip said said he had the stuff there to do it; next saw prisoner in the cell; the prisoner was under the influence of liquor and Elijah had been drinking, but was soberer than the prisoner.

Cross-examined—This occurred between one and five o'clock; the Indian spoke threateningly when he said he would not be called a liar; when the Indian shoved prisoner second time he made a motion to kick; the club the prisoner had was a pine edging; saw the prisoner on the street early in the morning and he was very drunk at that time; couldn't swear that the Indian who was in Roddy's was the one who was shot.

Re-examined—Believe it was the same Indian who was shot; it was half an hour or more from he left the hotel till saw wounded man on market.

CHIEF ROSZEL, recalled, said the bullet fitted in the empty shell of the revolver produced.

NIXON HARRIS, sworn, said:—Live in Bobcaygeon; was in Peterborough on June 24th and saw the shooting; went to the market square after dinner and sat down; at about 3 o'clock saw the deceased go into tent and get dinner; he came out and started towards George-st.; he met prisoner about 10 ft. from platform; deceased said, "Hello, reddy"; prisoner said, "Go to hell, you black ———; saw prisoner draw a revolver, hold it up, let it drop and fire; prisoner was about 12 ft. from me and deceased about 8 ft. farther; just before the shot the deceased was smiling; a cowboy jumped and took revolver from prisoner and went towards tent; prisoner followed asking for revolver; Chief of Police and another constable were coming and prisoner said "Arrest me;" when the shot was fired the Indian put his hands on his left side and bent over; followed prisoner and when I returned saw deceased leaning over a table on the platform; took hold of him and I and others laid him on table; others gathered around and I went away; saw blood on the prisoner's coat when in the tent.

Cross-examined.—Don't remember seeing a leather belt on the Indian or seeing the Indian advancing when he was shot; the Indian did not appear to be intoxicated; prisoner was at one corner of the market building and the police at the other when the prisoner started towards them and said, "arrest me."

JOHN BARCLAY.—, sworn, said:—Was at west end of market building on June 24th between 4 and 5 o'clock; in consequence of what someone had said I looked to see if prisoner had a revolver in his hip pocket, but didn't see it; the Indian and prisoner met; when close together prisoner drew pistol from his breast and fired at Indian; the Indian wheeled round with his hands on his side and said, "I am shot;" the Indian was put on bench and then removed to tent; heard no words between the prisoner and the Indian.

Cross-examined.—Was about 15 yards from the prisoner when shot was fired; the prisoner went towards the arcade and returned, and the Indian went towards the arcade; prisoner appeared to be intoxicated.

JOHN MASON, sworn said:—Saw prisoner talking to a cowboy on the Market square on June 24th, saw a revolver at his side by his breast; when Indian met prisoner he said, "Hello, Reddy;" prisoner called him a——saw prisoner walk towards the Indian and shoot him.

Cross-examined:—Was at the southwest corner of market building; it was between 2 and 5 o'clock; the Indian turned towards Farley when the prisoner called him the name, the prisoner was intoxicated; didn't think the Indian was.

ROBERT FANNING, sworn, said:—Saw the prisoner on June 24th, go towards the market building, stop a moment and turn back towards the Indian; prisoner put his hand on a post; he pulled a revolver, seemingly from a belt, and fired at the Indian.

Cross-examined—This was between 3.30 and 20 minutes to 4; did not see Indian threaten the prisoner; was about 60 or 70ft. from them.

GEORGE STEVENSON, sworn, said:—Saw the prisoner talking to a cowboy on June 24th; prisoner walked to the north; looked away and when I looked back saw prisoner with a revolver; he had returned south; the man he shot at had his back towards me.

Cross-examined.—This occurred in the middle of the afternoon; while talking to the cowboy the prisoner seemed excited.

THOMAS GRIFFIN, sworn said:—Saw prisoner on the market square on June 24th talking to cowboy; saw prisoner and the Indian meeting; did not hear the prisoner's reply; Indian asked him to have a drink; Indian further said he could lick any man, black, white or red, of his weight, in the town; he said it jokingly; the prisoner said "I'll lick you," and fired.

Cross-examined—I was standing at the centre of the market building; was beside the Indian at time of shooting; thought the Indian was perfectly sober.

This closed the case for the crown and the court adjourned for dinner.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

The court resumed at a quarter to two o'clock and proceeded in the Farley murder case to hear the evidence for

THE DEFENCE.

FREDERICK DOLAN, sworn, said:—Was on the market square on June 24th; saw the prisoner near the table at the butcher's shop, about 15 ft. from me; the Indian passed along and said "Hello, reddy;" the prisoner replied in a vulgar way; the Indian replied, "I don't have to do it;" the Indian was drunk but didn't seem to be vexed; saw prisoner walk towards the Indian; the Indian turned, but not in a threatening way; prisoner put his hand on the post and fired; thought the bullet hit the hip or leg.

Cross-examined.—The Indian seemed to be in good humor when he said "Hello, reddy."

JOHN BURNS, sworn, said:—Was sitting on a table at the market square on June 24th; saw the prisoner draw a revolver; the Indian was coming towards the prisoner; Indian said he'd do the prisoner up or something to that effect; think the Indian was walking towards the prisoner when he was shot.

Cross-examined—I said in the Police Court that there were words spoken but that I did not hear them; I might have been confused; I can't remember any of the words used; prisoner had a revolver in front by his breast in a strap or belt.

JOSEPH STEWART police constable, was sworn and said:—Saw the prisoner on June 24th coming out of a tent on the market; he said he wanted protection; took him to the chief; he told the chief he wanted protection; that two men had threatened him; he drew out a revolver which he said he had taken out of a box after being threatened; wanted the chief to let the witness go with him to lock up the revolver; chief seemed to think it not necessary; he wanted the two arrested; afterwards heard the report of a revolver; went out with the chief; met Farley on platform at market building; Farley said, "arrest me;" chief said "what did you do?" I put my hand on him, and chief said to lock him up, because he was drunk anyway; chief went on and hollered back to take care of him for he was a murderer; he tried to get away from me; took him to the cells; found a cartridge on him.

Cross-examined—The revolver the prisoner had was like the one produced; the prisoner did not come towards us, that I saw, before we arrested him.

JOHN BECK, sworn, said:—Live in New York, am a travelling showman, was with Howe's circus last summer; knew the prisoner a couple of years before that; he was with me with Forepaugh's circus; left the show at Lindsay before it came to Peterborough, knew Elijah; think he was a half-bred Indian.

Mr. RIDDELL objected to this evidence and the objection was noted.

JOHN BECK, continuing, said:—Farley had charge of the properties; once was in the dressing room at night and heard prisoner tell the Indian to get up, and hurry up; the Indian pushed him away. Farley's character, as far as I know, was all right as a good, honest, hardworking young man, he was not a quarrelsome man

Cross-examined—Never heard prisoner use bad language towards anyone.

FRANK LEWIS, sworn, said:—Was connected with Howe's circus when I was in Peterborough; saw the Indian on the Sunday; he was under the influence of liquor; remember a former quarrel at Gravenhurst between the Indian and the prisoner; I went into the dressing room; the Indian had a long knife and threatened to put it into Farley; Farley said he didn't want any trouble with him and went away.

Cross-examined—Farley turned his back to the Indian when he walked away at Gravenhurst.

(The case is in progress as we go to press).

RITCHIE IS REMANDED.

The Alleged Galway Horse Thief Taken Back to Goal.

Alexander Ritchie was before P. M. Edmison this morning on a charge of stealing a horse, buggy and harness, from Michael Mansfield, on the 19th day of August last.

At the previous investigation Mr. Wm. Burton told how he had seen prisoner in Toronto, and how he had traded a horse answering to the description of the stolen animal, with a man named Hanna, of Flesherton. Prisoner was arrested at Rockwood and brought here for trial.

Michael Mansfield testified that prisoner worked for him and was discharged on the 17th of August last. On the 18th the horse, buggy and harness was stolen. He found his mare in the possession of a Mr. Ritchie of Toronto, who had traded with a man named Barry, who said he got her from a man calling himself Ritchie, the description given of Ritchie fitting the prisoner exactly.

The case was enlarged for a week to secure further evidence.

THE CHICAGO STRIKE.

More Riotous Scenes—An Alleged Dynamiting Conductor Arrested.

CHICAGO, Oct 12.—About 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon the crowd around the Western-avenue barns was electrified by the arrival of a 'bus load of new men, escorted by the police in patrol wagons, and a report immediately spread that an attempt would be made to run cars. There were 23 men in the 'bus and two patrol wagons kept guard. The wagons drew up and the men piled out of the 'bus into the barns. The crowds began to gather as soon as the intelligence spread and in a short time two or three thousand people surrounded the barns. Lieutenant Shea ordered the police to disperse the mob, and they advanced in a determined manner. The crowd fled, women and children falling over each other in their wild endeavor to get out of the way. Some of the conductors and drivers refused to move on when ordered and nine of these were immediately arrested and placed in a patrol wagon and hurried to the station.

There was an incipient riot at Lincoln and Sedgwick-streets on the North Side, which at one time threatened serious consequences. A mob of 3000 persons gathered about the cars, hooting the new drivers and pelting them with rotten eggs. One of the teams became frightened and ran, dragging the driver after them. They dashed into the next car, frightening the team attached to it, which in turn ran into another car smashing things and adding to the general confusion. Order was finally restored by the police. One of the drivers who had been hit with a decayed egg threw down his lines and refused to drive any more.

Yesteday afternoon a policeman allowed two of the new men to be beaten by a couple of street-car strikers without interfering, and when the fact was reported to his captain he was at once suspended.

The Executive Committee of the West Side strikers have issued a card to the police, deprecating the use of violence and commanding all of the strikers to avoid all disturbance.

Shortly before 4 o'clock two cars, the first sent out during the day in the West Division, left the Western-avenue barns. About 125 policemen were on duty and succeeded in keeping the crowd which numbered about 5000 persons far enough from the strikers to prevent interference. The cars came out at a rapid pace, and with patrol wagons filled with policemen in front of and behind them made the trip down town in safety. At one point a stone was thrown which sounded over the car and struck a woman in the crowd, knocking her down. At Ann-street the brakes on the first car broke and the driver ran it into a wagon in front. The men in the wagon were thrown out and considerably hurt. At Market-street on the return trip another stone was thrown and the man who threw it was arrested. At Halsted-street there was a great mob which hurled opprobrious epithets at the new men and a member of it made a dash for the cars and began to pound the driver. There was a lively and wicked-looking scene for a time, but the police managed to keep the crowd in check. The driver's assailant was arrested and the cars proceeded.

Julius Kazelberg, a former conductor on the Sedgwick-street line, is locked up at the Chicago-avenue station. Captain Schack expresses the opinion that the man is a dynamiter. The prisoner was arrested near the Sedgwick-street barn as he was in the act of strewing along the track some black objects about the size of walnuts. The policeman who made the arrest brought to the station with the prisoner a dozen of the mysterious objects. The black things which one officer designated as "cartridges" were carefully stowed away out of sight. All sorts of rumors as to the deadly character of the seized property are current but from the description it seemed probable that they are railway danger signal torpedoes which make a loud noise when discharged but do not contain sufficient explosive to do any damage.

MANY MANITOBA MATTERS.

The Newspaper War on the Ministry—A Convict's Escape—Lost $1000.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 12.—Governor Schultz is asked by The Call to dismiss the ministers an account of the charges made against them. It taunts Premier Greenway with not taking criminal proceedings, while The Free Press attacks Attorney-General Martin bitterly.

The Northern Pacific officials have arrived and say that the regular passenger service commences on Oct. 20. A fast freight train will be put on and special rates will be given to Montana beef and mutton and California fruits and to Manitoba butter, eggs, cheese, etc., for export. Arrangements have been made with the Wisconsin Central, Grand Trunk and other lines. It is estimated that there will be no cut in passenger rates. The first locomotive crossed the Assiniboine yesterday and track laying will be finished to-day.

The convict who escaped from the Manitoba Penitentiary is Griesbach, the Prince Albert mail robber who acted as the chaplain's servant. He appropriated the chaplain's suit of clothes, $5 and a horse, and left a letter saying that he had gone to see his mother.

A fisherman named Curry, formerly of Collingwood, claims to have lost $1000 while under arrest for drunkenness at West Selkirk.

A Fatal Fall.

MONTREAL, Oct. 12.—A painter named Soulière, 30 years old, while working on Nordheimer's building in St. James-street yesterday afternoon, lost his footing and fell head first a distance of 25 feet, expiring almost immediately.

In the court of special sessions yesterday, Judge Dugas sentenced Narcisse Blondin to 2½ months imprisonment for having abducted Adele Perreault, a 14-year-old girl.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, it soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether arising from teething or other causes 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

KEENE.

FESTIVAL.—The Ladies' Aid Society of Keene will hold a Harvest Home Festival on Friday evening next, Oct. 12. Tea, including some famous pumpkin pie, will be served in the Town Hall during the afternoon from 5 to 7 o'clock. At 7.30 p. m. a public meeting will be held in the church, at which the Rev. M. L. Pearson, President of the Conference, Peterborough, and Rev. F. Johnston, of Lakefield, will speak. The choir will render choice music during the evening. Admission to both tea and meeting 25 cents. A good time is guaranteed. Proceeds in aid of furnishing parsonage.

MEETINGS.—Keene Lodge G. R. C., will hold their regular meeting on Thursday evening, October 18th. The regular meeting of Keene R. B. P. will be held on Friday evening, October 19th. Important business will be taken up.

DEATH.—Mr. Robert Eson, of the 6th concession, Otonabee, died very suddenly on Saturday last. The funeral on Monday was largely attended. Mr. Eson has lived in Otonabee for a long time, being one of the oldest settlers.

PERSONAL.—Dr. McNaughton, of Westwood, was in our village on show day and seemed to enjoy himself very much.

LARGE POTATOES.—Mr. Jas. Yourex of the Keene grist and saw mills, left at the Victoria drug store a sample (three) of his large potatoes. The three weighed over 7 lbs. and were quite sound.

APOLOGY.—We beg Mr. James R. McCrea's pardon for leaving out the "Mr." in report of Curling Club officers. The causes of the mistake were twofold in character, viz: want of time and our Vice-President being usually called "Jim" or "James."

FRESH Grapes from the Winono Vineyard, every week, at The Pantry. d70

BOBCAYGEON.

Correspondence of the Review

REPAIRNG THE LOCKS.—Mr. Wm. Kennedy has had a gang of men making repairs on the locks here for the last two weeks. The diver seemed rather to enjoy being down among the finny tribe, while the wind was blowing rather raw on terra firma.

BEARS.—Since such a number of bears have been seen in this vicinity, nearly every animal of a sombre shade that is seen in the bushes around the water here, is supposed to be a bear. The other day the alarm was given that a bear was in a clump of bushes near the village, and of course some four sports, who are always anxious to take in a bear hunt, turned out, but were sadly disappointed when they came to the copse where the gallant game was expected, to see a large black dog walk to them quite good naturedly.

ANNIVERSARY.—The Rev. Dr. Williams, of Lindsay, conducted anniversary services in the Methodist Church here on Sunday, the 30th ult., both morning and evening, and on the following Monday a tea was held in the town hall, but owing to the rain which was falling heavily all day, it was not as largely attended as it would have been had the weather been favorable. On Wednesday evening, the 3rd inst., a second tea was held, which was attended by quite a number. The proceeds amounted to about $55.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack whenever there was a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette

Yarns and Hosiery

TURNBULL'S

YARNS.

There is nothing more essential to the health of the body in this changeable climate of ours than keeping the feet comfortably clad, so, in order to supply the large demand for good Woolen Yarn and Hosiery, we have paid particular attention to this department. Our Baldwin and Wheeling Yarns are imported direct from Scotland. Baldwin's Yarns are so well known we need not say anything about them, and Scotland is noted the world over for wools; so that we can show you all the best makes in any color at the very lowest prices. The Wheeling Yarn is a heavy make intended for children's and boys' wear, very much like our Canadian yarn only much softer and warmer, and it comes at a low price.

HOSIERY.

You should see our Heather Wool Sox for men, knitted by the grandmas of Scotland. They may seem a little high in price, but they are really very cheap as they wear so long. We have Black Cashmere Hose in plain and ribbed in two or three different makes, from the smallest baby's size to the largest ladies, at prices that are right, as we are confident they are not sold cheaper in either city or town in the regular way. We have also a special make of Canadian Hose closely and softly knitted, without a seam. You should ask to be shown these goods when at the Hosiery counter. You will be pleased with them. We need only to speak in a whisper about a bargain we have secured, knowing that it will spread like fire when mentioned. One of our largest hosiery knitting mills, that supplies the wholesale trade only (as they have to sell in large quantities to find market for all they make), after filling all their orders, had a surplus left, which they were anxious to dispose of in order to make room to commence the cotton goods for spring. Our stock not being heavy, we were able to do with them and can now offer you an all wool perfect knitted hose, ladies' size, for 12½ cents a pair. Remember that all through the season we keep our stock well assorted, and no matter what inducements may be offered we never allow ourselves to be undersold.

SENSATIONAL SHOOTING.

A MYSTERIOUS CRIME AT MANITOBA'S CAPITAL.

Alex. Taylor, a Leading Stationer, Probably Mortally Wounded by an Unknown Person—A Lady in the Case.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 12.—A mysterious shooting affair of a sensational character happened here to-day. Alex. Taylor, a leading stationer, was shot by some person in his rooms this morning, the first known of the shooting being his appearance at the door asking a lad to go for a doctor. His bed was found to be saturated with blood, and the floor was spattered with it. Taylor was taken to the hospital where he lies in a very low condition.

He refused to divulge the name of the person who shot him or to say anything about the affair. Rumor connects the name of a lady with it, but there appears to be no reason for this.

No weapon was found on the premises, no person was seen near the place and the wound, which is in the left breast, the ball passing out of the back near the left shoulder, is in such a part as precludes the possibility of him having committed the deed himself. Fears are entertained that Taylor will not live till morning.

The whole affair is wrapped in the deepest mystery, which neither the police nor the public have yet solved.

THE KAISER AT THE VATICAN.

A Ceremonious Reception—His Interview With the Pope Lasts 1½ Hours.

ROME, Oct. 12.—At the luncheon to-day Emperor William sat between Cardinal Rampolla and Cardinal Hohenlohe. A tablet which had been erected in the legation in memory of the occasion was unveiled. Upon the Emperor's arrival at the Vatican, Prince Rampolla opened His Majesty's carriage. The reception, both inside and outside the Vatican, was conducted with the fullest state ceremonies. The Pope advanced from his study to a private ante-chamber, where he greeted the Emperor. Both then retired to the study, where they remained for an hour and a half.

At luncheon at Baron Von Schloeger's residence, Cardinal Rampolla toasted Emperor, who responded by proposing the health of the Pope. Afterwards the Emperor drove to the Vatican. The route was lined with troops and decorated with flags. Numerous devices were displayed bearing the words "Viva Roma Intangible" and similar inscriptions. At the castle of San Angelo, where the City Leonina commences, there was displayed in immense letters the following: "Welcome Emperor of Germany. August Guest of Our King in Rome, the Unassailable Capitol of Italy." Needless precautions had been taken to prevent an Extremist demonstration while the visitors were passing the Borgo district. The inhabitants evinced only patriotic sentiment.

At the Vatican Prince Raspoli received the Emperor and conducted him to the Pope's chambers. Two companies of Palatine guards were stationed at the entrance of the hall. The Pope surrounded by his court received the Emperor, who bent his knee to the Pope, whereupon the Pope invited the Emperor to a seat beside the throne. The suite having been presented His Holiness arose and led the way to the Salla Gialla where he had a private interview lasting twenty-five minutes with the Emperor. On returning a procession was formed and the museums were visited. Emperor William walked beside Cardinal Kampolle, next came Prince Henry and Cardinal Senistri. The Palatine guard and the dignitaries of the pontifical court followed. After leaving the museum the party inspected St. Peter's. Thence the visitors returned to the Quirinal.

MR. CHAPLEAU'S SPEECH.

A Sensational and Untrue Despatch Published by the Yankee Papers.

MONTREAL, Oct. 12.—News reached here this afternoon that several American newspapers had to-day published sensational accounts of the speech delivered by Hon. J. A. Chapleau, Secretary of State, at a banquet tendered last evening to Mr. R. S. White, the newly elected member for Cardwell, in which the hon. gentleman is represented as having made a ferocious attack upon the United States in reference to the fisheries dispute and the retaliation question. These despatches are made out of whole cloth and are the invention of a representative of an uninfluential local paper, who caused much annoyance at the banquet by his conduct, which was certainly not characteristic of a sober man.

As a matter of fact Hon. Mr. Chapleau was particularly friendly in his references to the United States, and so were all the speakers on the occasion. While upholding the policy pursued by the Canadian Government towards the United States, and declaring his belief in the ability of the Dominion to carve out its own destiny independent of any outside interference, the Secretary of State went out of his way, in the opinion of many of his hearers, to express friendly sentiments towards the American Government. Having made complimentary references to both Blaine and Bayard as statesmen of the first order, Mr. Chapleau expressed the belief that after the elections, whichever party carried the day, Canada and the United States would settle their differences in a friendly manner, and that the present tension of feeling was solely the result of political feeling.

As proof that the story is an utter fabrication it may be stated that every paper in the city of every shade of politics, both French and English, publishes reports of Mr. Chapleau's speech and that none of them contain the slightest reference to any attack on the United States.

DEATH OF HON. JAMES PATTON.

TORONTO, Oct. 13.—The housekeeper at the Custom House going his morning rounds at about 7 o'clock yesterday stepped into the room of the Collector of Customs, which is in the north-east corner of the building, on the first floor. Having tidied up the front room he walked into a smaller room connected with it by a passage which also opens out on a room for clerks. At the sight which met his startled eyes his heart stood still. In the open door of the vault in an opposite corner of the room lay the body of a man, stark in death. And the body was that of James Patton, Collector of Customs for Toronto. It lay on its side, with the knees doubled up and the head resting on the stone sill of the open door of the vault.

An inquest was held last night and the jury found that on Thursday, Oct. 11, the deceased came to his death by sudden failure of the heart. The funeral has been arranged for Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

[James Patton was born at Prescott, Ont., on June 10, 1828. He was fourth son of the late Andrew Patton, of St. Andrew's, Fifeshire, Scotland, and formerly Major of the 45th Regiment. James was educated at Upper Canada College and King's College, now the University of Toronto. In 1845 he was called to the bar and entered on the practice of law at Barrie. In 1852 he established The Barrie Herald, as the mouthpiece of the Conservative party, whose principles were always deep-rooted in his breast. In 1859 he was made a bencher of the Law Society, was afterwards a Solicitor-General and a life Bencher by statute, and in 1862 he was made a Queen's Council. Mr. Patton's professional and business career was a most successful one. In 1864 Mr. Patton moved to Kingston to take charge of Sir John Macdonald's business there, but in 1872, on the removal of the Trust and Loan Company's office to Toronto, returned, Macdonald & Patton being the Company's solicitors. In 1878 Mr. Patton retired from the active practice of the law and assumed control of the affairs of the English and Scottish Investment Company of Canada. He held this position until 1881, when he was called to that of Collector of Customs for Toronto, a post which he filled most creditably till the time of his sudden death. Though actively engaged in politics in his early life, he did not seek office until 1856, when the Legislative Council, now the Senate, was made elective, and he was chosen to represent the Saugeen District which now consists of the Counties Grey, Bruce and Simcoe. In 1862 he became a member of the Cartier-Macdonald Ministry, with a seat in the Executive Council, now the Privy Council, as Solicitor-General for Upper Canada. He was defeated when seeking re-election, and with the fall of the Government, a few weeks later, he retired from public life.

HOW THE COPS PROTECTED HIM.

Brutal Assault on an Inoffensive Old Man in a Montreal Police Station.

MONTREAL, Oct. 12.—About 11 o'clock last evening a French-Canadian, aged 71 years and quite sober, walked into No. 6 police station and requested protection, speaking in his own language. The reserve man on duty could not understand him, and after repeated attempts his temper got the better of him. Rising from his seat he seized the old man by the throat at the same time giving him a good shaking. After the constable had written down the man's name he asked him if he had any tobacco on him. Half a plug replied he. No sooner were the words out of his mouth than the constable again seized the poor old man by the throat, at the same time banging his head against the wall, using language most foul. The old man, nearly choked, made feeble efforts to release the iron grasp on his throat, during which a meerschaum pipe in the mouth of the constable was broken. The latter's fury now knew no bounds; he loosened his grasp on his gray-haired victim and struck him a savage blow on the head. The old man yelled "murder," which was the signal for three constables to rush out from the inside. In the twinkling of an eye the innocent victim was tripped up on to the floor. One held his legs, another his arms; the third man grabbed his head, whilst the reserve man also held him down. The poor old man, nearly strangled, and thinking he was being killed, again yelled out murder, which was the signal for the brute who held his head to beat it against the cornice, splitting the scalp open. Not satisfied with this, he took a fresh hold of the blood-stained grey hairs and recommenced banging it against the floor. The old man was pushed or carried into the cell, where he was once more ill-treated, as cries for help were heard to issue from it. This happened in the presence of two representatives of the press, who were so dumbfounded by the suddenness of the brutal attack that it was all over before they could utter a word of protest.

MONTREAL, Oct. 12.—The action taken by the local Government against Le Monde for publishing an advertisement of the Louisiana State Lottery was dismissed by Judge Dandurand to-day on the ground that the accused was a corporate body and the penalty provided for this offence could not be enforced against them, as a corporate body could not be sent to jail.

PORT HOPE, Oct. 13.—The Beamish pond and site was purchased to-day by the town and transferred to Messrs. Outram & Son, of Montreal, file manufacturers. THE MUD RUN DISASTER

YESTERDAY'S DEATHS MAKE THE NUMBER OF VICTIMS 63.

Fifteen Widowed and Thirty-One Orphaned by the Terrible Catastrophe—What It Will Cost the Company.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 12.—There are few new developments in the Lehigh Valley Railroad accident to-day. The town of Pleasant Valley, which furnished no less than 33 victims, is a grief-stricken place. All business has been suspended in the mines and elsewhere and universal sorrow prevails. The dead will all be buried to-morrow morning.

Peter Kline and Terry Sullivan died this morning. This makes sixty-one victims The surgeons at the Wilkesbarre hospital say at least half-a-dozen of their patients will die. The disaster makes fifteen widows and thirty-four orphans. It is estimated that the accident will cost the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company $300,000 to settle with the relatives of the dead and injured.

A QUIET DAY AT CHICAGO.

No Disturbance Raised by the Strikers—The Dynamite Bombs.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—This has been the quietest day since the strike was inaugurated. On the North Side cars were running all day with a diminished protective force. On the West Side cars were run on Madison-street after 10 a. m. Conferences took place between the strikers and President Yerkes, but were without result.

A number of conflicting statements were made to-day in regard to the nature of the compound found in the bombs which were placed on the Sedgwick-street tracks yesterday afternoon. This arose from the fact that two kinds of bombs were found, those on Sedgwick-street and others on State-street. The latter were harmless and the officials at police headquarters got the two reports mixed. Last evening after the bombs on Sedgwick-street were found Capt. Schaack sent for an expert connected with one of the big powder houses of Chicago and gave him the packages. The gentleman took them home and this morning brought them back. "It is dynamite," said he to the captain "and there is enough of it to blow up this station." One of the packages was taken to the city limits this morning, it is said, and exploded. It made a great hole in the ground besides breaking a large piece of iron placed under it to test its force.

INFORMED ON HERSELF.

Mrs. Finn Breaks Her Husband's Skull and Then Notifies the Police.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Mrs. Jennie Finn rushed into Police Headquarters at an early hour yesterday morning and informed Sergeant Kellahar that a man had just been murdered at No. 246 Elizabeth-street. She might have also said that the man was her husband, Dennis, and that she it was who had broken his skull with a pitcher, but she did not. After giving her information she disappeared.

Detectives McGrade and Finnigan went around to the house and found Mr. Finn lying in a pool of blood in the midst of the fragments of a heavy water pitcher. He was removed to St. Vincent's Hospital in an ambulance, where the house surgeon said he had a compound fracture of the skull and could not live.

Mr. Finn said that during a quarrel his wife had become angry and smashed the pitcher over his head. The detectives found Mrs. Finn later in the day concealed under the bed in a neighbor's apartments. In the Tombs Police Court Justice Patterson held her to await the result of her husband's injuries.

They Planned a Murder.

BOSTON Oct. 12.—Wm. Knowlin, the brother of Milkman Codman's murderer, was arrested last night on suspicion of being about to commit a deed similar to that for which Eddie Knowlin was hanged. Knowlin and a herdic driver were caught in an unsuccessful attempt several months ago to rob a gentleman and for this crime Knowlin was sentenced to the reformatory. His conduct while in this institution was so good that he was released on probation and found employment with W. L. Russell, a milkman on Mystic-street. Knowlin discovered that his employer had money in his possession and planned to get it.

Last evening a servant girl informed an officer that she had overheard Knowlin and another man plotting for the murder of Russell. They had their plans all arranged to overpower the milkman in his room at the stable, secure his money and take the train for New York. They had a herdic engaged to wait for them and take them to the New York and New England depot. The officers are now looking for Knowlin's alleged accomplice.

Unearthing Some Gigantic Frauds.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 13.—Detective Scofield and Attorney Furthman, of Chicago, whose mysterious trips to and from the West to this city have caused so much talk, have returned to Chicago. Before leaving the city the detective said: "The various rumors published about our business here are all wrong. Our business is not known to any person in the city except ourselves and the 'shadows' I have engaged. There will be two arrests of prominent persons in this city and one in Milwaukee. They are involved in a series of gigantic frauds and depredations which having been going on for the past five years. An immense sum of money is involved, and the case is of vast importance to residents of this city. The parties who are criminally involved may know of our presence here, but they cannot run away. The 'shadows' are looking after them."

Killed By Strikers.

MACON, Mo., Oct. 13.—Thomas Wardell, a wealthy coal operator, was killed at Bevier to-day by striking miners during a riot. Nearly all of the mine owners have engaged new men and these have been coming from abroad for several days past. This action of the operators has greatly incensed the strikers who have been bitter in their expressions against their former employes respecially Wardell. Threats have been made by the strikers against the new men, but there was no violent demonstration until to-day, when some of the men were set upon by the strikers and a general battle followed. During the riot Wardell was shot and killed. There is intense excitement and fears are entertained of further bloodshed. The Sheriff and a posse have gone to Bevier.

After Powderly's Scalp.

SCOTTSDALE, Pa., Oct. 12.—Edward Callahan will institute criminal and civil libel proceedings against General Master Workman Powderly. He alleges that his business has been damaged by a boycott ordered by Powderly. In the civil action damages of $10,000 will be laid.

A Negro Girl Hanged.

UNION SPRINGS, Ala., Oct. 13.—Pauline McCoy, a negro girl aged 19, was hanged here yesterday for the murder of Annie Jorand, a 14-year-old white child, last February. The execution was private.

Died in a Barn.

DUBLIN, Oct. 13.—James Dunn, aged 80, who was evicted from Captain Singleton's estate at Louisea, died on Thursday in a barn to which his friends had removed him. He had been ejected from his house and placed on the road.

THE ASSIZE COURT.

A Larceny Case Dismissed—The Grand Jury's Presentment.

The autumn sittings of the Assize Court were concluded on Friday afternoon.

GRAND JURY'S PRESENTMENT.

To the Hon. Mr. Justice Street.

This being your your first official visit to Peterborough since your appointment as a Justice of the High Court of Justice, the Grand Jurors of Her Majesty the Queen of the County of Peterborough desire to congratulate you upon been chosen for such an exalted and responsible position which you are eminently qualified to fill. We hope you may long live to adorn the bench.

We have examined the county gaol and its surroundings and find everything in good order and evidence of careful attention.

We are glad to find that since the last sittings of the court seven persons have been removed from the gaol who were of unsound mind, but there are still two left, one having been confined for more than four years.

We find one Williiam Course, who is suffering from cancer, is also in gaol, and we think it would be much better to have him removed to some hospital or similar institution.

We much regret that the good reputation of the county as containing good law abiding citizens has been marred by the killing of a man in the town, which will be enquired into at this court, and would point out that both the parties to the crime were not residents of the county, but came from a distance. Apart from this case we are pleased to find a light list of criminal cases.

JAMES GOLBORNE,
Foreman.

Justice STREET thanked the Grand Jurors for their kind expressions regarding his appointment, which were very gratifying to him. He said the court house here was creditable to the county, and it would be difficult to find a more creditable one in the Province. After further remarks in reply to the presentment he discharged the jurors from further attendance.

LARCENY CASE.

Wm. Morrow, jr., of Norwood, was charged with having stolen $50 from Alex. Small in that village on May 28th, and Mrs. Ann Jane Morrow with being an accessory before the fact. Small, who lives about four miles from Norwood, received $76 from a solicitor in Peterborough for a note. He went to Norwood and entered upon a spree which last for a week or ten days, and during that time he took a trip as far as Prescott. When he sobered up he found his money gone and he charged that Morrow had taken it out of his pocket while he was at Morrow's hotel on May 28th. At the conclusion of his evidence Mr. Edwards, who appeared for the prisoners, objected that there was no evidence against Mrs. Morrow, and the judge taking the same view the case against her was dismissed. For the defence witnesses said that Small had not slept in Morrow's at any time after May 24th. As the prosecutor's case was based on his having been there on the night of May 28th, the question finally became one of conflict of testimony between the prosecutor and Mrs. Morrow and her daughter. The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty." Two other indictments against the same parties in connection with the same matter were not pressed, and the juries returned the same verdict.—Mr. Riddell for the Crown, and Mr. E. B. Edwards for the prisoners.

The case against James Sampson, charged with stealing cloth from the house of Mrs. Wood, in Belmont, was called. The cloth produced by the constable consisted of two or three pieces of patchwork sewed together, about two feet long by one wide. In the absence of witnesses the case was postponed until the spring assizes, Sampson being admitted to bail.—Mr. Riddell for the Crown and Mr. E. B. Edwards for the prisoner.

This concluded the business of the court.

—A queer state of affairs has developed at Lindsay. Several members of the board of trustees do insurance business. Ground was broken just five weeks ago, and Thursday afternoon the work of laying 46,000 brick was concluded."

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you you may depend upon this for certain.

We are carrying the war into Africa. Our Solid Brigades of Overcoats, Regiments of Suits and Battalions of Pants with Companies of Vests and Underclothing, which we have deployed on the field so skillfully during the month, have terrorized the enemy, routed him at all points and carried the fortifications on the run. Our Guns, double-shotted with Low Prices have thrown cannister and grape into their ranks and scattered their forces which only existed on paper.

Our Victory is complete. An agonized wail sent up is a token of Surrender to the inevitable fortunes of war. WYATT & TURNER have carried the day and our enterprise has forever broken the yoke of High Prices that has held the County.

We hurl back defiance at the Clothing Sharks who would grasp at the right of an Honest and Pushing Firm to live and do Trade. The man who wants to buy Clothing don't care a continental whether it is bought wholesale in Montreal, Toronto, Omemee or Pontypool. What the purchaser wants is value. It don't interest him whether the Goods are sold from a plate glass palace or from a clapboard shanty with 7x9 windows. What he wants is Value and Low Prices. It does'nt concern the buyer to know whether the Goods were brought in by rail, steamboat, waggon, oxcart or on foot. What he wants is Value, Low Prices and Square Dealing. He does'nt care whether its rain or shine, hot or cold, late or early as long as he gets the Best Value, the Best Goods, the Best Treatment, the Best Satisfaction and he gets all these at WYATT & TURNER'S.

Our Stock is our own, bought with honest money and we sell for as low a profit as we can do trade and live. Our competitors may howl and squirm, twist and wriggle but they may as well submit to the inevitable that WYATT & TURNER are doing, and will keep doing, the Clothing Trade of the County.

TEA!

A Chinese writer says: "To make good tea it is an old custom to use running water boiled over a lively fire. That from springs in the hills is the best, and river water next, while well water is the worst. Do not boil the water too hastily; as, first it begins to sparkle like crab's eyes, then, somewhat like fishes' eggs, and lastly it boils up like pearls innumerable springing and waving about. This is the way to boil the water."

Engagements for

The Market.

There was a fairly good market this morning, notwithstanding a very disagreeable rain, which continued until about eleven o'clock. Little or no change was noticeable in the prices from those realized on Wednesday. Wheat was sold as high as $1.20 per bushel, but the market price continues from $1.15 for spring, to $1.18 for fall. Although this is a very good price, the farmers appear to be holding back and very little wheat is coming in.

Shut Down for a Week.

Just now the hundreds of looms and machines in the Auburn Woollen Mills are having a rest. The alterations required to the dam has necessitated letting off the water depriving the mill of power. Advantage has been taken during the interval to do some needed repairs and to give the machinery a look over. This is the first time in nine years that the mills have been shut down, a fact which is significant when it is reflected that many mills throughout the country in a similar line of production have been idle for months, if not years at a time. The mill employees are enjoying their holiday, and it is expected that the water will be let into the flume on Monday when work can be resumed.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Alex. Ritchie will have to Stand Trial for Stealing a Horse.

Alex. Ritchie, who is charged with stealing a horse belonging to Mr. M. Mansfield, of Galway, was brought before P. M. Edmison again on Friday afternoon. Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the Crown.

JOHN MCDONALD was sworn and said:—I was in Mr. Mansfield's employ last August. The prisoner was working there. He told me he wanted the pony and buggy to go to his cousin's farm, about two and a half miles out. I told him the pony belonged to Mr. Mansfield, and he said he had seen Mr. Mansfield about it and had his permission to get it. He drove away with the pony and buggy. He came back in a short time for his trunk and went away again, saying he would be back by 4 o'clock. He borrowed a knife from me. He never came back while I was at Mr. Mansfield's. I remained there till Sept. 5th. Did not see the prisoner again until to-day.

The Magistrate committed Ritchie for trial.

Curling.

The Lindsay Curling Club have held their annual meeting and elected club officers. Club skips were elected and it will interest Peterborough skips to know who will be their antagonists during the season from Lindsay clubs. Messrs. Flavelle, McMurtry, Relth, Wallace, W. McClellan, Hughes, Needler and McMillan, sr., are the double quartette who will direct play for Lindsay, with probably Messrs. Flavelle, McMurtry, Needler and Wallace as foreign skips, or rather skips in foreign matches. Lindsay, club has a record to be proud of and can turn out two rinks that will hold their own with any in the Province. When the club sends out three rinks the chances are even, but when four or five come down to do battle, Peterborough club gets in its work and sweeps the ice with a big score. Some lively curling is looked for next winter between the two clubs.

A Trip to Africa.

Of the J. C. Duff Opera Company, which are to appear at the Opera House, Peterborough, on Monday evening next, under the auspices of the P. A. A. A., the Mail of the 12th inst. says:—"Last night's performance at the Grand Opera House of the comic opera, "A Trip to Africa," was well attended by a fashionable audience. The manner in which this piece is put on the stage reflects all possible credit on the management, and leaving everything else out of consideration will well repay a visit to this theatre. Miss Laura Bellini was awarded for her admirable singing continuous and hearty applause, and was several times encored, once in her duet with Hubert Wilke. Mr. Harry Brown in his topical song was several times called back. Miss Agnes Stone also won a recall for her principal solo. Maud Wilson and Rose Leighton both played and sang very acceptably." d86

Collegiate Institute Literary Society.

A meeting of this society was held on Friday afternoon in one of the rooms of the Institute, Mr. H. Fife, the President presiding. A well-prepared essay was read by Mr. Sargent, with "Milton" as the subject, and Miss Mary Scott gave a reading. The next on the programme was a debate on "Resolved that Women should be admitted to the Franchise." The affirmative was taken by Miss M. Beck, leader, and Miss A. Ames. A very creditable stand was made by the young ladies, but the preponderance of argument was on the side of the negative, which was taken by Mr. W. Wallbrook, leader, and Mr. R. F. McWilliams. A reading was then given by Miss Mercer. Sergt.-Major Rundle, drill instructor of the Institute, also gave a reading, choosing "Dora," from Tennyson, as his subject. He rendered it in excellent style, showing that he understood the art of elocution, the instruction of which he proposes to introduce into the classes at his gymnasium. Mr. Earl acted as critic of the proceedings and Mr. Fife was judge of the debate.

Never Before.

As Monday evening dawns near interest increases in the appearance of the Duff Opera Company, brought here through the enterprise of the Athletic Association. The Toronto Globe of this morning says:—"Today at two and to-night at eight will occur the last performance of 'A Trip to Africa,' the charming melodious opera, by the Duff Opera Company. It may be some time before we again hear a company so thoroughly well formed together in every respect—soloists, chorus, ballet, scenery and costumes—and there should be crowded houses at both performances. Miss Bellini and Hubert Wilke were in excellent voice last night, while Harry Brown's fun and wit in his topical songs keep the audience in roars of laughter. This entire company with all its scenery will visit Peterborough on Monday night, Belleville on Tuesday, Kingston on Wednesday, Brockville on Thursday and Ottawa on Friday and Saturday. Probably never before have these cities had so enormous an opera company visiting them." Never before, says the Globe, has such a company visited Peterborough, and it may be a long time before an opportunity of seeing such a company will be again afforded. They should be greeted by a crowded house.

The Deer will Catch It.

Laying aside business a party of nine hunters are off for the woods this afternoon. The party is known as the English party although this trip they go without the company of the esteemed nimrod after whom it is named. They drive north by way of Buckhorn and on to Deer Lake, where a camp will be set up of five or six large tents. My, won't the deer catch it. Eleven dogs go with the party and are under the care of an experienced member. Among those going are Messrs. Harry Winch (captain), H. LeBrun, E. Kent, T. E. Bradburn, A. Elliott, R. H. Fortye, R. B. McKee, G. W. Hatton and J. E. McIntyre. Mrs. McIntyre is also of the party as lady patron. Alex. Simpson, who lives up north and is an experienced woodsman, is engaged as guide and general overseer of sports, while Sutton, of the Oriental, fills the responsible position of cook. Several will return at end of next week, the others remaining a week longer. The general impression prevails that no deer will be left in the woods should the party have anything like their usual luck, an average of 11½ being taken dead and alive during last three trips.

Another hunting party composed of Messrs Geo Fitzgerald, Thos. Rutherbord, A. Binde, John Clancy, Samuel Ray, Samuel Clegg, Walter Evans, Harry Matthews, M. McFadden and Sidney Blade left town this afternoon for Gold Lake. The hunters are accompanied by twelve dogs, with which, and the help of powder and lead, they hope to secure a number of deer. They expect to spend a very jovial time, and will remain away two weeks.

THE DEATH SENTENCE.

Farley to be Hanged on Nov. 8th.

WAS GUILTY OF MURDER.

THE JURY ADD A RECOMMENDATION TO MERCY.

The Conclusion of the Evidence and the Addresses of Counsel—The Judge's Charge to the Jury—The Verdict—The Prisoner's Plea for Leniency—Remembers his Mother—Sentenced to Die.

The following is the conclusion of the report of the Farley murder case at the assize court yesterday afternoon:—

JAMES KEELEY, sworn, said:—Was with Howe's circus; saw several quarrels between Farley and the Indian; once the Indian chased Farley out of the cook shed with a knife and said he would kill the Irish son ——; on another occasion the Indian chased Farley with an iron stake; at different times the two men jangled; the prisoner was very well liked with the show and was not quarrelsome; never knew him to have a quarrel except with the Indian.

Cross-examined—There was a good deal of hard feeling between the two.

MICHAEL GARRY, another showman, said he was in Peterborough on June 24th; saw the prisoner in the morning; he was not sober and neither was the Indian; saw the Indian at the hospital; asked him how it occurred, and the Indian said he might blame himself, for if he had let "Reddy" alone it would not have occurred; the Indian said if "Reddy" had not killed him, he would probably have killed "Reddy," as he had a grudge against him; Farley bore a very good character.

Cross-examined—There was a bad feeling between Farley and the Indian.

JOSEPH FARLEY, father of the prisoner, was sworn and said:—Live in Philadelphia; am an iceman; prisoner's mother is alive; the prisoner is 24 years old; he was always quiet and temperate; never was quarrelsome.

This closed the evidence and counsel began to address the jury at 10 minutes to 3 o'clock.

ADDRESSES OF COUNSEL.

Mr. JOHN O'MEARA addressed the jury with much ability and at length. He argued that being drunk was taken in law as an extenuating circumstance, and that to find the prisoner guilty of murder, they must find that he deliberately intended to kill Elijah. He reviewed the evidence at length, and argued that the killing was not premeditated, and that the jury should not find him guilty of murder.

Mr. RIDDELL, in commencing his address to the jury, said that whatever might be the result of the trial, the prisoner would have nothing to complain of in regard to the conduct of his case by his counsel. He then proceeded to argue that a feud existed between the two men; that Farley threatened to kill the Indian; that he afterwards met the Indian and shot him, and that malice existed—he intended to kill him—and that the prisoner was guilty of murder.

THE JUDGE'S CHARGE.

JUSTICE STREET, addressing the jury, said his duty to-day was one of the most solemn imposed by our system of law. It was a most painful duty, but it was one they were called upon to perform and which they must not shrink from. Their duty was to decide upon the evidence whether the prisoner was guilty of murder. The counsel for the defence had conceded the fact that the prisoner did shoot the Indian, but urged circumstances to have the crime reduced to manslaughter. If they could find in the evidence sufficient facts to reduce the crime to manslaughter, they should do so, but otherwise it was their duty to bring in a verdict of murder. The evidence was fresh in their recollection. On June 24th a circus was on the market square. The prisoner took care of the property of the show and the deceased was connected with a show carried on beside it. It appeared that the first they saw of the prisoner that day was when he went into the police office and asked for protection against two brothers who had been annoying him. There was nothing in the evidence to connect the two of whom he complained with the Indian. While in the office he showed a revolver, and the chief told him it was improper to carry it. Shortly afterwards the prisoner was in a saloon, where the Indian also was. A trouble occurred there. The Indian appears to have interfered without any reason in a conversation between the prisoner and a drummer. The prisoner resented the interference, and the Indian twice pushed him down. During one of the pushes the prisoner got a bottle and threatened the Indian, but the bottle was taken from him and he was put out. Once the Indian made a move to kick, but did not do so. The prisoner returned with a stick and threatened to kill the Indian. Afterwards the prisoner threatened to kill the Indian and said he had the stuff to do it, though the witness did not see a revolver. The Indian came out of a tent in the afternoon and while crossing the square met the prisoner. From Mr. Harris' evidence they gathered the time that must have elapsed between the altercation in the tavern and the meeting on the square. This was important, because if two men had a fight, and one, in the heat of passion, picked up a weapon and killed another, that would be manslaughter; but if sufficient time had elapsed to allow the slayer's blood to cool the crime would be murder. He might still be angry and desire revenge, but if sufficient time had elapsed to allow the passion to cool the crime would not be manslaughter. All the witnesses agreed substantially as to the shooting. He reviewed the circumstances of the shooting as given in the evidence. It would be well to consider why the prisoner went north before he returned south and met the Indian. It was suggested by the counsel for the prosecution that he went for the revolver. He had the revolver in the morning; it was not shown that he had it at the hotel, but he had it when he fired. If he went up then for the revolver for the purpose of shooting the Indian at sight, he would not have passed the Indian, as one witness said, though others said he did not pass him. It had not struck him that he had time to get the revolver when he went north. Wherever he got it, there was no doubt that he used it with deadly effect. It had been suggested by the defence that the revolver had been used in self-defence, but he had been unable to find in the evidence regarding what took place on the market square anything to justify in the slightest degree the plea of self-defence. That plea would only hold when life was in danger and when the slayer had retreated as far as he could and fired only to save his life. He must also tell them that drunkenness was no excuse in the eye of the law for a crime. He would not say that it must not be taken into consideration under any circumstances, but where a dangerous weapon is used drunkenness can have no effect upon the malicious intention of the person using it. If they thought the prisoner had time to get over the heat of the passion at the occurrence at the tavern, and went looking for the Indian intending to resent any affront that might be put upon him, drunkenness would not be an excuse. If the prisoner at the time of the shooting intended to use that pistol even to wound the Indian, and in attempting to wound him killed him, that was murder in law. He would repeat that if the act was done while the heat of passion occasioned by the altercation was on him, it was manslaughter; but if the passion had time to cool, it was murder; or if there was express malice, though the heat of passion had not passed, it was still murder. They should give the prisoner the benefit of any reasonable doubt in their minds. It was not necessary to show express malice to constitute murder, for if they had never met before and the prisoner shot the other without reason, it would be murder. When considering the threat made by the prisoner at the hotel, they should take into account the state of the man—whether the words expressed his serious intention or whether they were the idle expressions of a drunken man.

The jury then retired at 4.30 o'clock to consider their verdict.

GUILTY OF MURDER.

At five minutes after five o'clock the jury returned to the court room, having been out thirty-five minutes. The foreman handed the verdict to the clerk, who read—"We find the prisoner guilty of murder, with a recommendation to mercy." The prisoner leaned forward, with his hand on the top of the box, while the jury were being polled, and watched intently for the verdict. As the clerk pronounced the words "guilty of murder" he sank back in his seat.

Justice STREET asked the jury on what grounds they based the recommendation to mercy.

The FOREMAN replied on account of the prisoner having been intoxicated, and also because the men had been on bad terms for some time, and the deceased was the originator of the quarrel.

A PLEA FOR MERCY.

Justice STREET—James F. Farley, have you any reason to urge why the sentence of the court should not be pronounced upon you.

The PRISONER—All I ask of you, sir, is to be as lenient with me as possible, and my poor father and mother, sir, is all that I wish.

THE DEATH SENTENCE.

The JUDGE, addressing the prisoner, said the law allowed him no descretion. The jury had found him (the prisoner) guilty of murder, and the only sentence allowed by by law for that crime was death, which he would pronounce. He would forward the recommendation to mercy attached to the verdict to the proper authority, but he could hold out no hope that a reprieve would be granted or the sentence changed. "The sentence of the court," said the judge "is that you be taken back to the place from which you have been brought, and taken from thence on the 8th of November to the place of execution, where you will be hanged by the neck until you are dead; and may the Lord have mercy on your soul."

While the Judge was speaking the prisoner looked fixedly at him. When sentence was pronounced he rose and spoke to his father, then turned around with a helpless and an agitated look. He was at once taken back to the gaol.

The court room had been crowded all afternoon, and the people then left the room.
